Gadabouting In Baltimore...

Town folks hoopla at gay costume balls

...with Lula Jones Garrett

There were more than a couple of thousand guests a-dancing with Omega Psi Phi Fraternity men, at the Coliseum, Monday night, at their fourth annual Mardi Gras and costume frolic.

I'm glad they added t h e "frolic" designation . . . for frolic they did . . . with a capital F.

And let it no longer be said that "Stadi Baltimoreans a r e born, live and die" with one set of ideas. For the social trend (aptly demonstrated by Omegas, Friday night) hereabouts, has certainly seen an about-face. Five years ago, with their noses in the air, we joked about New Yorkers whom we considered gouche in their top hats, white ties and tails, lugging baskets of food and market bags of liquors to their formal affairs.

Now we angle our noses at 45 per cent if any group dares to invite us to a dance without providing a table with the proper facilities for between-time eating and drinking.

Omega men, each hosting an individual table, piled their boards high, Friday night, with everything from caviar to chitterlings, from champagne to beer.

There were some (the Morgan State College contingent, for instance) who had their parties catered; there were others who baked their own hams and made their own potato salad . . . as did Linwood Koger (chairman and something of a gourment, as a hobbist) who concocted five kinds of salads, to go along with the two cases of which, refreshed his 60 guests.

The Brothers were here from all over. That was the grand chaplain, the Rev. H. Albion Ferrell of Philadelphia, whose fine tenor led the Omega Sweetheart song following the singing of the Omega Hymn. The grand district representative (of the second district) C. V. Harris came from NYC; and "Rip" Day, a former Lincoln baksetball star, renewed acquaintanees. He's now living in Brooklyn. Mifflin Gibbs of Philadelphia was also there. The scores from Washington included Larry Dismong, L. J. McCall, William Dixon, Arthur Mallette and Edward Clement.

The costumes were magnificent! (Think what a jaunt from recession the costumers had . . . with the thousands of costumes from $5 to $25). When the judging had ended, Ethel Covington, as a peacock, walked off with first prize for the ladies; Gwendolyn Lewis, who concoted a fancy made of Christmas cards, second. A Mr. Moungers took first prize for men (he came as a Boudoin chief), and Frank Jones in costume of scare crow, took second prize.

And incidentally, the Urban League Guild, whose Beaux Art Ball on the same evening was so highly successful that they want to make it an annual affair, and want the same holiday evening will learn here, that they will have no date problem.

Next year, Omegas, who will be hosting the conclave, will have their affair during the Christmas holidays. Carl White is basileus of Pi Omega chapter. Linwood Koger was chairman for the Mardi Gras.

LOVELY IS THE WORD for the Urban League's Beaux Arts Ball . . . with its hostesses in Colonial gowns and powdered wigs . . . with supberb music by Erskine Hawkins . . . with a galazy of costumes, chiefly on the luxury side . . . and with a great flow of top-drawer formal clothes.

They had a goodly crowd, too, as you will well see when you learn that they met their $1500 expense account, with plus shekels for their treasury.

Dukey Woode, who came as a "Carmen Miranda" with a much colored and be-ruffled frock and a much-fruited hat, garnered the $100 first prize, for individual ensemble; and the century note for club representative went to Ada Smith, whose lace frock over cloth of gold was beautiful to behold. Close competition was Bernice Monroe . . . who lost by a point, when she trimmed her frock in sequins. Sequins, said the judges, had not been manufactured in Colonial days.

It would have been worth anyone's money to have beheld the expression on ultra-sedate Chairman Letitia Ashe's face when three gentlemen, who came in ladies' attire, turned up in the grand march.

But tickets from somewhere they had. And vie for the prizes they did. In fact, they were in the second march of costumers . . . when one decided that their make-up needed freshening . . . and off to the "ladies" room they switched.

That dood it. The next thing I knew they were quietly, but firmly, being ushered to the nearest exit . . . . with refunds hastily stuck into their hands.

The ball was staged by Guild members, Vivian Young, president; Joan Shepherd, Ruth Lee, Gloria Fisher, Dorothy Neal, Louise Taylor, LaVerne Turner, Eloise Taylor, Shirley Chambers, Ruth Drew, Christina Christmas, Edith Fields, Fannie Glascoe, Margaret Haley, Margaret H. Hill, Florine Washington, Madeline Pullen, Blanch McRae and Fred Z. Nichols Jr. Lula Patterson aided with the publicity.

