Death of J. Logan Jenkins ends long marriage of roses

By JAMES E. WOOD

James Logan Jenkins was buried, Thursday, in Mount Auburn Cemetery.

He leaves behind memories that will live for years in the hearts of those who knew him.

The J. Logan Jenkinses at 55th anniversary. She holds roses.

'Jenks and Fannie' wed 55 years ago in West Point, Va.

He leaves behind a wonderful woman — Fannie Adams Burrell — whom he wooed and won with roses some 55 years ago in the town of West Point, Va. She was her "Jenks" and she his "Fannie."

—o O o—

MR. JENKINS passed quietly, Saturday night in his comfortable home at 2415 College Ave., Morgan Park, shortly after reading the 91st Psalm — something he had done for as many years as friends can remember.

The Psalm begins: "He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty."

It ends with: "With long life will I satisfy him, and shew him my salvation."

Mr. Jenkins was 80 on October 12!

—o O o—

I REMEMBER him as a jolly man who always mixed dignity with mirth.

The Jenkinses and the Woodses were close friends for as long as I can remember.

It was always "Fannie and Virgie," and "J. Logan and F. M."

Used to be a saying around our house that mamma couldn't make a move without first calling Fannie.

—o O o—

MAMMA SAYS the friendship began a few weeks after, our family moved here from Frankfort, Ky.

This was back in 1925. Poppa had come here to take a job in the school system. We lived in the 1200 block of Madison Ave., and I was about 18 months old.

I remember when Mr. Jenkins ran a small delicatessen-type store in the front of his catering business at Druid Hill Ave., and Mosher St.

I would take my pennies by there and buy goodies. Mr. Jenkins who called me "Little Biddy," or "Jimmy," would always put a bit more in the bag than my pennies could afford.

—o O o—

HE ALWAYS had a twinkle in his eye and seemed to get great delight out of the broad smile that would break across my face for the extras.

His catering establishment was spotlessly clean and many afternoons, I would run in and out, of the shiny pots and pans, amusing myself with the many wondrous things to see.

As I grew older, and Mr. Jenkins retired, those days still lingered as pleasant afterthoughts of a chapter of youth.

—o O o—

THE FRIENDSHIP between the two families continues. From the whist clubs to the bridge gatherings, it was always mamma going to Fannie's, or vice versa.

When they weren't playing at the Jenkinses, "Jenks" would always bring "Fannie," and then just as sure as clockwork he would be outside waiting in the car when the "girls" finished.

He was a great one to make a jest. It pleased him to laugh and make others laugh.

—o O o—

ONE DAY when I was about 10, we were visiting the Jenkinses. He called me out on the front porch of his house and pointed to a large plot of land adjoining his property.

"See all that land?" he said, "well since I like you so much, I decided to buy it and give it to you. Man's got to be careful about his neighbors you know."

Took me quite a while to figure out what the grown folks found to laugh about after I informed them:

"Mamma, look at all this land Mr. Jenkins bought for me, I'll have the biggest house in Morgan Park."

—o O o—

MANY TIMES I've thought back on that and laughed and still amused my sides hurt. May not strike some quite as funny, but of course you had to be there to see that twinkle in his eye and the effort to hold back laughter as he watch my reaction.

Flowery words don't seem to fit Mr. Jenkins who is better defined simply as a nice man.

Of course, he was more than that. He was a devoted father and husband.

—o O o—

HE FIRST MET Fannie Adams Burrell on a bright Sunday in the 1890's.

J. Logan worked on a boat during vacation periods under Fannie's father, William Burrell, to earn tuition for college.

The boat docked in waters near West Point on this Sunday and J. Logan, free and single with nothing to do, stopped by to see the boss.

Fannie opened the door of the Burrell house, and his heart did flip-flops as the tall, olive skinned Boston-educated girl invited him in.

—o O o—

IT WAS THE Sunday after Easter and Fannie had a date with some of the neighboring youngsters to go strolling in their Easter clothes.

Father Burrell took care of proper introductions and J. Logan wrangled an invitation from Fannie to join the strollers.

