CLIFTON WHITE

Point Hospital in May of this year.

The former soldier had been a patient at the hospital for several months, according to his sister, Mrs. Annie Broadway, with whom Mr. White made his home at the Roundview Rd. address.

THE OFFICIAL report of the man's death said that Officers Elmer Carnes and Charles Faulkner of the Southwestern district found him lying on the sidewalk in the 200 block of N. Pine St., at 2:15 p.m. on Tuesday, and that he appeared to be under the influence of alcohol.

A patrol wagon manned by Officers Benjamin Laddon and Gabriel Douherty was summoned and Mr. White was taken to the Southwestern District where at 3:05 p.m. he was booked on an intoxication charge by Sgt. George Schumann.

The sergeant reported that Mr. White answered all the questions required for an arrest record and was taken to Cell No. 1, to await a hearing at 4 p.m.

Police reported that they later decided that Mr. White was too intoxicated to have a hearing at that time and he was ordered held for the 8 a.m. court, on Wednesday.

TURNKEY Walter Haiderman reported that he inspected the cell block at 4:55 p.m., and was unable to awaken Mr. White. The was was taken to Franklin Square Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Mrs. Broadway, White's sister, said that her brother had suffered several seizures in the past and that he might have been suffering one of these attacks when police found him.

"The last ttime I saw my brother was Tuesday morning at 10:30 when he said he was going to the Lexington Market to keep an appointment in reference to a job. When he left the house, I know that he had not been drinking."

MRS. BROADWAY said her brother entered Perry Point after he had been discharged from the Army in 1951. He had been reecalled to service as a reservist, she said.

Between the time of his second discharge and his entrance into the hospital, Mrs. Broadway said her brother had worked as a construction worker and for the city at Lafayette Market.

Mrs. Broadway said her brother had not been feeling well for sometime and had been troubled with high blood pressure.

In addition to his sister, White is survived by his mother, Mrs. Anne Allen; father, Frederick White; two brothers, Frederick Jr. and Walter; and another sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Williams.

a policy of no discrimination at all," he said. "That has always been our stand."

HE SAID that Dr. Grannum happened to be a member of a special group of guests, but that the hotel policy would extend also to individual guests.

Mr. Reynolds said that the Sheraton is affiliated with the Hotel Association of Baltimore City but "we are not bound by the stand taken by the association." The association policy is against mixed patronage of the hotels.

Reports have been persistent in Baltimore for several weeks that a change in this policy is imminent. However, Harry Gilbert, secretary of the Hotel Association, told the AFRO two weeks ago and again on Wednesday that the matter has been discussed, but no change has been made.

"We'd like to settle it ourselves, but I don't think things have jelled enough around Baltimore yet," he said.

ADVISED OF the Sheraton - Belvedere's acceptance of colored guests, he said. "They are governed by management outside of Baltimore which takes a broader view of this whole situation than our local people who are governed by the local situation."

Since April, Governor McKeldin and members of the Governor's Commission on Race Relations have been seeking to get local hotels to accept all guests.

to make change. No one knew about the hiding place but the three of us.

"There was a second hiding place in the vanity but he overlooked that. He also knew that I was out of town. No one else knew that.

"The day my wife was killed this fellow did a number of things that he had never done before. I believe he did them to find out if anyone was at home.

"First, he sent someone to the house for a radio, then for $50. Fact is, he sent someone around more than usual.

"After police seized him for questioning I had a talk with him at Central police station and there was no expression of sorrow in his face.

"While talking with him I was overcome with grief and had to leave."

THE BODY of Mrs. Williams was found by 8-year-old Pamela Hazel, who lives in the second floor apartment of the Williams home.

It was estimated that the matron had been dead about six hours when her her body was found around 3:15 p.m. on Dec. 1. The medical examiner's report stated that Mrs. Williams died from two stab wounds in the back and one in the chest.

