Dixiecrats Lose Floor Battle

The bill was called up under the Calendar Wednesday rule, which gives legislative committees the right to bring up bills which the House Rules Committee has failed to clear for floor action. (The bill has been tied up in the Rules Committee since its approval by the Labor Committee.)

3-Hour Filibuster

Nearly five hours were waster Wednesday in a futile filibuster (debates in the House are limited to an hour) to prevent calling up of the Powell bill.

Except for three minutes used by the House chaplain to pray and the 45 minutes taken to read George Washington's Farewell Address, the time from convening of the House at noon until general debate was begun on FEPC was consumed by the delaying efforts of the Southerners.

They forced eight roll calls in an effort to prevent the House Education and Labor Committee from being tallied in a call of the committees on Calendar Wednesday.

After a second motion to adjourn, supposedly in a noble attempt to pay further tribute to George Washington, Speaker Rayburn finally recognized Rep. John Lesinski of Michigan, chairman of the Education and Labor Committee. The time was 4:43 p.m.

Rayburn Relents

For 31 minutes more, the coalition fought to have the bill killed then and there.

At 4:37 p.m. Rep. Howard Smith (Dem., Va.), put the question of whether the House would consider the FEPC bill, and on the eighth roll call the vote was 207 to 121 for consideration.

Then at 5:14, Speaker Rayburn, an avowed opponent of the FEPC and other civil rights bills, announced the note. He declared that the House had automatically resolved itself into the Committee of the Whole House on the State of the Union for the consideration of the FEPC bill and directed the clerk to read the message.

He then gave the chair to Rep. Francis E. Walters (Dem., Pa.).

By 5:39 reading of the Powell bill was completed. Under the rules, two hours were allowed for debate Lesinski allotted one hour to McConnell, yielded himself five minutes and allotted the balance of the time to Powell.

Powell Gets Floor

Explaining the importance of passage of the Administration measure, Powell told the House. "FEPC is the only one of the five civil rights bills which has already worked," referring to the war-time FEPC created by President Roosevelt through executive order.

He pointed out that his measure was aimed at discrimination in employment in every State and section of the nation.

He declared that it was not aimed at abolishing segregation and that it was "only interested in discrimination." He also declared that it would force an employer to hire someone he does not want.

Others took up the debate, pro and con, with the coalition forces resolved not to let the Administration bill pass, several to adjourn were made; but Administration forces refused to yield.

Forced to Yield

Finally, however, they had to give in and let the McConnell bill be brought up. The heat of the discussion abated and the House adjourned at 3:19 Thursday morning. It reconvened at noon.

Aware that the McConnell bill offered no threat to "white supremacy" the Southerners willingly backed it, while supporters of the Administration bill supporters joined others in the vote to recommit the toothless McConnell bill, and, failing that voted against it on final passage.

CHRISTIAN SERVICE SOCIETY TO HOLD MEETING MONDAY

A meeting of the North Baltimore District Women's Society of Christian Service will be held at 8 p.m., Monday, at Sharp Street Methodist Church, Dolphin and Etting Sts.

FEPC Bill Which Passed Held 'Sham'

WASHINGTON

Northern members of the House who voted for the recommittal of the toothless McConnell FEPC Bill and also voted against it on final passage, said they did so for several sound reasons. They listed them as follows:

1. The McConnell FEPC bill is absolutely toothless.

2. It represents the victorious effort of the Dixiecrats and Republicans to kill FEPC.

3. It takes the Republicans off the spot and will allow them to attempt to fool the people in their districts.

It sends to the Senate a bill which the most reactionary Republican will be glad to vote for.

To Continue Fight, However

5.-It will allow the Senate to invoke a phony cloture and thus not test the Wherry Rule.

Finally, we pledge to continue to fight for an honest FEPC with teeth in this Congress and the next.

We make this statement fully recognizing the sincerity of the vote of our Northern democratic colleagues.

Act By Roy Wilkins

The McConnell Bill was condemned generally throughout the city by civic and labor leaders.

Speaking at a press conference Thursday afternoon, Roy Wilkins acting secretary of the NAACP, said that the toothless bill is unacceptable under any circumstances.

Declaring that the NAACP would press for a strong FEPC bill, Mr. Wilkins said that the NAACP and other progressive forces would fight to have the McConnell bill amended in the Senate.

No-Down-Payment Plan at Northwestern College

A no-down-payment plan was recently established by the board of directors at Northwestern College, 677 M St., N.W., to assist prospective students who desire to enroll there.

Davis W. Board, chancellor, said the plan aids those who are paid weekly or monthly and many students have found it helpful.

