Eagles--Aggies' tilt tops CIAA Thanksgiving card

DURHAM, N.C. — The annual Carolina Classic featuring a football game between A. and T. College and North Carolina College in Durham on Thanksgiving Day is the top game in the Day gridiron menu.

There are four other clashes scheduled including the historic Howard - Lincoln classic in Washington, D.C.

Other loop contests find the Virginia Union Panthers playing the Hampton Pirates at Hampton; Morgan State College's Bears at Virginia State in Petersburg; and an intersectional non - conference game with Bluefield State College playing Tennessee State A. and I. at Nashville.

—o O. O.—

UNOFFICIAL computers of statistics for the CIAA are already booming for the championship "IF" the Eagles lick the Aggies.

On the eve of their clash with the Aggies, NCC's unofficial Dickinson rating is 25.50. If the Virginia Trojans win from Morgan State College on Nov. 25, the Trojans with a record then of seven wins, one loss an no ties would close season play with a Dickinson rating of 25.06.

Maryland State College whose gridders closed play on Nov. 13 with a 27-13 win over Union, now boasts a permanent Dickinson of 24.16 for the year.

Of the three leading contenders for the 1954 CIAA grid race, NCC, Virginia State and Maryland, the Eagles and the Trojans must win both remaining games with the Eagles enjoying a possible .50 per cent chance of winning the crown.

—o O o—

IF VIRGINIA STATE loses to Morgan, the Trojans' rating of a possible 25.00 with a victory, would drop to 23.75 and a loss by NCC to A. and T. would dump the highflying Eagles down to a lowly 22.08.

In other words, NCC has more to lose by a loss to A. and T. than Virginia State has by a loss to Morgan.

If the Eagles lose, they drop to third place behind Virginia State, the possible champ, with a possible final rating of 25.00 and Maryland State, whose fortunes already stand fixed with a probable 24.16.

Thus Thanksgiving Day a n d the fortunes of the CIAA's big guns, NCC, Virginia State's Trojans, A. and T. and Morgan, hold the key to the 1954 CIAA flag race. It will be a photo finish.

Fritz Pollard sees new things; meets old pals

By FRITZ POLLARD

NEW YORK — I trust it will not seem immodest if I reminisce a little about my return to my old Alma Mater, Brown University to receive a citation last week.

I hadn't been back there to roam the campus since 1933 when my son entered school. I found everything new. The football field where I played is gone, and the University now boasts a new stadium, named in honor of the late Dr. Fred Marvel, who used to be athletic director.

I went to take a look at my old room — number 40 in Hope College Hall. I hardly knew the place. Modern electric fixtures and plumbing had completely changed it. My old chemistry professor, Sam Arnold, who is now the Provost, took me to visit the old Chemistry lab and then to see the new one. What a difference time has made!

BUT THERE is one thing that hasn't changed much, and that is the old school spirit. Twenty-five of my old teammates attended the reunion, most of them, I hadn't seen in 39 years.

There was Tom Conroy, who is secretary of the Cincinnati Reds and vice president of the Cincinnati Continental Commercial Trust Bank; Jimmy Jemail, who is now the inquiring photographer on the New York Daily News; Ted Ballou president of the Ballou, Jewelry Company; Andy Hillhouse, vice president of the A-P Stores.

My old friends Franz (Jazz) Byrd and Dr. Silas (Shag) Taylor were on hand, too, and it was mighty nice to see them.

Sandy Saddler visits old Army friends in Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany — Dropping in "just to see the fellows again," world's Featherweight Champion Sandy Saddler returned to his old outfit, the first Infantry Division in Wuerzburg, Germany (Bavaria), fresh from his six-round knockout of Ray Famechon in Paris recently.

Looking lean, trim and none the worse for his slashing fight with Famachon, the relaxed, smiling champ toured division headquarters at Emery Barracks, revisiting familiar haunts and greeting old buddies.

Miles has perfect record

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — The "Golden Bears" of Miles College recently racked up their ninth straight victory in Alumni Bowl, here, by downing the Tigers of Mississippi Industrial College 35-0. The "Bears" have two games left to play in their bid to remain one of the nations unbeaten and untied elevens.

In their latest victory over the Mississippi aggrecation, the "Bears," coached by a three-way combination of Knox, Pettus and Catlin, employed the same ground-gaining, rushing attack and sharp aerial onslaught that gave them their five previous victories.

The five earlier victories were over Mississippi Vocational College, 26-19; Albany State College, 17-12; Rust College, 54-6; Knoxville College, 34-7; and Lane College, 19-14.

Jimmy Carter regains title for third time

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif.—The ship crown again rests on the head of Jimmy Carter for the world's lightweight championship third time in three years.

The 31-year-old South Ozone, Long Island battler regained the title in a nationally televised bout here Wednesday night by scoring a technical knockout over Paddy DeMarco in 14 seconds of the 15th round.

Carter, punching steadily and confidentially, twice floored DeMarco and had the Brooklyn, N.Y. champion helpless and badly beaten when Referee Ray Flores stopped the bout.

—o O o—

CARTER, beaming with smiles, was delighted with the victory. "I knew I could beat him. He is a tough fighter and hard to put on the floor.

On the other hand, DeMarco, defending the title for the first time since he won it from Carter last March 3, was extremely bitter over the defeat. Paddy, nursing a swollen eye and face lacerations, blamed the referee for his setback.

"The referee pushed me around all night. He had me off balance and he wouldn't let me fight inside," DeMarco screamed in his dressing room.

—o O o—

CARTER, a 13-1 favorite, fought on even terms with DeMarco in the opening round. The champion held a slight edge in the next three, as he repeatedly beat Bloomy to the punch but the new champion warmed up to the task slowly then took charge midway the scrap.

