The most recent professional faculty meeting at the William H. Alexander School No. 112 was devoted to a panel discussion on "The Library and its Resources."

Panel members were introduced by students of the Reading Enrichment Group. They were:

Carolyn Dotson, Ivan Higgins, Lonna Mae Simms, Patricia Nicols.

A STIMULATING and informative discussion followed. Miss Bernice Weiler, supervisor of libraries, presented a background of school libraries and school libraries.

Mrs. Idella Nichols, librarian, spoke of the role of the librarian and classroom teacher, emphasizing the fact that pre-planning by the classroom teacher, librarian and librarian are essential to the carrying on of a successful library program.

The highpoint of the panel discussion was the contributions by Miss Edith Walker director of elementary Education, who kept the faculty members upon the edge of their sets with her varied and wide comprehension of poetry as she quoted from some of her favorite poems.

MRS. BERNICE QUILLE, third grade teacher and Mrs. Pauline Jones, sixth grade teacher, described some of the projects which they have carried on with the boys and girls, in their own classes.

Mrs. Louise Sheppard, school librarian, was chairman for this meeting. Mrs. Viola C. Jackson, principal presented her.

Counter opens

Counter service to all patrons, regardless of race, has been inaugurated at the Northwood Medical Cetner on Cold Spring Lane, near Loch Raven Blvd., according to a report Friday from the Morgan Social Action Committee.

The report stated that Robert Stoberg, operator of the drug concern, has no ties with his allowance. If a part of the allowance must be spent for articles of clothing, then it should be more than if the child has only to buy toys and other pleasures,' said Edith Saunders.

LeROY WILLIAMS discussed parents' supervision of allowance: "Parents should know how children spend their allowance. All children do not spend money wisely. Some buy too many sweets which is not good for one's health. Many do not save any of their money. This is also not good."

Sylvia Hunt said: "Some parents do not require children to do anything for the allowance they receive. Other children are given jobs to do and errands to run. Those children who have some duties to perform realize that their parents have to work to get the money in the first place."

No. 452 cops foods award

General Vocational School No. 452, Biddle and McCulloh Sts., won first prize in the Annual Culinary Arts Exhibit at the Emerson Hotel on Monday.

The Child Care and Foods - Tearoom Service Classes, Mrs. Gwendolyn Lewis and Mrs. Catherine Adams, instructors, exhibited cakes, pies and mouthwatering cookies.

The awards were presented Tuesday on a television program.

The purpose of the annual exhibit is to develop a relationship between students in vocational and commercial areas, to establish a lost American art which flourishes in European countries; and to bring before the public a better understanding and appreciation of food preparation and service.

Reuben F. Jones, principal, has invited you to view this prize winning exhibit now on display in the display case located in the lobby of the school.

Map UNCF drive plans

The Interim Committee of the Inter-Alumni Association of the United Negro College Fund in its February meeting, discussed plans for the Spring Fund Raising Drive sponsored each year to assist private Negro colleges.

Dr. Hollis Price, director of fund raising, and Wallace Ruckert, regional director, were present and discussed the status of the UNCF. Reference was made to the March 19-20 meeting to be held in New York City.

Dr. Price reported on the 2½ million dollars that was raised last year, and the distribution of funds to the 31 affiliated colleges. Stress was placed upon the need of enlisting the cooperation of graduates of the colleges who reside in Baltimore.

MR. RUCKERT explained the structure of the Alumni program, in which two units were operating. Recommendations were made that representatives of the alumni group be suggested for membership on both the executive and campaign committees of the organization.

Dr. Samuel Perdue, chairman of the Interim Committee of the alumni group asked all present to help in seeing that representatives from all of the 31 colleges be present at the next meeting to be held Thursday, March 24 at 8 p.m. at Carver Vocational School.

Randall Trux, executive director of the UNCF, will be present.

Garnet pupils study problem of sharing

Youngsters suggest parents give children regular sum

Class 6A of the Henry Highland Garnet Elementary School No. 102 had a lively panel discussion on "Allowance for Sixth Grade Pupils," with the following pupils:

Marsha Mallory, Edith Saunders, Roscoe Crawford, LeRoy Williams, Sylvia Hunt, and Ivey Edmond.

Alfred Snowden was narrator for the panel. Harmon Watson summarized the discussion by reading a report sent by Mrs. Corinna Willis, a parent who was unable to attend. Mrs. Francis S. Wooten is the teacher.