By now, the love bug had gripped Fannie and she stopped by a neighbor's rose bush, plucked a bright red one and placed it in Logan's lapel.

Noting his joy, she promised to send him the next perfect rose she saw. Soon thereafter, she had her brother take a beautiful rose to Logan at the boat.

—o O o—

LOGAN THEN sent her a basket of roses and their love expressed through flowers, began to blossom and bloom.

From there on, Logan "said it with flowers."

In 1897, he sent Fannie a beautiful vase of roses. The vase is a treasured object in the Jenkins home.

On October 10, 1899 at The Salem Baptist Church in West Point, Jenks and Fannie were wed.

—o O o—

THE WEDDING almost didn't take place, because of all things, Logan forgot the flowers!

Fannie refused to dress for the wedding until they were obtained and finally Logan sent to Richmond for them, and a marriage that was to last for 55 happy years took place.

From this union came two sons, Howard B. and J. Logan Jenkins Jr., and an adopted daughter, Mrs. Ethel Wynn of Swarthmore, Pa.

—o O o—

IN 1912, Mr. Jenkins established his catering business in Baltimore and among the many prominent persons he served was Queen Marie of Romania. He retired in 1941

Mr. Jenkins was a 33rd Degree Mason and both he and his wife were members of Bethel AME Church, where he was once a trustee.

J. Logan Jenkins, never forgot his friends. On Saturday, the day he died, the Jenkinses went shopping to buy a jacket as a birthday present for Dr. M. L. Barksdale, his close friend.

Just four days previous —the 11th — Dr. Barksdale had been to the Jenkins home to wish J. Logan well on his 80th birthday.

Wonder Drug Formula Builds Up Hair Beauty
Millions of people from Coast to Coast are now learning the scientific facts about the one thing that makes long, naturally attractive hair....soft, smooth, growing out rich and healthy.
Leading authorities have confirmed that it all depends on the nature and condition of the scalp. In other words, you can have gorgeous hair like that only if your scalp can make it so.
More and more people are discovering that when they seek to improve the looks of their hair they must think about the condition of the scalp too. They are also learning the amazing facts about Sulfur-8 Hair and Scalp Conditioner and how it works for the beauty of the hair.
The Power of Sulfur-8
A new scientific form of sulfur is being hailed by hair and scalp experts throughout the world. This potent "super-sulfur", called polysulfides, is the wonder drug located in the great Sulfur-8 Hair and Scalp Conditioner formula. Only Sulfur-8 has that special formula.
Of course, Sulfur-8 cannot give you a new scalp, nor make your hair grow or be longer than your scalp allows, but when used in time that sensational Sulfur-8 formula usually works wonders on certain conditions that may hold your hair back from looking its best.

Hair Looks Healthier, Longer
Happy Sulfur-8 users report marvelous results in helping the most abused dry hair look softer, smoother and more lustrous. They are thrilled by the new beauty of their hair and have been telling friends about it. The fame of Sulfur-8 has grown so fast that already millions of jars have been sold.
So, act fast when you notice those first warning signs of dryness in your hair and scalp. Get Sulfur-8 at the drug store right away.

Irma Rawlings feted at novel bridal shower

...with Lulu Jones Garrett

By SHIRLEY KYLE
(Substituting or Mrs. Garrett who is on vacation.)

"Twas a fashionable and novel surprise wedding shower Joyce Weaver and Dorothy Evans gave for bride-elect Irma Rawlings, Saturday, at Miss Evans' home.

The hostesses dreamed up the idea to send their honored guest on a treasure hunt for her gifts which included everything from nylon slips to kitchen stools.

Novelty verses tied to pink and white streamers which dangled from an umbrella attached to the ceiling, led Irma looking under beds, behind doors, in the closets and on top of cabinets, for her gifts.

After the hunt, guests Eileen Snow, Jeanne Weaver, Frances Bonner, Mildred McDaniels, Isabel Waters, Evelyn Stiles, Charlotte Winres and Mary Johnson, sipped cocktails and dined on delicious chicken ala king in patty shells.

