Democrats rebuke both candidates

Byrd, McKeldin criticized for raising race issue in campaign

Following a four-hour caucus Wednesday night, Democratic leaders denounced the strategy of both gubernatorial candidates for "injecting the race issue in the current campaign."

At the conclusion of the meeting, Lloyal Randolph, speaking for the entire group of supporters of Dr. H. C. Byrd for governor issued the following statement:

"As an issue, both candidates are using race to the point of indecency. We feel that all American citizens are now ready for all the human and inherent rights as provided in our constitution and the Bill of Rights, regardless of race, creed or color.

"The cause of the little people and minority groups has been better furthered through the Democratic Party. The Republican Party has befuddled the masses by rewarding a ... few.

"We have done better under the Democrats, and advise our friends to vote for both the Democratic candidates."

THE MEETING, at the York Hotel, aired party group reactions to the above-quoted statement by Dr. Byrd favoring a segregated school system.

The conference during which this issue underwent heated discussion lasted from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m.

On Oct. 20, Dr. Byrd was quoted as telling a Rock Hill, Md., audience that, "We have lived in this state for generations under a system of separate but equal facilities. I believe it would be unwise to end that system immediately.

"That's my position and I want the people of the state to know just where I stand."

The Byrd supporters pointed out that Governor McKeldin made no better impression when he appeared in Rock Hill on Oct. 8. At that time, he was asked by a white woman argument worker, "What are you going to do about segregation?" His answer was quoted as follows:

"Segregation! You've got segregation in your county schools now. It's in the city (Baltimore) that there's no segregation.

"I'm the governor. I don't have anything to do with the schools in the city. That's for the mayor. I only have to do with county schools."

THE CONCLUSION of the Democratic statement declares that: "The incumbent governor is claiming to be the champion of the colored people's rights, has done nothing to further our civic, economic or civil interests."

On Saturday, Dr. Byrd will be in Baltimore County, starting his tour with a rally at Waldorf at 2 p.m., that night at Poppleton and Fairmont.

POLICE, HOWEVER, were not called to the scene until 2:45 a.m. it was testified. When they arrived they found Gable's body.

Defense attorney Michael P. Freedman argued that Gable could have met foul play after his fight with Bridges. Testimony showed the bout arose after Gable had asked Bridges to "get him a colored woman." Gable was a white man.

State witnesses said they saw a man running away from the scene, but were unable to give the title of the incident or identify the assailant.

IN DISPOSING of the case Judge Manley said, "It is hard to believe that a man would go for over a half hour in the street without the police knowing about it."

Democratic Women for McKeldin

Support Cole, but otherwise Dem. candidates

Some 250 Democratic Women are actively working for the re-election of Republican Governor McKeldin and the election of Harry A. Cole, 4th District Republican candidate for State Senate.

They are members of the Women's Democratic Campaign Committee of Maryland, headed by Mrs. Victorine Adams.

However, Mrs. Adams is quick to point out that they are still Democrats and have no intention of leaving that party. Mrs. Queenie Lane, is vice president and Mrs. Ruth Turner, secretary.

—o o o—

IN THE NOVEMBER election, they are otherwise supporting all Democratic candidates in the 4th and 5th Districts, with candidate for Congress in the 7th district; and Philip Goodman for State Senate in the 5th.

On election day, the women will man at least 30 precincts in the 4th District, but will work primarily in the 5th District where many of them have moved recently.

Also cooperating are the Mt. Winans Democratic Women, led by Mrs. Pauline Brooks; and representatives of the Cherry Hill Democratic Women.

THEY WILL ENTERTAIN at a campaign brunch at 10:45 a.m. Oct. 25 at Douglas C. C. Church in the Sunday School room, with Mrs. Blanch Day as chairman. There is no admission charge, but reservations must be made through the club.

