Corn, potatoes, carrots this week's vegetable buys

Whole kernel canned corn is in heavy supply with the price lower than a year ago, says Gwendolyne Clyatt, food economist, University of Maryland Extension Service, Baltimore.

The 1954 pack of golden corn, both whole and cream style, was more than a million cases more than the 1953 pack. Canners are using a new method for processing which produces a product of exceptionally high quality. The flavor is so delightful that you need only to open the can, heat the whole kernel corn, season with butter and you have a dish your family will really enjoy.

Sweet potatoes are available at reasonable prices. Porto Ricans and Goldens are varieties most plentiful. In preparation it is never desirable to mix varieties because of the difference in flavor, color of the flesh and the lack of uniformity in cooking. Good quality sweet potatoes are smooth, well-shaped, firm, and of bright appearance.

Plentiful supplies of iceberg lettuce coming mostly from California, Florida and Arizona are available at attractive prices. The outstanding use for this vegetable is usually in salad making but it can also be cooked like other leafy greens.

THE SUPPLY OF CARROTS is about six percent above last year. At present time they are coming mostly from California and Texas and are packed in film bags. This is one of our most versatile foods. It can be baked, stewed, fried or added to stews, soups and chowders as well as an important salad ingredient.

Onions remain a good value in vegetables. When buying, select the variety best suited to the way the onions will be used.

The medium sized yellow onions are strong flavored and usually preferred for cooking and flavoring. The small sized white onions are preferred for boiling and creaming since they retain their shape after cooking. The large Spanish type onions are best for salads and for eating raw.

Liberal supplies of oranges are still available at low cost. Now is the time to use them often in meal planning since they may be used as a starter to whet the appetite or served generously in a salad to appease the appetite. It is well to remember that a daily supply of the all important vitamin "C" is necessary as it cannot be stored in the body.

Here are some suggestions to consider—a whole orange gives more vitamin "C" than just the juice of the orange. The fibers and tissues around the section of the orange contains considerable vitamin "C". When just the juice is used, as third of the vitamin content of the orange may be wasted and when the orange juice is strained even more of this valuable vitamin is lost.

Eating oranges in sections, or in halves, adds necessary bulk to the diet. Bulk is one of the secrets of good digestion.

FLORIDA GRAPEFRUIT is in good supply and reasonable in cost. Fresh grapefruit has a tang which makes it a pleasant addition to any menu, whether in the form of juice, halved fruit or in combination with other fruit. It not only tastes good but is another outstanding source of vitamin "C."

Turkey is still available at reasonable prices. This is a good meal selection for any meal when the "crowd gets together."

Pork shoulder, chuck roast of beef and fish fillets are recommended as good buys.

Eggs continue in good supply and are an exceptional value. Because their use is so varied and because they cannot always be recognized as "eggs" they may be used more than once in a meal and anywhere from the first to the last course. Buy and use them often to benefit both your health and your food budget. Remember, January is Egg Month.

Crumb torte

Squares of "Apricot Crumb Torte" topped with whipped cream make an ideal dessert to serve with fragrant cups of coffee to those drop-in guests. Only tangy, rich dried apricots can give such "second-helping" flavor. Their deep, bright color helps make this torte so pretty.

For Apricot crumb torte you will need one and one-third cups zwieback crumbs, two cups cooked dried apricots, two eggs, two-thirds cup granulated sugar, few grains salt, one teaspoon vanilla extract, few drops almond extract, one-eighth teaspoon nutmeg, and one-half cup sour cream.

SPRINKLE one-half the crumbs in bottom of 9-inch pie pan. Arrange drained apricots over crumbs. Beat eggs thoroughly. Beat in sugar, salt, flavoring and spice. Blend in cream and pour over apricote. Top with remaining crumbs and bake in moderate over (350 degrees F.) 40 minutes. Cool before serving. Serve with whipped cream or thin pudding sauce, if desired.

Makes 6 to 8 servings.

COOKING FUN

COCOA IS COSY — Most folks, who live in the North, think a mug of piping hot cocoa is the friendliest, most relaxing of beverages for wintery days. It is a grand thawerouter of half-frozen friends who come a-visiting . . . a delicious, cheering drink that sticks to the ribs.

