Coppin class stages suite

By BERTHA LEE

The 5A class at Coppin Elementary School No. 132 recently presented a music-appreciation program featuring the music of Edward Greig and his Peer Gynt Suite. The invited classes, parents, and teachers were delighted with the efforts and talent displayed.

Earl Kellum was superb as Peer Gynt. Other supporting members of the cast were, Asa, played by Brenda Brown, Sharon Scott as Ingrid, Barbara Austin as Solveig, Dotcenia Walker as Anitra, Gerald Boyd as the Arab Chief, Bruce Moore as the Mountain King, Lillian Diggs as the Troll Bride.

Trolls were James Taylor, William Dennis, Richard Ball, and Max Taylor. Arab dancers were Brenda Patterson, Delores Harris, Joyce Latney. Country dancing girls were Joyce Alexander, Elise Cousin, and Dorothy Long.

• • •

O'NEILL HAMMOND did a wonderful job of narrating the complete story and Janice Moore gave a report on the life of Edward Greig.

The choral group members, under the direction of Mrs. Lucy Jones were Joseph King, Catherine Dix, Gregory Ferrell, Franklin Johnson Larry Isabelle Bernice Manning, Joseph Kelly, Cledumae Marion, Edward Dilver, Sonja Hunter and Linda Ross. The program was under the direction of Mrs. Bertha Lee, teacher.

The boys and girls of the 6B-6A class had a very entertaining and informative guest speaker as a part of their study of Africa.

Wendy Parker, one of the pupils in the class, invited Robert Shamwell, a Baltimorean and a steward on the S.S. African Princess to speak to the class. The S. S. African Princess travels between New York and South Africa.

Mr. Shamwell discussed the peoples of the different sections of Africa, their customs and living conditions. The discussion was enlivened by his display of pictures, maps, art craft and souvenirs of Africa. Calvin Carrington is the teacher of the class

STUDENTS WHO have dropped out of day school in the 11th or 12th grade can complete their high school work in a surprising short time. Other students usually require less than four years to earn a high school diploma.

Opportunity is also given to high school graduates who need training in business subjects to earn a commercial certificate.

Under a liberalized curriculum plan it may be possible for students who have earned credit in vocational courses to have these credits counted toward a regular high school diploma.