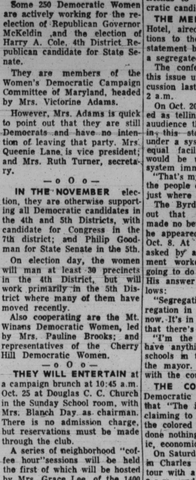
A series of neighborhood "coffee hour"sessions will be held the first of which will be hosted by Mrs. Grace Lee, of the 1400 block Argyle Ave. She is precinct captain.

Tentative plans also call for a cocktail hour set for Oct. 31.

ON A NON-PARTISAN basis, the committee is sending communications to teachers a d principals asking them to emphasize the importance of voting on their pupils, so they can urge their parents to vote. Support is also asked for the school and recreation loans.

"Vote Day" will be observed on Oct. 31, with committee members speaking in churches throughout the city. At that time, 4 ministers, will be asked to stress Christianity and good citizenship.

The women will also undertake pre-election canvassing in their neighborhoods to see that all potential voters are well informed.



National Bible Week

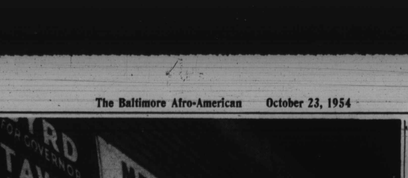
This is National Bible-Week.

Back in 1864, colored citizens in Baltimore presented a Bible to Abraham Lincoln as a gift. In thanking them for it he said:

"It is the best gift God has given to man. All the good the Saviour gave to the world was communicated through this book. But for it we would not know right from wrong. All things most desirable for man's welfare, here and hereafter, are to be found portrayed in it."

Throughout his life Lincoln never failed to find comfort in dark hours by reading the Good Book. We, too, in the confusion and doubt of today, can receive hope and reassurance from reading the Bible.

If you read your Bible regularly, look at it this week with renewed interest and appreciation. If you are not a regular reader, take time out to share the beauty and inspiration of the pages of Holy Writ.



AN OVERSIGHT?—With the Nov. 2 General Election only 10 days away, this primary sign still hangs in the 1500 Block Fulton Ave. Truly Hatchett, not Morton Pollack is the candidate for the House of Delegates with the others named here. Campaign officials at the Democratic Headquarters insist, however, that 11 new signs, carrying Mr. Hatchett's name now on display in Northwest Baltimore.

130 civic leaders pledge support to Harry A. Cole

One hundred thirty civic leaders last week pledged to support Harry A. Cole, 4th State Senator from the 4th Legislative District in the November election.

Dr. John C. Woodland, campaign chairman announced that of that' number, the following have endorsed Mr. Cole:

—o o o—

ALSO: Charles A. Dorsey, Dr. Miles W. Conner, the Rev. W. L. Clayton, Dr. John T. Camper, Dr. Charles F. Woodland, Mrs. Helen Woodland, Raymond V. Haysbert, Everett Lane, Lindwood Koger Sr., and Robert S. Watts.

Others include Emerson Cummings, Dr. J. Lloyd Nickens, Dr. D. O. Holmes, Dr. Marcus Wood, Christopher A. Scott, Mrs. Maude Woodland, Vivian T. Key, Charles E. Johnson and Sustan B. Bennett.

Also, Bishop Edgar Love, the Revs. Kelly Jackson, Daniel Ridenour, Levi Miller, Joshua O. Williams, John H. Peters, W. P. Mitchell, Marion C. Bascomb, Reginald C. Daniels, and Robert T. Nesbold.

—o o o—

OTHERS are the Rev. Arthur Payne, the Rev. Harrison J. Bryant, the Rev. Mrs. Emma P. Swann, David M. Pleasants, Silas Mack, Charles S. Harper, Albert A. Hammond Jr., Frank Williams, Jr., Samuel C. Carter, Howard L. Cornish, Olive St. Mary Jr., Reginald F. Lewis, Tyre and Ezra E. Williams.

Additional pledges were made by Mesdames Virgie Waters, Lettie Woodland, Julia Mitchell, Madie Mitchell, Ellen Bell and Mary E. Hawkins, Vivian Pendelton, Inez Redman, Ethel Day, Clara Harris, and Edna McKim.