But, you may recall, Cocoa and the love of Cocoa is not exclusive to the North. In fact, Mexico is the original home of "chocolate" . . . and regarded there as food. All of which is good reason for us to learn how to make our Cocoa, Mexican style. It's quite simple . . . but it's wise to use a chocolate-y-rich cocoa as a base.

For the rich-looking Mexican Cocoa, in the picture, wonderful new (Baker's) triple-milled, Dutch-processed cocoa should be used because it has the true-chocolate taste. A touch of cinnamon is added and the result is the most excitingly flavored, lusious Cocoa you could wish for . . . an exotic treat in any kind of weather. Those cute little chocolate-ringed cookies that go along with the cocoa color scheme in the picture . . . are Charmers. You'll like to serve them at your Cocoa parties, too.

For charmers, you will need two cups sifted cake flour or all-purpose flour, one teaspoon double-acting baking powder, one half teaspoon salt, one-half cup butter or other shortening, two-thirds cup sugar, one egg, unbeaten, one tablespoon milk and one square unsweetened chocolate, melted.

SIFT FLOUR once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cream, shortening, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg and milk and beat well. Add flour, a small amount at a time, mixing well after each addition. Divide dough in two parts. To one part, add chocolate and blend. If necessary, chill until firm enough to roll.

Roll each half on floured waxed paper into rectangular sheet, 1/8 inch thick. Turn plain sheet over chocolate sheet; remove waxed paper. Roll as for jelly roll. Chill overnight, or until firm enough to slice. Cut in ⅛-inch slices. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 10 minutes, or until done. Makes about five dozen charmers.

MEXICAN COCOA requires one tablespoon cocoa, one-half or one tablespoon sugar, one-quarter teaspoon cinnamon, dash of salt, one-quarter cup water, and three-fourths cup milk.

Mix cocoa, sugar, cinnamon, salt and water in small saucepan. Bring slowly to a boil and boil gently two minutes, stirring constantly. Add milk and heat. Do not boil. If desired, beat with egg beater before serving, to blend thoroughly. Serve hot. Makes one serving.

Polka Dot Soup

Tastes as good as if you'd labored over it all day, yet this "Lima Polka Dot Soup" is a quickie deal.

With bacon drippings, bouillon cubes and wieners for meaty flavor, a package of shredded salad mix to save chopping time, and some jumbo-sized California dry limas for heartiness, your soup is made.

Limas cook in about half the time it takes for other kinds of dried beans, you know. And the children will get a bang out of the "polka dots" the wiener slices make.

Lima Polka Dot Soup requires one diced onion, four skinless wieners, two tablespoons bacon drippings, six beef bouillon cubes, six cups hot water, two cups cooked California large dry limas, and one (8-ounce) package shredded salad mix.

Fry onion and sliced wieners in hot bacon drippings until lightly browned, about 5 minutes. Dissolve bouillon cubes in hot water, add to wieners. Stir in lima beans and shredded salad mix. Cook about 10 minutes. Serve hot.

Makes about 1½ quarts soup. About 1 scant cup before cooking.

Olive dressing

Give the ordinary French dressing a festive air by adding meaty pieces of flavor-packed ripe olives.

Catsup, added in small amounts, gives a rosy color to a delicious tasting mixture. "Olive French Dressing" is easily made up at the last minute or can be kept on hand for ready use.

For Olive French Dressing you will need one-third cup ripe olives, one-third cup salad oil, one and one-half tablespoons vinegar, two tablespoons catsup, one-half teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper, and one teaspoon grated onion.

Cut olives in small pieces. Combine all ingredients in small jar, cover and shake vigorously to blend.

Makes about ¾ cup dressing.

Salad molds

This is Calavo season and we like to use the good-tasting versatile fruit in as many ways as we can.

We think it's particularly delectable in gelatin made with fresh lemon juice, as in these easily prepared "Pacific Calavo Salad Molds." The deep green-skinned, semi-tropical avocado with its smooth, buttery yellow green meat is an excellent buy these days when the supply is abundant.