GUESTS WHO participated in the discussion were: Mrs. Virginia Jones, Mrs. Lois Yates, and Mrs. Hattie Edmond, parents; Mrs. Beatrice T. Rawlings, principal, and Mrs. Catherine W. Greene counselor.

Other guests included members of the sixth grade. They were: John Day, Juanita Myers, Betty Ann Conley, Barnard Washington, and James Duger.

Marsha Mallory had this to say about the value of a regular allowance:

"If children receive regular allowances they know just how much money they can expect each week or month.

"Because of this they can budget their money. Sometimes when children do not receive regular allowances, they meet with embarrassment and disappointments They do not feel at ease with their friends who receive regular allowances.

cussed by Roscoe Crawford who said: "Some children must buy socks, pay carfare, and do other things with their allowances. Then there are others who are permitted to spend their allowance as they wish. They buy toys, sweets and other things. Sometimes they save a part of their allowances in a bank or buy Defense Stamps."

Ivey Edmond agrees that allowances vary in different homes. He said: "Children should realize that all parents are not able to give the same allowances. Where there are more than one in the family, it is not possible to give them as much money as when there is only one child.

"It is difficult to say how much a sixth grade child's allowance should be. It depends on what the child has to do with his allowance. If a part of the allowance must be spent for articles of clothing, then it should be more than if the child has only to buy toys and other pleasures,"

Dr. Weaver does a bang-up job cooking as in practice, civic duty

One just doesn't think of highly successful women physicians and frills and furbelows in the same breath.

That is, one who doesn't know intimately Baltimore's Dr. Maybelle Weaver, who combines a career, civic life and a highly satisfactory social life in one swell swoop. Never, My Dear, leaving out close attention to her elaborate wardrobe, She loves clothes!

Dr. Weaver, who graduated in pharmacy from Howard University, owned and operated a successful drug business in Baltimore before she decided that she preferred a career as a medical doctor. She went back to school ... to Meharry in Nashville, this time, and studied medicine. Since then she has taken post graduate courses in public health, diseases of children and polio.

Now, aside from a fine private practice, she is also school physician for the Barrett Training School for Girls and medical examiner for the Great Southern Temple of Elks.

Dr. Weaver is also a member of the National Medical Association, Baltimore City Medical Society, Medical and Dental Auxiliary, Provident Hospital Staff, Howard and Meharry Alumni Associations, Maryland Pharmaceutical Association, Provident Guild, Urban League, YWCA, NAACP, Maryland Medical Society, Rho Psi Phi Medical Sorority.

She is past secretary and vice president of Monumental Medical Society, president of the Baltimore Chapter of the National Council of Negro Women, and on the executive committee of NCNW., and a member of the executive board of the Business and Professional Women's Club.

Dr. Weaver was the first woman to intern at Provident Hospital, Baltimore.

Come play time and you will more than likely find her swimming, riding or collectin antiques.

When and how does she find time to cook? That I wonder, also, but one thing I know, she can turn out a scrumptious pineapple upside-down cake. Here's how it's done:

Take one and a quarter cups sifted cake flour, two teaspoons baking powder, a half teaspoon of sale, an eighth teaspoon of powdered mace, one cup and a half of sugar, a teaspoon lemon juice and five tablespoons of boiling water for the "cake."

FOR a topping you will neec four tablespoons of butter, three-fourths cup brown sugar, one-fourth teaspoon ground nutmeg, a pinch of allspice, and of curse, the pineapple.

Melt butter in bottom of an eight-inch square or oblong baking pan. Mix together brown sugar and spices. Spread over the melted shortening. Over this arrange the pineapple in neat row. Set aside while batter is mixed.

To mix the batter, sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and mace. Separate the eggs and beat the yolks until thick and lemon colored. Add sugar gradually, continuing to beat as you add. Add lemon juice and continue to beat until mixture is puffing with air, but thick and lemon colored.

FOLD IN the dry ingredients, alternately with the boiling water. Beat egg whites until stiff (but stop beating before they are shining and dry). Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour over the prepared pineapple topping.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 50 minute. Turn out onto platter, fruit side up. Serve hot.

Dental group places plaque in honor of Dr. Alvin Berman

The Baltimore Dental Society and the Auxiliary hung and dedicated a plaque to the late Dr. Alvin H. Berman, first consultant and general sponsor for the dental clinic, at Provident Hospital, Wednesday.