Missing link frees man of murder rap

A missing link in a chain of events involving John R. Bridges, 800 block Fairmont Ave., saved the 21-year-old man from a conviction of manslaughter in Criminal Court, Wednesday.

Judge Michael J. Manley, acquitted Bridges, when evidence failed to account for the 45 minutes that the victim, Edward Gable, allegedly lay dead in the street July 17, before police were notified.

Bridges was accused of Gable's death when it was learned the two had engaged in a fight, at 2 a.m., that night at Poppleton and Fairmont.

—o o o—

POLICE, HOWEVER, were not called to the scene until 2:45 a.m. it was testified. When they arrived they found Gable's body.

Defense attorney Michael P. Freedman argued that Gable could have met foul play after his fight with Bridges. Testimony showed the bout arose after Gable had asked Bridges to "get him a colored woman." Gable was a white man.

State witnesses said they saw a man running away from the scene, but were unable to give the title of the incident or identify the assailant.

ADA to work for McKeldin

Governor McKeldin on Tuesday night received the endorsement of the Baltimore Chapter of Americans for Democratic Action and the organization voted to campaign for his re-election and work for him on the precinct level.

Second congressional District, recommended William P. Bolton.

3rd Congressional District, endorsed Edward A. Garmatz.

7th Congressional District, endorsed Samuel Friedel.

FOR STATE Senate it endorsed both Bernard Melnicove in the 4th Legislative District and Philip Goodman in the 5th District.

ADA also voted against the redistricting amendment and for all loans which will appear on the November 2 ballot.

Library series on poetry and drama

Beginning Oct. 27, and continuing monthly through April, 1955, the Pratt Library will conduct a new series of programs entitled, "Evenings with Drama and Poetry."

Richard Hart, head of the library's literature and language department, announced that the evening sessions will supplant the Pratt's "Afternoons with Poetry and Prose," for many years a bi-monthly fixture in the Poe Room.

UNDER THE NEW setup four dramatic readings are scheduled. These will be of the "lectern theatre" type growing steadily in popularity and using a minimum of costumes, settings and movement.

All will be produced by Alice Harwood Houstle, Baltimore actress and assistant director of the Johns Hopkins Playshop.

The first of the drama readings, "The Trojan Women" by Seneca, ancient Roman Stoic, will be presented Wednesday night at the Central Pratt Library.

VAGABOND — The club met last Tuesday at 2400 Pennsylvania Ave. with Mrs. Margaret Tyler, Plans were made for the sixth birthday supper to be held Nov. 8 at 428 Pulaski St. Charles Cockrell is president; Mrs Tyler financial secretary; Mrs Viola Cooper, treasurer; and Mrs. Bertha K. Lewis, founder.

POLITICS

Republican Viewpoint

By HARRY A. COLE

Those of you who have seen the many signs around the Districts will have noted that on many there appear the words: Democrats can Vote Republican.

—o o o—

THIS IS A statement which should bear much consideration because sometimes we can mar our future by following a straight party line. We very often end up voting for the wrong man.

Certainly if every Democrat was to follow this blindly he would end up voting for Dr Byrd instead of Gov. McKeldin; he would end up voting for Mr. Melnicove instead of voting for Harry A. Cole for the State Senate. To do these two things if no more would be disastrous for us as a minority group in the State of Maryland, and the City of Baltimore.

THE SMARTEST thing a Democrat could do in this election would be to vote for those persons who offer some constructive program for their future. I believe that Governor McKeldin offers such a program.

To vote for Melnicove instead of Harry A. Cole for the State Senate would be to deprive ourselves of the representation we need in the legislature.

The question is often asked what can one of our men do if he is elected. I answer that he can do anything which his opponent can do, and more.

The singular thing which he can do is point up the issues which affect the people not only in a section of the city but in the city as a whole. After all, only constructive ends are met when we have a qualified minority representation.

