be done with the purse.

Finally, the story went on, the first woman went off to ask her "boss" for advice, and then returned and offered to split the "find" three ways.

Miss Selby, however, would have to put up money of her own to show "good faith," and they took a cab to Miss Selby's home in Catonsville, where she picked up her bank book.

They came back to town and to the bank, where the teller asked the woman why she was withdrawing so much money.

Her answer, police said, was "No reason."

Answer Proven True

On the street again, the women told Miss Selby they would take the money to the "boss." He could be found, they told her, on the 10th floor of the Fidelity Building.

The victim found the building and the 10th floor, but not the "boss," the women or her money.

In the case of Ennols, he pleaded guilty to working the game alone upon Mrs. Mamie Williams of the 1500 block Partridge Ct., as she shopped on Eastern Ave.

"How long have you been in the racket?" Judge Joseph Sherbow asked Ennols. He said about eight years.

"Well, how do you talk these people into giving you their money?" the judge wanted to know.

"It's unexplainable," said Ennols.

"The Future is Yours—Plan and Prepare" is the theme of the 12th Vocational Opportunity Campaign being sponsored by the National Urban League and its 57 affiliates this week.

The League campaign is looking ahead to the day when a person will be able to work on any job for which he is qualified, regardless of his racial background. The League feels that if it has qualified persons to refer to jobs, its work is accelerated.

Food Economies of the Week

By VIRGINIA C. SHERBURNE
FOOD ECONOMIST

Baltimore tables will be "wearin' o' the green" this week, in honor of St. Patrick. With due respect to the Saint's fondness for green, the Department of Markets suggests green cabbage, lettuce, green and yellow onions, Irish potatoes and carrots as top "best buys" this week. Green peppers and kale and green beans are moderate incest, according to Virginia C. Sherburne, Food Economist.

Sweet words come readily to those who wear a lucky shamrock on March 17, we are told. The wise homemaker knows that a tasty meal will bring flattery to her family's lips, too! So a few suggestions for a festive St. Pat's menu may be in order. Sunday is a good day to serve a real holiday feast.

Shoulder Good Choice

A pork roast or fresh shoulder is a good choice for an Irish menu. Pork prices are down slightly, with loins, shoulders and hams offering good values. Other meat prices are steady. Apples are tops on the list of fruit buys, so applesauce tinted a delicate green carries out the color scheme and adds to the pork flavor.

Potatoes are definitely Irish, and very low in cost. They may be served O'Brien to fit into the scheme of things. Green cabbage or lettuce, green onions and carrots are excellent salad ingredients. Other green vegetables may be used, too.

Delightful additions to the menu are bit o' green pinwheels. To make them, roll biscuit dough in a rectangular sheet and sprinkle with chopped parsley. Roll up like a jelly roll and seal the edges. Slice to desired thickness and bake. Since the biscuits take such a short time to bake, the parsley keeps its bright green color.

Peppers for Decoration

A few other suggestions include cutting shamrocks out of green peppers to top salads or casserole dishes. Another idea is to remove seeds from green peppers, stuff with seasoned cottage cheese. Chill. Slice crosswise. Serve on shredded lettuce as a salad.

Top cup-cakes with green icing for effect. Pineapple shamrock shortcake is another good idea.

Grade A Large eggs are a very good choice for Lenten menu now. Prices are low and supplies are heavy. Cheese prices hold a bout steady.

CREAMED POTATOES O'BRIEN

12-14 small potatoes
4 tablespoons margarine or butter
2 tablespoons minced onion
4 tablespoons flour
1½ teaspoons salt
2 cups milk
½ cup shredded cheese
¼ cup chopped green parsley
½ cup pimiento strips

Boil potatoes in skins until tender. Peel and add to sauce. Melt margarine or butter, saute onions in it until soft but not browned. Add flour, salt and milk gradually. Stir until thickened and smooth. Stir in cheese, half the chopped parsley and pimiento. Sprinkle with rest of parsley and pimiento on top of potatoes. Serve very hot. Yields, six servings.

FINNEGAN'S FAVORITE (Macaroni and Corned Beef Casserole)

2 ounces elbow marcaroni
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons enriched flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon pepper
1½ teaspoons horseradish
½ teaspoon prepared mustard
1½ cups milk
¾ cup shredded corn beef (1½ 12-ounce can)
1 cup cooked peas
½ cup buttered crumbs

Cook marcaroni in boiling salted water until tender (about 8 minutes). Drain and rinse. While marcaroni is cooking, melt butter or margarine in saucepan. Stir in flour, salt, pepper, horseradish and mustard. Gradually add milk, stirring constantly until thickened. Fold marcaroni, corned beef and peas into mustard sauce. Turn into greased 1½-quart casserole. Sprinkle buttered crumbs on top. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 30 minutes. Makes 4 servings.
