Easily Used Packaged Foods Aid Busy Planner

By BETTY COOK for ANP

Speed! That's the trend everywhere these days.

Everyone wants easy ways to clean house, easy methods of washing and ironing clothes, quick ways to get a delicious dinner on the table. The reason for all this is that so many more women are working outside the home—all sorts of jobs are being held by women now, jobs that people once thought only men could do.

Women like to work away from home—it gives them a feeling of independence — but at the same time, women want to be real homemakers. They want their homes to be attractive, to be places that bring joy and happiness to their families. They like to feel that it is the cooperation of the family members that make a happy home life—and that the woman in the family is very important in bringing this cooperation about.

Health First

No matter what position outside the home a woman holds, she is always aware of the importance of good food, attractively served, in keeping her family healthy and happy. This is particularly true if the woman is a mother. She knows it's wise to have balanced meals, to have meals on time. However, she knows it is difficult to find time for elaborate recipes. Yet she wants only the best for her family.

Food manufacturers have come to her rescue with packaged mixes, prepared puddings, quick-frozen fruits and vegetables that call for no lengthy preparation. That's one answer to the homemaker's time and labor problem. Home economists have given much thought to busy homemakers, too. They have many time and energy-saving ideas to offer—and one of the best, is the "quickie" recipe.

"Quickie" Used

For example, take a packaged pancake mix, a "quickie" syrup, fresh fruit, fried bacon.

Add a glass of milk for the youngsters, plus coffee for the grown-ups. There you have a substantial, delightful breakfast in no time flat! The children will love it—so will Daddy! Who doesn't appreciate a stack of pancakes, dripping with golden butter or margarine, and sweet with little streams of maple syrup?

Crisp bacon and coffee help supply the irrestible morning call — the delightful fragrance of a real American breakfast.

Fruited Maple Syrup

¾ cup maple-blended syrup
1 tablespoon butter
¼ cup pineapple, orange or grapefruit juice, apricot nectar or cider

Simmer syrup for 1 minute. Add butter and desired fruit juice. Serve warm on pancakes. Makes 1 cup syrup.

"Cafeteria-Style" Breakfast

With morning a frantic time as various members of the family (often including mother) rush off at different hours to school or work, a "cafeteria-style" breakfast is an excellent way to make sure everyone eats a good morning meal.

"Serve yourself" is easily applied to breakfast. Be sure the table is set the night before. Then have a pitcher of fruit juice in the icebox, along with milk and cream. Have the toaster plugged in, and beside it a stack of sliced bread. On the table is the butter plate, and a bowl of cereal topping. A pot of coffee stays hot on the stove, and so does a delicious and nourishing hot cereal—kept warm in a double boiler.

And presto! Breakfast is served.

"EASY DOES IT" BY ..... HELEN HALE

It's open season for wool socks! Are you laundering them so they remain soft and fluffy? Are they still fitting properly? If not, brush up your technique on laundering.

Before socks are used, make cardboard or heavy brown paper impressions of them by tracing on paper; or, buy forms to the correct size.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK
Ginger Cookies
(Makes 5 dozen)

½ cup soft shortening
½ cup brown sugar
2 eggs
¾ cup Molasses
¾ teaspoon salt
3 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons ground ginger
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon

Cream together shortening and sugar; add molasses and eggs and beat with rotary beater until smooth. Sift together dry ingredients and work into first mixture. Chill dough several hours. Remove from refrigerator and roll on lightly floured board ¼" thick. Cut with floured cutters. Bake on lightly greased baking sheets in a moderately hot (375 degrees F.) oven, or, when lightly touched, no imprint remains.

Socks or other woolens should never be soaked. Keep the socks under the water and squeeze the suds in and out of them, never wringing or twisting them.

Wash the socks on the wrong side first, then turn to the right side and wash again. Rinse thoroughly so there are no suds left in the socks. When the rinse water at last turns clear, they're free of suds.

Socks should be washed after each wearing so body salts and acids as well as perspiration stains do not dry in the wool fibers and cause them to rot and weaken.

Use warm, tepid water. Flick some on your wrist and if you can't feel it, this is the temperature to use for your woolens. Make nice fluffy suds for the washing.

The more extra moisture you can get out of the socks before actual drying, the more quickly they will dry. A good way to do this is to place the socks in a Turkish Towel, roll, and then knead out the moisture.