—o o o—

IN HAVING one of our own in the legislature, we shall have someone to whom we can feel free to bring our problems. We can have a champion of right and for all.

—o o o—

THIS IS not to suggest that a colored member of the legislature will represent only his own ethnic counterparts.

He must be broad enough in statue to represent the whole area from which he has been elected.

He must have a willing ear to all problems, irrespective of race, religion, or political party. His is a sacred duty to perform to the best interests of all the District.

The Democrat who has been a member of the legislature for 24 years has not done this. Perhaps this is so because of his the hand-picked candidate of Mr. Pollack—Fourth District political boss.

It is suggested further that we shall come into our own when we support Democratic strength, demonstrated by our ability to elect to public office.

—o o o—

WE STAND on the threshold of accomplishing that fact now by having formed in the Fourth District the Coalition Ticket a group made of men and women of different races, creeds, and political parties dedicated to constructive ends for which we might be elected to public office.

This is, indeed, the first sign of political maturity. We should respect the right of the people to vote for every member on this ticket. If we do this we shall destroy the evil that Pollack can't be whipped.

Pollack has been an obstacle to our progress for he seeks every means to thwart our efforts for success. We shall win this time because we believe in one another.

If we vote in unison we shall be successful in reelecting Governor McKeldin and his running mates and we shall take the first bold step forward for political maturity by voting for the Coalition Ticket.

Another Republican Viewpoint

By ARTHUR SMITH

The effrontery of the article in the AFRO of Oct. 16 by James H. Pollack, Democrat boss of the Fourth Legislative District, really leaves me gasping.

If the circumstances were not serious, his wordy statement would actually be funny.

In the first place, about the primary election signs: Until the end of September these signs continued to carry the name of Mr. Pollack's son, notwithstanding his being repudiated by the Democratic voters on June 28.

Mr. Truly Hatchett, who was preferred in his place, was entitled to immediately have his name substituted as the regular Democratic nominee.

—o o o—

INSTEAD, MR. Pollack, nursing his resentment at the voters did nothing whatever about it for more than three whole months, until the AFRO published a picture.

SECONDLY, answering Mr. Pollack's self-praise, he has been implored to serve as the head of a Democratic nomination for a Congressman, for the Legislature or City Council, from the Fourth Legislative District, which these days is equivalent to election.

He has steadfastly refused to comply with these reasonable requests; in fact, when a vacancy in the Legislature in the Fourth District occurred several years ago, who did Mr. Pollack cause to be appointed?

His own son, Morton, the same person repudiated in the June 28 Democratic primary in favor of Mr. Hatchett.

Mr. Pollack blithely ignored the many competent colored assemblymen and now has to find subordinates as apparently was the case at the University of Maryland.

I am alarmed for fear that these leaders will not, after all, be able to persuade him on issues directly affecting us. These leaders remind me that if they wins they will be in a position to persuade him. I wonder?

—o o o—

I HAVE been advised that an article I wrote sometime ago advocating support for either Harry A. Cole or Dr. Gilli, which ever would win, has been twisted and interpreted in a manner far out of line with my intention.

I said then and repeat now that we are in a dire need of representation that we must support overwhelmingly our colored candidates who are qualified.

—o o o—

I STRESSED that both of these men were qualified and that we should support the victor.

I know that we need representation in Annapolis. Who better than anyone else can plead our cause and be a watch dog for us in affecting us?

—o o o—

NOW IT is being said this is demagogic and that the race issue is being unfairly played up.

I only say that every since I can remember people have been saying we should get together and elect our own and there was no reason in the world but lack of unified support that prevented it.

That's what I urged then and urge now. If it is demagogic to urge support for the colored candidates, then I am demagogic and proud of it.

Democratic Viewpoint

By ROBERT B. WATTS

There seems to be prevailing a general attitude of apathy and indifference to the coming general election. Everyone is complaining that the public is not stirred up about November 2. This is not as it should be.

—o o o—

WE have always been accused of apathy and indifference with respect to attitude, about elections. It has been one of our shortcomings.

