Driver of huge trailer escapes injury in plunge

Eugene M. Squirrell, 39, of 1631 N. Carey St., escaped serious injury last week when a tractor-trailer he was driving was forced off Washington Blvd. in Elkton, plunged 40 feet and landed atop a seven-foot concrete wall.

Mr. Squirrell, who has been a truck driver for 24 years and is employed by the Binghamton Warehouse and Terminal Co., of the 1700 block Wicomico St., sustained slight injuries of the left leg, shoulders, back and right hand.

The accident took place between 11 and 11:30 a.m., Tuesday.

According to Mr. Squirrell, he was driving south on Washington Blvd. toward Washington when another trailor, going north, came across the road and forced him to pull sharply to his right.

—o O o—

THE 34,730 pound truck, loaded with 21,000 pounds of freight plunged off the road and ended up in a jacknifed position, with the tractor landing on the concrete wall and the trailer jammed against a tree.

The driver said he was unconscious for approximately 10 or 15 minutes. When he awoke, he said spectators told him the trailer which had come on his side of the road had left the scene of the accident.

Mr. Squirrell was treated by a doctor and released following the accident. No charges were placed against him by investigating accident police.

Mother of 3 wins suit; gets $20,000

Judge Joseph R. Byrnes of Superior Court this week awarded $20,000 to Mrs. Lonie Freeman, 1113 Longwood St., and her three children, for the death of her husband, Thurman Sr.

Mr. Freeman was killed Nov. 5, 1952, when the car in which he was riding, collided with a tractor - trailer truck on highway No. 151 in Baltimore County.

—o O o—

AS RESULTS of a suit, filed by Mrs. Freeman and her children, Thurman Jr., 15; Odessa, 13, and Yvonne, 11, Judge Byrnes ordered that the defendants, Charles Anderson, 2022 Harlem Ave., driver of the car; Mayme Oberfield, 2401 Frederick Ave., owner of the truck, and W. T. Cowan, 3127 Bayard St., owner of the trailor, pay the following:

Mrs. Freeman, $12,600; Thurman Jr., $2,400; Odessa, $2,200 and Yvonne, $2,800.

Man cuts wife's hair

Admits tying her to chair

A merchant seaman who refused to say why he had tied his wife in a chair and then cut off all her hair was sentenced to 18 months in the House of Correction on Friday.

Magistrate E. Everett Lane imposed the sentence in Northwestern Police Court on Leo M. Brown, 28, who gave an address in the 500 block of Bruce St.

His wife, Mrs. Beatrice Brown, told Magistrate Lane that her husband had tied her in a chair at their home on Wednesday and had threatened to cut out her eyes and tongue, but had not actually harmed her.

—o o O o—

ON THURSDAY, however, it was a different story. Mrs. Brown said her husband tied her up again, then cut off her hair. When Mrs. Brown appeared in court, she wore a bandana to cover her head.

After hearing the testimony, Magistrate Lane referred to the incident as one "the worse and cruelest to come before me in a very long time. This belongs in medieval days."

Brown's only comment on the cutting of his wife's hair was: "I wanted to punish her substantially." He told Magistrate Lane: "I do not care to say why."

The 18-month sentence was broken down into three six-month charges on separate assault counts.

Julians threatened

CHICAGO—The famous scientist, Dr. Percy L. Julian, this week turned over to the FBI a letter which threatened the lives of his three children unless he and his family move from their home in a white suburban neighborhood by Nov. 1.

The 55-year-old president of a research laboratory and a chemical company has withstood two previous attacks on his 15-room Oak Park home in the past. Objects of the threat are his children, Percy Jr., 14; Faith, 10, and Rhoderic, 9.

Mother of five boys in $5 lucky photo

Mrs. Theresa Scribner, 2732 Fisk Rd., Cherry Hill is $5 richer this week because her picture was circled in Friday's edition.

She collected her $5 for being in the lucky photo when she called at the AFRO office on Monday morning. She said "It is the first time I ever won anything"

The AFRO photographer took the picture of parents at Carter G. Woodson School No. 160 in which Mrs. Scribner appeared. They were attending a tea.

Mrs. Scribner is the wife of Stanley Scribner Sr., who is employed as a race track porter and travels all over the country.

—o O o—

THEY HAVE five boys, all of whom have first names beginning with S. They are: Stanley Jr., 5; Stephen, 4; Sterling, 3; Stewart, 1; and Stanford 9. Mrs. Scribner said she wall buy clothes for the oldest boy with her prize.

—o O o—

THERE IS another lucky photo circled in this and every edition of the AFRO. Look for it. It may be you.

