KID GAVILAN

Kid Gavilan loses to Dykes

Ex-champion drops decision in Miami

MIAMI, Fla. — Kid Gavilan, former world welterweight champion, suffered another setback in his comeback campaign here Wednesday night, losing a unanimous decision to Bobby Dykes, rangy Texan who has adopted Miami as his home.

Dykes, 161, used t i s long reach to full advantage to pepper the Cuban with a two-fisted attack that won the nod of the two judges and Referee Petey Sarron. Sarron's card showed 98 points for Dykes to Gavilan's 94. Judges Mark Erwin and Sam Margolis voted 98-92 and 99-93, both in favor of Dykes.

• • •

THE VICTORY was sweet revenge for Dykes who lost to Gavilan in a 10-round split decision here Feb. 4, 1952, when the Cuban Kid was champion.

Wednesday's bout drew a local crowd of 4,457 which paid $17,-285, and also was viewed by a national television audience.

Gavilan kept pounding away at Bobby's midsection, hoping to slow Dykes down then put over a big punch. But Bobby's consistent lefts and occasional looping rights deterred the incoming Kid on many tries.

• • •

THERE WERE no knockdowns, though Dykes appeared to twice shake up the Cuban. Galivan, starting slow, showed to advantage in the late rounds and gave Dykes a good going-over in the eight, but it was too late.

It was the Kid's second straight loss. He dropped a decision to Hector Constance here last month.

Vernon, Edwards impressed by Clarke's work

ORLANDO, Fla., — Two oldtimers who should know, gave Curtis Clarke a good hand following his two-inning stint in the senators' Monday's intra-squad game here.

Clarke pitched for Coach Joe Haynes' beaten crew against a team headed by Coach Ellis Clary, allowed no runs and fanned two.

Mickey Vernon, former American League batting champion and big gun of the Washington attack, was impressed.

• • •

"HE LOOKED real good," said Mickey. "Seems to have poise and confidence and he knows what to do with his curve."

"Clarke looked all right," agreed Bruce Edwards, recognized as baseball's finest catcher before an arm injury sidetracked him.

"But they haven't seen his 'good' pitch yet. I've caught him in warm-up and he has a fast ball that's really live.

Wait 'till he shows that in a game."—LACY.

Giardello guilty

PHILADELPHIA — After 5½ hours deliberation, a jury of seven women and five men found Joey Giardello, world middleweight contender, guilty of assault on Howard Short, 31, gas station attendent, here, last Oct. 20.

Giardello faces a mixmum sentence of eight years and a $3,500 fine. He was convicted on all five counts of the four indictments brought against him.

Vibert Clarke's vision clears; hurling improves

By SAM LACY
AFRO Sports Editor

ORLANDO, Fla. — The vision of Vibert Clarke cleared up Monday, long enough for him to pitch two scoreless innings of an intra-squad game.

The Panamanian southpaw buried two frames for a team headed by Joe Haynes. They lost to an Ellis Clary aggregation, 4-1.

It was just the second appearance for Clarke since he reported to the Washington Senators' training camp here following a winter campaign in his native Colon (Panama).

• • •

CLARKE SUSTAINED severe optical burns when he had his eyes doused with an ammonia solution while acting in the role of peacemaker in a fight in Panama in early February.

After two weeks in a hospital, he had the bandages removed and was permitted by doctors to come to America.

Manager Chick Dressen let Clarke pitch briefly, with specially devised sun glasses in the second intra-squad game of the spring session.

In that one, though, Vibert's control was off. So, Dressen excused him prematurely.

"Let me know when you're ready," the manager told Clarke.

• • •

SUNDAY NIGHT, when the squad returned from the game with Kansas City at West Palm Beach, Clarke told Dressen he could now see without the glasses.

"Okey," Chuck readily responded, "be ready tomorrow."

Clarke gave up one hit and one walk, allowed no runs and struck out two.

Hardaway battling to make Senators

By SAM LACY
AFRO Sports Editor

ORLANDO, Fla. —Curtis Hardaway, the only American-born of the five colored players seeking jobs with the Washington Senators, is a young man with a dilemma.