A framed photo of the plaque, which is hung in the clinic, was presented to the widow of the honoree; and a photo to Dr. Berman's daughter, Mrs. Joseph Internaggio. The latter was accepted by Mr. Internaggio.

OTHER MEMBERS of the family at the dedication included a brother, Domonick Berman, his brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Benjamin Kader, a nephew, Dr. Marshall Kader, Dr. Walter Levine, Mr. and Mrs. Blum, and two sisters, Mesdames Isadore Schwartman and Samuel Myers.

The presentation was made by Howard H. Murphy, president of the board of Provident Hospital. Dr. Bruce Alleyne presided.

The dedication and luncheon following was also attended by: Dr. Maybelle Weaver, Dr. B. N. Christmas, Dr. and Mrs. B. H. Christmas, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Christmas, Dr. Martin Rodney, Dr. and Mrs. Benjamin Kimber.

Dr. J. B. Weaver, Mrs. Bruce Alleyne, Mrs. Robert Hackett, Mrs. Elizabeth Parker, Miss John Procope, Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Hunt.

Newest hair styles shown at opening of Blair's Salon

Mrs. Ann Blair had the grand opening of her new beauty salon at 1355 West North Ave. on Sunday, where she presented a hair style show to over 100 spectators.

Some of the highlights of the show were demonstrations in the hair cutting, hair setting, and makeup demonstrations by Mrs. Ida Milbourne and Mrs. Harriet Clarke.

Maryland League set for 12th annual one-day conference

...with Lula Jones Garrett

The Maryland League of Women's Club was all set, this week, for the 12th annual conference which will be held in Morgan Christian Center, Morgan College, next (the 26th) Saturday.

Dr. Dorothy B. Ferebee, of Howard University faculty and former president of the National Council of Women, will speak on the conference theme "The Club Woman's Responsibility for Integrated Living" at the luncheon.

Workshop speakers will include:

Mrs. Mildred Atkinson of the Council of Churches in the shop on "New Attitudes: A Pattern for Community Growth;" Edgar Ewing of the Housing Authority on "Adequate Housing: A Key to Better Understanding" and Mrs. Bernice Munce, social science teacher of Trenton, N.J., who is now studying at the Center on Human Relations, New York University. Mrs. Munce will speak in the workshop on "Equal Education: A Premise of Democracy."

Mrs. Glenford Mussenden is chairman of the luncheon committee, and is one from whom tickets may be obtained. The conference workshops and luncheon are open to the public.

PROVIDENT Hospital Guild has also readied plans for its eighth annual tea, on April 17, in Douglass High School cafeteria.

The affair, from four to seven on that date, is being arranged by a group of chairmen including Mesdames Mae Stuart, Violette Harmon, Lena Lee, Eleanor Jackson, Elizabeth Booth and Plassie Finner. Mrs. Odell W. Payne is president.

Invitations to the Alpha spring formal will be in the mail next week. The annual affair is to be held at the Famous Ballroom on Charles St., on Easter Monday.

The social committee, headed by Robert Watts, is working on plans to have continuous music as the new feature of the affair this year.

OTHER DATE DATA includes the cocktail party to be given by the Baltimore chapter of the National Council of Women at the Sphinx Club, Sunday evening from six to nine.

Tomorrow night (Saturday) the Postal men will romp at the Regular Democratic club. It's a party, that as early as last week, folks were offering double prices for the bids!

LAST WEEK, Epsilon Omega chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority held its Sisterly Yours activities.

The Sincerely Yours parties are designed to help members know each other better, now that the chapter has grown so large that it would be practically impossible to do so otherwise.

Sarah Rayne's home was the site for a party on Saturday where a group had luncheon and played cards. About were Geraldine Baylor, Rachel Carroll, Cleo Diges, Elizabeth Jenkins, Theresa Weaver, Katherine McDonald, Mrs. Rayne and Gertrude Urquhart, the last two being chairmen.

On Tuesday another group had dinner at the Tijuana, then moved on to the home of Agnes Patterson for games and snacks.

At this party were:

Edith Gibbs, Alma Parker, Jean Robinson Rubye Taylor, Rosalind Allen, Gloria Carpenter, Helen Crosby, Edith Gordon, Margaret Land, Lula Patterson, Louise Sergeant, Rubye Walker, Mamie Woodford, Doris Wilson, and the chairmen, Alice Coleman and Agnes Patterson.