WHEN THE body was discovered, the absence of any signs of a struggle in the home left police with the impression that the killer was known to her.

Police surmised that Mrs. Williams' assailant followed her through a hallway into the dining room and kitchen where she was struck with a sharp instrument.

Following the stabbing it is believed the killer went into a third-floor bedroom and took $250 from an envelope and $60 from a small box.

MRS. WILLIAMS was alone in the house at the time. Her husband was away on a trip to Lynchburg, Va., with the Rev. Dennis Barrow, pastor of Fountain Baptist where Rev. Williams is assistant pastor.

Two men were taken into custody immediately following the slaying but were released. The third person was given his release on Monday.

Approximately 3,000 persons attended funeral services for Mrs. Williams Sunday noon at Fountain Baptist Church.

During the services, police officers who have been working on the case looked over the audience. They remained at the church about an hour.

Recheck in fourth week

The recheck of voters' cards in the Fourth District is entering the fourth week and it appears that the Melnicove forces are getting weary, an informant told the AFRO this week.

Bernard Melnicove, who lost the Fourth District state senate seat to Harry A. Cole by only 37 votes, Nov. 2, could not explain why his co-workers failed to show up at the Supervisors of Elections Office Wednesday or Thursday to continue the examination.

Nor could he give reason for his workers not conducting the recheck until late in the afternoon on Monday and Tuesday.

CRESTON L. WOINGUST, coworker for Mr. Cole, has been on the scene every day but no one from either side made an appearance Thursday.

When asked if he had completed his investigation, Mr. Melnicove replied, "Good Lord, no."

Mr. Melnicove is conducting the recheck in an effort to wrest the election from Mr. Cole. He told the AFRO, Wednesday, however, that he has been "too busy in his office" to look in on the operation this week.

LAST WEEK, he called in a handwriting expert, Arthur P. Myers, to examine the signatures of 10 voters in the 23rd precinct of the 15th Ward.

Mr. Myers reported that these signatures were made by the same person, indicating that there were "ghost" voters in the area.

Other precincts which have been examined are: 6th precinct, 14th ward (where Mr. Cole picked up 100 votes in the official canvass), 30th precinct, 15th Ward and 35th precinct, 15th and 35th precinct, 15th Ward.

In the recheck, co-workers of Mr. Melnicove and Mr. Cole are comparing signatures of the voters authority cards with those of the registration cards.

Callaman second to file for council

With the filing of Melvin A. Callaman, realtist, two persons are now scheduled to run for the City Council in the primary election, March 1.

Mr. Callaman, 37, 1533 Appleton St., filed his candidacy, Wednesday, a week after Josiah F. Henry Jr. attorney, filed. Both men will run on the Democratic ticket in the Fourth District.

This is the same area which elected Maryland's first colored state senator and two colored representatives to the General Assembly, Nov. 2.

AT PRESENT it appears that the Fourth District will be wide open for new representatives in the council. One of the incumbents, Jacob Edelman, has moved to the Fifth District.

Another, Leon Abramson may seek office as president of the City Council and it has been reported that Maxwell Alpert, the third representative, will not seek another term if his running mates are not with him.

This is the first time that Mr. Callaman has run for public office though he has been affiliated with the Democratic organization in the Fourth District.

His gradnfather-in-law, the late J. Marcus Cargill, served as City Councilman over 20 years ago.

The father of two sons, Melvin Jr., 12 and Anthony, 5, Mr. Callaman is a native of Hagerstown and was graduated from Morgan State College in 1938.

His wife, Mrs. Murial Callaman is a teacher at Douglass High School.

assault and disorderly conduct and sentenced him to terms of 30 days on each count. The other boys were turned over to juvenile authorities.

In imposing sentence, the magistrate lived up to prior promise that he intended to impose heavy punishment on any person convicted of creating a distrubance in or near a school building.

