—Deliver babies

life into this world.

It was Dietz's turn to drive that day, so Lee was the attendant. "We had some difficulty at first" he said and couldn't deliver the baby.

"But on the way to the hospital I kept working while Dietz drove and finally I delivered the baby, cut the umbilical cord and got the after birth through."

Asked if he had been "nervous" Lee replied that he had been a "little shaky" through it all. That was a few short weeks ago. Today, Lee, already well on his way to becoming a veteran has delivered a total of ten babies and both he and Dietz smile as they say "Mother and child doing well, thank you." They have never lost a case.

—o O o—

THESE ARE only a few of the interesting things which the general public does not know about the life of an ambulance driver.

When you see the big, red 1952 Buick whizzing through the traffic on 3 call, you get the impression that it is traveling at a high rate of speed.

Actually, according to Lt. Harry L. Burgess one of the commanding officers at the 12th, it is traveling only about 30 miles an hour.

The ambulances are not permitted to violate traffic speed laws. In charge at the station is Capt. J. Howard Gress.

Each time Lee and his buddy take out old number 4, they must rub it off and clean it when they return. Then at intervals they must not only wash it down but also scrub underneath it.

The matter of firemen cutting the umbilical cord in delivering babies caused some controversy at first. Many held that no one but a doctor, should be allowed to do this.

The firefighters' record is so good, however, that the matter is no longer an issue and has become daily routine. Mr. Dietz alone has delivered some 4,000 babies. He has seven children of his own.

—o O o—

FEW PEOPLE know that firemen do not work on three eight hour shifts but rather have just two shifts. The first shift starts at 7 a.m. in the morning and goes until 5:30 in the afternoon.

Then another shift comes on at 5:30 p.m. and remains until 7:30 the next day making it an hour and a 14 hour shift for the day.

Mr. Lee is one of two colored firemen at the 12th company assigned to ambulances. The other is Charles J. Scott.

Mr. Lee lives with his family at 1663 Vincent Court in the Gilmor Homes.

CURIOUS ONLOOKERS—Part of the more than 1,000 people who gathered in the 900 block W. Lexington St., Wednesday watch as the body of Mrs. Mary Mae Saulter is removed to the city morgue. The 19-year-old mother of three children was found dead in her bedroom by a bill collector. Police believe that she may have been strangled to death.

building.

Mr. Sorrell said he had received assurances of police cooperation in driving the gangs away from the school, and that school officials were determined to support police in their moves against the gangs.

Five of the boys appearing in Northwestern were arrested Tuesday afternoon when they reportedly ignored police orders to stay away from the school.

Each was fined $15 and costs. They were listed on police records as: Joseph (Slinky) McCloud, 17, of the 1000 block Bruce St.

David Harris Jr., 16, of the 500 block Laurens St.

Sandell Howerton, 16, of the 1700 block Laurens St.

Melvin Swett, 17, of the 500 block W. Mosher St.

John Venie, 16, of the 500 block Bruit St.

OFFICER Ralph Perrett testified:

"About 10 a.m. while cruising in the vicinity of the school I spotted five boys sitting on the steps near the school. When the radio car pulled up they all ran but I recognized them. I saw three of them detied they had been anywhere in the vicinity of the school.

A SHORT TIME after the arrest of the first five, the same officer arrested two other youths whom he accused of throwing pebbles through a window into a classroom.

They were both fined $20 and costs. They were listed as:

Wesley Lewis, 17, of the 1700 block Druid Hill Ave.

Robert Minton, 17, of the 900 block Myrtle Ave.

"I saw the boys tossing something through a first floor window on the Baker St. side of the the officer said.

"I asked the teacher what came through the window and I was told that it was some type of small stone that had been thrown," Mr. Sorrell added.

According to a story given Mr. Sorrell last week, the school, formerly the home of Douglass High School, has been bothered with gangs of youths for some time and some pupils have been beaten and robbed of their lunch money.

Mr. Sorrell said that every effort was being made to keep these gangs away from the school and he had written to the police asking for a closer watch on the school area.

—Woman strangled

body of a 31-year-old woman was found wrapped in a blanket in the rear of a building two doors from her home in the 600 block W. Franklin St.

The woman has been identified as Mrs. Mabel Hines Rainey. Following discovery of the body, police launched a search for her husband, Louis, which was still in progress at press time.

Police said Mrs. Rainey had been choked to death with her own slip.

The two deaths were apparently unconnected, according to police.

Neighbors say the last time saw of Mrs. Saulter was around 3 a.m. Wednesday. At that time she was seen talking with a group of women in front of her home.

