lities to secure their constitutional rights as Americans."

REFERRING TO THE brief filed with the United States Supreme Court two weeks ago, the NAACP official added:

"It would paradoxical if it were dediced for the first time that constitutional rights may be postponed because of anticipation of difficulties arising out of local feelings."

Wilkins declared that the schools cases were brought to vindicate rights which, as a matter of common knowledge and legal experience, need above all others protection against local attitudes and patterns of behavior.

THE OPENING SESSION of the conference was highlighted by reports on the resistance to ending of school segregation in White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.; Milford, Del.; Baltimore, Md., and Washington, D.C.

The reports were submitted by Willard Brown on White Sulphur Springs; John W. Flamer, Milford; Bowen Jackson, Baltimore; Dr. Margaret J. Butcher and Eugene Davidson, Washington.

The "incidents" were analyzed by Dr. Kenneth B. Clark, associate professor of psychology, City College, NYC.

DR. CLARK made the following recommendations:

1. NAACP branches cannot afford to compromise on the issue of desegregation of schools.
2. The organization must emphasize its role of advocate of law and order.
3. In communities where threats are made against advocates of desegregation, it is imperative that the program be carried out at any cost.
4. The NAACP must align itself with the respectable elements of communities.
5. Exploit the weaknesses of the opposition.
6. Give status and public acclaim to all organizations and individuals who support the cause of desegregation.
7. Make realistic appraisal of all factors on both sides of the issue.

Speakers at the morning session on Saturday were:

Joseph V. Baker, Philadelphia and Henry L. Moon, NYC; subject, "Use of public relations media to mold public opinion."

C. Anderson Davis and John L. Tilley, "Role of the church and religious groups."

Maurice Fagan, executive director, Philadelphia Fellowship Commission, "Role of civic and similar organizations."

Herbert Hill, "Role of organized labor."

At Saturday afternoon's session ways and means of working with school boards to implement integration was discussed.

Speakers included Robert L. Carter, NAACP special counsel; Spottswood Robinson 3rd, NAACP attorney for Virginia;

Dr. Butcher, member of the D.C. school board and Wagner D. Jackson, president, Wilmington, Del., NAACP.

We held out as long as we could!

An open letter from the Automatic Phonograph operators of Baltimore, explaining the increase in price per play.

In 1927 the first modern Automatic Phonograph mechanism was presented to the world. Since then it has become as much a part of the American way of life as hot dogs and baseball. Through the '40's it became associated with the nickel to the extent that in many cases in was called the Nickelodeon.

The Music Operators have always wanted to leave it that way. However since the end of World War 2, we have been fighting a losing battle. The cost of equipment has risen 200%. Other accessories have risen in cost up to 300%; salaries, wages, etc., are up 150%.

Because of this, coupled with the general living cost increases, the Music Operators of Baltimore are being forced to convert all the machines in this area to 10¢, 3 for 25¢ play.

We would also like to mention that Baltimore is one of the last major cities to make this transition, which is absolutely necessary in order that we might offer you, the public, the kind of service that you are entitled to.

We respectfully request your understanding in this matter.

Sugar Ray Robinson suspended in Mich.

DETROIT—Sugar Ray Robinson, former world's welterweight and middleweight boxing champion, this week, was suspended by the Michigan Board of Athletic Control, and may face difficulty in his projected comeback attempt.

The suspension, which also applied to Sugar Ray's manager, George Gainsford, was made, the Michigan board announced, because Robinson refused to go through with a Dec. 8 fight here.

WILLIAM MATNEY, secretary of the Michigan commission, said the suspension would hold in all National Boxing Association states. He added that Michigan has a working agreement with Massachusetts, which will also honor the suspension.

At the same time, the Michigan group asked the New York State Athletic Commission to go along with the suspension.

The Michigan board acted, Matney announced, after Nick Londes disclosed a telegram signed by Gainsford two weeks ago and giving approval to the Detroit fight date. Robinson said he had not signed.

ROBINSON, WHO fought a six-round exhibition at Hamilton, Ontario Monday night, said he had discussed a Dec. 8 fight against Joe Rindone of Boston but had not signed.

Londes contends the telegram was approval for the bout.

As I See It

By AL SWEENEY

WASHINGTON

My favorite football coach comes to town on Sunday with my favorite football team.

That means that it is Paul Brown and the Cleveland Browns.

Paul Brown is the Branch Rickey of professional football. Until he came on the scene, pro football was closed to persons of color.

THOSE OF US, who recall his coaching days at Massillon High School in Ohio and later at Ohio State University, know that Coach Brown has been consistent in his determination to play the best person regardless of color.

Everytime I see Lenny Ford, a product of D.C.'s Armstrong incidentally, rack up an opposing back, I think of the remark that George P. Marshall, owner of the Washington Redskins, once made.