Magistrate Lane based his promise on the fact that there have been a growing number of complaints from teachers, parents and pupils, that gangs of teen age boys congregate near school buildings to annoy, molest, threaten and rob young pupils.

ONE OF the major scenes of trouble has been the Booker T. Washington School, where school officials, notably Harold A. Seaborne, vice principal, have made a determined effort to destroy the teen age gangs.

On at least three occasions since the start of school in September, Mr. Seaborne has appeared in Northwestern Police Court to press charges against youths who have been arrested on charges of acting disorderly in or near the school.

In all instances, the youths were not pupils at the school.

To combat the problem, high school authorities have stationed teachers outside of the school to make sure that no groups congregate near the building and police have been asked to keep a tight check on the area.

THE SAME situation is also present at Douglas High School, Gwynns Falls Parkway and Pulaski St. and at School No. 181, at Carey and Baker Sts., where arrests have also been made this school term.

The youths who plague officials at Booker T. and No. 181 range in age from 12 to 15, while those at Douglass are older and confine the bulk of their activities to merely making a nusiance of themselves to teachers, pupils and residents in the area, whom they do not hesitate to curse if they are asked to move from the area.

One of the drawbacks in action against these youths is their almost uncanny ability to sense the nearness of police officers and to vanish before the officers can go into action.

THE YOUNGER element also derive part of their boldness from their knowledge that as long as they are under 16, they can not be tried in a criminal court, and if they are sent to juvenile court, they stand an excellent chance of escaping with only probation.

In this latest reported disturbance at a northwestern area school, the principal figure, Primus, is a boy whom his teachers classify as a "problem." standing five feet, eight inches, Primus looks older than 16.

He was formerly a pupil at Booker T. Washington where he had a long string of failures. He spent two terms in the 6B, three terms in the 6A and one year in the 7B.

He was finally moved to the vocational school in November of last year, where he kept his record constant by flunking the first semester. He passed the next semester, but his record since September has been one of failure. He was a pupil in the automotive and mechanical assembly course.

IN CONRAST to the record of Primus, is that of the victim in the Tuesday assault case, Winston Byrd. Teachers at the high school said that Byrd is one of the "better pupils."

"He is always in school on time and is always polite and attentive," said Mr. Seaborne, Vice principal.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Winston Byrd Sr., a member of Boy Scout Troop No. 278, and the Shiloh Baptist Church.

In the Tuesday hearing, Primus admitted "pushing" the smaller boy and explained he had gone to the school to deliver a message to his "girl friend."