We could have elected colored candidates long ago if we had just come out to vote. Certainly, if the general public is going to be apathetic and indifferent, we can't afford to be.

—o o o—

WE HAVE several candidates running who need public enthusiasm and spirit to win. We have a Governor running for re-election who needs as many colored votes as possible to win.

We have a State's Attorney who is seeking re-election and is counting to a large measure on our vote.

—o o o—

WE MUST keep in mind that a strong vote from the precincts with a large colored vote would offset any past beliefs that we are not interested in voting.

We have an opportunity to come out in full force and prove that we are interested and intelligent voters.

—o o o—

I URGE every citizen to begin now to encourage vigorous voting in all areas. If we vote by overwhelming odds the victor we can point with pride to the large potential and powerful influence that we as a factor to be reckoned with.

We, least of all, can afford apathy and indifference.

—o o o—

IT IS now apparent that several Democratic leaders will be supporting Dr. Byrd for Governor. Watch your papers closely for what Dr. Byrd is saying and doing.

—o o o—

I AM alarmed by the accusations he is dictatorial and has an overbearing attitude to his subordinates as apparently was the case at the University of Maryland.

I am alarmed for fear that these leaders will not, after all, be able to persuade him on issues directly affecting us. These leaders remind me that if they wins they will be in a position to persuade him. I wonder?

—o o o—

I HAVE been advised that an article I wrote sometime ago advocating support for either Harry A. Cole or Dr. Gilli, which ever would win, has been twisted and interpreted in a manner far out of line with my intention.

Brownell to speak at Sherwood rally

Herbert Brownell, U.S. attorney general, will speak Monday, Oct. 25, at a rally for Arthur W. Sherwood, Republican candidate for Congress in the Fourth district.

The rally will be held at Biddie Hall, 1235 E. Biddle St. at 8 p.m. a film, "Will Rogers Goes to Congress" will be shown.

This will be followed by addresses by Mr. Sherwood and candidates for the State Legislature.

Mr. Brownell is expected to speak at 10 p.m. The master of ceremonies will be Mr. Cornelius P. Mundy. Refreshments will be served.

—Byrd forces in panic

Democrat, always a Democrat. And what would they gain by so doing?

Some suggested supporting the other Democratic candidate and leaving Dr. Byrd on the limb by himself. That wouldn't do, either. Governor McKeldin hardly needs help at this late date.

—o o o—

FINALLY, THEY agreed that the best strategy was a general the party-support statement in which they would denounce both gubernatorial candidates for "injecting the race issue in the campaign." But they were tired and haggard when it was over.

In an Eastern Shore speech on Oct. 4, Dr. Byrd recommended that "You will want members of the school board appointed who will be able to deal and act in accordance with the age - old customs and traditions that have been a part of our way of life."

Even this vague bit of defiance of the Supreme Court decision threw his supporters into a panic.

—o o o—

THEY TRIED then to swallow the pill by various defense mechanisms:

"It's just one of those political speeches." "He's just using political psychology." "I wouldn't want to criticize a person for something I'm not certain about."

"He's just biding his time, saying wait for the Supreme Court final decision." "He didn't mean that the way it sounded."

Maybe he didn't, so the AFRO sought a personal interview, and failing in that, submitted a list of questions asking Dr. Byrd to clarify both his statements and his position.

The written questions have not been answered, but his public statement this week left no doubt.

HIS SUPPORTERS point out that since Dr. Byrd's first bid for public office, he is inexperienced in making campaign speeches. He is undoubtedly talking without the benefit of his counselors and advisers, they say.

Personally, and off-the-record they admit that his statements are "unfortunate," but for the benefit of the party, he will take the situation in stride.

Not only has Dr. Byrd lost many colored voters, but he has also alienated the white citizen who, in the majority, applauds the effectiveness and rightness of Baltimore's integrated schools.

In the parlance of Pennsylvania Ave., as of that last anti-integration statement, he is now "a dead Byrd."