All you have to do to win this easy $5 contest, is to be circled in the lucky photo.

One killed, two hurt when truck overturns

One man was killed and two others were injured on Monday when a truck ran off the road, smashed into a tree and then overturned on Route 301, near Gambrills, Md.

Charles Lewis, 32, whose address was listed by police as the 800 block of W. Saratoga St., was the man killed in the wreck. He was a passenger in a truck driven by George T. Wright, 58, of 823 Saratoga St.

Mr. Wright suffered a chest injury, knee injury and cuts and bruises. He was taken to the Anne Arundel County General Hospital where his condition on Thursday was reported as "fair."

—o O o—

ALSO INJURED was Seymour Clemon, 50, of the 600 block S. Paca St., who suffered chest injuries. He is listed as being in a "critical" condition at the hospital.

County police said the accident occurred when a turck driven by James M. Samuel, 40, of Warsaw, Va., attempted to pass the truck driven by Wright and struck the latter vehicle on the left front side.

The force of the impact sent the truck off the road, where it struck the tree and turned over. Samuel was not injured.

The truck was identified as the property of a local restaurant supply house where Wright had been employed as a driver for several years.

Items seen and heard at $100-plate dinner

Phillip Goodman (City Councilman 5th. D) restated his position on the Junior Association of Commerce Redistricting Bill.

Goodman charged that the bill, if passed, would take "our colored citizens and divide them into six parts, leaving about 30 percent of the City population unrepresented."

Councilman DiDomenico favors a joint group representing the City Council and the State Legislature to sit down and plan redistricting so it will include all factions of this Baltimore Community.

DiDominco claims that the city needs redistricting, but not to the detriment of any race or faction.

—o O o—

SEEN TABLE hopping were Joseph Neal, CIO executive, Alexander Brown, of the Cherry Hill Democratic Club, U. Theodore Hayes, unsuccessful candidate for the House of Delegates, and William B. Dixon, who was seated at table number 1.

Head of the State Democrats, Lloyal Randolph, was seated at table 29 with Dr. Bernard Harris and Mrs. Vivian Alleyne.

Seen visiting them were State Senator Barnard Melnicove and City Councilman Max Alpert.

At table 35 was S. Edward Smith, vice-chairman of the Campaign Committee and Mrs. Lena K. Lee. Calvin Douglas, candidate for State Senate, Fourth District was at table 48.

—o O o—

MAYOR D'Alesandro, brought it right down front, in saying "get out and work, don't worry about what the other fellow is not doing, just be sure your vote is labeled Democratic."

—o O o—

MAYOR said he was glad to see all races and factions represented at the dinner.

"That is real democracy as practiced by the Democratic Party," he explained.

Bernard S. Melnicove expressed confidence that he would be reelected. "My record is and has been in favor of all the people in my District. They won't let me down. I am a proven legislator, I will win."

All 675 persons, who put up $100 each, expressed confidence that this was a Democratic year, that the entire ticket would be swept into office on November 2, that with Dr. Byrd as head of the party, the Democrats would put some wages back into the pay envelopes and bread and meat on the table.

Probe asked in man's death

The local NAACP has been asked to conduct an investigation into the circumstances surrounding the death of a man in a Northwestern police cell on Saturday.

The request for a probe into the death of Edward Wyche, 43, of the 1000 block N. Calhoun St., was made by the dead man's family, in order to determine whether the man was subjected to any physical punishment.

Wyche's body was removed from the Northwestern cell on Saturday night, after police said they found him hanging by an undershirt from the cell door. He had been arrested on an assault count and was scheduled to face a hearing on Sunday.

An autopsy is being performed by the medical examiner but the results are not expected to be known for several days.

RICTOR'S RED FOX LOUNGE has come up with a dilly of an idea on how to make the Hallo'ween celebration a gala affair full of spice and fun. From this Monday until the next, the club will stage a festival, complete with hats, favors and prizes.

From this Monday until the next, every customer who visits the fun mecca will be treated to an unforgettable evening's entertainment with some of the top artists on hand to provide the musical notes and wonderful people to see that the drinks are served just right.

The whole affair will be capped on Nov. 1 with a "Costume Bawl" which will feature the awarding of a prize for the most original costume. Knowing the reputation of the RED FOX, WE feel sure that the prize will be a beauty, and our recommendation of the week is to make a date for the fun at Halloween at the Red Fox.

The entertainment now at the club, is some of the finest offered in the city, with with Lou Bennett and the Hammondtones, Wee Bea Booze, Elaine Middleton, teaming up in fine fashion.

