Honeychile Nods Salas in Eight

Clarence (Honeychile) Johnson, local welterweight, outpointed Charlie Salas, white Arizonian, in the eight-round windup of a boxing show at the Met last Thursday night.

The Quaker City favorite took the nod on the votes of Referee Pete Pantaleo (5-3) and Judge George Giacchino (4-2-2). Judge Charles Ubele (5-2-1) thought Salas had won.

Johnson, at 147½, spotted his opponent two pounds.

Young Sam Langford, local middleweight, knocked out Al Raymond, also of this city, at 2:26 of the sixth round of one of the show's supporting bouts. The match was a scheduled sixer.

In another abbreviated setto, billed for four rounds, Charley Douglas, local welter, stretched Chester's Booker Green at 2:45 of the third heat.

LAWRENCEVILLE, Va.—Morgan State College defeated St. Paul, 59-47, here Thursday night.

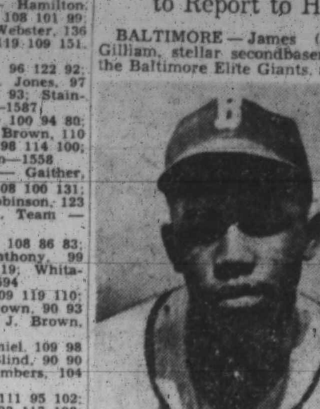
Junior Gilliam, Roy Ferrell Sold to Cubs' Farm Club

Elite Giants' Infielder, Pitcher Slated to Report to Haines City on March 10



JUNIOR GILLIAM

BALTIMORE — James (Junior) Gilliam, stellar secondbaseman of the Baltimore Elite Giants, and his teammate, Leroy Ferrell, righthand pitcher, were sold to the Chicago Cubs' farm club at Springfield, Mass., this week, Richard Powell, secretary of the Elites announced Wednesday.

Gilliam, regarded as one of the top baseball prospects in the Negro American League last season, and Ferrell, who had a 8-2 record with the Elites, 1949 champions of the NAL, will report to the Springfield club at Haines City, Fla., on March 10.

The sale price of the two players was not disclosed by Powell but is it reported that the Elites received between $12,500 and $15,000 for the two men, approximately $7,500 for Gilliam and $5,000 for Ferrell.

Gilliam, 21 years old, hit .301 for the Elites last season and was the pivotman in the Elites' crack doubleplay combination with Pee Wee Butts. He joined the Elites in 1947, after playing semi-pro ball in Nashville, Tenn., his hometown. Gilliam led the league with 84 runs last year.

Ferrell, a native of Wilmington, Del., also is 21. He was obtained by the Elites from the Newark Eagles in 1948

The Chicago Cubs purchased the old Newark Bears from the N. Y. Yankees several months ago and moved the franchise to Springfield.

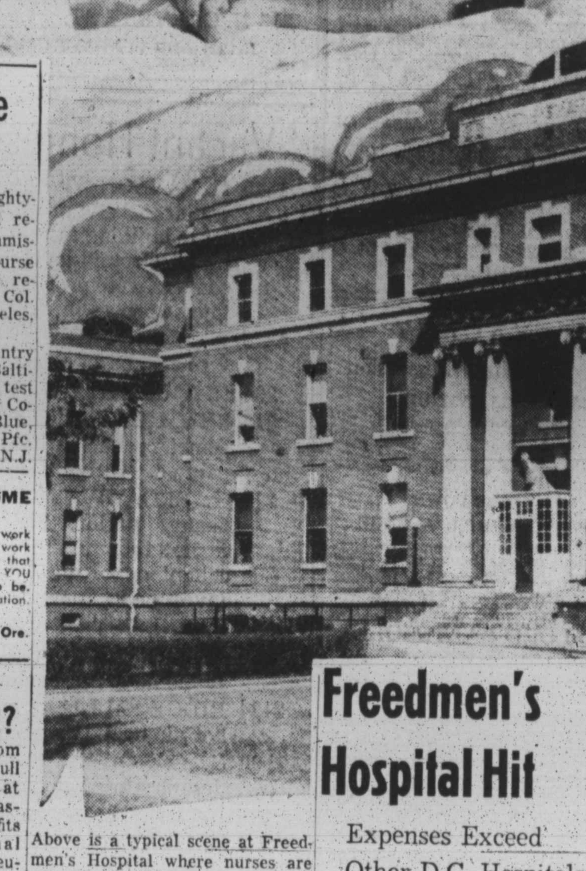
WHAT'S WRONG AT FREEDMEN'S?