—o O o—

HER HUSBAND, Herman A. Saulter, is with the U. S. Army in Korea.

The three Saulter children, were found playing in the home when police arrived. One officer told a reporter it appeared that the children had not eaten since early Tuesday.

One child is six months old, the other two, and the third three years of age.

—o O o—

POLICE SAID that there were no signs of any disturbance in the four-room apartment.

The mother of the dead girl, Mrs. Juanita Gates of the 100 block Chestnut St., Turner Station, said: "I don't know what happened to my daughter."

Mrs. Bates, who works in a restaurant within one block of her daughter's home, said she was called to the apartment around 3 p.m. when a neighbor told her "something's wrong up there."

—o O o—

ASKED IF the man who discovered the body was a regular collector, she said "yes."

She stated that this was the day that her daughter was supposed to receive a government allotment check, and on which she paid her bills.

Over 1,000 persons jammed in to the block within 20 minutes after police started their investigation.

Three men and two women were seen entering the apartment. Police said all were being questioned.

Following an hour long examination by the coroner, the body of the dead woman was taken to the city morgue. The three children were taken home by Mrs. Bates.

A tentative coroner's report Friday morning revealed that Mrs. Saulter died from "injuries frequently associated with strangulation."

Although no final opinion has been made, it was reported that the young woman sustained a bruise on the top of her head, a blackened and swollen right eye, and bruises on the right shoulder and right cheek.

In addition a bruise was found inside her lower right lip, inside the right cheek, and small hemorrhages in the skin of her face.

The coroner's report revealed further that an attempt may have been made to smother the woman to death before she was strangled. Additional studies are still being made.

in on the city. While the rumor has persisted, there has been no confirmation from any source that could be called official.

—o O o—

THIS LATEST ATTEMPTED holdup of a Baltimore businessman came at 9:35 a.m. on Tuesday when two men rang the bell at the attractive home of the Whirleys. They were admitted by Mrs. Mary Whirley after they told her they were police officers and wanted to see her huband it was reported.

Mrs. Whirley admitted the men to the first floor living room and called her husband. She then went to the kitchen where she heard her husband scream as one of the men struck him on the side of the head with the barrell of a pistol, police said.

The men ran out of the rear kitchen door, jumped over the gate in the yard, ran east down an alley to Bentalou St., and north on Bentalou to Lanvale St., where they entered the Cadillac which sped away.

—o O o—

ONE OF THE white men was described as 35 years old, five feet five inches tall, 180 pounds, wearing a light gray suit. His companion was the same age, five feet seven inches tall, 200 pounds, wearing a dark blue suit.

A 33-year-old white man was picked up by police for questioning early Friday morning. No charges have been lodged.

Mr. Whirley suffered only minor bruises from the blow by the gunman and refused hospital treatment, police said.

A well known figure in Baltimore, Mr. Whirley is listed as the owner of the Club Ubangi in the 2200 block of Pennsylvania Ave.

Givens-Rawlings wedding set for end-of-the-month

...with Lulu Jones Garrett

Mr. and Mrs. William Rawlings (he's supervisor of adult education in city schools) announced, this week, the engagement of their daughter, Irma Elaine to Burnett Givens, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Givens.

The wedding will take place on the 30th, with a formal ceremony in Metropolitan Methodist Episcopal Church.

The bride-elect, a Hampton graduate, is a public health nurse.

Other weddings of the month include that of Joan Simmons and Donald G. Stevenson on the 23rd.

—o O o—

ELSEWHERE IN THE ROMANCE field, Mr. and Mrs. Weaver Dorsey of Payson St., marked the 25th anniversary of their marriage, last week.

Their flower-filled home was equally gift-filled when the evening was over.

To celebrate with them were: Messrs. and Mesdames Davis of East Orange, N.J., Leander Dorsey, Charles Booker, Maurice Henson, Samuel Watkins, Watson Dutton, Eugene Hughes, Leroy Davis;

Mesdames Mabel Augustus, Henrietta Lewis, Elizabeth Young, Catherine Randall, Pearl Redmond, Edgar Johnson, Mary D. Marrow, Maizie Colbert, Folly Jones.

Mesdames Eloise Jones, Mary B. Ashcraft, Misses Janice Marrow, Bessie Gray and Dukye Woode; Harry E. Dorsey, Edward H. Marshall and Alexander Malone.

WHAT WAS DOING on the home front, this weekend was a lot of high style showing while cocktail sipping.