Marshall once hinted that football was too rough for colored boys, because the white boys would gang up on them.

SPEAKING OF another subject, that is quite a production that Lt. Lawrence Oxley and the Pigskinners are pulling next week.

The club is flying in stars from all over the country and giving out awards by the boatloads. It should be a tremendous affair that has been a sellout for months.

Two football games scheduled Sunday

Two football games have been scheduled by the Bureau of Recreation for Sunday.

At 12 p.m. the New Era Yanks will play the Astor Pleasure Club at Easterwood Park. The Cherry Hill Ramblers will meet the B and O Packers at 2:30 p.m. in Cherry Hill.

Teams comprising the Monumental Senior and Cherry Hill Midget Leagues are in the following postions.

TEAM	W	L	Pt
Monumental Senior
Triangle A.C.	3	1	6
New Era Yanks	2	1	4
B and O Packers	2	1	4

Green Wave battles Techmen to 6-6 tie

WASHINGTON

The last City Series Championship will rest among two squads, the Armstrong Techmen and the Spingarn Green Wave, after one of the hardest fought seasons in former Division 2 gridiron history.

The two-way climax to the gruelling season came Monday afternoon at Brooks stadium where approximately 4,000 anxious young fan saw the two league-leading rivals clash head on in the play-off title battle.

Neither side gave in—and the game ended in a 6-6 tie.

AFTER THE contest, Assistant Athletic Director Wendall Parris said both schools would have to reign as co-champions and share the glory for the last City Series crown.

Plans to use the "penetration system" to determine the winner in the game were dropped and regulations provide that all regular play must end by Dec. 1, Mr. Parris said.

The charged-up Green Wave, fighting to prove its disputed football superiority, drew first blood in the struggle when hard-running Bill Mayo ripped off tackle for 40 yards and a first quarter TD.

THE SIX FEET one inch Mayo paced the Spingarn attack all afternoon, gaining 146 yards in rushing in addition to the running of teammates, George "Noochie" Green and George "Carlos" Williams.

Armstrong, which was halted by the rugged play of Olin Robinson, Jesse Saunders and Anthony Washington and the inability of Willie Woods to get off any good passes, finally began clicking on the favorite combination of Woods to Lowell Wheeler.

After a series of pitchouts to Wheeler and fake handoffs to substitute back, Leonard Mills, the Armstrong attack finally began rolling on a 25 yard pass to end Bernard Dory.

SUCCESSIVE pitchouts and a quarterback sneak finally set up the tying marker in the third quarter when the driving Wheeler scored from two yards out.

But an attempt to turn the half-back's above average efforts to super-human still failed when Wheeler was stopped on the goal line in the conversion play.

The Green Wave rallied and headed for the goal and possible victory in the last four minutes of the game as Mayo ripped off successive 16-and 24-yards runs.

A 35-YARD touchdown spring by halfback Green during the tense final minutes was called back by referee Dick Temple because of an offsides penalty against the Green Wave.

A kick to the Techman set the stage for a possible final Tech drive but Woods chose to try three passes downfield as the clock ran out.

They were all incomplete and the quarterback was forced to kick. The game ended with Spingarn driving toward the goal once again on the runs of Mayo and Williams.

Although the teams will be co-champions, Spingarn beat Armstrong earlier this year, 12-0. Both schools have a record of two wins, one loss and two ties in league play.

Recreation Notes

Eastside Recreation

Seventh annual basketball clinic set for three days

The Seventh Annual City-Wide Basketball Clinic, sponsored by the Bureau of Recreation, Druid Hill YMCA, and the Baltimore Board of Officials, will be held on Dec. 7, 8, and 9.

The Clinic will have sessions at three different centers. Instruction is arranged so that beginning and advanced players, coaches, officials, and managers can get a wealth of material and practical help.

Coaches Jim O'Connor of the University of Baltimore, William "Sugar" Cain of Dunbar High School, and Lloyd "Sodie" White of Carver Vocational are highlighting this year's clinic.

THE BALTIMORE Board of Officials, with Joseph Wiles as chairman, will head up one hour sessions each of the three nights. A film on the "Fundamentals of Basketball" will be shown each night.

The Clinic opens on December 7, at Dunbar High School at 7:30 p.m. Coach William Cain and his Dunbar High School Varsity will move to Lexington Street Recreation Center where Coach Lloyd White and his Carver Vocatiaonal Varsity will handle a session on fundamentals.

Coach Jim O'Connor of the University of Baltimore will handle a third session of fundamentals on Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the Druid Hill YMCA.

Several practice games involving some of the top amateur teams will be held each night in connection with the demonstrations.

Schedules are available at the Druid Hill YMCA and the Bureau of Recreation Centers. Players, managers, and coaches of school and club teams are urgd to attend the free clinic.