Above is a typical scene at Freedmen's Hospital where nurses are reported in a state of confusion due to new personnel shakeups and shifts in working hours which work a hardship on some, adversely affecting morale. Below is the entrance to the hospital which serves a majority of Washington's colored population.

Freedmen's Hospital Hit

Expenses Exceed Other D.C. Hospitals

School for Nurses Split by Dissension

By AL SWEENEY

WASHINGTON

What's wrong with Freedmen's Hospital?

That's the $2,700,000 question that the Solons of Capitol Hill, the top executives of Federal Security Agency and the citizens of the District are asking.

On Tuesday, an AFRO reporter interviewed Miss Mary Switzer, assistant to the administrator of the Federal Security Administration and Dr. W. Palmer Deering, deputy surgeon general of the U.S. Public Health Service.

According to Dr. Deering, it costs $17.25 a patient per day to operate Freedmen's; while the District hospitals average per diem cost of operation is $14.98.

FSA Disclaims Authority

The Public Health Service executive states that Freedmen's is "extraordinarily expensive to operate."

This revelation, coming on the heels of the report that there is considerable dissension among the nurses at Freedmen's over the reorganization of the nursing service, has moved the AFRO to attempt to get at the roots of the problems at this institution.

Dr. Deering pointed out that Freedmen's has no legislative charter. Although, under the Reorganization Plan No. 4 of 1940 of the Federal Security Agency, Freedmen's was transferred from Interior Department supervision to FSA, the agency has no real legal authority over the hospital, he declared.

Set Up by "Honest Abe"

Freedmen's owes its existence to an Executive Order issued by President Abraham Lincoln on March 3, 1865. The original order resulted in the construction of Freedmen's Hospital and Asylum at Fifth and W Sts., N.W. That building still stands and currently houses the Howard University College of Dentistry.

Dr. Deering believes that the hospital could be operated more efficiently if a new building could be constructed. However, the Bureau of the Budget, he revealed, has refused to approve requests for the construction of a new hospital until Freedmen's status could be clearly defined.

Miss Switzer stated that Freedmen's was unique in that it is subsidized by Federal funds, yet operates as a general hospital, accepts paying patients and serves as a training center for the Howard Medical School.

According to the agreement between Freedmen's and Howard, the university handling the technical care of patients.

Howard Ties Dubious

There has been a move under consideration to place Freedmen's under the supervision of Howard University. However, it is felt in some circles that the university is having its financial problems and is not in the position to take on added responsibility.

It has also ben suggested that Freedmen's be legally placed under the supervision of the U.S. Public Health Service.

At any rate, Miss Switzer and Dr. Deering feel that the divided responsibility of the supervision of the hospital should be ended. As it is now, in the words of Miss Switzer, "There is a lot of buck passing" as to who is responsible for Freedmen's control.

Herman Johnson, assistant superintendent of Freedmen's, who was acting superintendent when the reorganization nursing plan went into effect, attributes the hospital's problems to loose management of the past.

He points out that from 1935 until the present there have been four different superintendents.

After Dr. Wililam Warfield Sr. retired in 1935, Dr. T. Edward Jones served from 1936 until 1941; Dr. John Lawlah, from 1941 until 1943; Dr. James L. Hall, 1943 until 1947; and Charles Burbridge from 1947 until present.

While this constant turnover in administrators was going on, Mr. Johnson points out, there was a corresponding change in nursing directors.

Nursing School Strife Aired

The current director of nurses, Mrs. Ella J. Younger, was appointed during 1945. Since assuming the post, Mr. Johnson revealed, she has received little or no co-operation from her top assistants.

According to the assistant superintendent, the Nurses Alumnae Association at Freedmen's opposed the appointment of Mrs. Younger, because they felt that a graduate of the nursing school should have the nursing directorship.

The Nurses Alumnae Association is now opposing the move which placed Mrs. Genevieve M. Brenner into the position of assistant director of nurses, while changing the titles of five former assistants.

