Lenten Season Not So Dull on Local Front

with Lula Jones Garrett

Trying to divide their attention between town goings-on and nearby musts will give the natives need for an extra supply of aspirin pills a pocket full of Benzedrene come next week end.

Most of the well-heeled public spirited set will be tucked neath tables when the council on Human Rights dines in Washington, next Friday, or the Press Club's dinner for McCray in New York, next night.

On Sunday, the 19th, the Silhouettes are holding a swank party. Then come the next week end with Delta Sigma Theta's presentation of Marian Anderson, and Alpha Kappa Alpha's attendant reception for the noted singer, their soror; the annual conference of the Maryland League of Women's Clubs on the 25th., it's sure to be a hectic ten days.

CONCERT GAY

Mabel Frisby, who chairmaned the AKA concert series this, and a few past years, headed also what turned out to be a top fashion splash, Sunday. Camille Williams was the artist presented, and she was good to look at in black taffeta revealing her shoulders and a billowing skirt with a Roman scroll. Mrs. Frisby's frock was of blue-pink sprinkled satin foulard featuring winged panel draped to the front of the skirt. With it she wore a pink straw hat massed with flowers. Basileus Mildred Seaborne's black Milan straw withoodles of starched green dotted veiling caught every one eye. Vernice Reynolds, who ushered, wore a Mil-Jay original of blue crepe with the dropped waist line moving into huge pockets and the slight decollete neck line adorned with hand made flowers of the same blue taffeta. Her white Milan straw hat had a huge taffeta bow of blue and yards of veiling. Vernice Matthews' interesting frock graduated from steel blue at the top to navy at the hem; Lucy Holt wore, with perfection, one of the new shovel-brimmed hats—black in color and red trimmed; and Laura Jones did what few can do —featured an ensemble in monotone beige.

The hostesses gave Miss Williams an appointment book engraved in gold as a memento, instead of flowers, which some artists cannot wear.

JEAN PARROTT ENGAGED

Mrs. Pendleton Parrott announced the engagement of her daughter, Jean, to Marvin C. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmel Davis at a tea, Sunday afternoon.

Jeanne had marked a birthday on Saturday as well as received her betrothal ring. The wedding will be in the fall.

Members of the immediate families in attendance at the announcement party were:

Mr. and Mrs. William Parrott, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Hackett, Dr. and Mrs. Harold Derry, John Matthews, Mrs. Bertha Thomas, Mrs. Susie Howard, Miss Lota Howard, the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Daniel, Dr. and Mrs. Charles R. Campbell, Mrs. Elmer Henderson Sr.,

Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Teal, Mr. and Mrs. William Valentine, Mrs. Mildred Holland, Mrs. Sadye Bryant, William Parrot Jr., and Miss Cora Williams.

MRS. FERNANDIS FETED

Mrs. Sarah C. Fernandis, who marked her 87th birthday Wednesday after more than a half century of service in many fields, here, was the center of much activity, Sunday, when several organizations joined in honoring her.

An open house at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Dixon of Clendennin Street, where Mrs. Fernandis resides, was held by members of the Hampton Alumni Association under direction of Mrs. Johnson Carter; the Bible Class with Mrs. Veola Coleman, and the Co-operative Women's Civic League with Mrs. Violet Whyte. After the open house, a formal dinner party was given the honorees niece, Mrs. Hazel Brown of Pittsburgh, who was joined here by a great niece, Miss Martha J. Walker of Philadelphia. Mrs. Nancy J. Marshall and Miss Marguerite Jones also came from Philadelphia for the affairs.

BERNICE WHITE SURPRISED

No one was more surprised than Bernice White when she walked into the Harlem Avenue home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Squith, recently, to find the family gathered at a party for her.

After a round of cocktails with the guests the honoree recovered from her shock, and joined in the fun and frolic.

About were the Lionel Monsequos, Richard Cole, Joseph Russ, Milton White, Clifford White, Clinton Davenport, from hereabouts; and Odessa Reaves, Marie Hatchett and Carl Southhall of New York.

CHRISTENING HELD

The William Buckners' grandchild, Patricia Dianne Jackson, was christened at St. Philip Episcopal Church, New York City, Sunday.