STOLES FOR THE GALS—Most important accessory this season is your stole. Flattering long velvet stole for evening wear is 15 inches wide and has fringed ends. It comes in bright colors for daytime. Reversible stole in black velvet on one side and bright taffeta in pink, electric blue or kelly green on the other is 12 inches wide and the ends are slashed diagonally.

Red wool loose knit stole — 18 inches wide, has gold fringe and gold threads woven through lengthwise. Long pure silk stole that may be folded over and used as a scarf is made of graduating colors from green to rust or from blue to pink. Pure silk stole or scarf in solid colors of green, gold, red, cocoa or black has scalloped edges. All prices below $5.

Biscuit Ring Casserole

There's a good meal in this casserole, and a thrifty one. Meat and vegetables are well-flavored and topped with a ring of golden biscuits.

Biscuit Casserole Plus Salad, Dessert Makes Meal

Taxes are high and prices are high, but your need for substantial, nourishing meals is just the same. One excellent solution is to stretch your food dollar in meat-saving dishes which combine meat with economical enriched flour.

Such a dish is Biscuit Ring Casserole, a meal-in-one taste delight that combines meat with peas, carrots and lima beans, and tops all with biscuits. The biscuit ring makes a mighty good-looking service. It contributes B-vitamins and iron in addition to economical protein at small cost.

With this flavorful casserole, serve a crisp salad and milk or coffee. Apple pie with cheese completes a menu your family will approve. To save time and work, often you'll want to call on your baker for a luscious pie, cake or cookies for dessert.

Biscuit Ring Casserole

2 cups cooked, cubed meat
2 tablespoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons fat or drippings
2 tablespoons enriched flour
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 cup meat stock, vegetable liquid or water
1 cup cooked peas
½ cup cooked carrots
½ cup cooked lima beans

Biscuits

Brown meat and onions in hot fat. Stir in flour, salt and pepper. Add liquid and cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Add vegetables and mix well. Pour into 2-quart casserole. Top with biscuits.

Biscuits

2 cups sifted enriched flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup shortening
2/3 to ¾ cup milk

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Add milk to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead gently 30 seconds. Roll out ½ inch thick and cut with floured biscuit cutter. Arrange on top of meat - vegetable mixture. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees F.) about 15 minutes or until biscuits are golden brown. Makes 6 servings.

Hot Olive Canapes

You'll have to sample these "Hot Olive Canapes" to realize how delicious they are. Put a paper thin slice of onion on a toast round and spread with a mixture of equal parts ripe olives and mayonnaise.

Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese and broil until puffed and delicately browned. Make plenty 'cause they're sure to disappear quickly.

Hot Olive Canapes

Ripe olives
Mayonnaise
Sweet onion
Bread
Grated Parmesan cheese

Cut olives from pits into pieces. Blend equal quantities olives and mayonnaise, allowing about 1/3 cup of each for 1 dozen 2-inch canapes. Slice onion paper thin. Cut bread into 2-inch rounds and toast on one side under broiler. Place an onion slice on untoasted side.

Heap olive mayonnaise mixture over it and sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Broil until puffed and light brown. Serve hot.

Flambrosia

Straight out of the South's book of holiday food customs is Ambrosia. This dessert beauty, a combination of juicy ripe orange sections and snowy shredded coconut, is served traditionally and elegantly in a lovely milk-glass bowl, as a Christmas and New Year's dessert.

An exciting and wonderful variation of Ambrosia is Flambrosia. You will understand why when you see how tangerine sections, suggesting the flaming brilliance of the tropics, contrast vividly with creamy-yellow grapefruit and frosty-white coconut. A truly lovely combination to look at, and a refreshing and deliciously tangy dessert to complement heavy and rich holiday fare.

Flambrosia

1 cup grapefruit sections, free from membrane
1 cup tangerine sections, free from membrane
¼ cup confectioners' sugar
1½ cups shredded coconut
3 tablespoons Cointreau

Arrange layer of grapefruit and tangerine sections in serving dish and sprinkle with sugar and coconut. Repeat until all ingredients are used, topping with coconut. Chill. Before serving pour Cointreau over coconut-fruit mixture. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Fashion Flair

By BERNADINE CARRICKETT FOR ANP

The fashion forecast for your holiday hat is sparkling white for night or day, says Artie Wiggins, internationally famous NAFAD designer.

The smartest, newest and most flattering top frosters for any costume these holidays to come will be the little dabts of white perched securely atop a coiffure, the smaller, the better, the whiter the newer and most distinctive.