Four of the assistant directors hold the title of supervisors, while the fifth has been demoted to a head ward nurse, it was pointed out.

Race Issue Injected

In their opposition to Mrs. Brenner, the members of the alumae group contend that the post should have been given to a qualified colored nurse, rather than a white person.

They also complain that the hospital heads posted no notification of an existing vacancy, which they feel is contrary to Civil Service procedure.

Reorganization Probe Slated

Mrs. Mabel Staupers, president of the National Association of Colored Graduate Nurses, in a long distance telephone conversation on Tuesday, admitted receiving a complaint about reorganization of the nursing administration.

Mrs. Staupers said that she was going to investigate the matter to determine whether the changes were made according to Civil Service procedure.

She said that last October, Mr. Johnson had told her about the reorganization of the nursing service. Mrs. Staupers stated that she isn't interested in the racial part of the questions.

Integration Two-Sided

She feels that if "we are going to ask that the white hospitals be mixed, we should be willing to have mixed staffs."

However, she feels that Mrs. Marion Seymour, who has been an employee of the hospital for 27 years and an assistant director for a number of years, has seniority rights that should have been considered.

Mr. Johnson said that there are too many old employees at Freedmen's who have been "doing nothing for so long" that now when a system has been introduced, they are rebellious.

Congress Passed Civil Rights Measure Similar to Present Bill 80 Years Ago

W. Va. State Professor Reveals This Plus Other Startling Facts in History Week Talk

INSTITUTE, W. Va.—Professor J. Reuben Sheeler in a Negro History Week address at West Virginia State College this week said that the first colored persons in American were not slaves, but explorers, and that civil rights bills similiar to President Truman's bill now before Congress were passed over 80 years ago.

In his address entitled "On Writing the Record," Professor Sheeler said that the first colored persons came to America as early as 1502, with the Narvaez expedition in 1528 and with DeSoto in 1539. One of the men in the latter group became the second settler of what is now Alabama in 1541, he added.

That colored people brought to Virginia in 1619 were slaves was refuted. Sheeler says they were indentured servants purchased from the Dutch, who had captured them from the Spanish in 1619.

300 in Virginia in 1649

In disproving the idea that colored persons were unfit for any type of work other than agricultural work, Prof. Sheeler informed the audience of 1000 students and visitors that the 1649 Virginia census reported 300 colored persons. Forty of these were engaged in skilled labor, the professor said, adding that after 1800 colored persons were numerous in the skilled trades and that many of the free men were contractors and small operators.

Mr. Sheeler traced the military record of colored Americans to the present and revealed that there were 3,000 at Valley Forge. General Lee, according to the historian, said:

"They (colored men) can with proper regulations be made efficient soldiers . . . the surest foundation upon which the fidelity of any army can rest is the personal interest of the soldier. Give it to the colored men by giving immediate freedom to all who enlist."

Bill Vetoed in 1866

A civil rights bill paralleling President Truman's present program was passed by Congress in 1866, but President Johnson vetoed it, he declared. It read:

"That all persons born in the United States and not subject to any foreign power . . . are hereby declared to be citizens of the United States; and such citizens of every race and color, without regard to any previous condition of servitude . . . shall have the same right in every state and territory in the United States to make and enforce contracts, to sue, be parties, and give evidence, to inherit, purchase, lease, sell, hold and convey real and personal property and to full and equal benefit of all laws and proceedings for the security of person and property as is enjoyed by white citizens."

Mr. Sheeler went on to cite the bill which passed both houses and was signed by President Grant, March 1, 1875 which read:

"That all persons within the United States shall be entitled to the full and equal enjoyment of the accommodations, advantages, facilities and privileges of inns, public conveyances on land or water, theaters and other places of public amusement; subject only to the conditions and limitations established by law, and applicable alike to citizens of every race and color, regardless of any previous conditions of servitude."

Won Bancroft Award

Professor Sheeler, an assistant professor of history at West Virginia State College, is a candidate for the doctor of philosophy degree at Western Reserve University in Cleveland. He is chairman of the West Virginia Association for the Study of Negro Life and History.

He received the Frederic Bancroft award in history in recognition of an article written in 1944 entitled, "Development of Unionism in East Tennessee."
