In Our Churches

When the Rev. Harrison J. Bryant at Bethel AME Church, spoke on "Requisities for Good Warfare" at the weekly Methodist Ministers Meeting Wednesday, he drew many nods and amens by saying that belief in one's self and a good conscience are the two main weapons for success.

The Rev. Mr. Bryant said that no man has enough knowledge to tell what he cannot do.

As an example, he pointed out that when his former church, St. John AME, burned down in 1943, many said he could not rebuild, but in two years, his congregation was back worshipping on the same site.

The Rev. F. F. King, presided at the meeting. Next Wednesday, the Methodist ministers will hear Judge Thomas J. S. Waxter heard of the Public Welfare Department.

The Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance of which all ministers in the city are members, held its monthly meeting, Thursday, and heard the Rev. W. A. Stewart, Union Wesley AME Zion Church of Washington speak on "What Are Your Reserves."

The pastor, choir and congregation of the Falls Rd. AME Church will worship with the Berean Baptist Church, Pimlico, Sunday at 3:30 p.m.

den death of the Rev. George J. Garnett on May 17, 1949.

Also Was Assistant

For four years prior to that time, the Rev. Mr. Wicks was assistant to the Rev. Mr. Garnett.

Presiding at the meeting on Wednesday was the Rev. George A. Crawley, pastor of St. Paul Baptist Church. He has served as counsellor to the Morning Star congregation since the death of the former pastor.

The Rev. Mr. Wicks resides at 227 N. Fulton Ave., and is the husband of the former Mrs. Mary Rone. They have one daughter, Mrs. Verna Smith.

He is a native of Middlesex County, Va., where he attended the public schools. He came to Baltimore in 1910, and in 1944 was graduated with a bachelor of arts degree from Morgan State College.

He joined Morning Star Baptist Church in 1933 and had once served as a field missionary worker for the Rev. Mr. Garnett.

The unanimous election of the new minister, said the Rev. Mr. Crawley, was a tribute to the principle of unity with which the congregation had been indoctrinated by its former pastor.

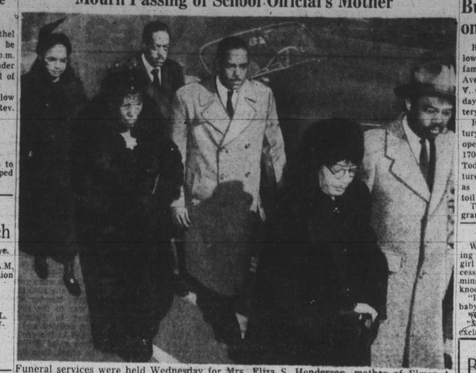
Mourn Passing of School Official's Mother



Funeral services were held Wednesday for Mrs. Eliza S. Henderson, mother of Elmer A. Henderson, assistant superintendent of schools who was unable to attend services because of illness. Seen entering the Hemsley Funeral Home are, left to right, Mrs. Elmer A. Henderson, Mrs. Grace Bevans, sister; and Mrs. Grace Holly, daughter of the deceased. The three sons of Mrs. Henderson, Robert, Douglass and Elmer W., are shown left to right.

Mrs. Henderson's Funeral Recorded

the Hemsley Funeral Home, 578 Biddle St.

He lauded her as a "godly mother" who left as a legacy, a God-filled life. Her love for others was shown in her son who devoted his life to the molding of human character, the minister stated.

Proud of Her Son

"She was proud of her son," said the Rev. Harrison J. Bryant, former pastor of St. John's Church, where Mrs. Henderson was a member. "The son should be proud of the moral and spiritual background which she gave him," he remarked.

Scripture, including the 23rd Psalm and a prayer, were offered by the Rev. Joshua O. Williams, pastor of Sharp St. Methodist Church.

Mrs. Lillian M. Parrott, administrative assistant to Mr. Henderson, sang three selections: "The Lord's Prayer;" "There Is No Death," and the hym, "What a Friend We Have In Jesus."

Facts From Obituary

The obituary revealed that Mrs. Henderson died Sunday at her home, 1154 N. Carey St. Her exact age has not been determined.

She was born in Mt. Gilboa, Baltimore County, the oldest of the large family of the late William H. and Mrs. Sophia Brown Cole.

She undertook the responsibility of raising her brothers and sisters after the death of her parents. Married to the late Sharper Henderson, she became the mother of three children, one of whom died at an early age.

After the long illness and death of her husband, she devoted herself to rearing and educating her children.

At Mt. Gilboa, she was active in church work. When her son made a home for her in Baltimore, Mrs. Henderson transferred her membership to the St. John AME Church, working with its stewardess and missionary groups.

Operated Recording Device

In order to complete the burial service recording, the Rev. Mr. Gray pronounced the committment ritual at the funeral home.

Clarence J. Roberts, principal of Garnett School No. 103, operated his personal wire recording machine during the funeral.

Pallbearers were William M. Rawlings, supervisor of adult education; Samuel R. Owings, Hammond J. Briscoe, Charles W. Jones, G. Albert Wright and Mr. Roberts; all school principals.

In addition to her son, Mrs. Henderson is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Grace H. Holly, a sister, Mrs. Blanche B. Bevans; and three grandsons, Elmer W., Douglass, and Robert Henderson.

Rev. C. Baker Pearle to Broadcast Sunday

The Rev. C. Baker Pearle, former Baltimore minister, will speak over the CBS network at 10 a.m. Sunday on the Columbia Church of the Air program.

He is now pastor of Bethel AME Church in Chicago. While in Baltimore the Rev. Mr. Pearle pastored Payne Memorial and Trinity AME Churches.

Business Pioneer on Avenue Dies

Respected and admired by fellow merchants and customers, a familiar figure on Pennsylvania Ave. for over 50 years, William V. Gallagher, was buried last Friday at the Druid Ridge Cemetery.

It was at the turn of the century in 1899 that Mr. Gallagher opened his modest store in the 1700 block of Pennsylvania Ave. Today, complete with modern fixtures and equipment, it operates as a memento for the years of toil this man put into his business.

The father of four children and grandfather of seven, and a Mason, he was among the first merchants to "open up" the avenue. His son, William V. Jr., now operates the store.

NICE COMPLIMENT

While a young mother was bathing her baby, a neighbor's little girl came in and watched the process. The child was holding a doll minus an arm and leg and much knocked about generally.

"How long have you had your baby?" she asked the mother.

"Three months."

"Mm but you've kept her nice!" exclaimed the little girl.