Pacific Calavo Salad Molds require one envelope (1 tablespoon) plain gelatin, two tablespoons cold water, one and one half cups hot water, one-quarter cup granulated sugar, one-quarter teaspoon salt, one-quarter cup lemon juice, one-quarter teaspoon grated lemon rind, one cup dice Calavo, two-thirds cup halved canned cherries, two-third cup orange sections, and salad greens.

Soften gelatin in cold water and dissolve in hot water. Blend in sugar, salt, lemon juice and rind. Cool until slightly thickened. Cut Calavo in half lengthwise, remove seed and skin, and cut fruit into small cubes. Fold Calavo, cherries and orange into thickened gelatin.

Turn into molds and chill until firm. Unmold on salad greens and serve with desired dressing. Serves 6.

Walnut cake

If you pride yourself on your collection of cake recipes, here's an "Orange Walnut Cake" you'll want to add to your file.

It's a quicky to make, with no creaming of shortening or eggs to beat separately. The grated orange rind and juice give it a wonderful fresh fruit flavor, and chopped California walnuts add crunchy texture. A fluffy white frosting, or orange-flavored butter frosting would be delicious on this.

TO MAKE orange Walnut cake use one and one-half cups sifted cake flour, one cup granulated sugar, two teaspoons baking powder, three-fourths teaspoon salt, one-third cup shortening, one tablespoon grated orange rind, one-third cup orange juice, one-third cup undiluted evaporated milk, one egg and three-fourths cup chopped California walnuts.

Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Add shortening, orange rind and a little greased 8-inch layer cake pans. more than half of liquid. Beat 2 minutes (300 strokes by hand). Add remaining liquid and egg, and beat 2 minutes longer (300 strokes), scraping bowl frequently.

Stir in walnuts. Turn into 2 Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 25 minutes. Cool 5 minutes. Turn out onto wire rack to cool. Frost as desired.

Makes 1(8-inch) layer cake.

Gadabouting In Baltimore...

Guild's Beaux Arts Ball to be "But Fabulous" . . . .

...with Lula Jones Garrett

THE URBAN LEAGUE Guild wrapped up arrangements for their Beaux Arts Ball, this week, got their invitations in the mail and went about polishing up the plans which promise to put the affair to the fore in this season's social scheme.

The Famous Ballroom of Charles St. will be the place, and Feb. 21st the time. They've garnered Erskine Hawkings for dance music . . . and a whole slew of artists for entertaining. They'll have an enviable batch of prizes, too, including hundred dollar notes for the first prizes (one for club, one for individual) and two others of $75 and $50.

The whole is to be staged under a "Colonial 18th Century" theme . . . but guests may come either in costume or formal. Letitia Ashe is chairman and the whole Guild membership is on her committee.

THERE ARE a lot of fancy doings on the social calendar. The Wingoes (they're the Baltimore and Washington group) have set their dance for the 28th. It's to be in the Legion Hall at Towson, and to be followed by a musical breakfast in the Famous Ballroom.

The Baltimore Cossocks will dance on the 29th, at Odd Fellows' Hall, and come February 25, Phi Delta Kappa sorors are having a fashion extravaganza at the Coliseum . . and for a good cause . . , to aid the Crownsville State Hospital children's division.

The Savants will dance on the 28th at the New Albert Hall, and the Association of Municipal Employees will have a testimonial on the next evening (the 29th) honoring Mrs. Ethel J. Day of the Coppin State Teachers College staff, outstanding civic worker and club woman.

And if you decide to see "Carmen Jones" and you're not in the vicinity of the Regent, you may see it at the New downtown . . also any show at the Hippodrome. That's right!

It has leaked out that Herbert Frisby, Douglass High School science head and AFRO Arctic Correspondent, and his wife, Annie R., ere long, will pull up stakes on Druid Hill Avenue, where they have resided ever since their marriage, and "mush Westward."

I understand the "Igloo," as they call it, is a fully detached set-up located on high ground in the "way out" Forest Park section of the city; that the move represents a bit of quiet and successful pioneering.

AMONG THE "These interesting Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorors" honored at the January monthly meeting of Epsilon Omega chapter, Saturday night at the YWCA, was Dr. Regina Goff, of Morgan State College faculty.