Tasty food at the club is now being dispensed by Otis Johnson, who formerly operated a popular eating spot on the East side of town. Set for Oct. 31 at the club is a cocktail party sponsored by the Krazyettes Social Club. Officers are Marie Handy, Margaret Burnside and Sarah Henry.

ONE OF THE nicest persons a night club columnist can hope to meet is Miss Nellie Lutcher, who is currently playing at the COMEDY CLUB. Nellie is the young lady who plays a piano that is strictly out of this world, and who has a way of wrapping her voice around a song, that makes even the silliest lyrics sound fresh and new.

Nellie was born in Lake Charles, La., and moved to California a few years later. She started playing the piano while she was still very young and as the years rolled by she got better and better until she finally was good enough to earn her living with the piano.

For several years she played for coffee and cakes, hoping for the one real break and finally it came in 1947 at a March of Dimes rally. By this time Nellie had added singing to her act and at the March of Dimes rally she did what is called "Laying Them in the aisles." That's how good she was.

A few days later she was offered a record contract with Capitol and she cut "Hurry On Down To My House Baby" which sent her name skyrocketing. Other hit records followowed this one, and the lady is now so well established that her name is sure fire audience appeal.

Last time Nellie was in town was a year and a half ago and one of the persons she remembers with warmest affections is the late E. B. Rea of the AFRO. She is a wonderful person and her act is just as wonderful. On the other end of the COMEDY CLUB bill is James Moody and his outfit and George this man Moody is out of this world. Give a listen to the show this weekend, its COMEDY CLUB special.

—o O o—

NO SOONER DO WE write that Bill Swindell left town for a Canada date, then we find the saxophonist has signed a contract to appear at the CLUB AMBASSADOR starting on Monday. Bill, always a showman and always a top musician, will be right at home on the AMBASSADOR, where he never fails to draw a capacity crowd.

One of the great things on a Sunday afternoon is the fabulous jam session that the town's top musicians put on at the club. It is something that has to be heard to be appreciated, and if you like music with a beat, well, the AMBASSADOR is the place to find it.

—o O o—

A BRIEF conversation with Askew Gatewood, CLUB CASINO owner, turned up the information that the reason he decided to sponsor a recent night for the benefit of the NAACP was that he feels so strongly that the organization is doing a fine job, that he was determined to do something concrete to show his appreciation. We still think it was a wonderful gesture and that Gatey is quite a man.

The CLUB CASINO has on tap this week in the person of Gene Ammons, who certainly makes the modern tones easy to take and to understand. He does an interesting job with the music that he plays and lives up the club's reputation for providing only the best in entertainment.

Congratulations to Hazel Crosby, one of our favorite persons, and a popular barmaid who gave birth to a son.

—o O o—

CLUB TIJUANA will do it again next week when they bring in the ace bop musician Max Roach, to play a week's engagement. Currently at the club is the terrific combination of Jay Jay Johnson and Kay Winding, who are musicians on the trombone.

Honest, George, when you team up two artists like Johnson and Windign, you've got to get good music and that is just what you do get at the CLUB TIJUANA, always a popular spot.

The Ben Baber quartette is doing a fine job at TILLIE'S; the Valentino's trio is providing the dance music at the KNOTTY PINE CLUB. CLUB ORLEANS has Sonny Stanton, and JONES' COCKTAIL LOUNGE had the tantilizing music of the Jo Jo Mambo group.

That's it . . . . Have fun.

TERRY GIBBS and his sensational quartet, featuring Terry Pollard, opens Tuesday, at Baltimore's Comedy Club.

Bishop Oxnam speaks piece

CLEVELAND (ANP)—Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam has labeled violence in refusing to obey the Supreme Court's ruling against segregation in schools "subversive."

Addressing the Methodist Church's National Conference on Family Life, Bishop Oxnam said the reaction to the desegregation ruling on the whole was "heartening beyond expression."

"But," he continued, "there are those among us who advocate disobedience to the law, who stand ready to use force to prohibit its execution.

"Resort to violence and refusal to obey the law is subversive and does more to undermine democratic government than any traitor Communist can do."

Korean vets to get GI monthly checks

Washington area veterans enrolling in school under the Korean GI Bill late in September will get their first monthly GI allowance checks in November, VA announced this week.

Those who enrolled earlier in the month should get their initial VA payments the latter part of October.

Reason for the time lag, VA explaines, is a requirement in the law that veterans may not be paid until after the end of each month of training completed.

—o O o—

FURTHERMORE, checks may not go out until VA receives a certification, signed by the veteran and his school, stating that he has been in training all month.
