Town and Campus

By BLANCHE H. JONES

A far cry from being a "gloomy blue" was the Zeta Phi Beta Gamma chapter rendition of its "Annual Blue Revue."

The show took place on Friday eve in Morgan's Dust Bowl.

The programme opened with a young male quartet direct from Booker T. Washington Junior High School. The "Starleers," they were called and who really did star are Nathan Jones, Clarence Clark, Louis Butler and Bernard Smith.

Flossie Blackman of Dunbar High School and Gordon Stills of "us" did a comic interlude on our missing and still missing "16 g's."

Nellie Lutcher was there too, in the person of Gloria Queen.

Douglass HI sent a modern dance team. The black and white clad "young bloods" included Gwendolyn Nelson, Marie Brown, Doris Redmond, Betty McLemore, Joan Taylor and Louise Wyatt. Gwendolyn Nelson later, stepped from the group and offered an inspiring dance to "Nobody Knows the Trouble I see."

Delta Sigma Theta lent talent in the person of Dorothy Franklin (interpretive dance) and Deborah Thompson who together with Gene Andre Bass (Phi Beta Sigma) did a request repeat performance of "Slaughter on Fifth Avenue."

Alva Franklin swooned while Robert King sang "My Foolish Heart," so did J. T. Moore when Dorothy sang "Mexicali Rose."

Everyone agreed that Samuel Turnstall has a great future in the world of music. Mr. Turnstall is a pupil of B. T. Washington School. He was accompanied by James Wise. Then came the twins! Twelve years of jokes, tricks and songs—Sweetpea and Skeeter of B. T. Washington stole the show and tore it down when they chanted through "Rag Mop."

After the lights had been dimmed at the cool old Dust Bowl (thanks to John L. Lewis) the audience trekked over to the Christian Center to finish the night off by doing their "bit" on the dance floor.

The Annual Blue Revue ended the Zeta Phi Beta's celebration of Finer Woomanhood Week.

On to the Game

The same eve at the Baltimore Gardens, everyone arrived in a winning "frame of mind." The basketball team didn't quite fit in the frame, however. Better snapping next time, huh?

The Senior Social Science Class, directed by Dr. Earl Moses, made a tour of the slum area in the Lexington district, recently.

On March 2, over WBAL TV at 6:00 p.m., Hilda Perry, Miriam Jefferies; Frankie Johnson, James Nichols, and Dorothy Franklin discussed the problem with Mrs. Herbert Hamman of the Citizens housing and Planning Association.

Who is that mysterious stranger who was seen in the corridor of Truth House last week? And it wasn't that cute little Cocker Spaniel of Mother Diggs. The dog belongs there, but "it" didn't!

Robbie Harris had a simply wonderful time during his short vacation due to th scalding of his hand. Why? Because cute Jackie Spencer wrapped and held it for him every hour on the hour.

Have you seen the attractive "hair covers" that Bill Mumby and Charlie Reid are wearing with the Morgan seal? If you desire one, ask them.

Are you going to the CIAA Basketball Tournament. See you there!

If you have any news of tomorrow, yesterday or today—"buzz me" at MAdison 5827-J.

See you then.

Companions Give 4th Incubator

The Companions Club recently celebrated its tenth anniversary by giving its fourth incubator to Provident Hospital.

Funds for the purchase of the incubator are obtained through an annual musical tea given by the group. This year's tea was arranged by a committee composed of Mesdames Wilhelmina A. Garner, chairman; Margaret Nixon, co-chairman; Muriel Callaman, mistress of ceremonies; Adelle Foreman, president of the club.

Other members of the club are: Mesdames Hazel T. Barrett, Etna N. Blackwell, Alice W. Branson, Lucille W. Cephas, Robbie Chissell; Mesdames Barbara Hawkins, Essie Lee, Gwendolyn Lynch, Mary Maiden, Anne McGlothern, Emma Tucker, Gloria Tucker and Elaine Wright.

Spry at 99, Mrs. Harding Recalls 'Abe'

Spry, with just a touch of gray hair is Mrs. Sarah Harding of 528 Gold St. who will be 99 years old in May.

Mrs. Harding, who is about four feet tall, was born in Baltimore on S. Charles St. the daughter of John and Sarah Boyer. She remembers vividly when Abraham Lincoln was president.

She has had four husbands — George Foreman, by whom she had one child, the late George Foreman Jr.; George Blake, John Edmonds and her present husband, Howard Harding, a handyman.

Her former husbands are dead.

Outlived 14 Sisters, Brothers

Mrs. Harding, who has outlived her fourteen sisters and brothers, now lives with her husband at the Gold St. house.

She does her own housework

MRS. SARAH HARDING

and can still think clearly. She is a little deaf, but wears no glasses.

Her greatest pride is her embroidery work which she proudly displays.

One month ago, Mrs. Harding, although Catholic all of her life, joined the Seventh Day Adventist Church, Berea Temple.

Since she seldom goes out of the house, the come and administer to her.

She has only two relatives living, both cousins, Mrs. Annie Wells of Baltimore and Mrs. Florence Crutchfield of Atlantic City.

Asked what she wanted for her 99th birthday in May, Mrs. Harding stated she desired only flowers—no presents of any kind, just flowers.

Clubs

LA PAIX ET HARMONIE—the club met with Mrs. Lottie Gladden of 812 Edmondson Avenue, this week, and completed plans for their supper party on Saturday. Mrs. Ruth Hill is president of the group.

50,000 ALABAMA VOTERS

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (ANP) — As a result of a private survey, Governor Folsom says he sees 50,000 colored voters in May.

Mrs. Kolom Is Club Hostess

Mrs. Georgia Kolom served as hostess when the Willing Workers of Bennett Place held their regular monthly meeting, recently at 1000 Bennett Place.

A "Door Knob Rally" was recently given by Mrs. Ethel Newman, Mrs. Rosa Spain and Mrs. Violet Scales.

Plan Visit to School

Final arrangements were made for the group to visit the Barrett Training School for Girls. The group will be entertained by the girls of the school; make a tour of the buildings and grounds and will treat the ninety girls and the administrative and supervisory officers of the school.

Special gifts will be made to those girls whose birthdays fall in the month of March. The trip will be made from Bennett Place by Chartered buses Sunday. Miss Ruth Estherl Clayton is chairman of the affair.

Mrs. Hester Clayton, Mr. Newman and Mrs. Gertrude Robinson who have been confined to their beds, are now convalescing.

Members who attended the meeting were:

Mesdames Cora White, Rosa Butler, Julia Holland, Dora Wilks, Cora Wilson, Gertrude Robinson, Marie Jordan, Hester Clayton;

Miss Mary Clayton, Mesdames Georgia Kolom, Addie Gibson, Rosa Spain, and Ethel Newman.

Mrs. Kolom was assisted by her daughter and son, Helena Kolom and Christian Jr., in serving the group.
