Miss Appye Hurt, Odis Morse wed in pre-Christmas ritual

...with Lulu Jones Garrett

Miss Appye Hurt, of the faculty of the Bates High School, Annapolis, became the bride of Odis Morse, technician at Johns Hopkins Hospital, in the Me-De-So Club, here, Saturday afternoon.

The bride wore pink.

The most magnificent pale pink lace frock, made with a long torso top (long sleeves) and exceptionally full skirt, the torso marked with a soft satin fold that ended in a huge bow at the back. Her vanity were of pink satin, and her headwear a half-hat, whose ties at the back ended in a rose and rosebud. She carried a large nosegay of purple-throated orchids.

Miss Hurt was attended by Mrs. Elsie Alstork of New Haven, Conn., as matron of honor, and Miss Addie Bowles, Wallace Davis of New York, David Glenn, Harold Burke, Jr., Miss Anne Curry, Brooklyn, Dr. and Mrs. George Brown.

Also Mrs. Ruth Scott, Ivan Queen, Hainor Hurt, bother of the bride; Mrs. Mabel Hancock, Mrs. Mary Lee Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cragway, Mr. and Mrs. Leader Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Talmadge Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Brown.

Mrs. Love Keyes, Eliot Roberts, John Weatherford, Annapolis; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jackson, Annapolis; Dr. Frederick Jackson; Mrs. Mark Patterson, Mrs. Susie Clark, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Campbell.

Miss Verdeen Washington, Miss Geraldine Baylor, Miss Juanita Holsey, Mrs. Carol Diggs, and Gordon Jackson.

TOWN CLUBS leveled their year off with a flock of lovely parties, this week.

The Baltimore Chapter of the Gay Northeasterners had a beautiful Christmas party in Officers Club at Fort George Meade on Friday night, where the official host was Major Raymond. Diggs, now stationed there.

He's the husband of Gay Northeasterner Carol Diggs.

The girls donned their prettiest party frocks, invited their "sisters" from Washington, their friends . . . garnered a lot of gifts to be distributed from a beautiful tree.

From the capital came Catherine and Granville Hurley, Grace and Joe Drew, Ruth and Harold Whitted, Harriet Dremond, Genevieve Burke, Lenore Drew, Helen and Ernest Amos, Frankie and Milford Dean, Frank Lucas, Leon Langhorne Ted Green.

Baltimore Gays and guest included:

Corrine and John Procope, Rinda and Bradshaw Higgins, Verda and Henry Welcome, Bernice and Clarence Monroe, Connie and Houston Jackson, Dukye Woode, Kitty and Everette Lane.

Also Beth Walker, Dottie and Hugh Price Hughes, Sonora and Ralph Reckling, Jeanette and Bernard Christmas, Edna O. Gray, Elizabeth and Martin Jenkins, Waltye and Maurice Dokes, Mae Allen, the Diggses, George Barbour, Linwood Rose, Elsie Malone, Helen and Dudley Lee, Ruth and Renold Lightston.

THE FORMAL yule party of the Maritae Club, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Rich, Saturday night, was strictly a feat affair.

Added to the evening gowns and furs were delightful little Christmas corsages and boutonnieres. Dr. and Mrs. J. Douglas Phillips of Harrisburg were the only "outside" guests.

Maritaes and their husbands about were Etta and Ted Phifer, Marie and Charles Hicks of Frederick, Md., Yvette and Jimmy Murphy, Mae and Fred Adams, Catherine and Maurice Adams, Helen and Al Burwell, Beatrice and Hiram Butler and Ethel and John.

THE NORTHWEST CHILD STUDY club finished business early and turned their last meeting into a Christmas Party.

Ellen Johns and Vyra Skinner were hostesses. Members exchanged gifts and brought along an extra gift, each, for inmates at the Home for Aged.

Later in the evening a festive supper was served.

About were:

Florella Clark, Iona Collins, Courtney Valentine, Gladyce Bradley Jones, Alice Payne, Ruperta Waters, Margaret Davis, Marian Myers, Anita Myers, Jimmie La Forest and Anethia Williams.

A HOLIDAY TREAT for the town's kiddies is the second annual Christmas party sponsored by the PSMJW's scheduled for 12 noon the day after Christmas (Monday) at Morgan State College Refectory.

The hosts and hostesses are 14 children of the five Carl Murphy daughters and their husbands. It started as a family project when they looked around and discovered that among them they had so many young 'uns between the ages of 1 and 10.

They are:

MRS. JAMES B. NEWTON who became a bride in Baltimore, recently, is the former Miss Consuella Cox.

Sadie and Armstead Jenkins slidet her down the stairs...she all tears and smiles. About to shower her with gifts for the expected baby were:

The Lester Wallaces, Harry Gaius, Marsden Rawlings, Harold Scotts, Armstead Jenkinses, Mary Adams and William Daniels.

That was Saturday. On Monday the Danielses' baby arrived. They have named him Dan Burley Daniels.

Added to the surprise of Saturday evening was the announcement of Marsden and Anabel Rawlings that they expect an event in the early summer.

ADD TO COLORFUL Showers that given by the WNM's for the William (Boo) Harrises' baby, a Friday ago.

Boo and Iby have the cutest little chick in te counties . . . acquire via adoption...whose name is Barbara, but who has already christened herself "Babo".