They Tried to Kill FEPC

WASHINGTON

Led by Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, who is supposed to be an impartial presiding officer of the House of Representatives, these Representatives took an active part in the fight not to pass an FEPC bill with teeth. They include, of necessity, Rep. Samuel K. McConnell Jr. (Rep., Pa.), author of the toothless bill which was passed. His cohorts are:

South Baltimore Notes

The Modern Mannequins met last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Emma Bush, 562 Orchard St. Next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Catherine Cooper, 546 Conway St.

Officers of the club are Mrs. Thelma Gamby, president; Mrs. Catherine Cooper, secretary; Mrs. Hilda Simms, secretary; Mrs. Goldie Cunningham, business manager; Mrs. Cherry Marshall, chaplain; Mrs. Juanita King, sergeant-at-arms.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. James of Washington, visited Mrs. Theresa G. Cooper, Sunday, at 2028 Pierpont St.

Members of the Eagle Pleasure Club of South Baltimore will be guests, March 5, at a Men's Day service in the Star of Bethlehem AME Church.

B. Young is president of the club and Archie Young, secretary. Furman L. Templeton, AFRO personnel manager, will be guest speaker. Music will be furnished by the Community Choir, Cornelius Lewis, director.

Southside Personality

A housewife and mother, Mrs. Beckett is currently spending considerable time planning a benefit musical show to be presented at the Richmond Market Armory, at 8 p.m., Feb. 25.

The affair is sponsored by the Mt. Winans Civic Club, of which Mrs. Beckett is president; and the Non-Commissioned Officers Club of the 231st Truck Battalion.

Mrs. Dorothy Beckett

A native of Ellicott City, Md., Mrs. Beckett has lived in Baltimore for 18 years. She is a member of the Orchard St. ME Church and the Mount Winans Parent-Teachers Association.

Unemployment Rise 11,700 in Month

Representing a 11,700 increase since December, unemployment in Maryland reached an estimated total of 82,200 in mid-January, according to the Department of Employment Security.

The agency reported that effects of labor differences and lower employment levels in some manufacturing industries combined to enlarge the unemployment picture.

Seasonal Building Lull

Moreover, it was pointed out many students, housewives, and other part-time workers have left the regular labor force with the termination of temporary jobs and there is a seasonal lull in construction activity.

Meanwhile, department officials revealed, during the past 30 days, non-agricultural workers in the State have declined by 15,500. This, they added, is a usual post-holiday trend and yet presents a better picture than the same period last year, when employment declined by 24,500.

Sunday School to Give One-Act Biblical Play

The one-act Biblical play, "The Prodigal Son," will be presented by the church school at 8 p.m., Sunday at Fulton Baptist Church, North Ave. and Carey St.

Miss Pattie E. Hollaway is Sunday school superintendent.

Theatre Fight Victory Seen by NAACP

Mrs. Lillie M. Jackson, president of the Baltimore NAACP, cited the Federal Government's anti-trust suit, filed last week in New York, against Marcus Heiman, lessee of Ford's, and James and Lee Schubert of the Selected Theatres Corporation.

The Government has charged that through their control of theatre and stage productions, Heiman and the Schuberts have a stranglehold on the legitimate theatre business throughout the country.

Notes Progress in D.C.

Mrs. Jackson also pointed to the recent signing of a lease with the Federal Government by the American National Theatre Academy for the Belasco Theatre. This means that by fall, Washington will have a non-segregated legitimate theatre.

The NAACP president asked citizens to continue their refusal to cross the picket line at Ford's.

New Yorkers Co-operate

The arrests occurred when the police tried to limit the number of pickets to 10 for the first hour and two afterward.

The demonstration took place in front of Heiman's main office in an attempt to persuade him to abandon the jim-crow policy at Ford's in Baltimore and the National Theatre in Washington.

It was sponsored by the Committee of Racial Equality and Students for Democratic Action.

NOTED THROAT SPECIALISTS REPORT on 30-Day Test of Camel smokers...

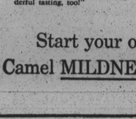
Not one single case of throat irritation due to smoking CAMELS!

Yes, these were the findings of noted throat specialists after a total of 2,470 weekly examinations of the throats of hundreds of men and women who smoked Camels—and only Camels—for 30 consecutive days.

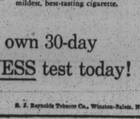
MAKE A NOTE...REMEMBER YOUR THROAT!

VOICE COACH Roy Campbell: "I tried many brands before I found the cigarette that agrees with my throat. The 30-Day Test convinced me that Camels are mild—cool and mild!"

HOUSEWIFE Polly Barker: "Cigarette mildness counts with me, too. The 30-Day Test certainly won me to Camels. They're the mildest, best-tasting cigarette I've ever smoked!"