White Hats

In her latest fashion review, Artie is featuring nothing but white hats in the last scene which she titles "White Christmas." She is using all of the white fabrics available to her in this particular scene, including panne velvet, velours as thick as rich satin, dull textured felts, satins that wink in the light, dull sheened silk jersey faille or bengaline ribbon.

After the hats have been fashioned from the most fragile of halo effects to the new large and wide flats, dazzle dust is added by way of sequins, rhinestones, silver embroidery, pearl luster shells and paillettes and translucent bugle beads.

The finished results are jewel-like creations that shine effulgently for after-five. Many of such lustrous compositions are worn by day, to complement a dark and handsome silk suit or dinner costume of dress with matching fitted jacket.

Flower Theme

Another new contrast, also in white, is the theme of flowers. Huge satin roses, tiny white edelweiss or tiny satin rosebuds, are always particularly effective and ideal for the many shoppers who never lose their appreciation for such floral flattery.

White veils are still another favorite device to contrast an otherwise simple white hat.

Artie has also designed several gorgeous hats in a luscious shade of blue, which she cleverly calls "Artie's Blue." They are made in halos, diadems and crown effects that look positively regal with the shape to outline the head-dresses of the charming models.

This splendorous blue shade is especially effective with inky-black in fabrics of satin, wool, velvet and brocades. Wear them with dresses, coat-dresses and suits.

Velours Score

Some of her simple hats, unadorned by flowers, use the unusual texture of silky velours and panne velvet. Occasionally, glittering jeweled pins are clipped at strategic points. Others have the jeweled bands of eye veiling or the misty veiling dusted with silver for more eye flattery.

Big or little plain or flowered, veiled or clipped with glitter, the white hats of the hour are the last word in "dress" flattery for the holidays, says Artie. But what e'er you do, be sure to wear one that will be as gala as the season.

Pickleburgers Good Way To Use Leftover Meats

¾ pound ground beef
¼ pound ground fresh pork
½ cup milk
1 egg, beaten
1 tablespoon chopped onion
1½ cups wheat flakes or slightly crushed corn flakes
¼ teaspoon pepper
¾ teaspoon salt
1/3 cup finely chopped dill pickle
3 tablespoons juice from pickles

Combine meats; add milk, egg, onion, cereal flakes and seasonings, mixing well. Shape into 6 oval - shaped rolls, arrange in greased baking pan and place in moderate oven (350 degrees F.)

After first 20 minutes of baking, pour mixture of pickles and juice over the individual loaves. Continue baking for additional 30 minutes, basting occasionally with juice in pan.

The other way to make the most of a small amount of meat is with Vegetable Meat Loaf, which combines rolled oats with hamburger. Add grown raw potatoes, carrots, onions, plus canned tomatoes and seasonings.

After packing the mixture in a loaf pan, a couple of slices of bacon are placed on top. The rich juices of the bacon do the basting and you can forget your main dinner dish for an hour and a half.

Gadabouting in Baltimore
Partying Begins Early For Visiting AKA Sorors

with Lula Jones Garrett

Holding top-spot on the social agenda in Baltimore, this week, is the array of affairs for visiting Alpha Kappa Alpha sorors . . . and a gay array it is!

The partying started off early.

MISS MADDOX FETED

Carey Maddox, Chicago, administrative secretary of the organization, was the incentive for the party which Verniece Reynolds (she's advisor to Alpha Delta, Morgan State College) gave on Saturday night.

Began with supper (Harry Carpenter was the extra man) followed with whatever women call a bull session, with Elizabeth Williams, Lillian Ross, Vernice Matthews, Stephanie Frazier and Ruth Davis, about.

Later their husbands (Ed Williams, Ducky Ross, Bill Matthews, Medford Reynolds) joined them for cocktails . . . took them out to see the town later.

MISS WHEELER HONOREE

Tall, lithesome Martha Wheeler (she of the flashing smile) was the guest in whose honor the John Halls held forth on Christmas night.

She hails from Raleigh, is on the faculty of Shaw University, was here for the Boule.

'Twas a cocktail-cards-buffet affair . . . and gangs of fun. The honoree was nice to look at in red net with a half-stole of green matched with a kerchief of the same green net. And the hostess wore black sequin-embroidered net and tulle.

Dave Minor (the Bullet's star) fetched his wife. She's a cute little thing with an appealing smile and is a new addition to the Baltimore colony.

Don Barksdale, the other Bullet star, was also about, trying to find a sport in the Hall's game room which would accommodate his perfectly appointed sky-height.

