WINTER SCENES like this one of Druid Hill Park Lake covered with ice and snow tempted many photograghers, including AFRO cameraman, to brave the sub-freezing weather in order to get a good shot.

MORNING STARTER for some automobile drivers on these past cold wintry days was the portable device used to re-charge batteries which had run down. Here James H. Mitchell, 1718 W. Lafayette Ave., is charging his battery at home. Many motorists had to have their cars towed to the nearest service station for the job.
