5-Month Ordeal Ends For Mrs. Annie Moss

The story

WASHINGTON

Five months of worry and uncertainty ended Thursday for Mrs. Annie Lee Moss following announcement of her reinstatement to her War Department job.

Mrs. Moss, suspended last August 4 from her $3,335 post as a Pentagon code clerk, was ordered reassigned to duty by Defense Secretary Charles Wilson.

• • •

MR. WILSON'S order followed intensive study of the transcript of a week-long hearing to which Mrs. Moss was subjected in August following charges before the McCarthy ssbcommittee that she had been a member of the Communist Party.

The suspension was the third for the government worker since 1951, in the wake of charges of Communist activity which were first leveled at her in 1948.

• • •

THE FIRST suspension began June 1, 1951, and lasted until October 26 of the same year when she was cleared by the Department of the Army.

The second began February 1, 1954, and ended on March 29. The 47-year-old clerk received no pay for the February-March suspension or for the latest five-month period.

With restoration to duty, Mrs. Moss is expected to receive back pay for both periods.

• • •

SECRETARY WILSON announced the decision to restore the government worker to her post in a memo addressed to Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens:

"The case of (Mrs.) Annie Lee Moss has been a matter of concern to me, and my office has just completed a study of the hearing file.

"In our opinion the record does not support a conclusion that she is actually subversive or disloyal to the United States.

"There is, however, clear indication of certain derogatory information occuring prior to 1946.

"Mrs. Moss, because of that information, has been subjected to a series of investigation, hearings and suspensions from her work.

• • •

"I BELIEVE that the fair and proper action in her case is to offer her an opportunity to be restored to work in a non-sensitive position in the Department of the Army without access to classified information.

"If she accepts and is so restored, the case should be closed."

• • •

IN ANNOUNCING the lifting of the suspension, Secretary Stevens said that Mrs. Moss will be assigned to work in the Army Finance and Accounts office located at Second and T Sts., SW., where she will not have access to classified material.

MRS. ANNIE LEE MOSS

The interview

WASHINGTON

Mrs. Annie Lee Moss does not "hate" Senator McCarthy.

In an interview, Wednesday, following announcement of her restoration to her Army Department job from which she was suspended five months ago, Mrs. Moss said that she does not "hate" the Junior Senator from Wisconsin, but that she "would not call him a particular friend either."

• • •

A FEW HOURS after being informed of the order restoring her to her job, Mrs. Moss declared that she felt no resentment toward the government as a result of the three hearings and suspensions which she had been compelled to face since 1951.

"But I can't say," she added, "that I'm glad that it happened to me."

Clad in a black sealskin coat and black dress, Mrs. Moss was quite calm and poised as she faced more than a dozen newsmen, photographers and newsreel and TV cameramen.

• • •

ASKED WHEN she planned to go back to work, she said that she would do so immediately, since she had "a lot of catching up to do."

After revealing that she had received no pay during the period of her last suspension from last August 4 until Thursday or for the period from February 1, to March 26, she said that she had "borrowed some money" to meet her expenses.

The mother of a 20-year-old son, she said that her husband had died in October of 1947, shortly before the first charges of Communist activity were brought against her by Mrs. Mary Markward, an undercover agent for the FBI.

• • •

IN RESPONSE to a question concerning her feelings toward Mrs. Markward, she responded quietly:

"I do not know Mrs. Markward and she does not know me. We had never even seen one another."

Former Municipal Court Judge James E. Cobb, who was associated with George E. C. Hayes, attorney, in the conduct of Mrs. Moss' defense said that the entire matter had been "a terrible mistake" where Mrs. Moss was concerned.

"Someone sent Communist literature to her address," he said, "and a Communist membership card was made out to an Annie Lee Moss, but she (Mrs. Moss) had nothing to do with them."

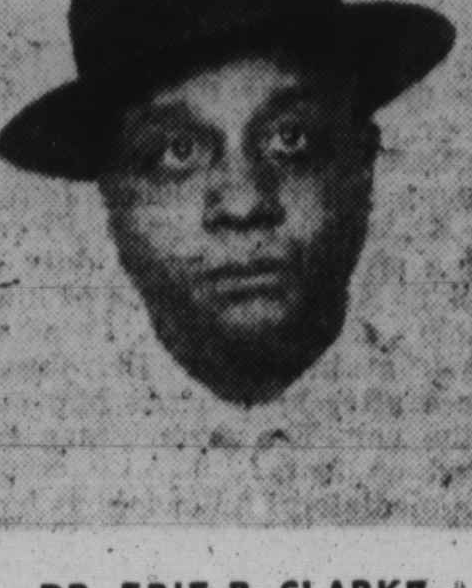
• • •

DESCRIBING her ordeal as a "tough experience," Mrs. Moss said that some of her friends had stuck by her, "but some others," she dismissed with a shrug and outspread hands.

Asked how she felt about being assigned to the Army Finance and Accounts Division instead of to her former job at the Pentagon, Mrs. Moss said that the work would be the same and that she preferred to work in Washington.

Attorney Hayes said that he had been informed by the Army that the new job to which Mrs. Moss is to be assigned is at the same salary grade as the one from which she was suspended and that she will receive her back pay and job tenure.

Dr. Clarke held in bail on worthless check count



DR. ERIE R. CLARKE

PHILADELPHIA

Dr. Eric R. Clarke, reputed to be one of the most progressive ear, nose and throat specialists in the city, Friday, was held in $500 bail on a charge of passing a worthless check.

The 39-year-old uptown physician of 1705 N. 18th St. appeared before Magistrate Samuel Clark in central police court, City Hall. He was represented by Robert N. C. Nix.

The defendant refused to waive extradition to New Jersey. The check for $128.75 was passed in Pennsauken, last August, in payment of four automobile tires.

• • •

DR. CLARKE will be given a further hearing on Feb. 11. Extradition papers are expected to have been processed for his return by that time.

A warrant for the doctor's arrest was sworn to by Nicholas Palumbi. The complainant is an attendant at Bauer's Atlantic Service Station, Browning Rd., on Route 38.

When Camden County Detectives J. Mathis and Christian Miller were unable to serve the warrant, the physician was indicted as a fugitive by the Camden County Grand Jury.

A warrant was then obtained to be served in Pennsylvania. The doctor was taken in custody at his home, Thursday, by Detectives Firman Hopkins and Herman Goldstein.

• • •

DR. CLARKE'S explanation of what led to the check charge is as follows:

George Caldwell, a carpenter who used to work for Dr. Clarke, was driving the physician and one of the latter's Italian friends, Sylvio Mignoagna, to Atlantic City.

Carpenter's car appeared to have a flat tire. Mignoagna suggested that they drive to the service station where his friend, Palumbi, also an Italina, worked.

When the tires were examined at the station, they were found to be split and badly damaged. Encouraged by Mignoagna, and Palumbi, Carpenter, who had no money, purchased the tires.

• • •

MIGNOAGNA TOLD Palumbi the doctor would guarantee payment. The physician admitted that he did not have any money. He gave Palumbi a check to hold until Carpenter gave him the cash to put in the bank.

Carpenter never paid and therefore, the check was not made good.

DR. CLARKE, a native of the West Indies, has been in America since childhood. He was graduated from Morgan State College, Meharry Medical School in 1942 and started practicing in Philadelphia in 1944.

He is associated with nose and throat services at Mercy-Douglass Hospital and reconstructive surgery at Community Hospital.