Baby is the daughter of the Orashio T. ((Doris Buckner) Jacksons.

Father Tollie Caution, secretary of the diocese, officiated at the ceremony. Father Sheldon Bishop is rector of the church.

Patricias christening ensemble, the gift of her paternal grandmother, Mrs. John Jackson, was a white wool-lined silk coat and hat with pique collar and cuffs, over a bow-trimmed white nylon dress. Gloria Galipin of New York and the baby's granduncle, James Wilson of this city, were guests.

OMEGAS HONOR OFFICERS

Pi Omega Chapter of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, at its recent meeting at Wynn's Club Room, honored Grafton L. Moore and Thomas B. Nelson with a service award.

Mr. Moore, a laboratory technician at Goucher College since his graduation from Morgan in 1916, who served the chapter as keeper of records and seal from 1942 to 1949, received a loving cup. Mr. Nelson, received a service plaque. He has been keeper of finance for Pi Omega Chapter since 1934.

The chapter also voted to carry on its roster as active members, Professor Milton . Calloway, who is now ill.

Members present for the ceremony were:

Drs. C. Dudley Lee, Charles T. Woodland, R. Garland Chissell, James D. Carr, Oscar J. Chapman, George H. Spaulding, Cyril F. Atkins, Robert L. Gill, Sanders Russell, William M. Garner, Ted Phifer;

Clarence Maiden, George Barrett, L. A. Bell, George Rosedom, Ellsworth Wilson, William Taylor, Otis Sprow, Patrick H. Walker, Daniel Spaulding, Julius Taylor, Lemuel Leeper, Linwood G. Koger Sr., William M. Gardner, J. J. Hunt, Talmadge L. Hill, Edward P. Hut, John Hampton, Charles W. Fletcher, Leroy Bennett, and Dean George C. Grant.

Ernest L. Perkins was chairman of a committee comprised of Saul M. Perdue, Otha Pinkett, and Powell Sheffey, which served a repast for the evening.

SWAGS 20 YEARS OLD

On their twentieth anniversary, Sunday, the Swags entertained with a dinner party with their wives as guests.

The party was held in the Truesdale Tea Room and was preceded by a cocktailer given by Dr. and Mrs. Louis Harmon.

At the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Urquart, Dr. and Mrs. Ulysses Bourne of Frederick, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Laws, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Woodland, Mr. and Mrs. Rivers Chambers, Joseph Curry, Dr. and Mrs. James Johnson of Elkton, Md., Dr. J. T. Clayton, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Stewart, Dr. and Mrs. Ted Phifer, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ewing, Mr. and Mrs. William Gosnell.

On Sunday evening the Swagettes (the wives) met with Verna Gosnell and planned a party for the men in April.

SENIORS FETED

In a setting of spring flowers and candle light, in the spacious sunken parlor of Truth House at Morgan State College, Dean Thelma P. Bando and her staff entertained the senior women at a "Coming Out Party," last week.

Games were played, after which refreshments were served. The party marked the beginning of the senior women's spring privileges."

Prizes were won by Marian Cliff of Birmingham, Ala., Hortense Fauntleroy of Eastof, Md., Precious Skinner of Philadelphia; Laura Borgue of Lexington, Va., and Miss Christine Dabney, Westfield, N.J.

Director of residence halls, who were hostesses were Mrs. Sara Diggs, Mrs. Addie Donnell, Mrs. Harriet Hutchins, and Miss Christine Goode. Miss Camille Drayton, assistant to the Dean of Women, received the guests.

DELTA PLANS

With the Marian Anderson recital on March 28 a sellout, Delta Sigma Theta sorors relaxed for a few minutes, Tuesday and then launched into final planning for a variety of other projects before the season's end.

These include participation April 20, 21 and 22 in the Eastern Region's Job Opportunities Conference at Sollers Point High School in Turner Station; May Week activities and the annual Mother-Daughter luncheon on May 20; and the chapter's formal affair on April 21.

Miss Anderson will sing at Polytechnic Institute. It will be her first recital in the East since her return from abroad. The auditorium doors will open at 3 p.m.