By the eighth the two had the 6,000 fans in San Francisco's Cow Palace roaring with enthusiasm as they slugged it out.

During a savage exchange of punches in the ninth, Carter caught DeMarco with a terrific left hook, sending the champion down for a count of four.

Fighting with calculating aim and confidence, Carter tried to land another solid punch but DeMarco weathered the storm and came back strongly in the tenth. He showed he was far from through by opening a slight cut DeMarco with left hooks to the face and body.

By the seventeenth; Jimmy had Paddy in a bad way. This time Carter landed a punishing right to the jaw which floored DeMarco just before the bell sounded.

Paddy's seconds had to drag him to the corner. They worked over him feverishly and sent him out for the final round, but he was a standing target for Jimmy who was trying desperately for a knockout.

Carter rained blows to the body and the head and forced DeMarco to the ropes where he wavered and was unable to protect himself.

The referee stepped between the two battlers when he saw that it was senseless to let the scrap continue, and raised Jimmy's hand in a token of victory.

—o O o—

BY THE TRIUMPH Jimmy Carter regained the world's lightweight championship for the third time in three years, and demonstrated again that he is always better in return matches with fighters who have gained verdicts over him.

All three of the officials had Carter well in front in the scoring. Referee Flores card favored Carter, 82½ to DeMarco's 71½.

Judge Jack Silver scored it Carter 85 to DeMarco's 68½, and Judge Frank Brown's tally was Carter, 82; DeMarco, 72.

—o O o—

CARTER FIRST won the lightweight title by defeating Ike Williams in 1951. He lost it to Lauro Salas by decision, May 14, 1952, then came back on Oct. 15 to regain it from Salas. Then Jimmy lost the crown again to DeMarco last March.

Wenesday's title fight had over Carter's eye in the tenth.

PADDY'S own left eye, injured in the second round, was swelling fast and a target for Jimmy who constantly peppered twice been postponed. The two were scheduled to fight in June but the bout was called off when DeMarco suffered an attack of virus infection.

It was rescheduled for September but again delayed because DeMarco had a calcium deposit in his elbow.

Carter weighed 135, DeMarco, 134½.

Gridiron highlights

CHICAGO (ANP) — Lenny Moore, runner for Penn State, had the best day of his gridiron career Saturday as he gained 171 yards and scored two touchdowns to lead the Nittany Lions to a 37-14 triumph over Rutgers before 15,200 at State College, Pa.

The junior halfback from Reading, Pa., making a determined bid for All-American honors, scored his 12th and 13th touchdowns of the season, one on a 54-yard breakaway sprint down the sidelines for the game's final tally. That score, incidentally, tied a scoring record for Penn State established by three former Nittany Lion stars.

His total yardage for the game brought him within 17 yards of the total offense record at Penn State, set in 1912 by E. E. (Short) Miller, whose marking for rushing in a single season was exceeded the previous week by Moore.

—o O o—

ANOTHER BRILLIANT performance offensively was turned in by Dick Jackson, Cornell's halfback, who scored two of his team's six touchdowns as the Big Red squelched Dartmouth, 40-21, with a crowd of 18,000 looking on at Ithaca, N.Y.

Jackson grabbed the opening kickoff and in a dazzling run of 78 yards set up the first touchdown for himself. He punched over from the two-yard stripe seconds later. In the third period, he intercepted a pass and a few plays later scored 55 yards for another score.

All told, the junior from Athens, Pa., also had the best day of his career, rolling up a total of 235 yards offensively, including 116 yards net from rushing, 22 yards on pass interception returns and another 101 yards on kickoff runbacks.

—o O o—

STILL IN THE EAST, Jimmy Brown, the sophomore halfback from Manhasset, L.I., registered a pair of touchdowns as Syracuse upset Colgate, 37-12 before a gathering of 37,000 in Syracuse. Brown sent the Orange ahead to stay with a 41-yard run in the fourth period, with the score then tied at 12-12. Earlier, Brown, who gained 101 yards in the afternoon, dashed 17 yards for a tally.

Bobby Watkins, All-American halfback candidate from Ohio State, romped 30 yards for the Buckeyes' first touchdown in a contest at Lafayette, Ind. Ohio State went on to win from Purdue, 28-6 to clinch at least a tie for the Big Ten championship.

Despite a gallant try by injured J. C. Caroline and Abe Woodson, halfbacks, Illinois went down to another defeat, 27-14, at the hands of Wisconsin before a capacity crowd of 71,119 at Champaign. Woodson and Caroline both hammered across second period touchdowns to give the Illini a 14-7 halftime lead.

—o O o—

MILT CAMPBELL snatched a 13-yard final period pass for a touchdown as Indiana won over Northwestern at Evanston for its second Big Ten win in the year. Roy Bolden, Michigan State's co-captain, scored the Spartans only touchdown as Michigan won 33-7 over the boys from Lansing before 97,239 spectators, the season's largest crowd, at Ann Arbor.

A clipping penalty nullified a 81-yard punt return for the apparent winning touchdown by Iowa's brilliant halfback, Earl Smith, and Minnesota later scored a safety to defeat the Hawkeyes, 22-20, before 65,429, second largest crowd in Gopher history at Minneapolis.

Earlier, Smith had scored one touchdown, and his sidekick, Halfback Eddie Vincent another, both from the one-yard line, to keep the Hawkeyes in the game.

Willie Greenlaw passed brilliantly on a 57-yard scoring play for Nebraska's only touchdown as the Cornhuskers fell before the University of Pittsburgh, 20-7, as 40,000 watched at Lincoln, Neb.
