Miss Irma Rawlings becomes bride of Burnett E. Givens

—o—o—

Miss Irma Elaine Rawlings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Rawlings, became the bride of Burnett Edward Givens, Saturday.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Jennie M. Givens and George E. Givens, both of this city.

The ceremony, which took place in Metropolitan Methodist Church, at three in the afternoon, was performed by the Rev. Kelly Jackson. Mrs. Evelyn Johnson was at the console.

—o—o—

GIVEN IN MARRIAGE by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of ivory colored Chantilly lace, the same having been the wedding gown of her sister, Mrs. Lawrence Logan as were the finger tip veil and half hat. Her bouquet was of fall flowers.

She had as honor attendants, her sisters, Miss Merriel Rawlings and Mrs. Logan. The former was gowned in blue and Mrs. Logan in shrimp. Their dresses were of crystellete, and they carried fall flowers matching the gowns.

Other attendants who wore dresses of crystellete in Nile green color, were Mrs. Dorothy Evans, Miss Joyce Weaver, Mrs. Ida Wees, sister of the bridegroom; and Miss Marylee Jones.

—o—o—

JOHN ADAMS of Washington, was best man for Mr. Givens. Ushers were Howard Rawlings, William Rawlings, brother of the bride; George Givens; Louis Shields, Melvin Garvin, Charles McDaniels, Lawrence Logan and William Turner.

For the wedding, Mrs. Rawlings and Mrs. Givens wore gowns of blue lace and corsages of orchids.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, 2328 W. Lanvale St.

Out-of-town guests included: Mrs. Lucy Burns of Chicago, Mrs. Reva Banks, Mrs. Martha Norris, Mrs. Flo Thornely, Mrs. Mildere Evans, Mr. and Mrs. William Farr, Mrs. Harold Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson and William Farr of New York City; Mrs. Raymond Branch of East Orange, N.J., Mrs. Irene Anderson, Mrs. Grace Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Royster, George Anderson, of Philadelphia; Miss Eloise Brown, Mrs. Anna Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Moore and Williams Edmonds of Washington, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Caldwell of Elkton, Md.

Epicureans frolic at gala induction party

...with Lula Jones Garrett

PARTY . . . I beg your pardon . . . PARTIES OF THE WEEK centered around the formal induction of the Baltimore chapter into the national organization of Epicureans, Saturday night!

The lovely new Chesapeake Club, Eutaw Place, was the setting, with the installation beginning early, the celebration following, and an array of post parties spilling over into the early ayem!

The new members include Phyllis Allen, president; Gladys Daniels, vice president; Louise Gilliam, recording secretary; Elva Matthews, corresponding secretary; Claire Parke, treasurer; Bernadine Harrison, journalist; Sylvia Henry, chaplain; Nicki Randolph, Merita Stokes, Doris Wallace, Mary Beth McRae, Barbara Bennett and Elsie Scott.

For the induction, they were black cocktail dresses. Further carried out the club colors of ebony and ivory in table decorations, including souvenirs and match boxes imprinted with the club name.

Add to this the scores of congratulatory cards and baskets of flowers sent by out-of-town chapters.

After the ceremony an elaborate party, beginning with hors d' ouevres and cocktails, and followed by buffet supper marked the occasion. And still later, many of the out-of-town guests were entertained at the homes of members until small hours.

Husbands and guests of the Baltimore members were John E. Stokes, Sammel Daniels, Lester Wallace, James Gilliam, Dudley Henry, Miles Harrison, Orlando Bennett, Roland Scott, Vernon Highlett, and William Chandler of Washington.

Out-of-town guests included: Messrs. and Mesdames Stafford Flowers, Carlyle Fields, Milton Robinson, William Mitchell, John Degner, Reginald Brown, and Charles Paige; Alfreda Greene and Thelma Johnson of Richmond, Va.;

Messrs. and Mesdames Maurice Frazier and Lucus Sykes; Misses Mary Riley and Cora Mae Reid and William Reid of Hampton and Newport News, Va.; Mrs. Eddie Patrick of Danville, Va.;

Messrs. and Mesdames Romeo Horad, Sewell Horad, Lawyer Martin, James Fields, James Brooks, William Cox, Robert Morrison, James Cole, Raymond Smithers and Thomas Jenkins and Howard Jones of Washington.

THE COCKTAIL PARTY given by the Kappa Chapter of Iota Phi Lambda Sorority, at the Sphinx Club, was a high spot on Sunday's calendar.

There was music by Robert B. Lucas and his band, and hors d' oeuvres and canapies prepared by the entertainment committee, decorative as well as delicious and palatable.

Mable C. Waters was the chairman of the affair. And other hostesses were:

Mildred Ayers, Mary Brittian, Emma Brown, Mary Crump, Lucille Gibson, Odessa Howard, Margaret Johnson, Naomi Lee, Frances Morris, Jessie Nicholson;

Gladys Palmer, Fannie Poulson, Josephine Wallace, Evelyne Wile, Zita Mae Williamson, Ava Wilkey, Vivian Young, Mable Waters, Margaret Hill, Hortense Cain, Mary Jones, Mary Ames, Ruth Robinson and Thelma Jiggetts.

On Sunday, the New Life Guild of the New Life Presbyterian Church entertained at tea at the Manse beginning with the first interval from 4 to 6 p.m. and the second interval from 6 to 8 p.m.

