'Jim Yellow' Talks

WASHINGTON

James M. (Jim Yellow) Roberts, in the language of the streets, is "singing like a canary" this week in the narctics conspiracy trial of suspended police Lieut H. H. Carper and Det. Sgt. William L. Taylor.

Roberts testified that he paid the pair between $18,000 and $20,000 for protection for his narcotics business in 1948 and 1949. He denied that he himself had ever used narcotics.

"Lieutenant Carper was my man," Roberts said he told former Det. Sgt. Llod Furr, now a private detective, when Furr, had raided one of Roberts' dope pads.

—o 0 o—

CHIEF DEFENSE counsel Myron K. Erlich hammered away at Roberts on cross-examination Wednesday and drew from him the admission that he had married his fourth wife, Mrs Judith Roberts, before he had obtained a divorce from his third wife, Evalina (Tinky), a blonde, now married to Charles H. Williams.

—o 0 o—

ROBERTS SAID he first came into contact with Lieut. Carper through a telephone call in November, he received from Lt. Carper shortly after Roberts had been released from Federal prison in Milan, Mich., where he had been serving 1-3½ years for possession of narcotics.

The call, Roberts testified, was initiated by John B. Frye, a drug peddler.

Roberts said he was skeptical, but went ahead and set up the working arrangement with Lieut. Carper on a $500 a month protection money basis.

—o 0 o—

ON cross-examination he said Lieut. Carper had threatened to have his parole from Milan revoked and send him back to prison.

He related how he went to New York City and obtained "on consignment" a shipment of narcotics worth $10,000 without paying any money at the time.

—o 0 o—

HE SAID he got the drugs from one Dominic (Iggy) Durko, who is now deceased. He met Durko's brother in prison in Milan and was told about him and given his New York address for use after his release.

"I had 200 ounces of 'cut'; 12 ounces of pure, and 12 of cocaine," Roberts said. The "cut" and "pure" referred to heroin.

He said he brought it here by train and later showed it to Lt. Carper. Then he began operating, Roberts said.

—o 0 o—

WHEN LT. CARPER nabbed "Bull" Leach with seven ounces of heroin, he called Carper and told him that Leach had just gotten the drugs from him (Roberts), and "give it back to him."

He testified that Lt. Carper said he would return the drugs to Leach, and did so.

—o 0 o—

THAT BIT of action cost him money, Robert testified.

He said Lt. Carper told him he had seen him give Leach the samples—of the drugs brought from New York City—and "since I was so smart he'd 'fine' me. I had about $280 on me and I gave him $270," Roberts said.

—o 0 o—

PAYMENTS OF $500 started in November; December was skipped, and resumed in January 1948, Roberts said. All payments were made on the first of the month.

But in June 1948, the payment went up to $1,000 a month, Roberts testified. At first he was receiving two shipments of drug

JUDGING OF this contest will each month under his protection plan, Roberts said, but then they began arriving every 10 days.

AS DURING the crime probe hearings, he told of how Lt. Carper went to the airport to pick up a $9,500 drug shipment from New York City, while things were "hot."

"I gave Lt. Carper $9,500 to pay for it. Mr. Carper paid the man and brought the narcotics back to me," Roberts testified. He said Lt. Carper handed him the drugs in the hallway of 744 Girard St., NW, where Robert was living.

—o 0 o—

ASKED BY Mr. Smithson if he knew Cora Mae Webb, LaVerne Dixon and Dorothy Gray, Roberts replied "yes."

"They worked for me," he said, adding that Miss Dixon worked at 707 First St., NW, where "she handled customers."

—o 0 o—

ROBERTS SAID Lt. Carper often warned him of federal agents or police informers who were working in the narcotics field, while Carper was head of the Narcotics Squad.

—o 0 o—

ASKED ABOUT Ann Simcoe, Roberts said she had been picked up "by a beat man," and placed under arrest.

"Mr. Carper said he'd take care of it the next morning," Roberts said, "and told me to bring $200 to headquarters."

"I took him the money and waited in his office while Lt. Carper went to court and took care of it," Roberts said.

THEN HE testified that Lt. Carper gave back to him (Roberts) two packages of narcotics which had been taken from Miss Simcoe.

He said Lt. Carper also gave Miss Simcoe $20 out of the $200 Roberts had given him—to help repair her clothing which had been ripped during her arrest.

—o 0 o—

ROBERTS REVEALED how he went to the Dunbar Hotel in September 1949 and tried to bribe Herbert Jack Scott, hotel detective, to let him enter a room where he knew a narcotics cache was hidden.

"I offered Scott $500 for the key to Jeffer' room," said Roberts, "but Scott put me off." The room was occupied by Jesse Jeffers, who was then in Atlantic City.

"I DIDN'T get the stuff," Roberts said, "Lieut. Carper called him and told him Scott had reported the bribe effort to him."

"I didn't go back to the hotel," Roberts testified. He said he was accompanied on his initial visit by Paul Gray, husband of Dorothy Gray. It was Mrs. Gray, he said, who revealed to him that the drugs were in Jeffers' room.

—o 0 o—

ROBERTS DETAILED the payoffs he said he made to Lt. Carper and Sgt. Taylor at various places in the city and at the Washington Golf and Country Club.