Soror Goff, who is chairman of the division of social science and professor education at Morgan, will be off soon for Iran, where she has received an appointment as consultant to the ministry of education in that country. Her work will be under the Foreign Operations Administration, Washington, and will center around the general areas of teacher of education, child growth and development and curriculum planning.

Honors also went to Soror Theresa Kennedy Brown, also of the Morgan College faculty, who was recently elected to Pi Lambda Theta, national honor association for women in education. She's in Rho chapter of New York University, which has a membership of over 600 women. The Association has 70 chapters in the U.S., with a membership of 30,000.

A highlight of the meeting on Saturday were reports from the recent Boule of the organization which was held in Narhville, Tenn., during the Christmas holidays. The reports were given by Delegates Emma Bright, Flossie Dedmond, Florence Dennis and Vernice Reynolds. Among other sorors attending the Boule from Epsilon Omega were Sorors Lillian Parrott, Edna Over Gray, Juanita Holsey and Appye L. Hurt.

Committee reports were made, which included completed plans for the annual Founders' Day celebration of the organization which will be held the second Saturday in February at the YWCA, at which time Soror Marjorie Parker, North Atlantic Regional Director, will be guest speaker. Sorors Rosa Raye and Flozella Clark are chairman and co-chairman of the Founders' Day Committee, respectively.

A plan to help register voters in Districts two and three, of which there are some 14,000 were outlined and discussed by Soror Dorothy Booze, chairman of the American Council on Human Rights Committee. The cooperation of about thirty sorors from Epsilon Omega were solicited.

The third and final concert of the annual concert series given by the sorority will be tonight (Friday) in Polytechnic Institute Auditorium at 8:15 p.m., at which time Shivaram and Janaki, Hindu dancers, will be featured.

A social hour followed, of course, with hostesses being Sorors Juanita Holsey, Berniece Hundley, Appye Hurt, Beatrice Hurt, Constantia Jackson, Margaret Jackson, Elizabeth Jenkins, Chalmetta Johnson, Esther Johnson, Evelyn Johnson, Gladyse Jones, Laura Jones, Hermia Jordan and Margaret Land.

Members of Kappa Chapter, Iota Phi Lambda Sorority, presented a concert version of the musical drama "Salome," on Sunday afternoon in Polytechnic Institute Auditorium.

Muriel Rahn, well known artist of concert, opera, raido and television, portrayed the role of "Salome," in which she performed the famous "Dance of the Seven Veils."

which sheperforme the famous "Dance of the Seven Veils."

Other members of the cast included Hugh Hurd, Erona Harris, Charles Coleman, James Buckley, E. J. P. Tierney, Doris Doree, Dick Campbell, Charles Welch, Irma Rogers, and Edward Christopher.

The accompanist for the concert was Kelly Wyatt, graduate of Xavier University at New Orleans and Teachers College, Columbia University. He has done private study with Maxim Sohur and has been accompanist for other leading concert artists throughout the United States, Canada, and South America.

An enthusiastic crowd of several hundreds were in attendance. This concert stimulated much lively conversation. The Rev. Harold Nixon was quoted to have said: "that the concert was captivating." Mrs. Beryl Williams, an English instructor at Morgan State College stated that "the concert was wonderful and well expressed. Another local school teacher said that, "Muriel Rahn has a clever way of captivating her audience."

Following the concert, the members of "Kappa" held forth at a reception for the cast the club room of Soror Gladys Palmer. All of the cast was present.

Members enjoying the evening were:

Sorors Hazel Gardner, Mary B. Hamlette, Margaret Hill, Marie Lewis, Thelma Jiggetts, Fannie Poulson, Odessa Howard, Helene Gwynn, Mabel Waters, Mary Brittian, Mildred Ayers, Emma Brown, Jessie W. Youth no worse, simply more expert, founder tells Zetas

Youth of today are no worse than those of yesterday, they are just exposed to more worldly knowledge, Miss Arizona C. Stemmons told her sorors, here, Saturday.

Miss Stemmons, a Philadelphia social worker and one of the five founders of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, was speaker at the Founder's Day luncheon of Alpha Zeta Chapter held in Union Memorial Methodist Church.

The speaker pointed out that there are now many agencies that lead young people away from established family loyalties, from keeping desirable company, from religion and from living within their means. She urged leaders to use their acquired knowledge to guide them into better family relationships and useful citizenship.