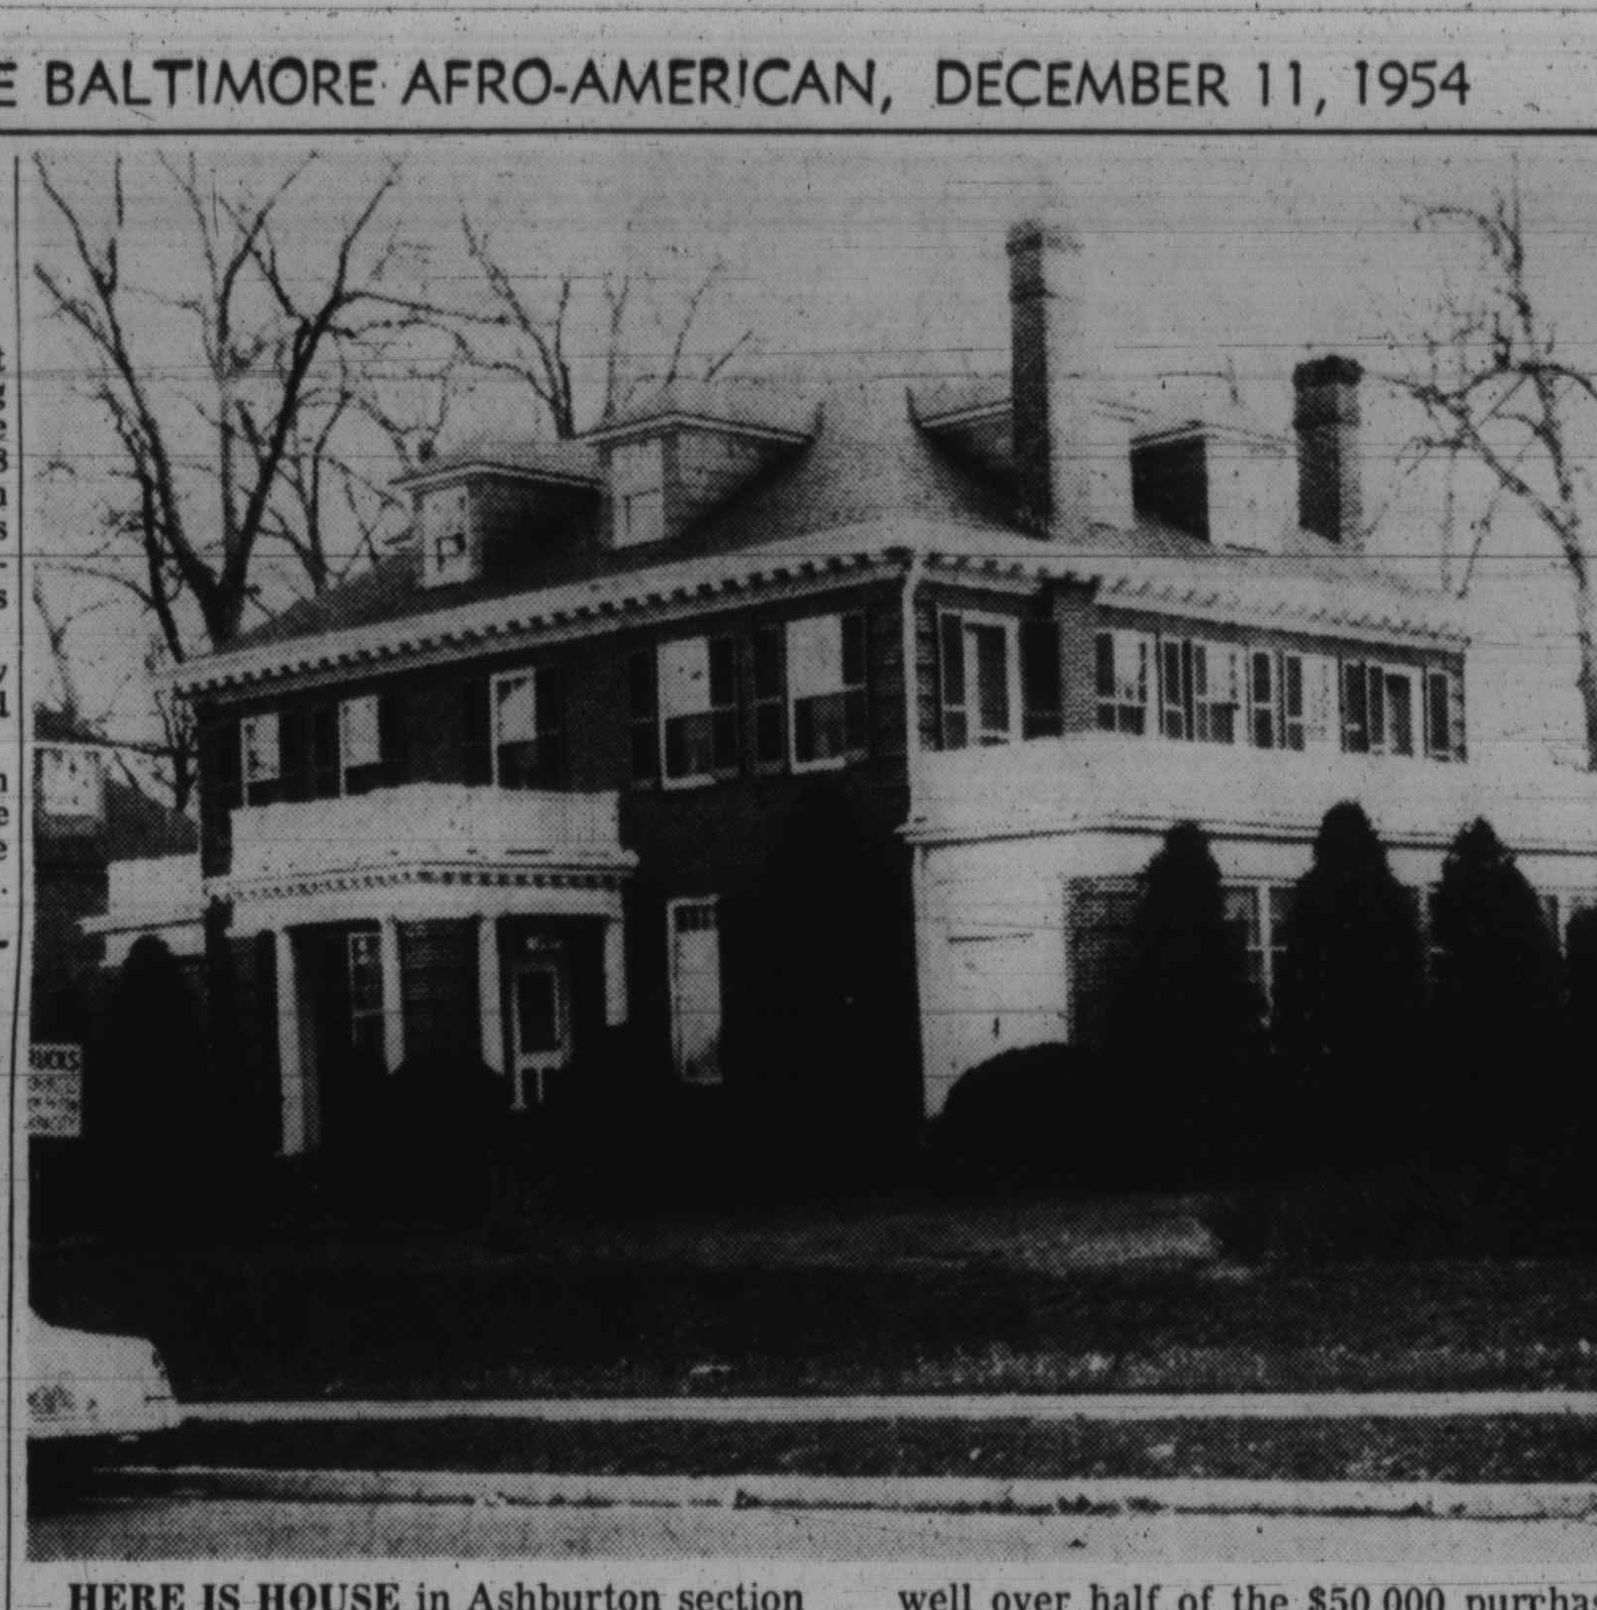
Mrs. Niles speaks to Ashburton group

Mrs. Cushing Niles, assistant director of the Citizens Planning and Housing Association, will be guest speaker on Tuesday at 8 p.m., when the New Ashburton Improvement Association stages a meeting at the Walbrook Memorial Church, Gwynns Falls Pkwy and Longwood St.

Mrs. Niles will speak on "How To Keep Your Neighborhood From Becoming A Slum."

A "register to vote" campaign will also be launched under the Political Action Committee of the organization, headed by Mrs. Victorine Adams.



HERE IS HOUSE in Ashburton section of Northwest Baltimore a prominent physician and his wife seek to buy but have been unable to complete transaction although they have put up well over half of the $50,000 purchase price. Lending institutions have refused to take a mortgage on the small unpaid balance.