Friday night, we took a sneak view of the fine fashions that Pauline Brooks showed at her smart shop at 2126 W. North Ave. She (Mrs. Brooks) had a chic batch of models to display all the feminine needs from tish coats, beautifully lined in the manner which makes for reverbable wearing, separates in melting color combination, sleek dresses and suits.

Showing them to advantage Friday night and at the fashion show Saturday were Mae Leonard, Ruth Bailey, Loretta Maith, Dorothy Reid, Marie Bowen, Marie Hawkins, Betty Scott and Gloria Baden, and Joan Simmons.

Doing the hats for the Brooks' shop is Nellie Sheridan. And these you must see!

Helen Edmonds, now with the organization, lent her grace to the cocktail scene and d'oeuvres bar. Maria Barber was narrator. We had fun. We learned a lot about how to dress smartly, too.

—o O o—

THERE WERE SCORES of folks at Charm Center the next evening (Saturday) for that fashion show and cocktail party, and to exhibit their fine line of fall and winter togs.

We sipped manhattans (or those of softer tastes—punch) a'd'over the fireside togs; drooled over the evening gowns; were practically floored by the suits and coats, (including entrancing rain togs) and went into rhapsodies over the frocks, both separates and one-piece.

Victorine Adams (owner) narrated . . . and those charming mannikins, as usual, modeled. They are Anna Ruth Dunston, Phyllis Allen, Imagene Martin and Otelia Bullock.

In the meantime . . . behind the scenes, someone was jugging admit cards . . . came up with three door prize winners, including Mrs. Mary Hawkins (whose gift was a snarky hat!) first; Mrs. Louise Gambrill, second; and Miss Carol Harpbert, third.

—o O o—

THE "WE MOMS" this week planned a November dance. Them they heard Miss Helen Abreu, chief attorney of the Philippines, who spoke of her travels for the government of Manilla.

Miss Abreu has been house guest of Mrs. Lawrence Jones during her stay in Baltimore.

Attending the session were Kathleen Newsome, Thelma Neonta Corbin, Marian Ampney, Anna Smith, Jeannette Johnson, Thompson, Mae Cornish, Thelma Ruffin, Leanna Terrell, A. Vivnessa Porter and Margaret Wilkins.

LIST, TOO, AMONG CLUB doings, the meeting of the Bavliedis and the induction of four new members.

The latter are Mrs. Carrie Staten, Mrs. Ann Evans, Mrs. Lorene Smith and Mrs. Catherine Sedwick.

Audrey Pinderhuges, president for this year, welcomed the new members. They heard the constitution read by Vera B. Flint and the history of the club and a display of the club's scrap book by Irene Thomas.

Then came a buffett supper and cards, with Doris Wallace tallying the score to award prizes to Lorene Smith, Elsie Scott and Irene Thomas.

Members about also included Betty Johnston, Ruth Tonkins, Dazee Rawlings and Hazel Givens.

THE BALTIMORE CHAPTER of Howard University Alumni Association held its opening meeting at Mount Lebanon Baptist Church on Friday.

Present at the meeting were: The Rev. Oliver St. Clair Franklin, Edgar D. Draper, Dr. Donald G. Brandon, Robert Earle Anderson, Linwood G. Koger Sr., Mrs. Eunice R. Brooks, A. B. Koger, Dr. B. J. Sanders Jr., Miss Gwendolyn Iddle, Roy S. Bond, Mrs. Lillian Rustin, Miss Ethel E. Wise;

Miss Elizabeth J. Johnson, Mrs. Esther Wyly Bailey, Miss Anne E. Calhoun, Mrs. Gladys Fitzgerald, John C. Hagan, Mrs. Yvette D. Murphy, Emery E. Cole, the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Hiram E. Smith, Josiah N. Henry, Jr.; Mrs. Mary Clayton Frazier, Miss E. Louise Anderson, Mrs. Thelma C. Ashe, Mrs. Lilla M. Barnum, Dr. Isaac Young and the Rev. W. Lundsal Pitts.

After a business meeting, the ministers of this city who are graduates of Howard University served a delicious repast.

The next meeting of the chapter will be held at 1036 N. Bentalou Street on November 4. The meeting date was changed from the first Friday in the month to the first Thursday for the month of November due to the fact that many of the Bethunemoreans will attend the Howard Women's Conference and Dinner to be held on Howard University Campus the first Friday, and teachers in Baltimore who are graduates of Howard University will be host for the November meeting.

THE CREOLES had the smoothest dance, of Saturday night.