Others about were the George B. Christians, Barnhill Jackson, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Faggett, the Charles Paynes, Pearl Jackson, Charles Dorsey, the Calvin Douglasses, the Mark Pattersons, the Lloyal Randolphs, the Myles Harrisons, Marian Gregory and Zerita Richardson.

SIGMA GAMMA PARTY

First of the official parties was a pretty luncheon for members of the Directorate, in the Refectory of Morgan State College, Thursday afternoon.

Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority was hostess, with Sorors Marione Croxton, Ida Washington and Mary West Jones doing the honors.

And a smart looking trio they were. Marine selected gray . . . from a very pale veiled felt, to a smoky frock. Mrs. Washington was svelte in black with a touch of white, and Mary, dramatic in red . . . a new bang bob being no small part of her appeal.

The table was centered with an arrangement of Christmas balls and flanked by fat green candles . . . and seated at the board were as snarky a looking group as you would wish to see, including:

AKA Sorors Evelyn A. Roberts, St. Louis, Mo., Wilberetta Johnson, Cleveland, Ohio; Pearl Sewell, Baltimore; Ida L. Scott, Elsie M. Davis, Charleston, W Va., Carolyn S. Blanton, Louisville, Ky., Lucile M. Scott, Atlanta, Ga.; Mayme E. Williams, Miami, Fla.; Zatella R. Turner, Petersburg, Va.;

Gladys C. Bowles, Kansas City, Kans.; Olive D. Brown, Austin, Texas; Fanette Norris, Detroit, Mich; Irma Clarke, Chicago; Carolyn Carrington, Berkeley, Calif; Lillian Parrot, Baltimore; Arnetta Wallace, Knoxville, Tenn.; and Laura T. Lovelace, supreme basileus, Cincinnati, Ohio.

CHI WIVES' PARTY

In the lovely home of Dr. and Mrs. Williams Watts the recreation room was all aglow with Christmas decor on Saturday night when the Chi Delta Mu Wives entertained their husbands at a holiday party.

There were dancing, gift exchanging and supper, with Glodine Adams, Pauline Watts, Maude Woodland and Maude Williams in the role of hostesses.

Attending were:

Doctors and Mesdames George Adams, T. W. Anderson, McDonald Bando, Bernard Christmas, James Hawkins, Thomas Harris, George Lee', Robert McDaniels,

Doctors and Mesdames Frank Sykes, William Watts, Charles Woodland, Nelson Williams, Ralph Young and Dr. Atwel Jones.

MRS. HATCHER ENTERTAINS

Then there was that other delightful party hosted by Rachel Hatcher (and the first of her affairs since the lost of her husband, Dr. Bernard Hatcher), Monday night.

Guests had cocktails in the recreation room, then moved upstairs for a gala buffet supper . . . lingered until four next morning.

About were:

Dr. and Mrs. M. S. Barksdale, Mrs. Lena Dickerson, Dr. and Mrs. William Watts, Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Moseley, Mr. and Mrs. J. Logan Jenkins, Dr. and Mrs. Bernard Harris, Dr. and Mrs. Lucius Butler. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Mayo, Mrs. Margaret Wheatley, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Brown, Mrs. Verda Welcome, Mrs. Mattie Coasey, Jonathan Smith, Miss Rosetta Davis, Mrs. Eula Mae Watts, and Miss Margaret Wiley of Washington.

ZETAS MEET

Alpha Zeta chapter of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority held its monthly meeting at the YWCA this past week.

The meeting was business and social. Plans are being formulated for Finer Womanhood Week celebration.

After the business session of the meeting, guests were entertained with Soror Nellie Buchanan acting at an elaborate social gathering, as mistress of ceremonies.

Prizes were garnered by Lillie Ross, Ann Holt, Alice Hall, Eula Mae Watts, Patricia Wood, Shirley Miller, and Addie Myrick.

Soror Hazel Phillips led the group in Carol Singing. Gifts were exchanged also.

Guests included:

Jessie Valentine, Grace Pinkney, Jane Fields, Gertrude Johnson, Helen Prann, Hilda Whirley, Emma Henson, Mamie Williams,

Vivian Purviance, Patricia Layne, Nancy Smith, Addie Myrick, Patricia Wood, Delores Johnson, Shirley Miller, Alma Leverette.