Tom Hawkins served as master of ceremonies and judges were Mesdames Victorine Adams, John W. S. Foster, Elise Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Jacobson, Dr. Charles Stallings and Mrs. Loren Walters.

That very delightful cover for the souvenir program was designed by Mr. Jacobson.

Patrons were Dr. and Mrs. Frank F. Furstenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Hollander, Dr. and Mrs. Martin Jenkins, Robert Freedman, Mrs. Carolyn Ramsay Jr., Stanley M. Brah, H. Warren Buckler Jr., Dr. Rayner Browne, Dr. and Mrs. Barnett Rhetta Jr., Mrs. Garland Chissell Jr., Dr. and Mrs. Robert McDaniel and Dr. and Mrs. Theodore Phifer.

Mrs. Alta Douglass, representative from the New York Urban League and Mrs. Grace Goins, who came from Wilmington, Del. were house guests of Mrs. Maurice Adams. They, and other out-of-towners here for the ball who were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Ashe, included Mr. and Mrs. Walter Woodland of St. Albans, Mrs. J. Riley of St. Albans; Miss Elsie LaMoine of New York; Mrs. M. Randolph of Washington. Baltimore guests included Mrs. Inex Key, Dr. Inez Dixon, and Mrs. Frances White.

The Ashes also had breakfast for the above, and Mrs. LaVerne Wiley, Mrs. Lelia Powell, Herbert Frisby, William Jones and Ford Lewis.

THE WNM'S entertained, Saturday night, at the cutest party held in ten moons.

The affair, in Biddle Hall, took on a French air, with the decor following a pattern of sidewalk cafes in Paris.

Each member's table posed before the simulated front of a cafe named from the hostess's Christian name, and was marked by a lamp post with street sign in her surname.

'Twas a costume dance, too, with the hostesses in striped off-shoulder blouses, tight black satin skirts slit to here, to expose a red garter. Their husbands wore turtle neck pink sweaters, black beret and lean black pants and girdled their waists with broad black belts.

The tables groaned with snacks and drinks and sometime in the early morn they served breakfast, a welcome respite after hours of dancing. Then came a second orchestra . . . a mambo specialty, for more dancing. Guests lingered until five ayem.

Hostesses were:

Cleota Brayboy, Gwendolyn Carter, Kathleen Carter, Robbie Chissell, Wilhelmina Garner, Helen Glover, Ivy Harris, Ruth Jennifer, Hortense Parkins, Nicki O. Randolph and Ellsworth Rhetta.

Their guests included:

Messrs. and Mesdames Myles Harrison, Preston Grant, John Wood, Warren Weaver, Robert McDaniel, Clarence Maiden, Charles Bland of Washington, Albert LaForest, Hughes Carter;

Messrs. and Mesdames Charles Parker, Miles Robinson, C. Coleman Walden, M. Leaepe, M. Woolford W i l l i a m Valentine, George Lottier, Sam Phillips, Robert McEwen, Charles Lane, Arthur West, Eugene Byrd, George Drew, DeWitt Howard, Bernard Harris, Clark Davis, Willia P. Taylor, Buddy Parker, Albert Burwell, A. Michaels, Ernest Sealo;

Messrs. and Mesdames Bob Matthews, C l i n t o n Jenkins, George Pendleton, Clarence Hawkins, Charles Woodland, Doug Henderson of Philadelphia, Melvin Hurt, Lorenzo Selder, Richard Cummings, Floyd Owens, Robert Watts, Milton Allen, Robert Watts, Milton Stapley, Daniel Brewington, George Jude;

Julia Jenkins, Bernard Byrd, Thaddeus Logan, Effie McClean, George Perkins, Louise Perkins, Tillie Pair, Albert White of Washington; Harry Adams, Vera Cummings, William Mumby, Herbert Brown, Wesley Stubbs.

Wonder Drug Formula Aids Hair Beauty

Here are the scientific facts about the one thing that creates long, naturally attractive hair... smooth, soft, growing out rich and healthy:

It all depends on the nature and condition of the scalp. In other words, you can have gorgeous hair like that only if your scalp is able to make it so.

Millions of people are learning this vital fact. They are also learning about Sulfur-8 Hair and Scalp Conditioner and how it beautifies the hair.

The Power of Sulfur-8

Only Sulfur-8 has that special formula with the wonder drug hailed by famous hair and scalp specialists—the new scientific "super-sulfur" called polysulfides. Of course, Sulfur-8 cannot give you a new scalp, nor make your hair grow or be longer than your scalp will allow, but when used in time it works wonders in building up the looks of the most abused, dry hair to fresh, radiant beauty.