They are that good - looking bunch of gals that include Rosita Uncles, Alease Jones, Catherine Young, Margaret Mercer, Margaret Durham, Peggy Berry, Jerry Smith, Willie Valentine and Mamie Burke looked especially pretty, Saturday night in their white and pastel evening frocks, with corsages of red roses, green-ferned at the low front decolletes.

Well, anyway, they tucked a lovely fountain in the center of Odd Fellows Hall — added silhouettes to the walls and filled an end table with a flowing punch bowl.

Gil Monroe (whose orchestra provided the music) left the dais, took to the floor to direct the Bunny Hop, Balling-the-Jack and the Hokey Pokey.

In fact, the girls and their guest simply had themselves a ball.

—o O o—

AND SPEAKING OF HAVING A BALL . . . count not out that birthday party that snarked the natal date of Helen Glover, Monday night.

'Twas close and colorful, with the guests insuring gaiety since they included:

Capt. Phillips of Washington, Dr. and Mrs. Albert LaForest, Ellsworth Rhetta, Dr. and Mrs. H. Garland Chissell.

Messrs. and Mesdames Hughes Carter, Walter Edmonds, Harold Jennifer, Box Harris, Tillie Pair, Reginald Young and Dorothy Crannum, Helen's cousin form New York.

And the fun went on, next night, when Robbie Chissell entertained for Miss Crannum at the same type of party.

WHEN ELLSWORTH RHETTA entertained the Echoes, Tuesday night, she initiated a fad.

Drawing straws to "do this with the hostess," inspired curiosity that preceded Vivian Pendleton's opening the package, to discover one of the new feminine pipes. Now all the Echoes will be smoking pipes . . . as soon as they can get to a store!

'Tis a bridge club, and this week's winners were. Cleota Brayboy, who took first prize; Jimmy LaForest, second; and Shirley Kyle, the booby.

Also playing were Jean Cummings, Minna Ann West, Wilhelmina Garner, Robbie Chissell, Kay Carter, Ivy Harris and Miriam Brown.

MR. AND MRS. HOWARD U. JOHNSON were married in Baltimore, recently. The bride is the former Miss Tillatha Whitlock.

Miss Tillatha Whitlock, Howard Johnson married

Miss Tillatha Whitlock, daughter of Mrs. Henrey Miller, was married to Howard U. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Marks of this city, on Sunday, at the Pennsylvania Ave. AME Zion Church.

The wedding was attended by over 400 guests and members of the congregation.

Officiating at the double-ring ceremony were the Rev. G. M. Edwards, pastor, and Bishop Raymond L. Jones of the Seventh Episcopal Area.

Soloists were Mrs. Helen Bailey, the Rev. James Wooten and Clyde Graham, Jerome Barefoot was at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Louis McIntosh, wore a floor-length gown of white imported Belgium lace and nylon tulle ruffles with applica of iridescent sequins and pearls over satin, and a chapel train.

Her elbow length veil of imported French illusion fell from an exact replica of Queen Elizabeth's crown and she carried a prayer book and a white purple throated orchid with garlands of white delphinium.

The maid of honor, Miss Rosemary Johnson of Orangeburg, S.C. wore a floor-length gown of gold nylon net with ruffles over taffeta, which complemented the bride's gown and a matching hat. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums, rosebuds and orchids.

The other attendants were Misses Beulah Owens, Delphine Patterson, Ethel Digges and Saretha Davis. They wore gowns and hats of the same style in fall colors of shrimp and turquoise and carried cascade bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums and rosebuds.

The best man was John Cade of Harrisburg, Pa. uncle of the bridegroom.

Ushers were William Ross, Joseph Wilson, Edwin Kess and Leslie Hull.

Phyllis Ann Cade was flower-girl, and John Cade Jr., was ring bearer.

Among out-of-town guests were:

Miss Mabel Graham, Charleston, S.C.; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Richardson and daughter, Wendy, New York City; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Johnson, Mrs. Annie B. Gravis and daughters, Marcia Ann and Rosemary; Mrs. Willie Whitehurst, Newark, N.J.;

Mrs. Minnie Wright, Rozelle, N.J.; Mr. and Mrs. Carthel Wright, Linden, N.J.; Mr. and Mrs. John Marks and son, Edward, Mrs. Ernest Newby and Mrs. Lelia Rose, Newport News, Va.; Mrs. Bessie Cade, George Skinner and Mrs. Mitzi Skinner and Miss Mitzi Fulton, Harrisburg, Pa.; Mrs. Mitchell Moss and Mrs. Cookie Garrett, Washington, D.C.

A reception followed the ceremony. Following a short honeymoon the couple is residing at 803 N. Fremont Ave.