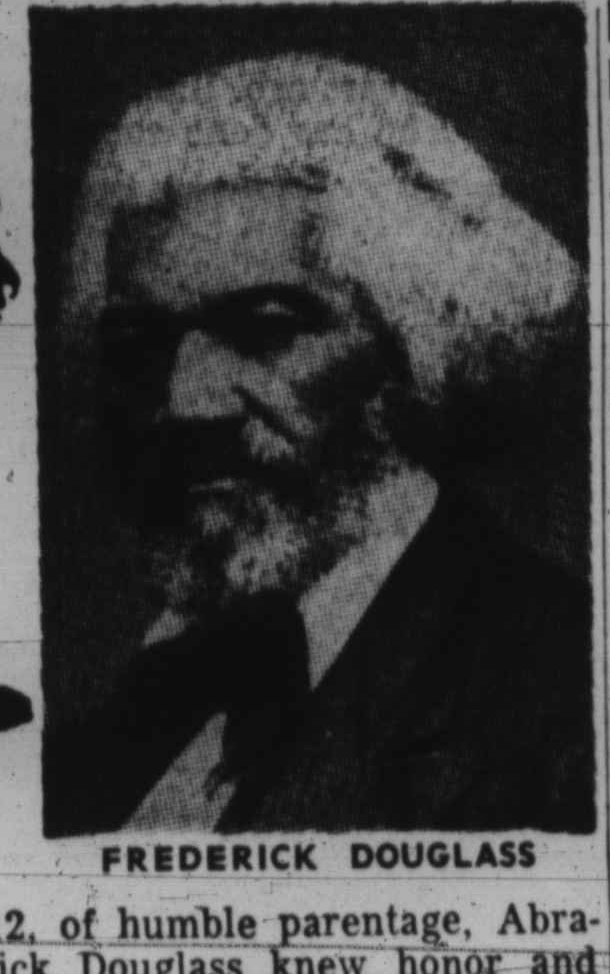
STUDENTS' ESSAY CONTEST

ABRAHAM LINCOLN



FREDERICK DOUGLASS

Both born on February 12, of humble parentage, Abraham Lincoln and Frederick Douglass knew honor and fame before their deaths. A day-long joint birthday celebration, sponsored by the Pennsylvania Avenue-Lafayette Market Associates and the AFRO, will be observed with a sensational sale, contests and an outdoor program.

Elementary, Jr. High, High School Students Eligible To Enter

To celebrate the mutual birthday of two great Americans, Abraham Lincoln and Frederick Douglass on February 12, the Pennsylvania Avenue-Lafayette Market Associates and the AFRO are sponsoring an essay contest on "WHY WE SHOULD CELEBRATE THE BIRTHDAY OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN AND FREDERICK DOUGLASS."

Abraham Lincoln and Frederick Douglass both rose from humble beginnings to achieve honor and fame and a lasting place in the hearts and minds of all men of good will. Mr. Douglass had to flee to Canada and England on several occasions to escape imprisonment for his speeches and his work. Mr. Lincoln eventually lost his life in behalf of his beliefs.

There are many books and stories available on the lives of both men to give you ideas on what to write in your essay. Writing style will not be as important as facts. Think over what you have read and put what you feel about Mr. Lincoln and Mr. Douglass into your own words. Do not just copy words out of a book. With a limitation of 150 words, be sure you have included the most important ideas and eliminated the unimportant ones before mailing in your essay.

RULES FOR CONTEST

1. The title of each essay must be: WHY WE SHOULD CELEBRATE THE BIRTHDAY OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN AND FREDERICK DOUGLASS.
2. Essays should not exceed 150 words and should be legibly written in ink or typed on one side of the sheet of paper only.
3. All essays must be in the hands of the judges no later than Tuesday, February 8. Address all entries to Lincoln-Douglass Essay Contest, Room 214, 100 N. Eutaw Street.
4. All entries must have student's name, address, phone number (if you have phone) age, grade and name of school in top left hand corner on each sheet of entry.
5. Only one entry will be accepted from a student.
6. Neatness and legibility will be taken into consideration by the judges. Flowery writing will not help you to win. The way you state your facts, will.
7. Three sets of equal awards will be made: one set to Elementary School student winners one set to Jr. High School student winners; one set to High School student winners. The schools, attended by the three first place winners, will receive their choice of a biography of Abraham Lincoln or Frederick Douglass for their libraries.
8. The decision of the judges will be final and all contestants taking part agree to accept these decisions as a condition of entry.
9. Winners will be announced in the Friday, February 11 issue of the AFRO and will receive their awards at the program to be held Saturday afternoon, February 12 in Lafayette Market Square in observance of the birthdays of Mr. Lincoln and Mr. Douglass.

CASH AWARDS

Mervo's art pupils learn through doing

By TANEEN GREENE

What's been happening in the Art Department at Mergenthaler Vocational? Let's take a peep and see.

The Art Department is composed of three classes: Sign painting, graphic arts and display, instructed by M. Touchton, W. Von Schulz and I. Schkloven.

It is the job of these instructors to supply scenery and costumes for assemblies, signs and displays for the school show cases and classroom.

• • •

NOV. 4 AND 5 were dates of the fall production of the "Mardi Gras, given by the art department, assisted by a few other teachers.

This was one of the most elaborate productions ever to be produced by this school. All costumes were beautifully designed by the art students with efficiently made masks. Tickets sold for both nights were well over 1,25.

The next product of the art department was a tribute to Thomas Edison. For this a large electric bulb was displayed in the center of the stage with electric letters spelling out his name.

• • •

LAST BUT not least for "54" was an exquisitive Christmas program, paying tribute to the postal services, Called "The Mail Man Comes To Mervo," again the art department made a good showing.

