Etta Moten, singing star Lady of many interests

...with Lula Jones Garrett

The distinguished mezzo-contralto Etta Moten, who will appear here tonight (Friday) at Polytechnic Institute, has thrilled audiences here and abroad with the rich beauty of her voice and practices as well as preachee her profound belief in the brotherhood of man. Her marvelous musical talent is but one phase of her race relations work.

Although concert engagements, lectures and personal appearances make her one of the busiest artists currently on tour, Miss Moten manages to find enough time to devote time to the more concrete methods of building good human relations. The list of civic organizations to which she belongs is truly amazing, especially when one remembers that she maintains much more than mere "name" membership in such groups.

As the internationally-known concert artist puts it, "None of these are honorary memberships. They are all earned, for I refuse to belong to any organization in which I cannot be active."

MISS MOTEN is a member of the board of directors of the Chicago Urban League; a life member of the National Council of Negro Women; a member of the women's board of the National Conference of Christians and Jews; and a member of the NAACP. In addition, she is one of the most notable sorors of Alpha Kappa Alpha, national scholastic sorority.

But despite this busy schedule and the tremendous amount of good accomplished, it is through her gifted voice that Miss Moten best portrays the fundamental oneness of humanity.

"I feel that every artist in public life has a fine opportunity to illustrate and demonstrate this truth without resorting to soapbox tactics," Miss Moten avers.

POT POURRI: Mrs. B. M. Rhetta Sr. is home after a stay in Johns Hopkins Hospital, but Dr. G. Lake Imes is still confined to Provident Hospital.

Howard Morgan remains very ill in the hospital at Fort Howard. He's the husband of Mae Morgan, who until his illness was on the staff of Charm Center.

RA CONTINENTS, holding forth in Odd Fellows' hall, Friday night, not only had themselves a time at their black and white cabaret, but entertained their New York group, and completed plans with Washingtonians for a chapter in that city.

BUT BACK to the ball. The ladies decorated the hall with black and white streamers and myriad of white balloons. Tucked hostess tables about the place (amply filled with the makings for drinks). Set up a laden buffet table . . . and the evening was on.

As I said, 'twas a black and white ball . . . with the hostesses turning out in an array of the swankiest gowns in those colors this side of Paris. Take, for instance, the black sequin sheath that adorned Natalie Phelps, or the full-skirted black frock with an apron of lace that Betti Simmons selected.

Or Charlotte Johnson in an off-shoulder black, with a trim of pearl and rhinestone studded cowl at the shoulder; the black sheath, trimmed in rhinestones that was selected by Wilhelmina Thomas; or Helen Tucker's black taffeta, snug at the top, full in the skirt, rhinestone adorned;

Or Ernestine Brooks' black and white striped frock with its intriguing jacket; or Ada Smith's white permanent pleated frock with tiers of black ribbon.

Mildred Carr wore black taffeta; Geneva Brown a black sheath with wide band of fur at the bottom; and Ruth Tortune, a sheer white wool, rhinestone sprinkled.

Incidentally charter members of the Washington chapter will be Prenetta Weaver, Gwendolyn Dudley and Josephine LaBonne of that city.

THE PHYSICIANS' section of the Baltimore chapter of Howard University Alumni Association entertained that group at the home of the chapter president, Mrs. Mary C. Frazier, Friday evening.

And of course the lone lady of the group, Dr. Maybelle Weaver, was chairman of arrangements. Other hosts were Drs. Thomas Harris, Percival C. Smith, Gilbert Banfield, George Pendleton, G. Franklin Phillips, William H Watts, John T. Camper, R. G Chissell and Frank J. Sykes.

There were reports galore—from the week-end conference at Howard, by Mrs. Frazier; from their recently sponsored play with special praise going to Miss Maizie Barbour, Linwood Koger, Miss Beth Johnson, Miss Ethel E. Wise, Dr. Isaac Young, Mrs. Ruth Lighston, for the success of the venture and the fun of the following reception;

There was elation over the election of a member, Emory R. Cole, to the House of Delegates of Maryland; and especial rejoicing that Dr. Ralph J. Young is recovering from his bed and able to go out for short drives.

And there was a goodly group of Howardites to hear the report and to enjoy the festivities afterwards, including:

Mrs. Eunice R. Brooks, Mrs Frazier, John C. Hampton, Dr Garland Chissell, Roland H Ganges, Miss Gwendolyn Biddle, Dr. Miles W. Connor, Mrs. Lilla M. Barnum, Mrs. Esther C. Bailey, Miss Daisy B. King, the Rev. Oliver St. Clair Franklin, Miss Louise Anderson, Dr Donald G. Brandon, Joseph M. Jenkins, Miss Elizabeth J. Johnson, Roy S. Bond, Major Willard C. Stewart, Miss Maizie Barbour, Mrs. Gwendolyn Brooks, Ernest Gambrill, Miss Ethel E. Wise, U. Theodore Hayes, Mrs. Thelma Ashe, Miss Ann Calhoun, Mrs. Edith R. Smith and the Rev. W. Lyndsai Pitts Sr.

The next meeting will be held on Friday, January 7th, 1955. The Social Workers who are graduates of Howard University will be the host group.

CUTEST PARTY of the week was the "Sadie Hawkins" dance held by the Ivy Leaf Club of Alpha Delta chapter, AKA, in Morgan College Refectory, Friday night.

The Refectory went strictly "Dog Patch" in decor . . with wishing well and all; and the guests "hill billy" in costume. The co-eds called for their dates, presented them with fruit and vegetable corsages, took them to the Refectory for dancing and refreshments.

Recently elected officers of the club are Helen Lee, president; Carrie Turner, vice president; Dolores Additon, secretary; Sylvia Ward, corresponding secretary; Doris Ware, treasurer; Norvice Goodwin, reporter and Joy Ann Brown, parliamentarian.

MEMBERS OF Delta Lambda chapter, Alpha Phi Alpha completed plans Monday night for a testimonial banquet honoring Senator-elect Harry A. Cole.

The banquet to be held January 19 at the YWCA will also be the occasion for installation of new officers of the chapter.

Robert Watts, who is the law partner of Senator Cole, will serve as toastmaster. Senator Cole will be the principal speaker.

Miss Gloria Hooper Weds Baltimore social worker

NEW YORK — Miss Gloria Evangeline Hooper, daughter of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Hooper of the Bronx, became the bride of Robert E. Rasberry on Saturday, in a small, informal ceremony.

The bride who is a graduate of Hunter College of the City of New York, recently returned from a year of teaching and study in France, under a Fulbright Travel Grant and a French Government Assistantship, and in Spain under a Spanish Government scholarship.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rasberry of New York City, is a senior at Morgan State College, Baltimore, and a social case worker on the staff of the Big Brothers of Baltimore.

Her French illusion veil covered a matching cap of satin and lace. Her bouquet was made of white pom-pons bordered by stephanotis. The matron of honor, sister of the bride, Mrs. Lillian Hill and the maid of honor, Lois Gregory, wore identical ballerina-length gowns of blue-irridescent taffeta with multi-colored embroidered fleurs-de-lis.