Get Sulfur-8 at the drug store today!

Clubs

CATOCTIN — The social club was delightfully entertained Saturday at the lovely new home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henderson.

As it was the anniversary of Lincoln's birthday and near St. Valentine's Day, the color scheme was carried out for both, red and white for Valentines and red white and blue for Lincoln Day.

Although it was the coldest night of the year, the "bakers dozen" members of the club all turned out for the meeting.

Members of the club are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bayton, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Swann, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Reid, Miss Eunice Hutchins, Miss Mary E. Thomas, Gilbert Johnson, and Mr. and Mrs. Carter Reid.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude D.E-Laughter Jr., were guests.

After a bountiful repast, the club settled down to several games of pinochle.

Ladies first prize was won by Mrs. Calvin Swann, men's first prize was won by Gilbert Johnson.

The consolation prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. Carter Reid. Guest prizes were given to Mr. and Mrs. DeLaughter Jr.

Next meeting will be at the home of Miss Hutchins and Miss Thomas.

CHARITY — The club met on Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Ella Halsey. Mrs. Lilly Hayes presided. Mrs. A. Goodon became a member.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. A. Ames of 1609 Warwick Ave. Mrs. Hazel Gardiner is editor.

CHEERFUL LADIES — On Thursday, Mrs. Della Lloyd of 934 Argyle Ave. entertained the club.

Members showered gifts on Mrs. Lloyd and Mrs. Bertine Burnett, who celebrated birthdays. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Clara Foster of 1209 N. Gay St.

NEIGHBORHOOD — Mrs. Mary Gillis of 1413 Argyle Ave. entertained the Neighborhood club, Friday.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Lula Braxton at 1404 Argyle Ave.

Mrs. Braxton is president of the club and other officers are Mrs. Edith Mimms, secretary; Mrs. Bessie Wilson, treasurer; and Mrs. Gillis, business manager.

RED ONION — The auxiliary was entertained by Mrs. Laura Thompson of 1005 Argyle Ave. Miss Annie White is president of the club.

Staff Nurse Phyllis J. Hill says: "My specialty is child care. For healthy babies, feed Carnation."

Mrs. Phyllis J. Hill, Pediatrics Supervisor Wheatly Hospital, Kansas City, Missouri

PRACTICALLY the whole subject of Mrs. Hill's life is children! She not only has two of her own...she's also Staff Pediatrics Nurse at Kansas City's Wheatly Hospital, which means she has cared for hundreds and hundreds of others!

"I think babies fed on Carnation Milk are just the luckiest babies in the world!" says Mrs. Hill. "I know from experience that Carnation is the most nourishing form of milk you can buy. The safest and the most digestible, too. I raised my own babies on Carnation. I recommend it wholeheartedly."

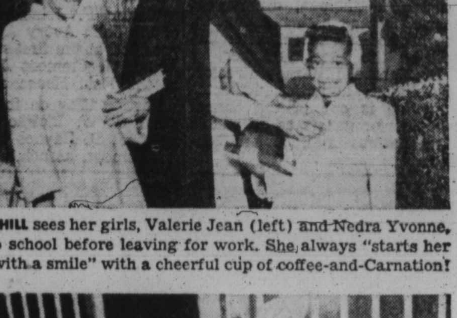
Leading baby specialists recommend Carnation, too. Actually, 8 out of 10 mothers who feed a Carnation formula say: "My doctor recommended it."

So if you are a proud new parent, do give your baby the benefits of a Carnation formula...the milk every doctor knows.

Mrs. Hill says: "Make this flavor discovery!"

When you start your baby on Carnation, you may have some left over after preparing the formula. If you do, don't waste a drop! For this is your perfect opportunity to see how much better coffee tastes when you "cream" it with Carnation . . . and to discover the richer flavor Carnation gives cream soups, gravies, mashed potatoes, cheese sauce, casseroles, fudge, cream sauce – and all your other recipes that call for milk!

"from Contented Cows"



MRS. HILL sees her girls, Valerie Jean (left) and Nedra Yvonne, off to school before leaving for work. She always "starts her day with a smile" with a cheerful cup of coffee-and-Carnation!

HERE at the Wheatly Hospital, Nurse Phyllis Hill gives a darling baby his Carnation formula, as prescribed by the baby's doctor. Mrs. Hill reports the infant is doing just fine!