—Ashburton House

that they will "start a run" (withdraw funds) on these institutions if the physician's mortgage application is approved.

The house in question is at 3427 Powhatan Ave., corner of Hilton and is presently occupied by Charles Rosenbaum, hed of a venetian blind firm.

IT IS RELIABLY reported that the doctor has offered to put up well over half of the purchasing price and is seeking to get a lending institution to take the mortgage on the unpaid balance.

Edward F. Shipley Jr., the real estate broker who is handling the transaction, stated that the first loan association approached was "tickled to death" with the opportunity and wanted to know: "Do you have any more colored couples who want to make this kind of a deal?"

A check of the doctor's financial standing and credit rating was completed without a hitch and it appeared that the settlement was cut and dried.

Then somebody—with some big money—lowered the boom!

Apparently the whispering campaign reached the building and loan association and they begged off, telling the broker that "never in the history of our organization has so much pressure been applied to us."

Moving swiftly to close the deal before the better not lend money or we will break you—campaign got around in financial circles, the broker applied at other institutions.

ONE ASSOCIATION flatly refused to accept the application.

Another took it, found everything in order and loan committee was in session—last step in giving the final okey—when they received the "hands off" signal.

The broker was told to go into the neighborhood, secure signatures of residents stating that they did not object to the property being sold to a colored person and then return and apply for the loan.

After getting the cold shouler from enough institutions to indicate that the world was now around, the broker turned elsewhere to secure the money.

There are however, several colored insurance companies that lend money.

The broker tried one, said he didn't get farther than the reception desk. The head of this company is known to be very close to downtown financial circles.

ALTHOUGH the doctor could possibly fork up enough money to pay for the deal in cash, the question is should lending institutions supported by members of all races, refuse to accept a mortgage to foster a cause condemned by the Supreme Court.

If they are allowed to succeed, this means that colored families will once again be restricted to limited neighborhoods with houses in certain price brackets.

This seems to be a test case!

Death tip is winner

The first person to notify the AFRO of the sudden death of Mrs. Roberta Henderson Norris, school principal, is this week's top $5 winner in the AFRO's Newstip contest.

A second prize of $3 is awarded to the person who alerted the AFRO to the fact that a colored guest was staying at the Sheraton Belvedere Hotel.

A third prize of $2 goes to the tipster who called about a man dying in a police cell.

OTHER AWARDS of $1 each will be sent out to the persons who called in the following tips:

Auto smashes into laundry and funeral home, two cars crash at Baker and Poplar Grove Sts., fire in 1600 block Ruxton Ave., taxi and car collide at Lombard and Eden Sts., fire in 1200 block Park Ave. and the robbery of a grocery store at Mosher St. and Wheeler Ave.

The AFRO has a total of $25 available each week to pay out to alert persons who see something happen and rush to call the AFRO about it.

Simply call MUlberry 5-6015 and ask for the City Desk. Tell the person who answers:

"I've got a newstip!"

Youth 19, gets 10 years

Fletcher Carpenter, 19, was sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary, Wednday, for the fatal stabbing of Clarence Chalk, 31, Sept. 6.

The sentence was pronounced by Judge Ralph J. Warnken, of Youth Court, after a jury had found the boy guiilty of manslaughter.

Carpenter, who lives in the 700 block E. Preston St., told the police that the stabbing resulted from an argument he had with the victim's mother, Mrs. Viola Chalk of the 800 block E. Preston St.

MRS. CHALK reportedly called him a "no good tramp" in front of his friends and he allegedly cursed at her, the statement read.

Later that night, after he retired to bed, Clarence Chalk sent for him to meet him outside.

In his statement to police, Carpenter said:

"I met him on the corner. I saw a switch blade sticking part way out of his pocket. He took it out and I took my knife out and stabbed him."

According to medical reports, Chalk suffered stab wounds of the stomach.
