YM mothers visit the aged

The Mothers' Club of the Turner Station YMCA held a worship service on Sunday in the Baptist Aged Home on Rayner Ave.

The highlight of the service was an inspiring sermonette by the Rev. W. L. Jeffries, assistant pastor of New Shiloh Baptist Church, Turner Station.

—o0o—

ON BEHALF of the club, Mrs. Margaret Abott, president, presented a toastmaster to Mrs. Bessie Lewis, the matron and the guests of the home, the oldest of whom is Mrs. Hattie Daniels, 82 years of age.

Among the members who attended were: Mesdames Margaret Abbott, president; Madalyn Jones, vice president; Mary Gwaltney, secretary; Bernice Reid, corresponding secretary; Frankie Jeffries, treasurer;

Alberta Eley, Easter Clanton, Dorothy Harris, Edith Jordan, Susie Parsons and Mamie Allen.

Accompanying the group were: Messrs. W. L. Jeffries, R. L. Abbott, YMCA board chairman; R. D. Wheeler, YMCA executive secretary; and U. Harris, photographer.

DR. CHANNING H. TOBIAS

Tobias set as speaker for YMCA

Robert L. Abbott, chairman of the board of managers of the Turner Station Branch YMCA, has announced that Dr. Channing H. Tobias has accepted his invitation to address the fifth anniversary dinner of the Turner Station Branch YMCA on Nov. 9.

The previous four anniversaries featured as guest speakers: Col. Campbell C. Johnson; Liberian Ambassador Clarence Simpson; Recorder of Deeds Marshall Shepherd, and Lester B. Granger.

The committee feels quite fortunate in securing Dr. Tobias because as chairman of the national board of the NAACP, he, at present, is on tour of trouble spots caused by the Supreme Court order to desegregate public schools and will give thereesults of his tour at this affair.

The dinner will be held at the Sollers Point High School cafeteria. Admission by reservation only at ATwater 4-9160.

Hubby sets torch to clothing

"Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned—so the saying goes, but a Northeastern District housewife stood meekly by Sunday while her husband allegedly set a torch to articles of clothing and a set of valuable sip covers.

Charged with arson for burning clothing valued at $20 and a $50-set of slip covers, Nathaniel Brown of the 200 block Silver Ct., was ordered held in bail of $1,000.

When questioned at the Northeastern District police station, Mr. Brown simply told police "I was mad." Charges were filed by his wife, Mrs. Blanche Brown.

Youth jailed in bike theft

A 17-year-old youth with a record of larceny, assault and pocket-book snatching, was sentenced to six months in the House of Correction on Tuesday for the theft of two bicycles valued at $98.

Jimmie L. Jackson of the 1500 block of Stricker St., pleaded guilty to the theft charge in Northwestern Police Court before Magistrate E. Everett Lane.

Sgt. James Butler testified that Jackson and a younger boy had taken the bikes from the rear yard of a home in the 2900 block of Riestertown Road, and that after the theft Jackson went to New York where he remained until last week when he returned to Baltimore and was arrested.

Jackson admitted that he had already served terms in Boys' Village and the House of Correction. In sentencing him, Magistrate Lane said:

"Jail appears not to have taught you anything, but there is nothing to do but send you back."

Three freed for assault

Three boys accused of attacking another youth, were dismissed in Northwestern police court on Wednesday, when the complainant failed to identify them as the boys who were his assailants.

Released were:

Charles Roulack, 17, of the 1600 block W. Lexington St.

Charles Sellers, 18, of the 300 block N. Gilmor St.

Bernard Everett, 18, of the 1500 block Lemon St.

Robert Toadvine of the 900 block Ashburton St., told Magistrate E. Everett Lane that he had been attacked by a group of boys as he was standing at Poplar Grove St. and Lafayette Ave. on Friday. However, he admitted that he could not identify either of the three suspects as members of the gang.