"I'VE ALWAYS KNOWN that Carnation improves cooking and baking," she says, "but only recently did I discover it whips! Now we enjoy whipped Carnation toppings all the time."

Sorority commissions Birche for fashion show

The National Chapter of the Phi Dela Kappa Sorority has commissioned William M. H. Birche Jr. to arrange the music score for the forthcoming fashion ramble.

The Baltimore Boys' Choir and the "Cubanos" of that organization will be featured along with a cast of TV and popular local artists.

This marks the first time that a vocal agregation has supplied musical background for a fashion ramble.

This type ensemble has been labeled by Mr. Birche as a "Vochestra" and will sing to the stylings of the beautiful Charm Centre models.

This is the second time for Mr. Birche to be commissioned by a Sorority, the first being by the Deltas for their 1947 Jabberwock which featured the conductors' "Valse Romantigue" and "Fiesta."

In and around Annapolis

By ROBERT PINKNEY JR.

The Board of Education will appoint an 18-member citizens committee to discuss problems of complying with the Supreme Court decision on ending segregation in public schools.

Dr. David Jenkins, superintendent of schools, said that such a committee would be appointed as soon as the Supreme Court issues a decree stating the manner and time when segregation is to end.

The committee may consist of 12 white persons and 6 colored.

While on the subject of schools Dr. Jenkins says an addition to Stanton elementary on West Washington Street is to be seen 5in the very near future.

Although the bill, which asks for sufficent class rooms to meet the needs of the overcrowded conditions of the school, is still before the legislature, it is feared that property surrounding the school may be needed to complete this project.

Dr. Jenkins pointed out that Stanton was a sound structure from the outside but faces a big dearth in classroom facilities with the enrollment expected to jump by September.

TRAGEDY HIT our fair city last week when 9 - month - old Charles Brown, son of Mrs. Lydia Brown, narrowly escaped death in a traffic accident at the intersection of Routes 2 and 214 a mile est of Edgewater according to Anne Arundel County police.

The baby was thrown out of the auto driven by George Butler 23 Admirals Drive when the breaks locked and the car flipped over.

The child was treated for abrasions and contusions of the face and released from the Anne Arundel General Hospital.

THE CITY Council rejected a proposal by George Belt of Annapolis to acquire liquor licenses to open the newly built Campbell building on W e s t Washington Street last week.

The vote which was 5-3 in favor of rejecting Belt's bid, was more disheartening when our own Alderman Norwood Brown, and Roscoe Parker led the rejection, along with Mayor Arthur Ellington.

It was hoped that aid would come to Mr. Belt's gesture, which was to open the three-story building and turn it into a hotel.

However, it was said that the big reason was that Annapolis at present has too many taverns, which could be true. But how many do the colored folks own

* * *

WHEN THE now defunct Dixie Hotel closed its doors, it left our fair County seat without a decent hotel for colored people and with Belt's idea spiked it appears now that this city will have to wait a long time before a proper eating or resting place will be established for colored tourists and other eminent people that visit the State Capital.

It's never been discussed through the medium of a newspaper before, but one has often looked at the ineffective recreational activities for our young teen agers.

There is absolutely none whatsoever, and as Annapolis gradually grows by leaps and bounds the lack of proper playgrounds, and other activities which would occupy the minds of our future men and women has led to nothing but juvenile delinquency.

Vagrancy has hit a new high in Annapolis, and our leaders find only room for criticism, instead of getting off the floor to spear head a fight to cease this extensive outrage.

Waiter has wrong woman arrested

A WOMAN WHO sought police protection in a Pennsylvania Ave. restaurant, Wednesday night, wound up being arrested on a disorderly conduct charge instead.

Miss Kathryn Peck, 1100 block Myrtle Ave. was apprehended when she summoned police to quell a dispute which had arisen between her escort William Flippen, 2300 block W. North Ave. and an unidentified woman.

According to testimony before Magistrate Charlotte Main of Pine St. Police Court, Miss Peck and Mr. Flippen were seated in the restaurant booth when a woman entered, spoke to Mr. Flippen, picked up a glass of water, doused the faces of the couple, and broke several glasses.

* * *

MISS PECK, who, it was testified, had remained quiet during the time, asked a waiter to call police.

Before the officers arrived, Mr. Flippen escorted the angry woman out, leaving Miss Peck at the table. Under orders of the waiter, Dong Ying Toy, police arrested Mrs. Peck and took her to Pine St.

She was later released on $51 collateral by her attorney, Josiah Henry. Judge Main dismissed the case, Thursday morning.