Plying her with gifts were Eleanor Bracy, Shirley Kyle and Ema Michael, guests of the club; and club members Bernadine Cleota Brayboy, Wilhelmina Garner, Jimmy LaForest, Ella-beth Rhetta, Gwendolyn Carter, Niki Randolph, Louise Robinson and Robbie Chissell, in whose home the party was held.

POT-POURRI: had been speculating no end on the whether or not the Vesses Hurds of Frederick had outfifted-natch, because Mrs. Bourne has been at the domicile of her father, here since Thanksgiving....But when Dr. Bourne's Christmas cards to intimates were delivered this week with the greeting from the physician alone that, they thought, put the addition sign to the gossip...making two and two equal four.

But Senator Harry Cole and his newly acquired home still had them baffled-ed . . . as to whether he would add a Christmas bride to the decorating job.

Speaking of Christmas cards, the Willie Adamses', are bearing both a greeting and invitation to open house on a designated evening.

Come Feb. 5, the Cardigans will hostess a gala cocktail party at Capri 3, North Avenue. They hope to garner funds ($1.25 per) to give substantial aid to the Association for the Blind.

The group includes Jimmy Clay, Willie Cade, Elizabeth Butler, Vera Fry, Gertrude Mosby, Bernice Hall, Dorothy Johnston, Bernice White, Mary Stanley, Margaret Peel, Ruth Tonkins, Mary Williams and Gloria Sims.

Incidentally, it seems that Dr. Thelma Bands, dean of women at Morgan State College, may view her hotly from a hospital bed. She has been in John Hopkins, since Tuesday.

Doris Oswell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Oswell, a sophomore at Wilson College will cut short her holiday vacation here to attend, as a delegate, the Ecumenical Student Conference on Christian World Missions, to be held at Ohio University in Athens, Ohio.

Army Specialist Second Class Marry Woodson, daughter of Mrs. Gertrude Woodson, arrived in Baltimore by plane, last weekend from her station in San Francisco, Calif., to spend an 18 - day Christmas leave with her family.

For the past year Specialist Woodson has been assigned on the clerical staff of the Post Dispensary at the Presidio of San Francisco. As a member of Company "D", Station Complement, she lives on one of the Army's most beautiful and historic posts, presently headquarters for the 8-state Sixth Army.

'First Run' Films of The Week in Review

NEW SCREEN PROSPECTS SEEN IN HARLEM FILM

Devotees of spine-tingling film melodrama will receive a king-size bonus at the Harlem theater with the screening of Universal-International's, "Running Wild."

The new screen offering showcases three bright new screen star prospects, William Campbell Mamie Van Doren and Kathleen Case, in co-starring assignments with recognized comedy star Keenan Wynn, who tackles an offbeat characterization in his first freelance role since 1942.

Wynn is seen as the ex-convict and ex-gangsterpal behind a gang of youthful automobile thieves who, by accident, also deal in various forms of mayhem.

Young William Campbell, recently seen in "Man Without a Star" and "The High and the Mighty," tackles his most exciting assignment to date as a young police officer who is called upon by his superiors to pose as a nineteen-year-old hoodlum, join the nefarious gang and bring about the downfall of its leader.

A thread of romance is woven into the melodrama when Campbell falls in love with Kathleen Case, the latter a virtual captive of gang leader Keenan Wynn.

RECENT FEATURE STARS JENNIFER JONES, BOB STACK

"Good Morning, Miss Dove,"

Frances Gray Patton's popular novel about a stern schoolmarm in a small New England town, who influenced the lives of a generation of the townspeople, has been translated into a heart-warming motion picture by Twentieth Century-Fox.

Jennifer Jones stars in the title role with Robert Stack as her co-star in this CinemaScope Delux color production which is now playing at the Regent Theatre.

Producer Samuel G. Engle, Henry Koster, director, and Eleanore Griffin, scenarist, the same trio that recently collaborated on "A Man Called Peter," combined their talents on "Good Morning Miss Dove" and managed to capture a similar appeal in this new screen masterpiece by blending romance, comedy and human emotion into a dramatic structure with strong human interest.

There are smiles and tears aplenty in this screen adaptation of the "Miss Dove" stories that have appeared in magazines at intervals during the last 12 years.

The life of Miss Dove, who kept her own passions and compassionate nature hidden under the rather severe exterior she believed necessary for the proper instruction of her pupils, motivated the deeply-moving screen story with a tender sympathy.

SCOTT BRADY SEEN IN NEW ALBERT SHOW

ZANE GREY'S immortal classic, "The Vanishing American," is now playing at the New Albert Theatre.

Starring Scott Brady, Audrey Totter, Forrest Tucker and Gene Lockhart, this is exciting and dramatic entertainment.

It is the story of a vanishing race, the Navajo Indian, which at one time neared extinction, but at present is the strongest and most populous Indian tribe in North America.

It is also the story of a courageous man and woman who found love in the midst of a proud race's final gallant fight for survival.

DRAMATIC STORY

Action roars into high gear from the opening scene when Audrey Totter arrives in New Mexico to claim inherited ranch land and runs smack into Scott Brady, a young Navajo who has been decorated for valor in Philippine action in the Spanish-American war.

It's a bad beginning for the fiery girl and the Indian, who is hostile to all whites, due to the brutal land-grabbing activities of Forrest Tucker, who is in charge of the trading post adjoining the Indian agency.