Payments were made at: 707 1st St., NW; on Wisconsin Ave., NW, near R St.; at 11th and Girard Sts., NW; Sherman Ave., and Girard St, NW, and other points which he remembered only vaguely, Roberts said.

ROBERTS SAID Sergeant Taylor tipped him off on "wrong guys." The two officers would show him photos of such persons, as well as police informers so he could warn his workers, Roberts said.

Each time they did so, however, he had to pay extra, Roberts testified.

—o 0 o—

NEAR THE end of his direct examination, Roberts created a stir in the courtroom, when he testified that Lt. Carper had tried to get him to "frame" Odessa Madre.

"Mr. Carper and me only argued once," Roberts said. "He wanted me to 'set Odessa Madre up,' and I wouldn't do it. They had had a disagreement and he wanted to arrest her," Roberts testified.

—o 0 o—

DETAILING HOW he came to the end of his reputed arrangement with Lt. Carper, Roberts said the lieutenant called him in October 1949, and told him to leave town.

"He told me the 'feds' had made a 'buy' on me, and for me to get out of town and stay a while, two or three years, and they would take care of things." Roberts said.

—o 0 o—

ROBERTS INDICATED that he began to doubt Lt. Carper, and said that since he was paying for protection, he expected Lt. Carper to give him what he was paying for.

After much thinking, he returned to the District and with his attorney, and a bondsman, he surrendered himself to Agent Thomas Andrews of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics.

He said Lt. Carper had wanted him to surrender to him (Carper) "to make it look good." This he refused to do, Roberts testified.

HE SAID he and Lt. Carper argued over why the officer "couldn't cover me since I had just paid him."

"He suggested that I meet him at 16th and Florida Ave., NW, and turn myself in to him. I didn't like that idea," Roberts said. It was after this that he gave himself up to Agent Andrews, Roberts said.

When Mr. Erlich began his cross-examination, he immediately opened up the subject of Roberts' being married to a white woman.

—o 0 o—

MR. ERLICH attacked the validity of Roberts' divorce by contending that Roberts was not a bona fide resident of Virginia, where the divorce was obtained.

Mr Erlich charged that Roberts swore in an affidavit that his white wife was colored. This was contained in a deposition taken in Virginia when Roberts began divorce proceedings against Evalina.

—o 0 o—

MR. ERLICH also introduced a certified copy of Mr. Roberts marriage certificate to Evalina, in which she was called a member of the colored race.

Roberts said he felt that Evalina's family was responsible for the failure of their marriage, not liking him becaue he was colored.

He said he "had a little cry" when Mrs. Roberts left him in New York City.

—o 0 o—

ROBERTS stoutly denied that he had ever been made any promises or offered anything by the U.S. Attorney's office in return for testifying against Lt. Carper and Sergeant Taylor.

"Nobody made me any promises," he said, when asked about former U.S. Atty. Charles M. Irelan, and his assistant, Thomas Wadden and Robert Ackerly.

Roberts insisted that he did not consider his alleged deals with Carper as bribery. "I was paying for protection," he said, "that's what it was to me."

—o 0 o—

THE TRIAL will resume today (Friday) before District Judge Edward A. Tamm, who recessed it yesterday for Yom Kippur, Jewish religious observance.

Roberts will still be on the stand and there is no indication how long it will take Mr. Erlich to finish his cross-examination.

WHEN THAT is done, the government will carry on a re-direct examination to rebut any points which it feels the defense might have scored during the cross-examination.

Waiting in the witness room to testify next is the blonde ex-Mrs. Roberts, "Tinky." She will be the next witness called by the government.

Ward winner of New York bout

NEW YORK — Flooring his opponent in the first minute of the opening round, Moses Ward, Detroit middleweight, went on from there to grab the unanimous decision over Billy Kilgore, of Miami Beach, at St. Nicholas Arena Monday night.

The former amateur champion dominated the action throughout, twice dropping his heavier opponent with rights to the jaw. Kilgore was down in the first and again in the second.

—o 0 o—

KILGORE, five - and - a-quarter pounds bigger at 165, took a severe thrashing the first four rounds and was well behind by the seventh. Beginning with the eighth, the Florida youngster showed signs of rallying and made things lively for his rival in the closing stages.

Referee Barney Felix tallied the bout 6-3-1 for Ward. Judges Bert Grant and Arthur Aidala gave Ward the nod by a margin of 7-3. The AFRO called 7-2-1.

FOR THE HONEYMOONERS —Lloyd Genus, right, local sales representative of P. Kings College comes from behind to tie Lincoln, 7-7

WILKES BARRE, Pa.—King's College came from behind in the last quarter and tied Lincoln University 7-7, in the season opener here Saturday night.

Lincoln struck early in the game when left halfback, Robert McCoy romped 32 yards off tackle in the first quarter for a touchdown. Joe Kinney, the Lions quarterback, added the extra point.

Several plays later, McCoy, fleet-footed back from Roxbury, Mass., broke loose and scampered 78 yards to paydirt only to have the play nullified on an offside penalty.

—o 0 o—

THE CHESTER County, Pa. team led until the final frame, when Koval hit Smith with a 20-yard aerial for a TD. The game was tied at seven all when Robbie made good his try for the extra point.

Late in the last period, the King's men drove deep into Lincoln's territory but the Lions stiffened and turned back the goalward thrust at their six-yard line.