SCHOOL TEACHER Mary Turner: "Giving daily lectures isn't easy on my throat. I smoke Camels—they agree with my throat. Wonderfully mild. Wonderful tasting, too!"



HERE'S THE TEST! Smoke only Camels for 30 days! Compare them in your "T-Zone" (T for throat, T for taste). See if you don't agree that Camels are the mildest, best-tasting cigarette.

Gadabouting in Baltimore

Pre-Lenten Social Swing Enlivens Social Front

with Lula Jones Garrett

Maybe it was because it was the last pre-Lenten swing, or may be it was just that Baltimoreans were feeling festive, but it had been many a day since everybody had such a gay old time as we did at the past week's affairs.

There were the Iota Phi Lambdas dancing in the prettiest of Valentine settings, and Urban League constituents lending glamour to the annual dinner party on Monday night.

Came Tuesday and Omega Psi Phi brothers held forth, not only with the largest dance hereabouts in several years, but pre-pegged it with the biggest flock of pre and post parties beheld recently.

Arranging the affair was a committee composed of George H. Rosedom, chairman; Otho Pinkett, Powell Sheffey, and Linwood Koger Sr.

ELLSWORTH HOLDS FORTH

Dashed up quite early to Ellsworth Wilsons' bent-apartment, thinking surely that I'd get away early, but there was such a gay gang and so much fun that the host had to get help to get his guests on the way to the dance.

Janet Clash, swing in a fitted taffeta with much a do in the back of the skirt, and zipped up to a demure string bow at the back of the neck, came in with Dr. Billy Mason. And for a special interest, Carmen Toppin wore a smooth thing of pale champagne taffeta and lace. Ireen Green was down from Trenton for the affairs.

Mercedes Douglass, who has cut her brown locks especially to show off a red rose in her hair-strand, was cute in a pale green Grecian affair, tied in at her tiny waist and off her shoulders.

Others there were Fannie Garrett, Walter Dixon, Earl Tillman, the Harvey Joyces, the Clifton Porters, the Phillip Turners, Dr. and Mrs. James Johnson of Elkton, the Leroy Clays, the Wilbur Stewarts and the Julian Taylors.

BELLS POUR COCKTAILS

The Leslie A. Bells not only poured cocktails ere the dance, but breakfasted a bunch following the affair at their Mc-Culloh Street home. From Washington were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bronner and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Lily, and from hereabouts the John J. Olivers and the Cliff Mackays.

AT KOGER PARTY

About were his children, Linwood Jr., who fetched cute Margaret Pigotti; Orville, whose guest was Alice Jordan, and Mrs. Ruth Black, whose escort was William Toadvine, University of Maryland law school senior.

Other guests were:

$PAULDINGS' FETE

Then, getting a good pre-dance start from the food tree of the Dan Spauldings were the Harrison Vesselines, Franklin Fultons, Ed Smiths, John Halls and Sr. and Mrs. Julius Taylor.

Hazel (Mrs. Spaulding) had on one of the smartest frocks at the dance, a white net affair, its tiered shoulderless bodice all-over embroidered in rhinestones, and with it she wore silver slippers.

And as to the black bouffant taffeta with the interesting neckline which Philathea Carter wore, 'twas a surprise from husband John, who had picked the whole ensemble, jewels, corsage and all, himself.

MRS. MEBANE HOSTESS

And the Kenneth Basses had in the Willie Adamses, the Shirley Diggses, the Walter Thomases, and the Ernest Perkinses.

GOWNS SCORE

The new short length dance frocks were worn by Arnetia Hammond who used plaid taffeta, and Ada Vehey, red crepe.

Out-of-towners who hied in for the dance were Virginia Lamber of New York, Viola Curtis and Alvin Jackson of Washington.

MISS BURKE ENTERTAINS

GILKES HOSTS

Smaller and as smart affairs of the week included the buffet supper which Dr. and Mrs. Evans Gilkes gave on Sunday night for Dr. and Mrs. George Waters (he's the former Marian-Webb's bridegroom—here from Jacksonville, Fla.) and at which pinochle, canasta, nibbling and sipping were the order.

Dr. Cyril Atkins, the J. Stedman Griggs, the John Procopes, Dr. and Mrs. Roger Lewis and Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Moseley were about.

CARDS FOR FUNDS

Ruth Jennifer, Audrey Brooks, Elsie and David Scott, Garland Taylor, Richard Cummings, Reginald Savage, Ines Jordon, Hilda Forest, Thelma Bell, Bernard Bell, Jean Cummings.