Normally, the mere presence in a major league baseball training camp is a source of hope and cheer for a rookie ball player.

But, for Hardaway being here is not exactly that.

Curtis is a third baseman by trade, a second baseman by force.

Because Manager Chuck Dressen and the Washington brass consider themselves well fortified at third base — in the person of an individual named Eddie Yost —they must be excused for clucking off Hardaway as a likelihood there.

• • •

AND SINCE Pete Runnels has been proving such an apt pupil at second, Curtis himself wonders where he'll fit.

Coach Cookie Lavagetto has been working on Hardaway, trying to teach him the finer points of keystone play — notably the pivot maneuver on the double play.

"How does he look, Cookie?" a touring reporter wants to know.

"He's a very nice fellow," Lavagetto replies.

Hardaway is asked what he thinks of his chance to make the team.

"I don't know what to say," he answers. "I look at third base. That man Yost, who's set some kind of record on the team for consecutive games, he looks healthy, strong as a bull.

• • •

"I LOOK at second. Runnels has an advantage of having played it a lot last year — plus he's hitting like h—l.

"I decide I've got to hit, too. I press, swing too hard — poop up."

Yet, if the 25-year-old Georgian has such a dilemma, he also has determination. The evidence is to be found in the way he continues.

"Sure, they've got good protection at third — and man, what hands that Yost has!

• • •

AND MAYBE Runnels can make the switch, and can hit. But they're going to have to figure me somewhere.

"I don't know how and where, but I'm going to make this club. "You can write that!"

Boy governor elected Sat.

COLLEGE PARK, Md.—A preliminary conference in which 225 boys and girls representing YMCAs of the State of Maryland will be held here at the University of Maryland, on Saturday.

Dr. Don Brown, director of the university's Bureau of Governmental Research and chairman of the conference said this week that the conference was designed to give the boys and girls of Maryland an opportunity to participate in the exact state governmental structure as exists in Annapolis.

Highlights of the one-day meeting will be the election of a boy governor and the actual functioning of a legislature complete with committee assignments.

Assisting Dr. Bowen in the presentation of the program will be many Maryland state officials, civic leaders, high school and junior college representatives, and YMCA leaders.

Joseph E. Lee of the Druid Hill Branch YMCA will be a discussion leader with the Committee on Education.

In and around Annapolis

ANNAPOLIS — The National Symphony Orchestra was at its best performance Friday afternoon in the last of its two concerts at the Bates High School auditorium. The orchestra was presented here under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary of the Anne Arundel General Hospital. A large crowd attended.

The program was interesting throughout as Howard Mitchell featured Brahm's Double Concerto for Violin and Cello, featuring Werner Lywen, the concert master of the orchestra, and John Martin, first cellist, in the solo parts.

The show closed with a tremendous performance of George Gershwin's "An American in Paris."

• • •

ELEVEN CIVIC and service organizations in Annapolis teamed up and provided funds necessary to transport area children to and from the concert.

The groups that contributed were: The Naval Academy Women's Club, Annapolis Lodge of B'Nai Brith, Kiwanis Club of Suburban Annapolis, Annapolis Chapter of the Frontiers of America, Cook Pinkney Post of American Legion; Zonta Club of Annapolis, Annapolis Elks Lodge, Beta Sigma Phi, Kiwanis Club of Mountain Road, Annapolis Kiwanis Club and Sopoptimist International of Anne Arundel County.

• • •

THE FOURTH anniversary of the Silver Tones at Hopes Chapel M. E. Church will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday.

To appear on the program will be: the Golden Stars, Starlight Harmonizers, J. B. Nightingales, Johnson Chorus, the Wayside Travelers, Meloniers, Five Stars, Freeland Sisters, Juna Sisters, Young Gospel Sisters, One and Love Another, Robinson Chorus, Sunset Travelers and the Trumphet Souls.

Mrs. Sarah Molden will be the mistress of ceremonies, while the prayer will be delivered by the Rev. Samuel Harris and the welcome address by Miss Littie Spencer.

