NACW Head To Visit Orient

State Department sponsoring tour

WASHINGTON (NNPA) — Mrs. Ella Phillips Stewart, civic leader of Toledo, Ohio and president of the National Association of Colored Women, plans to leave Oct. 25 for a three-month visit to Pakistan, India, Ceylon and the Philippines, the State Department announced Wednesday.

She has accepted an invitation to make the tour under the State Department's international educational exchange program.

In each of the countries she will visit she will meet with women leaders and give formal and informal talks on the role American women in community life, education and politics.

WHILE IN the Philippines she will attend the Pan Pacific Women's Association Conference.

Mrs. Stewart has been active ics for civic and welfare organizations in Toledo and other cities.

She served as co-chairman for the Toledo Centennial Commission in 1937 and as president of the Ohio Association of Colored Women before becoming president of the national group.

IN 1932 Mrs. Stewart was a delegate for the National Council of Women of the United States to the International Conference of Women of the World at Athens Greece.

She is a member of the Women's Advisory Committee on Defense Manpower and the American Academy of Political and Social Science as well as of a number of community organizations.

Born in Berryville, Va., Mrs. Stewart is a graduate of Storer College and of the University of Pittsburgh School of Pharmacy. She has also done graduate work at the University of Toledo.

MRS. ELLA STEWART

Her extensive business career has included many years as joint proprietor with her husband, William W. Stewart, of Stewart's Pharmacy in Teoledo.

CHOCOLATE NUT FUDGE

Perfect partners . . . chocolate and nuts . . . and for a perfect combination of the two, try Delvale's Chocolate Nut Fudge. Never too "chocolaty," never too sweet, and with lots of English walnut meats to make it more delicious.

Delvale ICE CREAM "ALWAYS GOOD TASTE"
Also Renowned producers of the famous Duncan Hines Ice Cream

At Delvale Dealers, Acme Stores and A & P Stores

Dr. C. Mowrey WVSC speaker

INSTITUTE, W. Va.—Dr. Corma A. Mowrey, delivered the main address at the scholarship convocation at West Virginia State College, Sunday.

The following honor societies were recognized: Alpha Delta Sigma, Beta Kappa Chi Scientific Society, Sigma Delta Pi National Honorary Society and Delta Phi Alpha Honorary Society.

The scholarships were based upon students in the several classes who have maintained a point average of above 3. The Individual scholarship awards were presented by President William J. L. Wallace.

DR. MOWREY is a graduate of Salem College and Duke University. She holds two honorary degrees from Salem College and West Virginia State College. She has been president of the National Education Association and national representative to the World Organization of Teaching Profession Assembly in Ottawa, Canada.

Others appearing on the program were Neal Riden, Velma Alexander, Burnice Booker, Angie T. King, Marvin Mills, Daniel P. Lincoln, Dean Harrison H. Ferrell and T. D. Phillips at the organ.

Easy...

Does it

Long - handled wax appliers have many uses. Use them for dusting walls, ceiling, dark closet corners, venetian blinds and screens.

If a freshly waxed floor is marred by tracks from heavy shoes or overshoes, you can easily remove them by wetting the waxer and rubbing over spots.

—o o o—

BADLY scratched furniture should first be rubbed with a scratch remover then polished. Rub the wood long enough for a dull shine so that fingerprints and dust do not show so readily.

If drawer handles are loose in their holes, fill with plastic wood and insert the pulls again. Let the plastic wood harden and the pulls will fit snugly once more.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Cranberry Almond Sauce

1 1-pound can jellied cranberry sauce, crushed
2 tablespoons orange marmalade
3 tablespoons lemon juice
2/3 cup blanched almonds, halved

Mix all ingredients together and chill before serving with chicken, turkey or ham.

When sections of linoleum are badly worn, remove with a razor blade and fit with a piece of some you have leftover or some which matches.