JACKS, JILLS PLAY

When the six to nine age group of Jack and Jill club played at a party on Saturday afternoon, arranged by Evelyn Bass and with Olga Parker and Ellen Russell in charge of games, about were:

Denise and Pamela Russell Judith Sessoms, Carol Shervington, Carol Shervington, Carol Spencer, and Anthony and Leon Williams, also

HOUSEWIVES PLAN PARTY

At the meeting of the Housewives League on last Thursday, at the YWCA, plans for their annual card party were completed, to be held this (Friday) evening at the YWCA.

Among those attending the meeting were:

Mesdames Bernice Buckner, Lauretta Freeman, Mary Mills, Frances Johnson, Alice Minor, Mollie Neal, Edith Dyson, Victoria Hall and Ruth White Cleaver and Miss Nancy Powers.

Mrs. Cleaver presided.

BRIDGETTES ASSEMBLE

Out-Morgan-Park way, Gaynell Spaulding and Madge Hibler were co-hostesses to the "Bridgettes" Saturday afternoon in the suburban home of the George Spauldings.

Club members present were Thelma Bando, Frances Hill, Agaye Hurt, Grace Epps, Althea Cornish, Hermia Hardin, Dorothy Atkins, and Mae Campbell.

First club prize went to Althea Cornish, second to Agaye Hurt, and guest prize to Ethel Hucles.

And on a Saturday ago, Mrs. Cyril Atkins and Miss Grace Epps were hostesses for the group at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Cyril Atkins on Payson Street. After several rounds of bridge a supper was served.

Club prizes were won by Miss Madge Hibler and Miss Theresa Kennedy. Mrs. Dallie Walker won the guest prize.

KIQUEJAY'S HAVE PARTY

The Clever Kiquejay's tacky party at the Kleeco Club was in tune with the rainy weather last week and perhaps was partially the cause for the party success.

Among the guests who contributed to the cause and joined in the fun were:

Messrs and Mesdames Roland Dixon, Jack Battle, Thomas Hawkins, Andrew Clark, George Goddard, Theodore Copper,

POT-POURRI

Dr. Albert A. Smith of this town joined his brother, Andrew Smith of Oakland, California and the two have been seeing the Mardi Gras in New Orleans. Should be back on the home beat some Saturday. And from Los Angeles, Williard W. Allen sends a batch of greetings. But going nowhere, these days, is Maxwell Chatman, who is tucked in with la grippe.

Clubs

DEMOCRATIC — The Ladies Club of Cherry Hill will have a Musical Tea on Sunday at 626 Cherry Hill Road to aid their March of Dimes funds. Mrs. Ida Swanson is chairman; Mrs. Gladys Tyler, president; and Mrs. Clara Coates, corresponding secretary.

Flow of Glowing Tributes Highlight 'Joe Allen Day'

Representatives of more than a dozen city groups, guests of the club, paid tribute to Alexander J. Allen, Urban League executive secretary, who took over a similar post this week in Pittsburgh.

Mr. Allen was a charter member and first secretary of the local chapter of the National Business Men's Service Club.

Lauded by Associates

The far-reaching influence of Mr. Allen's work was lauded by persons associated with him in numerous projects.

A brief summary of their remarks follows:

Edgar Ewing, Urban League board president: "He is a man of integrity, a gentleman, scholar, writer, social worker and regular fellow."

Cecil H. Scott, Urban League industrial secretary: "He always shared the major responsibility of any project in which he was interested."

Miss Velma McEwen, Urban League women's industrial secretary: "We pay tribute to Mr. Allen's gentlemanlikeness and intellectuality."

Mrs. Juanita J. Mitchell, NAACP executive board member: "Not only have you given of your fine mind and training, but you have matched that with your personal courage. Our community is better for your having been in it."

Aided Many Projects

Miss Frances Reddick, executive secretary, Citizens Planning and Housing Association: "Your program's progress would have been impossible without the tremendous effort and guidance of Mr. Allen."

Yates Cook, housing law enforcement officer of the Health Department: "In Joe Allen I found one whom I could look to for you in this uphill fight for better housing."

Dr. Isabel Nelson, chairman of the Urban League's Silver Anniversary committee: "We're losing a wonderful person,—one of the nicest guys this town has known."

Leon Raymond, Frontiersman from Anne Arundel Co.: "Pittsburgh will be better off with Joe Allen than the United Nations was with Ralph Bunche."

Another speaker declared that Mr. Allen had always been "way out front. He recognizes superiors and is one of the guys who will go to the top."

Tributes Read

Tributes were also paid by Dr. Bernard Harris, club president, who presided at the meeting, the Rev. Harold Nixon, Mrs. Alice B. Arrington and William Pissano.

Dr. Harris also read a number of letters from guests unable to attend the meeting.

In expressing his gratitude, Mr. Allen predicted that recent changes in Baltimore were indicative of fundamental trends for betterment. Mrs. Allen was also present.