While on the subject of anniversaries, the Trumpet Souls quartet held their third at the Mt. Olive AME Church, Parole, last Sunday.

Eleven singing groups were on hand. Mrs. John White was the manager, Miss Emma Brown, chairman, and the Rev. John Grant, the pastor.

THE PROGRESSIVE Boys will hold its second dance at Bivins place, Drury, Friday, March 16.

The Bops, playing the latest hits and as the live term goes, "real cool," held their first show Wednesday night.

Police calls in the city were heavy last weekend as eight arrests were made. A breaking and entering case at the Parole Elementary School was reported. A table radio and a tape recorder were discovered missing.

• • •

IN THE COUNTY, police at Edgewater reported two men escaped from the Crownsville State Hospital.

They were said to be Jack Gross, wearing dungarees, and August Dorsey, 45, wearing state clothes.

In addition, Howard Coates, 106 South St., said that a car that had been loaned to him was stolen in front of home.

The automobile owner is Albert Carpenter, 104 South St.

THE SECOND annual dinner meeting of the Northwest Street YMCA will be held at the First Baptist Church on W. Washington St., March 25, at 7 p.m.

Dr. Robert P. Daniel, president of Virginia State College in Petersburg, and formerly of Shaw University, will be the speaker.

Dr. Daniel was sent to Liberia by the Foreign Operations Administration of the U.S. Government to make a study of the technical assistance program of that country.

Awards will be given for outstanding services rendered the YMCA.

Fellowship holds meet

Family Sunday program is set

The Baltimore Fellowship will hold its monthly membership meeting, known as "Family Sunday," March 20 from 3 to 5 p.m. at Fellowship House, 21 W. Preston St.

Children will meet on the second floor auditorium for stories and games by Miss Ruth Davis.

There will be a "sing" for the adults, directed by Miss Gertrude Laing of Kolnania Foundation staff and a demonstration of the new dolls in the International Library with Mrs. Gertrude Nitzburg, co-chairman of the program committee.

At 4:30 p.m. the group will view the television program, "The Search," depicting events in the self survey held in Baltimore last year.

• • •

OTHER PARTICIPANTS include:

Mrs. Shirley Polikoff, new chairman of the ways and means committee; Mrs. Marian Frankel and Alonzo Jeter, co-chairmen of the house committee; Mrs. Blanche Hughes, program committee; the Rev. Dr. John Tilley, co-chairman of the executive board and Mrs. Mae B. Gellman, executive director.

Refreshments will be served by the hospitality committee, Mrs. Thomas Bourne, chairman.

4th district plans city council upset

Plans to stage an upset in the City Council in the May 3rd election got under way this week in the Fourth District as members of the area's Political Organization outlined their campaign.

With intentions of setting a double record in the city by electing colored Republican councilmen, the group is supporting two of the three Republican candidates, Linwood Koger Sr. and E. Gaines Lansey. The third candidate is Harley Brinsfield.

This is the same organization which helped in the successful election Nov. 2 of Senator Harry Cole, Republican, who defeated the 16-year Democratic incumbent, Bernard Melnicove.

• • •

ON THE city level, there hasn't been a colored councilman since 1933. And for the past years, Democrats who won the primary have been assured of election in the general campaign.

Listed on the Democratic ticket for the May 3rd election are Solomon Liss, Maxwell Alpert and Walter T. Dixon.

Paul Chester will serve as campaign manager for Koger and Lansey with Dr. J. Laws Nickens as treasurer; Dr. John Woodland, political agent and Richard Cummings, chairman, Democrats, for Koger and Lansey.

I. F. Stone, author, journalist, speaks in Balto. Sunday

I. F. Stone, well known Washington author and journalist, will speak before the Baltimore Ethical Society on Sunday, March 20, at 2217 W. North Ave.

Mr. Stone, the author of several books, including "Business As Usual," "Underground to Palestine" and "The Truman Era," will speak on "Hatred, Not Hydrogen, Is The Fatal Explosive."

The meeting will begin at 11 a.m. and is open to the public. There will be an opportunity for informal discussion with the guest speaker.