The huge frame in the center of the stage represented a Christmas card, and for every different song the school choirs sang a different picture showed, posed by student models.

NOW TO begin "55" the art department has been asked to put up and exhibit at the Administration Building - Division of Art Education, in Dr. Winslow's office, director of art.

This is the first time that Mervo has been asked to put on an exhibit alone, which is a very high honor.

Mrs. M. Touchton, instructor of display, has the task of changing the 12 show cases in the school at least twice a month.

With the help of her display class the school has won wonderful acclaim for its show cases. The students learn to do repusse work in metal foil, paper mache, ceramics, costume design, pastels, oils and water colors which are all represented in the exhibition.

The sign painting class, instructed by Mr I. Schkloven, has done work for local department stores. Among the work done are sectional signs for individual departments in the stores along with real estate, road signs and show cards.

Royal Carpet Rolled Out For Youthful Haitian President

- Ike praised for efforts against bias
- Joint session of Congress hears Haitian

WASHINGTON

President Eisenhower's personal efforts against prejudice were cited by President Paul E. Magloire of Haiti, Thursday, in a speech before a joint session of Congress.

"The Haitian people," President Magloire declared, "follow with interest President Eisenhower's personal efforts to eliminate prejudices of all sorts which constitute handicaps to mutual understanding which is our common objective in this hemisphere."

• • •

HE ADDED that the Haitians are "very optimistic" about the future of U.S.-Haitian relations.

Earlier in his address to members of the Senate and the House of Representatives, the head of the Haitian Republic pointed out that "We have not always been regarded with the warm feelings of friendship which have been evident to us here today.

"It was not until Franklin Delano Roosevelt took office that the relations of cordiality and fraternity, which alone can make our hemisphere strong, really came into being."

President Magloire said the good neighbor policy put into effect in 1943 by withdrawal of the Marines from Haiti inspired great confidence of the Haitians and all peoples of the Americas in the United States.

It is this policy, he declared, continued by President Eisenhower, that has enabled the Americans to present a united front against aggression.

Following his address President Magloire was the guest of Vice President Richard M. Nixon at the Capitol. During the afternoon he was honored at a reception given by Haitian Ambassador Jacques Leger at the Pan American Union and Thursday night a dinner was given for him by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

President Magloire will hold a dinner tonight (Friday) at the Sheraton-Park Hotel for President and Mrs. Eisenhower who entertained at a state dinner for the visiting president and his wife Wednesday evening when the Magloires were overnight guests at the White House.

THEY MOVED across the street Thursday morning to Blair House where visiting dignitaries customarily stay in the capital.

Visits to Arlington cemetery and George Washington's tomb at Mount Vernon were scheduled before President Magloire's trip to Capitol Hill.

Today he will visit the national headquarters of the American National Red Cross in the morning and deliver a speech of thanks for hurricane aid rendered to Haiti.

• • •

AT NOON President Magloire is scheduled to address a meeting of the Council of the Organization of American States.

This session will take place at the Pan American Union where a luncheon is slated in his honor, while Mrs. Magloire will be entertained by the wives of OAS officials.

At 2:30 p.m. President and Mrs. Magloire are to open an exhibit of paintings of Haiti at the Pan American Union, after which Mrs. Magloire will visit the headquarters of the National Council of Negro Women. A reception in her honor will be held by NCNW from 4 to 6 p.m.

PRESIDENT MAGLOIRE will visit Secretary of State Dulles at the State Department at 3:30 p.m. where treaties between the U.S. and Haiti will be signed.

Winding up the Haitian president's visit to the capital will be a reception at the Sheraton-Park hotel tonight, following the dinner for President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

President Magloire and his party are scheduled to leave by Pan American plane tomorrow at 8:50 a.m. for West Point, N.Y. They will tour the military academy and lunch with the commandant before motoring to New York City where they will remain until next Thursday.