Sorors present were:

Ruth Russell, Doris Howell, Lilyan M. Nichols, Mary B. Thomas, Emma Duvall, Lillian R. Webb, Ida B. Wroten, Mary Taylor, Lillian Richardson,

Evelyn Roller, Beatrice Hall, Lillie Ross, Thelma Ashe,

Beatrice Lancaster, Nellie Buchanan, Marguerite Carroll, and Ann Holt, Catherine Banks, Marion Johnson, Carrie Scott, Ethel Payne, Alice Hall, May Fortune, Eula Mae Watts, Florence Purviance, Beatrice Mayo, Daisy Harris, Hazel Phillips, Althea Cornish, Katherine O. Johnson, Evelyn Jefferson, Clarrisa Jenkins, Geraldine Powell.

MRS. WILLIE FETED

Prior to being off to Louisville, Ky., where she spends each Christmas with her mother, Dora Hutchinson entertained for Mrs. Bea Willis of Louisville, Monday morning, at breakfast.

Guests included Verda Welcome, Theresa Waters, Marione Croxton, Rhea Brown, Marie Murphy, Pannie Jenkins, Lillian Ross, Mrs. Francis Wood and Aurelia Stanley.

KNOXES LIFT LATCH

On Christmas Eve night we had our initial eggnog with Dr. and Mrs. Clinton Knox, whose open house (with a number of us) is almost traditional.

It's a nice party, particularly because Clementine always hustles everybody out to church, leaving enough energy to gen your own tree decorated ere dawn.

Her mother, Sara Neely, came down from Philadelphia. Houseguested with the George Taliferros. Also there from Philly were her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Hopper Bradie.

Others who dropped in during the interval included another sister, Jeanne Harris from Washington, the Charles Kings, the Reuben Joneses, Wilfred Seaborne, the Mark Pattersons, the George Taliferros, Dr. and Mrs. Rayner Browne.

CHIPPERETTES CELEBRATE

The evening after Christmas Nicki Randolph hosted the Chipperettes at their holiday party, where they sat themselves down to an evening at cards, feasted and exchanged gifts.

The group included Bernadine Harrison, Pauline Caulk, Louis Robinson, Ellsworth Rhetta, Vonzella Miller, Arnetta Lottier, Cornelia Finney, Frankie Wood (here for the holiday from Richmond).

Guests included Philathea Hall, Martha Wheeler, Henryenne Greene and Doris Wilson.

WHITES SIP EGGNOG

Dr. and Mrs. Julius White decorated their home in Christmas greens, garnered Miss A. Dukye Wood, Mrs. E. E. Lane, Mrs. G. Franklin Phillips, Maceo Howard and James Walter Hope of Washington to provide the musical background, and held forth at their annual egg-nog sip on Sunday evening.

Assisting, also, were Mrs. Paul Henderson and Mrs. Vivian Pendleton, who presided at the bowl; Mrs. Lillian Watty, who kept the register and Mrs. Olivia Dixon and Mrs. Cyril Atkins, as general hostesses.

Mrs. Virginia Bowling Heard of Nashville, Tenn. was out-of-town guests. Togged in a black quilted satin skirt and black lace blouse, Mrs. White received:

Mesdames Bernard Harris, Miles Harrison, Elizabeth Walker, Marion Waters, Mae Allen, Felix Blair, Anethia Williams, Ethel Covington, Ethel Brown of Battle Creek, Mich., Ethel Day, Mary E. Waters, Ruth Shipley, H. E. Anderson of Orange, N.J., Katharine Johnson;

Misses Elizabeth Anthony, Hattie Tilghman, Esther Braxton, Valerie Butler, Harriet Peat;

Messrs. and Mesdames DeWitt Howard Jr., Cyril Atkins, Walter Dixon, W. Winston Hunt, J. Bruce Edemy, Jerome Todd, Vivien Thomas,

Messrs. and Mesdames E. E. Lane, E. C. Owens, Arthur C. Lamb, Germain Culver, J. Coy Davis, Melvin Callaman, Paul Rollen, A. C. Warrington,

Messrs. and Mesdames Lester S. Norris Jr., Sherlock Grinage, Edward Fisher, Milton Brown, Woodley Lawrence, Eugene Mayo, Howard Hucles, John Hope of Washington;

Doctors and Mesdames George Pendleton, William C. Wade, J. Douglas Sheppard, Renold Lighston, R. Garland Chissell, Robert L. Gill, Ralph W. Reckling Jr., Simon Carter, G. Franklin Phillips;

Maceo Howard, William Hope of Washington, Carson C. Johnson Jr., Anastatia and Franklin Phillips, J. J. McRae.