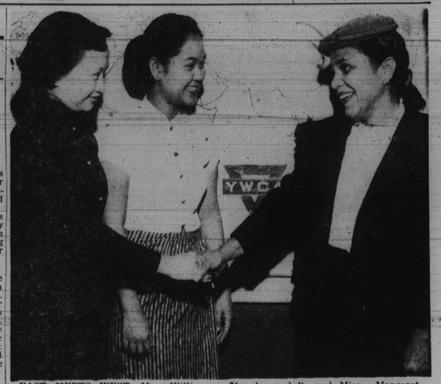
Wipe off excess linoleum cement before it dries as it is difficult to remove.

—o o o—

SILK LININGS in lamp shades which have torn or burned can be removed. Make a new lining and stitch it in.

Bind frayed cords with friction tape for real safety. Keep the tape taut while winding around the cord, stretching and overlapping it to make a smooth lay.

Metal plates around light switches will take on a freshly upkept look if you remove them and polish bright with steel wool, then replace.



EAST MEETS WEST—Mrs. William S. Ravenell, right, chairman of the World Fellowship Committee of the Boston, YWCA welcomes two visitors from the Orient, Miss Ko Siu Wah of Hongkong, left, and Miss Margaret Ohn-Bwint of Rangoon, Burma. Both are participants in the YWCA training project.

National Women's Council ready for meet

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The 19th annual convention of the National Council of Women will be held Nov. 8 through 13 in Washington.

Most of the sessins will be held in the departmental auditorium of the U.S. Department of Labor, where the delegates will be welcomed by Secretary of Labor Mitchell Nov. 12.

Highting the convention will be a Citizenship Education Workshop in the old Supreme Court chambers on Capitol Hill Nov. 10. Mrs. Jeanetta Welch Brown of St. Albans, N.L. is chairman of the department.

Among guest speakers will be Rencher Harris, councilman and businessman Durham, N.C.; Katie Louchheim, of the Democratic National Committee and secretary of Labor and head of the Women's Bureau.

Mrs. Ruth Caston Mueller and Mrs. Venice T. Spraggs will assist as Resource Consultants.

The Freedom Agenda panel will discuss the charges that constitutional liberties are being threatened in the United States. Wreaths will be placed by Mrs. W. A. Scott of Atlanta, and Mrs. Edward Perry of Kansas City, on the statutes of famous women pioneers in the capitol building.

The traditional Honoree Dinner Nov. 13, at Baldwin Hall, Howard University, will feature Walter white, NAACP, as guest speaker. Miss Juanita Hall of "South Pacific" fame will sing favorite selections from this show.

International Night, Nov. 12, will be celebrated by the presentation of an American flag by the James Reese Europe Post of the American Legion of Washington. Mrs. Oswald Lord will be the principal speaker.

Dr. Arenia Mallory of Lexington, Miss. will give a report of her trip to Helsinki, Finland, where she represented the council at the triennial meeting of the International Council of Women of the World.

Special music for the occasion will be furnished by Dean Warner Lawson's Community Chorus.

Other features consist of the formation of a "Life Members Guild;" reports from Regional Directors and an International Luncheon at the Hotel Raleigh. Dr. Howard Thurman, minister of Boston University, will deliver the address on the observance of Armistice Day and the Memorial services to the women of the council who have died during the past year.

KATHERINE BACON TO APPEAR AT TALLADEGA

TALLADEGA, Ala. — Katherine Bacon, noted English pianist, will appear at Talladega College on October 28 at 8 p.m. Her tour, sponsored by the Arts Program, Association of American Colleges, will include many important colleges and universities in the South.

Star-Kist CHUNK STYLE Tuna
Star-Kist SOLID PACK Tuna

Everybody sings the praises of STAR-KIST TUNA! It's the tuna with the flavor preferred by 3 out of every 4 homemakers and food experts across the country. The reason is this: STAR-KIST packs only the smaller tuna—the tenderest . . . the mildest . . . the finest money can buy. Yet, top quality STAR-KIST TUNA costs you only pennies a serving. Try it! Today!

Star-Kist Tuna America's Best in Flavor Tests!

CROWNED "MISS MORGAN"—Mrs. Martin Jenkins, wife of the president, presents flowers to Miss Joan C. Turner, 22-year-old senior who was crowned "Miss Morgan" during Home-coming exercises Saturday. Joan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Turner. Her dad is a Baltimore school principal. She is an AKA and is majoring in mathematics.

