Bracer Parties Highlight Flock of Week-End Dances

with Lula Jones Garrett

Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity dance drew the top drawer crowd to Morgan State College's Refectory, Friday eve, and needless to say was a gay affair, a gala dress affair, and a much pre-partied affair.

There were so many cocktail parties that it's a wonder anyone reached the dance, but some 600 did.

Dr. and Mrs. Garland Chissell and Dr. and Mrs. Simon H. Carter held forth, jointly, prior to the affair at the Carter residence.

About were Drs. and Mesdames Marcus Moore, Emerson Walden, Messrs. and Mesdames Ulysses Glover, Melvin Callamen, Clarence Maiden, Elwood Brown; Misses Jeanne Parrott, Arnetia Hall, Cleota Miner; Junky Wood, Marvin Davis and James McClellen.

Mrs. Jimmy Finney, swooshing about in yards upon yards of white chiffon, poured cocktails for Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clark, Dr. and Mrs. George E. Brown, and Dr. Albert LaForest.

Garnering Tom and Anita Hawkins's sippables were Sherlock and Ivy Grinage, Ella and Bruce Edemy, Earl and Palestine Anderson, Glen and Gwendolyn Tarter and Ike and Roberta Keets.

And Dr. and Mrs. Robert W. McDaniel had in Dr. and Mrs. Fred Adams, Dr. and Mrs. Ulysses Bourne, Barbara Adams of Washington, Mr. and Mrs. James Gilliam, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cummings, Dr. John Woodland, Miss Lettie Carter and Mr. and Mrs. Creek Denkins.

The William Gibsons not only had a bunch in for bracers but fetched 'em back for breakfast after the prom. Thereabouts were the Cortlandt Browns, Ralph Shipleys, Charles Bruers, John Mannings, L. Boyd Holdens and John Tates Jr. of Washington.

The Bob Matthewses and Ed Smiths did the same with their dance guests at the Smith's residence, with cocktails before and breakfast afterwards. There were Warren and Ada Weaver, The Geoge Lottiers, Evelyn and Henry West, Vera and Richard Frye, Doothea and Jack Rattle, Sydney and Audrey Brooks, Mae and Fred Medders and James Wood.

WIVES ENTERTAIN

Of course after the dance the majority of the Alpha men ambled to the York Hotel where their wives were having a breakfast party for them. Yvette Murphy headed the committee which planned this affair.

Among those there were: Messrs. and Mesdames Richard Cummings, J. H. Winder, Tom Hawkins, William Walker, Bernard Bell, Robert Holt, Raymond Carpenter, Harold Seaborne, Eugene Payne, Walter Gray, Henry Parks;

Messrs and Mesdames Glendi Jones, Cliff McKoy, Maurice Jones, James Murphy, Roy Garvin, Richard Thomas, John J. Oliver, Robert Watts;

Mesars. and Mesdames Howard Murphy, Bruce Edemy, Edward Smith, John Procope, Cecil Scott;

Doctors and Mesdames McDonald Bando, C. R. Campbell, Ralph Reckling, George C. Page, Harold Derry, Garland Chissell, Simon Carter, Gilbert Banfield;

Doctors and Mesdames G. B. Jones, Robert McDaniel, John Woodland, Bernard Christmas, Douglass Sheperd, George Pendleton, Miles Connor, Frederick Dedmond, Fred Adams, Ulysses Bourne; Capt. and Mrs. J. C. Harlan and Miss Barbara Adams.

And after Les Origenettes' cotton cotillion on Saturday night, the Clifton Gallises held forth at breakfast for a group of guests from hegabouts and Washington. They included the Leroy Bluldins, Slater Browns, Richard Bennets, Milton Latons, Thomas Taylors, Esther LaForest and Clarence Henderson of this town; and the Marcellus Jenkinses, Benjamin Patons and Wesley Bellamys of D.C.