Mrs. Marian Wells, president of the guild, included the presentation of several specially made tape recordings of music by the choir of the church and guest artists, among whom are Mrs. Elizabeth S. Day, pianist; Mrs. Mildred Williams, dramatic reader; Hilton Randall, tenor; Mrs. Clara Statham Greene, pianist; R. Anton Smith, violinist; and the new Life Trio composed of Mrs. Irma De Beal, Mrs Pearl Ball and Mrs. Sanoma Nixon.

Program chairman was Mrs. Mable Byrd and other hostesses included Mrs. Marjorie Chapelle, Mrs. Louise Johnson, Mrs. Vivian Green and Mrs. Gladys Gladney.

The Rev. Harold G. Nixon is minister of the church under whose sponsorship the tea was planned.

—o—o—

IN AN EFFORT to help the Sollers Point High School Band purchase instruments and uniforms for the school band, members of the community aided by the ministerial association of Turner Station and Sparrow's Point are joining forces to present a program on the evening of November 12th, which will rally the community to this worthy cause.

All the churches of the community are expected to participate by having their choirs appear in special selections.

Members of the planning committee include in part, Charles Weems, corrdinator of the program; Mrs. Mary C. Stokes, Mrs. Mary Beasley, Frank Waterhouse, Mrs. Doretha Williams, Mrs. Vivian Greene, the Rev. Harold G. Nixon and Mrs. Joseph Day, instrumental music instructor at the school.

Charles W. Fletcher is principal of Sollers Point High School.

Ruth and Carl White, Margaret Roger, Eugenia Stanley, Stewart Brooks, Val Washington, Jo Ann Jones, Linda Wade and Deidra Johnson.

PEREGRINATORS: Most feted guest in town the past two weeks was Mrs. Tempia L. Strobhardt of East Orange, N.J., who was the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Smith at their Springfield Ave. home.

Mr. and Mrs. Hendricks Clark entertained at brunch for her on Sunday, and the following Saturday she was honoree at a dance party. Mr. and Mrs. Francis Lloyd entertained for her at cocktails.

Other hostesses to Mrs. Strobhardt included Miss Eunice Brooks, who gave a dinner party for her, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Turner and Mr. and Mrs. Hyman Parker (all of Halethorpe) whose affair was a dinner party; Mrs. Ruby Stewart, who entertained at luncheon and cards, a breakfast party on Sunday by Miss Hattie Tilghman, a dinner party by Mr. and Mrs. Welton Webb and another by Mrs. Naomi Stanley, dinner and cards by Dr. and Mrs. Cyril Atkins and card party by Mrs. Ethel Quaries.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith were hosts to fifty guests at a dinner party in the Chesapeake Club in honor of their house guest. And some eight hostesses who wished to fete Mrs. Strobhardt, and prevented by lack of time, already have plans for her summer visit in '55.

—o—o—

MR. AND MRS. EARL L. HAGAN'S house guests for the Navy-Notre Dame game, the past weekend, were Miss Margie Branch, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene D. Jones and Midshipman Harold Baudult, now at the U.S. Naval Academy. All are residents of New York City.

Mr. Jones, you recall, is the first non-white president of the Metropolitan Section of the American Society of Civil Engineers, and is the resident engineer on the Garden State Parkway project. He is also the designer of a part of the New Jersey Turnpike.

Mr. Jones and the former Betty Powell of Plainfield, N.J., were married on Sept. 4, honeymooned in Bermuda, and are

Wife can make or break minister says Mrs. Claus

The minister's wife is the chief factor in her husband's success, Mrs. H. P. Claus, vice president of the Southern Baptist Association, told Baptist clergymen's wives, here, Monday.

Speaking at the First Baptist Church, where the Baptist Ministers' Wives Alliance was having a banquet, the speaker gave points which she considered of high importance to the successful careers of clergymen.

—o—o—

FIRST, MRS. CLAUS SAID, the parsonage must be a model of neatness, cleanliness and orderliness . . . always in readiness for the unexpected guest.

The children in a minister's home should be trained from earliest youth to realize that they are blessed to be born into a Christian home, rather than to see the limitations there.

—o—o—

THE MINISTER'S WIFE, said the speaker, must be a gracious hostess and a good financier. Nothing, she said, can be of greater harm to a minister's career than an extravagant wife, who ruins his reputation for honesty by keeping him from paying his bills on time.

The wife must remember, said she, that whenever she speaks, she speaks as "the pastor's wife!" The congregation can seldom divorce her from her position, and she must therefore avoid gossip and never repeat petty criticisms.

On the other hand, she must be her husband's chief booster, and his discreet critic. She must avoid jealousy, realizing that the love of members of a congregation for their pastor spills over to the pastor's wife.

—o—o—

THE LADY OF THE PARSONAGE was also warned against partiality. A good tip, she said, was to not restrain herself by failure to entertain, but to entertain in groups. For instance, entertain the entire missionary society, the entire choir, or the whole club, rather than individuals from each at one time.

"Don't be sensitive to criticism. Remember that no one can hurt you by what they say, that only your own reactions can," the speaker advised. Be patient, be a constant reader of the Bible, and pray were other gems of advice Mrs. Claus offered. "A minister's wife must be like a watch: have an open face, be well regulated, of pure gold character and full of good works," the speaker added.