Vivian Chamberlin of the Baltimore Delta chapter, Epsilon Sigma, represents Maryland in the Regional Project which is sponsoring the Job Conference. Over 200 high school pupils are expected to attend.

The chapter will be represented at the National Convention in California in August, by Pearl Cole, president, and Ellen Fisher.

PEREGRINATORS

Russell Lane, principal of the Crispus Attucks High School in Indianapolis, Ind., visited here, last week. Was house guest of the William Gwathneys and entertained by the Everett Lanes, Dr. and Mrs. George McDonald and Mrs. Lota Lewis. Scotched that rumor that he is interested in any top education post in Baltimore by reminding that he is eligible for retirement from his present post in two years. Edna Over Gray was booked from Lynchburg, this week, after a speaking engagement for Gamma Iota Omega chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Sunday. Miss Tossie P. F. Whiting, former dean of women at Virginia State, Petersburg, came up for AKA's presentation of Camilla Williams, her protege. Received a tremendous ovation from the audience when the singer told of her being solely responsible for her (Miss Williams) career. The Maids and Matrons Club perked down to Bride Mae Morris Medders' apartment, last week. Showered her with pots and pans and other kitchen gadgets; played canasta and otherwise had a ball.

MRS. EDEMY RE-ELECTED

The Alpha Wives re-elected Ella Edemy president, inducted Mattie Connor as vice president; Vivian Pendleton, recording secretary; Marguerite Brown, corresponding secretary; Audrey Butler, treasurer; Mae Campbell, parliamentarian and Dorothy Gibson, reporter, at their meeting recently.

Ruby Walker, Frances Vessells, Dollie Walker, Irene Templeton, Mildred Seaborne and Senora Reckling were hostesses.

New Members welcomed were Alma Gray, Beverly Daley, Ruth Dunmore, Mildred Harlan, Doris Wheeler, and Mildred Jackson.

MRS. WATTS SURPRISED

The P.A.P.'s (Pinch a Penny) Club surprised Mrs. Lucille Watts with a bon voyage party on Friday night at her home. They brought gifts which added more fun and happiness to the occasion.

The honoree left Saturday evening for Los Angeles, to visit her cousin, Edna Deaver McCormick, formerly of this city and now living in California.

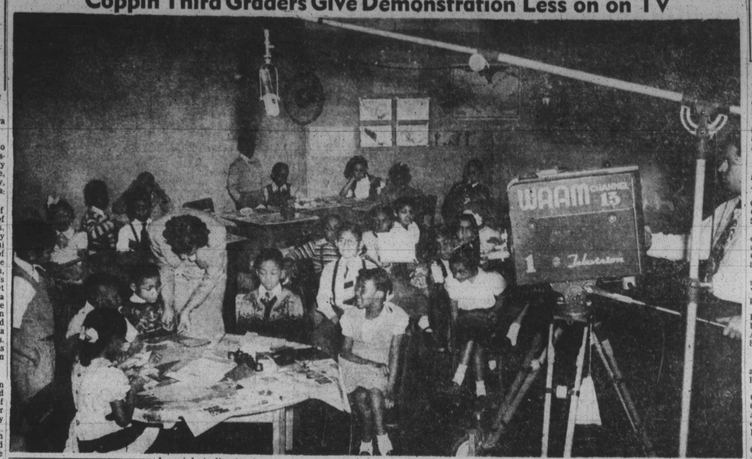
Beauticians to Be Shown New Techniques

The use of the cold wave machine and the latest techniques of hair styling will be shown in a demonstration by the United Beauty Company at 6 p.m., Tuesday, at the Master Beauticians Center, 1522 Madison Ave.

Plans are also being made by the beauticians for its 1950 trade show to be held in May. Miss Maynor Tilghman, the beauticians president, announced this week.

Coppin Third Graders Give Demonstration Less on on TV



A social studies work period on a Mexican unit was demonstrated over WAAM-TV on Friday by the third grade class of Coppin Demonstration School No. 132. Mrs. Lillian Ross is the teacher. The series, Baltimore Classroom — 1950, is presented in the station's studios through the co-operation of the Department of Education.

Formal Bridal Rites Unite Baltimore Couple