PEREGRINATORS

Mrs. Maida S. Brannon, director of nurses at Provident Hospital returned, last week, from San Francisco, Calif., where she attended the biennial convention of the National Association of Graduate Nurses. Mrs. Goldie Beckett and Mrs. Jesse Stanley were off the first of the week to attend the commencement exercises of Stanley Beckett who graduates from Syracuse University this week. In Baltimore from Lewisburg, W. Va., for the graduation of Julian Cooley from Morgan State College, this week, are Mrs. Julian Cooley, Mrs. Laurence Cooley and the Rev. John Petty. Also to witness the ceremonial came Mr. and Mrs. G. William Dunn 3rd. of Philadelphia, the former Myrtle Cooley. All are guests of Mrs. H. T. Harris at her Carrollton Avenue Home.

Mrs. Hardy Liston, wife of the president of Johnson C. Smith College, is in this city undergoing treatment at Johns Hopkins Hospital. Both Dr. and Mrs. Liston are house guests of Dr. and Mrs. Ted, Phifer. Here from Philadelphia is Miss Sarah T. Seymore, who is visiting her uncles and aunts, Messrs. and Mesdames William Smith and William Milburg.

POT-POURRI

Add to new citizens a baby girl for Dr. and Mrs. William Garner. Mom is the former Wilhelmina Allen daughter of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Allen. The baby, named Patricia, arrived at Provident Hospital Tuesday morning, tipped the scales at six and a half pounds. She's the Garners' second, their first being a girl, also, and now 4.

And the James Hites, who already have sons 10 and 12 years old, added another son, Monday, whom they will name Louis Douglass. Baby weighted eight pounds and 3 ounces when he arrived at Johns Honkins. Dad is vice principal at School No. 106 and Mrs. Hite, the former Margaret Thompson, was a Federal employee in D.C.

Mrs. Jennie Simmons returned to her home in Stuyvesant, N.Y., Thursday, after officially welcoming her new granddaughter, Janet Beryl Waters, whose parents are Lawerence and Rupperta Waters.

Margaret Piggott (she's the daughter of the late Dr. Casper N. Piggott and Mrs. Anne Piggott) and Linwood Koger Jr., son of the attorney and Mrs. Koger, will be married on Sunday afternoon.

And Inetta Winner, daughter of Mrs. Arthur Winder and John L. Gross pighted their troth, Saturday, in the rectory of St. Peter Claver Catholic Church, with the Rev. Fr. James Murphy officiating.

She was attended by her sister, Violet, and his brother, William, served as best man.

The bride wore a cape suit of navy blue with white lace blouse and a corsage of orchids. Her attendant was gowned in pink, with a hat of roses and a corsage of roses.

At a reception following the ceremony, hostesses included Misses Violet, Constantia Winder, Christine Wise, Muriel Gross, Lelia Baskerville of Denver, Col.

And While Mrs. T. Henry Waters was motoring down to Atlantic City Sunday to surprise her niece, Edith Holland, Miss Holland was sweeping to Baltimore to surprise her Maryland relatives and good, for she was being married here to George Dickerson, Atlantic City teacher. The ceremony took place at the Whittier Avenue home of the bride's cousins, the Powell Sheffeys. The Rev. Fairfax King officiated.

Which reminds me. Shirley Butler, daughter of the Edward Butlers, is wearing a ring from Herbert Brown.

Off to Buffalo, N.Y., this week end go Sadie Marshall, president of the Baltimore chapter of the Jack and Jill Club of America; and Ida Smith, national journalist, for the annual convention of the group, which opens Saturday and closes with a trip to Canada, Sunday. Edna Seay of Buffalo will be hostess to the group on Friday night, and Carlita Jones has planned an affair for the Baltimore delegation.

$757 Purse for Director

Attesting to the interest and esteem of the community, a purse of $750 was presented to Mrs. Alice Arrington, executive director of the Madison Avenue YWCA, Tuesday evening at a bon voyage party given for her by the interassociation YWCA.

The fund will aid in financing her trip to Switzerland where she is being sent as an exchange secretary by the national office of the organization.