Irma will marry Burnett Givings, Oct. 30 at Metropolitan Methodist Church.

Another leading hostess of the week was Adele Proctor who entertained her out of town guests at a formal dinner party at her McCulloh St. home. The honorees, Mesdames Loy Rhetta Jenkins, Tacoma, Wash.; Morgan Jones, Portland, Oreg. and Elfreda Seath, Chane, Md., dined and sipped champagne with the Howard Browns, Theresa Morgan, Doris Williams and Charles Noel.

AND "HURRICANE HAZEL" couldn't stop the June 1941 class of Douglass High School from celebrating its first reunion with a gala three-day affair.

Festivities began Friday with a barbecue at the Catonsville home of Mary Christmas. Saturday classmates gathered at Biddie Hall for a cabaret party where Josephine Wagner, president, received a gift for being responsible for the reunion.

Sunday, the group worshipped at Knox Presbyterian Church where the Rev. Vernon Dobson, classmate, delivered an inspiring sermon.

Seen about rehashing their school days were:

Julia Dorsey, Mary Carrington, Constance Brown, Celeste Frazier, Leroy Cockey, Adele Dorkins Wyenter, James Fletcher, John Hargrove, Ernest Jefferson, Myrtle Hubbard.

Phillip Johnson, Ruth Myers, Warren Parker, Morris Brooks, Joseph Johnson, Carolyn Wongus, Phyllis Thompson, Rosalie Washington, Marian Washington.

George Williams, Franklyn Wilson, Myles Robinson, Pearl Wicks, Anthony Ward, Reba Brooks, Carroll Palmer, Erma Glendi Johns, Ellen Johns.

Charles Fletcher, Edna Ruff, Doris Jeffries, James Jeffries, Alice Stubbs, Basil Garrett, Annabel Hawkins, Lillian Jones, Frederick Howard, Gertrude Fowlkes, Dorothy Martin;

Lloyd Patterson, John Stokes, Josephine Johnson, Helen Torson, Raymond Winckler, Helen Tilghman, Bernard Overton; Millard Dorsey, Eva Williams, Margaret Driver, James Adkins, Lucille Burns, Enolia Goodwin, George Forbes, Margaret Turner, William Roach, Alice Roach, Meredith Evans, Lucy Gresham;

Annie Branch, Bertha Holloman, Winston Jackson, Frank McKenzie, Helen Minor, Evelyn Ruth Thompson, Elizabeth Edwards, Clarence Washington;

Edgar Williams, Albert Wilson, Vera Palmer, Josephine Wagner, Errol Taylor, Charles Agnes Yates.

THE REV. Mr. and Mrs. Theodore C. Jackson (he's pastor of Gillis Memorial C. C. Church) were feted at a surprise birthday dinner, Wednesday by the church congregation.

Sponsoring the affair were Mesdames Pauline Lewis, Sylvia Person, Mary Dorsey, Carrie Hart, Julia Harris, Jennie Robertson, Miss Marian Cook and Eugene Emanuel.

The William Britts' three-month-old son was christened William Matthew Britts Jr. Sunday, at Ames Methodist Church, by the pastor, the Rev. J. Lloyd Garrison.

In and Around Annapolis

By ROBERT PINKNEY JR.

ANNAPOLIS — Mayor Arthur G. Ellington broke ground for 24 colored housing units last Thursday to be constructed at Oaklawn and Carver Sts. in Parole.

The apartments, the first colored private project of this area in Annapolis, is expected to be ready for living conditions by the first of next year.

The apartments are equipped with three rooms and baths, with individual natural gas heating units and tiled floors, renting for $50 a month.

HURRICANE Hazel made her swift known in Annapolis last Friday, with her violent antics.

At the Naval Academy, the famous old training ship, Rene Mercedes, with 7 men "On deck" drifted out into the Severn River, throughout the storm and sat there helplessly until finally rescued and brought back ashore.

Burning up the music's world these days is a local group called the "Van Dykes." Last Saturday, this group, which has been together for a good number of years, played to an almost sell-out audience at a dance hall near Annapolis.

