fined in the building, one of the oldest on the ground. For some time experts have predicted that there would be a recurrance of riots unless there was relief in overcrowded conditions and proper recreational facilities made available.

While at the height of Thursday night's riot, attendants said that it was the worst disturbance they had had, damages, while considerable, did not appear to be as disastrous as was first believed.

WHEN AN AFRO reporter and photographer arrived two inches of water covering the second floor of the building was being cleared away by workmen.

Water pipes which the inmates had ripped from the radiators located near the ceiling of the room were piled in a corner.

One of the workmen said that a partition in the room had also been torn down during the riot. Locked clothing lockers had been stripped from the inmates by policemen was scattered throughout the room, some of which had been shoveled out the windows onto the freshly fallen snow.

Scraps of playing cards, still in the carton; shoes, smoking pipes and paper back books clung to the wet floor.

ONE OF the eight men held as ringleaders is Oscar Newcombe who figured in three years ago in a case involving criminal assault on a woman taxi driver. He never stood trial by reason of insanity.

Most of the men who rioted Thursday night, and are confined to the second floor of the building, are inmates committed to Crownsville by courts who have never stood trial because they pleaded insanity.

One of the rioters reportedly snatched the keys from the supervisor being held hostage and went to the third floor of the building where he released inmates there who are said to be the worst of the criminally insane.

These men figured in the riot two years ago at Crownsville.

ACCORDING to Dr. Arnold Eichert, superintendent, the riot occurred immediately after dinner in the hallway between the dining room and the day room on the second floor of the building.

Eight men starte d the disturbance in the hall. Dr. Eichert said, beating attendants [illegible] and later taking 35 other inmates with them into the day room.

Water flowed into the room as the eight men began yanking hot and cold water pipes from the wall. Only one window, leading to the outside, was broken.

Commenting on the riot, Dr. Eichert said, "This one w s somewhat better organized than the two in the past, but was much less effective. No patients escaped."

As for the basic cause of the disturbance, he said it is hard to put your finger on what actually caused it, but riots, here, could be prevented if we had better and more adequate trained personnel."

IN LOVING MEMORY of our loving mother, who passed way one year ago February 22, 1954:

Sad and sudden was the call,
And many hearts were broken by all;
A bitter grief, a shock severe;
We lost a mother dear;
We often sit and think of you,
And speak of how you died.
To think you could not say goodbye.

Before you closed your eyes.
For all of us you did your best,
Oh, God grant you eternal rest.
— LOVING DAUGHTERS AND FAMILY

KELSON—In loving memory of our dear father THOMAS E. KELSON who departed this life Feb. 26, 1942.

God saw the road was getting rough,
The hills were hard to climb;
He closed His arms around your frame,
Whispered: "Peace be thine."
He took you in His days of pain,
His weary nights are past;
Within the golden mansion's frame,
Has found sweet rest at last.
God in His wisdom called you all,
Of one to dearly loved by all.
We miss your smile, your cheerful face,
It was to part with one so dear,
A grief to bear and think of you,
And speak of how you died.
For all of us you did your best,
Oh, God grant you eternal rest.

KING—In loving memory of my wife and our mother, LUCILLE KING, who passed away February 27, 1942:

Gone dear Mother, gone forever,
How we miss your smiling face,
But you left us to remember

A happy home we once enjoyed,
How sweet the memory still
Of a husband's and mother's kindness
The world can never fill.

RILEY—In loving memory of my dear wife and our mother, MARY E. RILEY, who departed this life February 26, 1954:

We have passed the sound of your footsteps,
And your voice, since you have gone;
And though we no longer see you
In our memory you still live on.
And we smile in the darkness,
But some nights our hearts are sore
As we think of the dear one
We loved the best and loved more.