"MRS. MARSE" HONORED—Mrs. Jean F. Turpin presents flowers to Mrs. Talmadge Hill during Home-coming Saturday. Coach Hill, "Marse," to his friends, was honored for 25 years of coaching at his Alma Mater. He and head Coach Edward P. Hurt have been called the wonder boys of CIAA football. In tribute to their coach, the Morgan Bears defeated Howard Bisons, 20-7. Mrs. Hill is instructor of music at Morgan. They have two children.

AFRO FOTO NEWS

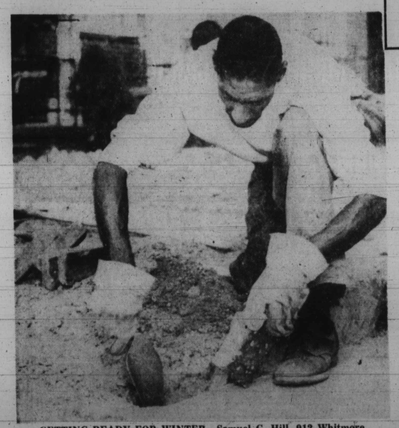
The Baltimore Afro-American, OCTOBER 23, 1954 Page 17

OUT FOR THEIR DAILY WALK are Mrs. Gertrude Cook of 1906 Madison Ave. and seven-year-old Boxer, who is called Champ. Mrs. Cook's husband Thomas, is employed in Pennsylvania. They have an 11-year-old daughter, Angela, a sixth grade student at School No. 104. Mrs. Cook says Champ eats five pounds of horse meat a week. He is fed twice a day. He weighs 79 pounds.

EDUCATIONAL MATERIAL on display at the meeting of the Maryland State Teachers Association in Baltimore last week attracted the attention of Mrs. Irene Nutter of Port Deposit, Md. and Miss Margretta Milburn of Carver School in Elkton. Teachers from all over the state attended the two-day meetings held at the Fifth Regiment Armory. They passed a resolution backing integrated schools and adopted a resolution changing the bylaws to permit local chapters of their association to admit colored teachers.

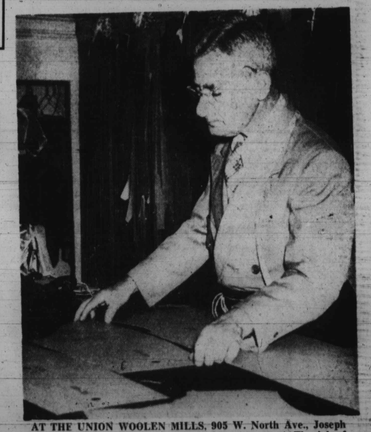
LOOKING UP THE LAW — James L. Bundy checks a legal reference in his law office at 707 S. Fremont Ave. A University of Maryland graduate, he has been practicing law for five years. He and his wife, Mrs. Sarah J. Bundy, have two children, Raymond, 14, a pupil at Southern High School, and Henry, 2.

PEOPLE AT WORK



GETTING READY FOR WINTER—Samuel G. Hill, 912 Whitmore Ave., was putting bricks around the front lawn of his attractive house when the AFRO spied him. He said the brick will keep winter's snows from washing away the soil and grass seed he will sow when he finishes this job. Mr. Hill is a packer and his wife is Mrs. Jean Hill. They attend St. Peter Claver Church.

"I LIKE TO CLEAN MY OWN CAR," said Willie Colclough when the AFRO photographer found him painting the white wall tires on his car. He lives at 529 Cumberland St., works in Woodlawn. Mr. Colclough hails from Miami His wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Colclough, is a Baltimorean. They belong to Gillis Memorial Church.



AT THE UNION WOOLEN MILLS, 903 W. North Ave., Joseph Klein, proprietor, lays out a pattern for an overcoat. The job of cutting the pattern would take only one hour, he said. His efficiency at this work comes naturally since his father was a tailor and his mother a dressmaker. Mr. Klein has been in the business since 1915.