Hatchett and Cole backed by Kappas

The Baltimore alumni chapter of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity has shattered one of the oldest traditions in this city by publicly pledging its active support to the election of Harry A. Cole and Truly Hatchett to the State Senate and House of Delegates.

In addition to giving the two candidates its moral support, the Kappas say they will offer assistance as follows:

1. Vigorously encourage all Kappa men and their families and friends to vote for Cole and Hatchett if they live in the 4th Legislative District.

2. Place at the disposal of the two candidates a certain number of automobiles to help transport voters to the polls.

3. Recommend individual, voluntary financial contributions by members if a need is expressed by the candidates.

4. Carry out any other actions deemed appropriate by a special committee set up by the polemarch for that purpose.

SPOKESMEN FOR the fraternity stated that the chapter will still maintain its nonpartisan policy of not involving itself in ordinary political wrangles.

It was pointed out, however, that the issues involved in the November elections transcend the general policies previously adhered to by the organization.

Consensus of opinion in the fraternity seems to be that their action does not violate its spirit of integration.

Members said the chapter is not interested in electing colored candidates simply for the sake of electing colored candidates.

In announcing its support of Mr. Cole and Mr. Hatchett, the Kappa statement said the hope that their action would set off a chain reaction of grassroots support from other college fraternities and sororities and nonpartisan groups in the city.

"If the Democrats had listed all of these appointments, that would have been a good idea. It would have shown that McKeldin does not discriminate.

"But the fact that they are playing up only the colored appointees puts this thing in the class of an underhanded racebaiting political trick."

—o o o—

THE ISSUE is expected to come in for further discussion at various Republican rallies in colored communities as the Nov. 2 election date grows nearer.

The governor is expected to attend the mass meeting sponsored by the Baptist Ministers' Meeting on Oct. 31 at Shiloh Baptist Church, Lanvale St. and Fremont Ave. The ministers have approved a resolution endorsing McKeldin for re-election.

A non-partisan meeting, but with a Republican tinge, will be held on Oct. 28 at Enon Baptist Church. It will be sponsored by the American Council on Human Rights.

Guests will include Harry A Cole, Republican candidate for State Senate in the 4th District; and Truly Hatchett, Democratic candidate for House of Delegates in the 4th District.

—o o o—

GOVERNOR McKELDIN dedicated the Baltimore National Pike near Frederick, Md. on Oct. 21. His dedication address said in part:

Maryland is a small state and when we open to the public 12 miles of new dual highway, it is indeed an event of first magnitude.

"Maryland was once considered the pioneer state in the design of its state highway system. This year we have made a good start, under the 12-year program recommended by this administration and enacted by the 1953 Legislature, to regain that pre-eminance."

On October 22, he will be in Baltimore County all day and that night will return to Baltimore and make a talk on WBAL-TV at 7:30 p.m.

On Saturday, Oct. 23, Governor McKeldin will be in Wicomico County and a television appearance and a big rally in Salisbury that evening.

On Friday, Oct. 29, he will speak at a Fourth District rally. Before that rally, all Republican candidates will appear at a dinner meeting at the Hotel Belvedere and the Governor's talk there will be televised.

Send postcards backing Sherwood

Friends of Arthur W. Sherwood, Republican candidate for Congress in the Fourth District, have started a postcard campaign in the candidate's behalf.

The goal that has been set is for each card sender to ask at least 50 of his friends to support Sherwood,

John Berry, manager of the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Co., Linwood G. Rogers Sr., president of the Monumental Bar Association, and Dr. Robert L. Gill are among those who will take part in the "Cards for Sherwood" campaign.

Reception and dinner party spark presidential visit

By LULA JONES GARRETT

AND OF COURSE, the conferring of a doctor of laws degree upon His Excellency, William V. T. Tubman, president of Liberia, was one of those star-studded social events.

From the Edward P. Hurt Gymnasium, where the convocation took place, the scores of guests crossed the campus to Truth Hall, where they shook hands with the President, thence to Tubman Hall, where they partook of fancy sandwiches, cakes, punch, nuts, etc.

