Jailed for school visit

Says 2 youths wouldn't leave

When shown the way to the front door at Junior High School No. 181, Carey and Baker Sts., on Wednesday afternoon, two visitors headed instead for the girls' gymnasium.

This action netted them a trip to the Northwestern Police Court where, on Thursday both were convicted of disorderly conduct and sent to the City Jail for a period of 60 days each.

The visitors were identified as Ronald Comegyes, 16, and Leroy Henderson, 17, both of the 2700 block Edmondson Ave.

HOWARD HUCLES, vice principal at the school, told Magistrate E. Everett Lane that he first noticed the two boys on the third floor of the building, and they then moved to the first floor where he told them to leave the school and pointed out the exit.

Instead, Mr. Huceles said, the youths went into the girl's gym.

Comegyes admitted that he and his friend had been in the school, and explained the purpose of the visit was to deliver a "slang book" to his girl friend. He admitted ignoring the order to leave the building.

In sentencing the youths, Magistrate Lane repeated prior warnings that he intends to deal severely with persons convicted of creating disturbances in or around the public schools.

Walk, don't run was right idea

When police stop a man for questioning, it's a known fact that the worst thing he can do is to run.

This was demonstrated on Tuesday when police brought William W. Young, 55, of the 1500 block Bruce St., into Northwestern Police Court to charge him on a lottery count.

They told Magistrate E. Everett Lane that they saw Young get out of a car at Pressman and Bruce Sts. with something in his hand. They said when they tried to capture him, the man ran.

The chase lasted for a block with Young ending up the loser. Police said when they retraced his flight, they found a slip with 283 numbers. Young was ordered held for the grand jury in $2,500 bail.

Mayor to approve location for new Lafayette Market

Two ordinances calling for the condemnation of certain parts of Sewell St. and Argyle Ave. for the construction of the new Lafayette Market are now on the mayor's desk awaiting his approval.

Mayor D'Alesandro is expected to sign the ordinances which were passed by the council two weeks ago, by Monday.

This week, councilmen approved an amendment to the sports arena resolution requesting that the Planning Commission and Redevelopment Commission consider the possible location for the proposed structure.

LAST WEEK, Councilman Frank Flynn (D-Fifth) introduced the original resolution suggesting that the arena be located in Area 12 where the state house buildings are to be constructed.

Mr. Flynn accepted the amendments proposed by Councilman Ambrose Kennedy (D-Second) as result of a bill passed in the General Assembly last week providing for the creation of a Civic Center Authority to make plans for the arena.

As stipulated by the proposal, this building would be for indoor sports, contests, exhibitions, theatrical, educational and cultural programs as well as a general auditorium and convention hall.

Divorces husband on desertion

Mrs. Eleanor G. Ireland of 402 Roundview Rd., divorced James E. Ireland of New York City, Monday, on ground of desertion.

Mrs. Ireland said the separation came on Dec. 6, 1952, after an argument about the girl next door.

Mr. Ireland, she said, denied that he was overfriendly with the young woman, but when she (the other girl) called him from their steps the evening before, he went into her house at 8 p.m. and didn't come out until 1 a.m., she said.

Moreover, she added, when she later went to New York to talk to her husband about a reconciliation she found the same young woman there.

A DIVORCE also went to Mrs. Carolyn Parham of 1702 W. Lexington St. from Clarence E. Parham of Winston-Salem, N.C.

The couple was married on April 19, 1951 and separated on Oct. 2, 1952, when she came to Baltimore.

Mrs. Parham testified that she, her husband and baby lived with his mother, and that he made no effort to support her or the child.

His mother, she said, could not afford to support them, so she came to this city where she has an aunt and brother, who could assist her. Her testimony was corroborated by the aunt, Mrs. Lula Hope.

"Their taste is the reason I've smoked Luckies for many years," says prominent Nebraskan Arthur B. McCaw. "They always taste better to me." It's natural that Luckies taste better. First of all, Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, this tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—tones up Luckies' light, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better . . . cleaner, fresher, smoother. So, next time it's light-up time, light up the better-tasting cigarette, Lucky Strike.