MARK ANNIVERSARIES

In the midst of the gay whirl of holiday festivities, the James Woodses and the Robert Matthewses found time to celebrate their wedding anniversaries. (5th and 9th, respectively).

Hosted by the David Scotts, at their newly-done Buxton Ave. home, sipping and toasting were:

Messrs. and Mesdames Bernard Harris Jr., George Lottier, Edward Smith, Harry Gail, Frank Phillips, Alonzo Myers, Howard Collins, Miles Harrison, John Wood, Dorothy Cooper, Roger Young and Ward Williams.

MISS CLAYTON BRIDE

And let's not omit the romantic stuff!

Mary Clayton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isiah Clayton and a member of the faculty of Douglass High School, became Mrs. Frazier Thomas, Sunday.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Timothy Boddie before members of the immediate families, and the couple's wedding trip was to New York City and Long Island.

Miss Ida Warren Becomes Bride Of Paul F. Bond

Miss Ida Virginia Warren, daughter of Grant E. Warren of Hanover, Md., and Paul F. Bond, son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Bond of this city, were married Sunday, at the home of the Rev. C. B. LaGrange.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of nylon and lace with a full skirt forming a train. Her fingertip veil of imported illusion fell from a crown of seed pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies and her only ornament was a string of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Daely Attends

Mrs. Ruby Daely was matron of honor for her sister. She wore a gown of blue lace and crepe and carried an old-fashioned boquet. Lycurgus Bond was the best man. The bridegroom's mother wore a gown of black velvet, with deep-cut neckline outlined in rhinestone, and a shoulder corsage of carnations.

The reception was held at the home of the bridegroom, 919 N. Carrollton Ave. The festivities took place amidst cleverly planned Christmas decorations.

Hostesses Assist

Presiding at the punch bowl were Mrs. Rodger Brown, and Mrs. Smith. Miss Blanche Wilson assisted with the gifts. Mrs. Watkins and Mrs. Cooper assisted with the refreshments.

Some 250 guests greeted the newlyweds between 6 and 9 p.m. The bride is an instructor at the district school, and Mr. Bond is a senior recreational instructor.

Out-of-town guests were:

Mrs. Sarah Gray, Asbury Park, N.J.; Misses Blanche and Margaret Wilson, Southern Maryland; Sgt. Jerome Mathews, Washington; Sgt. Lacey Cook, Washington; Sgt. and Mrs. Joe Sutton, Kansas City, Kansas, and Mrs. Wady, Washington.

Ceremony On Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Bonds were married in Baltimore, Sunday. The bride is the former Miss Ida V. Warren, daughter of Grant E. Warren of Hanover, Md.

Sorors To Mark Founders' Day

PHILADELPHIA

The Beta Delta Zeta Chapter of the Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, of which Miss Myrtele O. Glenn is Basileus, will hold its Founders' Day Program at the YWCA, 2027 Chestnut St., on Sunday, Jan. 13.

Scholarships will be awarded to two outstanding senior high school graduates at this program. These awards are the Arizona Cleaver Stemons Scholarships. The name is derived from that of one of the founders of the sorority.

The Founders' Day Program is the project of a committee whose members are Mesdames: Beersheba Walker, Eddie Miller, Anna Bethel, and Helen Johnson. This program is planned for teen-agers for the purpose of encouraging them to remain in school and to seek higher education.

Other affairs on the sorority calendar are a diner to be given by the sorority pledgees in honor of the sorors on Jan. 5 and a banquet by the sorority in honor of its new members on Jan. 12 at the Carolyn Tea Room.

ILLINOIS EMPLOYMENT SERVICE BANS BIAS

CHICAGO (ANP) — In a move to curb unfair employment practices in the state, the Illinois State Employment Service last week announced it would no longer accept job orders from employers containing discriminatory specifications on race, creed or color.

Gifts, Purse Given

CHARLESTON, S.C. — Gus Fraser, lone survivor of the Amphitrite which was foundered off Cape Fear, said in an interview that he had been made to feel very happy by the attention shown him by the citizens of Charleston.

Miss Thelma Hargrave, school supervisor, solicited funds and presented Mr. Fraser with a purse and many items of clothing.

The Owls Men's Club, the Athenians, the N.C. Mutual Ins. Co. and many individuals made contributions. Avery High School pupils directed by Mrs. S. Poinsett sent get well cards to the patient. The Rev. J. C. Dunbar, gave a Bible and Robert Morrison, a Testament.