Starting their orchestra when over half of the musicians were sophomores in high school, the "Van Dykes" have played before the Baltimore and Washington crowds more than once and could be one of the finest young rhythm-age bands ever to hit the state.

The "Van Dykes" are booked for weeks ahead. They're helped along the road to success with their lovely vocal singer, Miss Pat Wynn. These swingsters are going places fast.

My young daughter's hands kept itching and stinging with what was called Eczema. It tormented her something awful. I put on Black and White Ointment and in a short time she got wonderful relief from the itching, burning misery. I'll recommend Black and White Ointment to all my friends."

ACNE PIMPLES
Ina Mae Hawkins, 12321 Wallisville Road, Houston, Texas: "I suffered miseries with acne. Used a lot of ointments for relief, got the help I wanted from Black and White Ointment. It quickly relieved the itching, burning and soreness. Sure thank you for the wonderful relief that Black and White Ointment gave me."

TIRED, IRRITATED, BURNING FEET
Mrs. Helen S. Glover, 2024 N. Bentalou St., Baltimore 16, Md.: "I work in a defense plant. The heat makes me sweat a lot. My feet get galled-like, itch and burn. My uncle told me to use Black and White Ointment for comfort's sake. I did and got wonderful relief. I wouldn't be without it."

RED, IRRITATED ROUGH HANDS
Marion Harris, 2510 Chestnut, Kansas City, Mo.: "I am a dishwasher in a restaurant. The soap and water irritate my hands. They get red, rough and itch and sting a lot. Since I began using Black and White Ointment, the misery has been relieved. I enjoy my work better. I think it's a fine ointment, tell everybody about it."

"SCALY SKIN" DISCOMFORT
Lester H. Brownlee, 1811 Leland Ave., Evanston, Ill.: "I suffered for years with the itchy stingy misery of a scaly skin disease. It was called Psoriasis. Often it would itch and burn. I tried many skin helps. Finally I tried Black and White Ointment. It quickly relieved the misery and in a short while I was much more comfortable."

ITCHY HANDS
Marshall Leverett, 2921 Putnam St., Detroit, Mich.: "I work in a steel mill, acids and grease get on my hands making them red, stingy itchy. I used Black and White Ointment for relief. I was surprised how fast it eased the itching, burning and soreness. Can't say too much about your grand ointment. It helped me a lot. I won't be without it for fast relief."

ATHLETE'S FOOT—ITCHY TOES
George Hollingsworth, 2189 E. 36th St., Cleveland, Ohio: "My toes and soles of the feet broke out and itched and burned something awful. A friend of mine said it was athlete's foot I used Black and White Ointment. It sure relieved the itching, burning torment. Black and White Ointment is great. I can honestly recommend it to anyone suffering like I was. I keep a package at home all the time."

UGLY BUMPS (Blackheads)
Phyllis Emery, 6331 Eberhart Ave., Chicago, Ill.: "Ugly bumps (blackheads) on my face bothered me for a long time because their itching and smarting always annoyed me. A friend told me about Black and White Ointment. I tried it and sure got wonderful relief from the misery."

SIMPLE RINGWORM
Leonard Turner, 1471 Proescher St., Norfolk, Va.: "I suffered with an itching misery on my hand. It was a simple ringworm. I used Black and White Ointment and in just a short while the itching misery was relieved. It helped me so much that I will always be thankful. I'm strong for Black and White Ointment."

HICKIES (Blackheads, Pimples)
Aileen Franklin, 1216 U. St. N. W., Washington, D. C.: "I work as a waitress; my face broke out with ugly hickies. It embarrassed me terribly. The itching and smarting made me pick at them all the time. I tried many skin lotions and ointments. But none of them helped my misery like Black and White Ointment. The relief from the itching, stinging was wonderful. I only wish others could profit from your grand ointment like I have."

TETTER
Lillie Person, 1702 Chattanooga Pl., Dallas, Texas: "I suffered with itchy stingy discomfort when I had tetter. I tried Black and White Ointment. It sure helped relieve the itching, stinging smarting. Can't praise it enough for handy, helpful relief."