Two long tables, adorned with fall flowers, flanked each end of lovely Tubman lounge. Between were immense silver bowls holding the punch. And no spankier was the setting than those who filled the lounge.

—o o o—

FROM ST. JAMES' rector's wife, Mrs. Cedric Mills, in black failled princess coat dress, to Mrs. D. Arnett Frisby, in tweed and martins, twas something to see. Of course, there were the usual flow of minks . . . with Mesdames Ted Phifer, Henry Welcome, Maurice Adams, Joseph Thomas, George McDonald, all wearing smart numbers in the precious skins.

Mrs. Bernard Christmas Jr., chose a striking shrug jacket in dark rich beaver to top her equally smart gray suit. Dr. Regina Goff, who is always chic as chic, wore black taffeta, a mink cape. And Mrs. Clarence Monroe was as cute as a pixie in a peaked white hat of soft leather, atop a stark black coat.

Dr. and Mrs. Horace Small were in town from Denton, Md., for the event. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas King came from Annapolis, as did Mr. and Mrs. Richardson (Eloise) from that city. Miss Patricia Rodney (Delta) was in from Washington. But most delightful guest was Dr. Horace Bond of Lincoln University, who dropped in unexpectedly parked at the press table and kept conversation in a almost hilarious tenor.

—o o o—

MRS. MARTIN JENKINS, official hostess, wore a frock of charcoal, topped it with a touch of yellow wool, and a bewitching black hat, with leaves of brilliants forming the chaplet. Mrs. Carl Murphy selected blue brocaded taffeta for a smart matching hat in velvet. Both wore orchids.

—o o o—

A DINNER PARTY in the Refectory followed the reception. Great groupings of fall flowers decorated the dining hall, where the selected half-hundred dined on fruit cup, mackerel maitre d'hotel, chicken supreme, tiny whole potatoes, Julienne string beans, hearts of lettuce with Roquefort dressing, spiced whole peaches and apple pie with cheese.

In the party were 12 members of the Liberian party, including ambassador Clarence L. Simpson, of Washington.

The local citizens who dined with them are:

Dr. Eugene D. Byrd, president of Morgan's general alumni; Dr. John H. Fischer, superintendent of city schools; Fred Archibald, Dr. Lawrence Q. Jones, president Western Maryland College, Westminster, Dr. Houston R. Jackson.

Dr. Miles Connor, Dr. G. L. Harrison, Langston University, Oklahoma; Dr. Earl T. Hawkins, president, State Teachers College, Towson, the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Payne, John F. McDermott and Richard F. Kitterman, security officers;

ALSO,

Dr. and Mrs. Martin D. Jenkins, Dr. and Mrs. Carl J. Murphy, Dr. and Mrs. Carrington L. Davis, Richard W. Emerson, Dr. and Mrs. Bliss Forbush, L. Manuel Hendler, Dr. and Mrs. Josiah F. Henry Jr., and Mrs. Ivan E. McDougle, Dr. D. O. W. Holmes, Dean Lorenzo C. Grant, Edward N. Wilson.

—o o o—

Over 500 invited to the reception in Truth Hall are:

Mrs. Lucy B. Scholl, Messrs. and Mesdames Cornelius Gouge, Wendell Jones, John Hill Sewell, Charles Neal, Clarence Snowden, William Sheehan, Arthur W. Sherwood, Ralph Bunche, James J. Sills, Donald E. Six, Mrs. Ruth Bishop, Messrs. and Mesdames Lloyd D. Simpkins, Albert J. Silverman, Albert Shaw, Peter Thomson, Judge John T. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Carroll C. Speed, the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Hiram F. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. Horace H. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan L. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Sweeney, Judge and Mrs. Morris A. Sope, Dr. and Mrs. Benjamin Snowden, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis M. Smyth, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Soper, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Sopher, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sorrell.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnett Sprigg, Dr. G. Speers, Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Stapleton, Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Stanley, the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Stanley.