Her directions to adults entering a totally integrated society, were to recognize their own weaknesses and prejudices and correct them; to face problems of today and solve them or learn to live with them; and to reach a real maturity.

Presiding at the luncheon was Soror Mary C. Frazier, and the other speakers included Soror Mary B. Hurt, who gave the history of the sorority, showing its growth from a chapter with five members organized on the campus of Howard University in 1920, to 200 chapters throughout the country. Soror Goldia Ford gave the prelude, and music was by Sorors Beatrice A. Mayo, violinist; Barbara Bostic, soloist; and Hazel Phillips, pianist. Soror Mayo newly-elected basileus of the chapter, gave the closing remarks.

The birthday cake was lighted by Soror Mae Fortune, outgoing basileus.

The luncheon was arranged by a committee of Alpha Zeta chapter, which included:

Sorors Josie G. Smith and Jessye Valintine, co-chairmen; Virginia B. Coleman, Eleanor B. Colvin, Althea S. Cornish, Isolene Crowner, Flora H. Dargin,

Sorors Goldia Ford, Mary Frazier, Alice Hall, Ellen Johns, Octavia Jones, Jewell Rawlings and Mary Taylor

Among those attending were: Sorors Ellen Johns, Beatrice Mayo, Mary Frazier, Mary Hurtt, Jewell Rawlings, Jessye Valentine, Althea Cornish;

Sorors Lillie Ross, Lillian Webb, Marguerite Carroll, Mamie Williams, Thelma Ashe, Catherine Mayo, Emma Dudley, Beatrice Hall, Anne Baedenkoph, Audrey Davis;

Sorors Ruth Russell, Doris Howell, Beulah Davis, Mae Fortune, Ethel Payne, Gwendolyn Decicilio, Beatrice Pitts, Mamie Washington;

Sorors Mary Taylor, Geraldine Powell, Clarissa Jenkins, Lillian Nicholson, Emma Henson, Lee Nealy, Eleanor Colvin, Catherine Banks, Eula Mae Watts, Florence Purviance, Vivian Purviance, Anne Holt, Aurelia Bush, Ruth Cleaver, Bernice Shorter.

Among guests were Mrs. William Rawlings, Mrs. Hilda Parker, Mrs. Aurelia Green, Mrs. Marguerite Saunders, Mrs. Irene Bush, and Lula Patterson, and Mrs. Gloria Stokes.

MISS CLARICE BROOKS, fashion designer, will be presented in a showing of her originals in a "Fantasy in Fashion" at the Madison Avenue Branch YWCA, Sunday afternoon at 5 p.m.

Mrs. Henderson married to George McCoo, Saturday

Mrs. Emma Lee Henderson, foster daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Taylor, was married to George McCoo, formerly of Gloucester County, Va., now of this city, Saturday.

The wedding and reception following took place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Summerfield Henson, 629 Cumberland St. The Rev. Marion Bascomb, of Douglas Memorial Church, officiated.

GIVEN IN marriage by Mr. Taylor, the bride wore a waltz-length gown of peach net over taffeta, jet trimmed at the neck, and with matching stole and elbow-length gloves. Her accessories were rhinestone, her slippers of French lace, and her corsage of rosebuds.

MRS. HELEN Taylor of Jamaica, L.I., matron of honor, wore gun metal blue taffeta, enhanced with a scroll designed outlined in pearls. A rhinestone coronet was her head-piece. Her shoes were pink and her corsage of pink carnations matched.

Other attendants were Mrs. Marguerite Harris and Miss Mary Williams.

Mrs. Harris was gowned in ivory brocade and Miss Williams in deep pink nylon. Their corsages were identical to that of the matron of honor.

MR. McCOO had as best man, Robert Hackett.

For the ceremony and reception, Mrs. Taylor selected a gown of black and white taffeta, pearl accessories, and black slippers. Mrs. Henson wore navy blue tissue taffeta, with a molded neckline, the latter duplicated at the bottom of the flowing skirt. Her accessories were rhinestone, and her shoes rhinestone trimmed.

The buffet supper and reception following the wedding was attended by 125 guests.
