"O For A Faith That Will Not Shrink"

HYMN OF THE MONTH

GO TO THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE THIS SUNDAY

AND JOIN IN WITH YOUR FAVORITE CHOIR SINGING THIS INSPIRATIONAL HYMN

"O For A Faith That Will Not Shrink"

O for a faith that will not shrink, Tho' pressed by ev'ry foe,
That will not tremble on the brink of any earthly woe—

That will not murmur nor complain beneath the chast'ning rod,
But, in the hour of grief or pain, will lean upon its God;—
Will lean upon its God;—

A faith that shines more bright and clear when tempests rage without, that when in danger, knows no fear, in darkness feels no doubts, in darkness feels no doubts.

Lord, give us such a faith as this, and then, whate'er may come,
We'll taste, e'en here, the hallowed bliss of an eternal home.
Of an eternal home.

$20 Million

- Tubman tells of profitable U.S.A. visit
- Tells voters 2-month U.S. trip paid off

(Special to the AFRO)

MONROVIA, Liberia — In a fighting speech, launching his campaign for re-election, President William V. S. Tubman last week disclosed for the first time how profitable was his recent two-month visit in the United States.

The epoch-making trip, Mr. Tubman told cheering members of his True Whig party, resulted in obtaining financial assistance in various fields totaling more than 20 million dollars.

While in Washington, Mr. Tubman revealed, he signed an agreement with the Foreign Operations Administration calling for that agency to spend $2,250,000 on the Booker Washington Institute to train technicians.

A CONTRACT was also signed with Prairie View State College, Texas, to send to Liberia technicians and later consultants for the FOA project.

In addition, the United States has made available $662,000 for other educational projects including rural education, teacher training and scholarships.

Liberia's public health and sanitation program was given a boost with the grant by the United States of $295,000 President Tubman reported.

Another $250,000 has been made available, he said, for a special sleeping sickness project. In addition the World Health Organization has consented to expand its laws and malaria program in Liberia.

THE UNITED STATES has provided a mining engineer as technical consultant to the Liberian director of mines in the nation's development of its mineral program.

A contribution of $68,000 has also been made available by America, Mr. Tubman said, for the purchase of drilling equipment and training purposes.

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission has sent over technicians in the search for radioactive minerals.

Another million dollars has been contributed by America for the reorganizing and equipping of the Liberian army, a program which is to begin at once.

THE BIGGEST contract concluded while in the United States, Mr. Tubman reported, was the borrowing of 15 million dollars from the Export-Import Bank of Washington.

The loan will be used to construct roads and bridges, so that the backlands of Liberia will be made more accessible. Liberia will pay interest at the rate of 4¾ per cent for 20 years, the president said.

FOSTER MOTHER—Mrs. William Smith has devoted three years to caring for children for the Associted Catholic Charities who are difficult to place, including the retarded, mentally disturbed or those who have behavior problems. Mrs. Smith is among 73 foster parents to be honored on Sunday at St. Mary's Villa.

Catholics will honor 73 foster parents Sunday

Archbishop will present awards at St. Mary's

Honor will be paid 73 foster parents who have boarded children for the associated Catholic Charities during services on Sunday at 3 p.m. at St. Mary's Villa, 701 West Coldspring Lane when Archbishop Keough will be the guest speaker.

Certificates of award for their service and care of handicapped children will be presented by the Archbishop to the 73 foster families.

The Rev. David I. Dorsch, director of Associated Catholic Charities has extended invitations to all foster families who care assisting the Agency in this work of caring for other people's children.

CATHOLIC CHARITIES now has 154 active foster homes currently in use which account for an accumulation of 927 years of boarding care, and have given this service to 937 different children.

Miss Anita Williams and Miss Shirley Loggins, caseworkers at Associated Charities, speak with pride about the contributions made to Baltimore by the colored foster families whose homes and foster children they supervise.

Among those to be honored on Sunday will be Mrs. Cecilia Smith, 1141 N. Fulton Ave., who has devoted three successful years to caring for children who are difficult to place, including those who are retarded, mentally disturbed, or who have behavior problems.

When asked five months ago to consider a 9-month old baby girl who was physically handicapped, and who was not Catholic, but for whom no home could be found, she accepted the challenge immediately.

The child loves her home and her foster mother. But there have been other children from Crownsville and the House of Good Shepherd who have called Mrs. Smith "mother" and the residence she provided for them "home."