- Magloire greeted by Eisenhower
- 21-gun salute fired; met by Nixon, Dulles

WASHINGTON

The nation's capital rolled out the "royal welcome carpet" Wednesday for the three-day visit of Haiti's "flying Chief Executive," President Paul E. Magloire.

The dapper president of the Caribbean island republic began the first leg of a 6,000 mile official visit to the United States, Canada and Jamaica by stopping at the White House.

• • •

ARRIVING AT Washington's National Airport on President Eisenhower's special plane, The Columbine, promptly at 4 p.m., President and Madame Magloire were met by Vice President and Mrs. Richard Nixon.

Among the other dignitaries greeting the visiting President were Mrs. John Foster Dulles, wife of the Secretary of State, and Henry F. Holland, assistant Secretary of State in charge of Inter-American Affairs.

The President, was given the traditonal 21-gun salute reserved for the arrival of visiting heads of state.

It is his first official visit to the United States.

• • •

MADAME MAGLOIRE, who wore a fashionable mink coat, was given a spray of red roses by Mrs. Nixon, wife of the vice president.

After posing for a battery of photographers, President Magloire and Vice President Nixon reviewed honor guard composed of units of the Air Force, the Army and Navy.

A formal exchange of greetings saw Mr. Nixon welcome the Haitian leader. President Magloire deviated from his prepared text to pay tribute to the vice president as a "great traveler."

President Magloire's remarks were in French. They were interpreted by Mouclair Zephirin, the Haitian secretary of state.

From the airport, the president's party which included the Haitian Ambassador Jacque Leguer and American Ambassador Roy Tascoe Davis and embassy personnel, was whisked to the District building. The route was lined with armed forces personnel.

• • •

AT THE DISTRICT building, President Magloire was given the key to the city.

Commissioner Samuel Spencer in presenting the key noted that the Haitian President was elected to office four years ago.

He pointed out that the "democratic principles of the Haitian Republic were similar to those of the United States and a bond of friendship existed between the two countries for over 100 years." About 5,000 persons witnessed the ceremony at the District Building.

Brig. Gen. B. O. Davis Sr. and Woolsey Hall, civic leader, were among platform guests.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER, hatless and coatless, attired in a grey suit later met the Haitian leader on the White House steps.

Pausing briefy for photographers, the two political figures went into the White House.

AT THE WHITE House, Wednesdy evening, the President and Mrs. Eisenhower gave a State dinner in honor of the President and Madame Magloire.

President Magloire in a toast to President Eisenhower stated: to president E. kT now is the

"To the honor of being this evening the guest of one of the greatest military leaders that the United States has had, is added my profound satisfaction of being the spokesman of the whole Haitian nation to express to the most qualified representative of this friendly country, our profound gratitude for the geneous assistance which comes to us from our powerful neighbors for the solution of the vital problem which we are facing.

"I ALSO TAKE this opportunity to thank you, Mr. President, for the sponstaneity with which you have come to our help at the time of the recent hurricane, which caused so much damage in Haiti, and to bid to accept our wishes for the continuing prosperity of the United States and the arrival of this eara of peace to the triumph to which you devote all your efforts.

"To Mrs. Eisenhower, who represents with such dignity the American women, who beside their husbands, work to make more beautiful and much stronger, this land of liberty, I address in the names of Mrs. Magloire and myself, with our thanks, the cordial salute of the Republic of Haiti."

President and Mrs. Magloire spent Wednesday night at the White House as guests of President and Mrs. Eisenhower and moved over to the Blair House Thursday morning.

President Magloire arrived in the District from Miami, where he spent two hours visiting with the Haitian consul, M. Phillipe Cham.

Fourteen persons are in his official party.

His United States visit will take him to New York, Nashville and Boston. From Boston, he will visit Ottawa, Canada and Kingston, Jamaica before returning home.

President Magloire is traveling by a special Pan American Clipper.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Science Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form for hemorrhoids under the name Preparation H.* The price is only 98¢ a tube including an applicator. The name to ask for is Preparation H—at all drug stores. And remember—if not entirely satisfied—your money will be refunded promptly. *Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.