ALSO TO BE honored are: Mr. and Mrs. George Jenifer of Waldorf, Md., who have boarded 26 children from Associated Catholic Charities in the past 18 years. They can look back with pride at a number of children who have gone on to successful life careers. One boy is now a Religious Brother and has been assigned to missionary work in Africa. In another family of 5 children, 2 boys are in the Navy, one girl is in nurses' training at Freedmen's Hospital, Washington. Last week the nurse trainee was awarded a $50 bond by the 4H Club for her skill in biscuit making, which she learned from Mrs. Jenifer. Another boy of the family is with a local insurance company.

Another young man, who graduated from the Charles County High School won a competitive state-wide scholarship to Bowie State Normal School, and has been selected to represent the school at an educational conference in New York City.

All the children who have ever lived in this foster home have been encouraged by Mr. and Mrs. Jenifer to join the 4H Club and have specialized in raising live stock.

HONORS WILL also be paid Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brown of 304 Calhoun St., who have boarded children for 8 years. They usually have two or three girls at a time. This is a home where teen age youngsters have found real security and have found in their foster parents the same pride children look for in their own parents.

Two of the girls who formerly lived in the home were married from there. Now they and their children return to visit and to the babies Mr. and Mrs. Brown are their very own grandparents.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Curtis, 1002 W. Lafayette Ave., have boarded children for 5 years. They have been especial interested in brothers and sisters and have kept a number of children together.

There are two little boys in this home, who will be there for a long, long time because of the illness of their own parents and, Mr. and Mrs. Rubin Roscoe, 1338 N. Carey St., who have boarded children for the past five years.

Other foster parents who will be attending the meeting on Sunday include Mr. and Mrs. Stewean Chappell, Mrs. Roberta Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hawkins, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Holland, Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sayers, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Wade, Mr. and Mrs. James Whitfield.

Rt. Rev. Msgr. Edwin L. Leonard, and Rt. Rev. Msgr. John J. Daly, former directors of Associated Catholic Charities, and the Rev. Edward Horan, Chaplain of St. Mary's Villa, have been invited to assist at the ceremonies.

LIQUID OR TABLETS

WORDS To Live By
by
REV. R. T. NEWBOLD
Pastor, Grace Presbyterian Church

Modern man has been blessed with the possession of vast knowledge. What he has learned in one generation is astounding. He knows how to harness and channel sound waves.

He knows how to guide missiles by remote control. He knows how to build aeroplanes that can travel faster than sound. This, and more, he knows. But he does not yet know how to live. This fact points up two basic needs.

FIRST, man needs to learn what to live for. Fame and fortune; compliments and comforts; "pull" and possessions should never be allowed to become the highest good—the summum bonum of life.

Jesus had no fortune except the good fortune to be the Son of God. He did not enjoy comforts except the comfort of knowing he was on good terms with God His Father, and man-His brother.

He spoke of no possessions except the possession of the knowledge that His actions were in harmony with the will of God.

YET ONE FACT is unquestionably clear. He lived at his best because he knew what to live for. This, man seems not to have learned.

One of the first questions in the Westminster Cathechism is: What is man's chief end?

The answer: Man's chief end is to glorify God and enjoy Him forever.

INSTEAD OF seeking to glorify God, modern man is always striving to glorify himself. Instead of trying to enjoy God, he looks eo thinsfor enjoyment.

Is it any wonder that with all our knowledge and progress we still are not happy? the fact of the matter is we will never be happy until we learn what to live for.

"Thou hast made us for Thyself," said St. Augustine, "so that our souls are restless until they find rest in Thee."

THERE you have the reason for the restlessness of this age. We have failed to learn and subscribe to the basic lessons that indicates we are to live for God.

Are you saying this is trite? Well you may dismiss it as trite now! But you will have to face it as a part of life's undeniable truth later.

MOVE FURTHER now, and consider that modern man has not learned what to live by.

Bread is important; but man does not live by bread alone.

Money is essential; but money must never be substituted for divine mercy.

The care of the body is essential. The equipping of the mind is a "must." But man is more than mind and body. He is a trichotomy.

IF, THEREFORE, he is to get the best out of life and put the best into life, he must become concerned about his body, mind, and soul. And the concern for the latter will bring him to the recognition of the fact that he must live by adherence to the Word of God.

A college president recently said: "This child civilization of ours has an immense head, medium sized limbs, and a small soul." This statement simply points out our tragic error.

WE THINK we can live by the accumulation of things instead of adherence to divine truths; by our own wit instead of the wisdom that cometh from on high, and by care of the body and mind without attention to the soul.

How long will we continue committing this blunder? How long can we afford to continue?
