Baltimore And All That Jazz

By ARCHIE MANGRAM

John Birks Gillespie, better known as 'Dizzy' Gillespie, was in town last Sunday at the Famous Ballroom. And of course by now you should know that the Left Bank Jazz Society was the culprit responsible for his appearance here.

Diz is one of jazzdoms top enterainers. His shows usually transcend his trumpet virtuosity. He clowns, he signs, and most of all he plays jazz and plays it very, very well.

Dizzy brought a quintet last Sunday to the Famous Ballroom. And although it was slightly different, as far as the personnel were concerned, from an early group that he brought here this Quintet swung Inded!

Still on piano was the pale-faced 'soul brother; Mike Longo. Mike is one heck (you know what I really wanted to say) of a pianist. He has that 'funky' approach that has earned him the above title

His pianistic skills were very much in evidence all through the concert, from backing up Dizzy and the guitarist during their solos, to journeying on some fantastic improvised excursions of his own.

• • •

In addition to Diz and Mik our old friend, George Davis, again brought his soulful guitar talong. George's guitar musings range from the ultra-sweet to the downright dirty (as in dirty blues).

A couple of new additions to the quintet were Andv and Jerry Gonzales, on Bass and Conga Drums, respectively. Before you ask, yes, they are brothers.

Andy is a bearded bass player who gets his message across artfully and tastefully. Jerry's Conga drumming (or should it be Conga-ing?)is something else. It has to be as he is Dizzy's only percussionist.

The concert was too much to put it midly, and was thoroughly enjoyed by a near-capacity audience at the Famous Ballroom.

Next week, Woody Herman will bring his latest 'Herd' to town. This one will be a benefit concert for Project Survival. So, in addition to hearing one of America's premier Big Bands play jazz, you can help a very worthy cause by your attendence. The LBJS are the sponsors.

Come on out and dig Woody and help Project Survival, I'll be looking for you!

The Royal Roost has a new group now playing for your musical enjoyment: The Fuzzy Kane Trio. I have written about the these groups before, so I'll just say that words can't really describe their unique sound. You just will have to listen to this group.

Speaking of Fuzzy Kane. I was listening to WSID (1010) this afternoon and caught a live interview between Jimmie Miller, that Jazz Lab Jockey that specializes in 'cooking' on Saturdays, and Ernie Andrews is one of Baltimore's most exciting vocalists at the present time.

He has a new record release of Simon and Garfunkels, "Bridge Over Troubled Waters." You must hear his rendition of this poignant composition. I do not know what label it's on but the fellows at WSID can tell you. Ernie is backed on the record by the Fuzzy Kane Trio.

They are still holding Sessions at the James Brown Motor Inn and at Lennie Moore's Club 24, and they are still as swinging as ever!

Parents Liable For Their Kids

DETROIT — Two suburbs last week voted to force parents to find out and care what their children are doing by passing ordinances making them liable for the ill adventures of their offspring.

The governing bodies of West Bloomfield Township and Troy — both swank suburbs — voted unanimously to make the parents liable to a maximum $500 fine and/or 90 days in jail for the sins of their sons and daughters.

Black Lawyers Hit Kunstler

NEW ORLEANS — The Louis A. Martinet Black Lawyers Association last week came out in support of Judge Israel M. Augustine in light of recent comments by attorney William Kunstler which questioned the judge's integrity competency.

The association's resolution said "Mr. Kunstler's brief and fleeting meeting with Judge Augustine several years ago renders him totally incompetent to comment on Judge Augustine's integrity, ability and impartiality in the administration of justice.

"Malicious, unwarranted, unprovoked and unfounded statements by visitors to our community such as Mr. Kunstler do a disserviece and create divisiveness in our community and cause unwarranted disrespect for public officials.

Court To Rule On GI Transfer

DETROIT — The federal district court, in an unprecedented move, ruled the "military is not totally immune from court review of its actions" when it decided to hear the case of SP/4 Jerry Brown who refused to report to Ft. Jackson, S.C.

Brown, a medical examiner giving preinduction physicals at the Fort Wayne Induction Station, reported to the press the slipshod methods used in the induction process.

It is his claim that he was ordered to report to Ft. Jackson because of that interview.

Judge Stephen Roth's decision read, "Where the chronology of events could lead one to believe that the action taken by the Army was for reasons other than military need of the exigiences of national defense (e.g., for punitive reasons), and this by design or effect punished a serviceman for exercising his constitutional rights, it is subject to court review."

Whites Leaving La. Schools

BATON ROUGE, La. — A spot check last week of public school systems showed a loss of 25,083 white students in 24 of the state's 66 districts. The state board of education said the survey also showed 10 school districts with 48,736 black students attending formerly all-white schools. The same 10 districts had 2,225 black students in white schools five years ago.

Youth Sues Chicago Police

CHICAGO — James Alexander, a 16-year-old youth who suffered permanent injuries from a policeman's bullet in the back last October, has filed a lawsuit against the city of Chicago and the policeman for $1,050,000.

According to reports from Officer Robert Jefferies, he was chasing a prowler through the alley behind Alexander's home. The boy's dog mistook the officer for a prowler and attacked him. In the confusion Alexander was shot.

At the time of the accident, Jefferies said, "I wish very much that I could undo the mistake made in the shooting of young James Alexander.

WHAT'S A MISSION?

Ask a man on the street about a mission or a missionary and you may get vague answers about soup kitchens and Skid Row or hymn-singing natives on some faraway island.

But missions have changed a good deal in recent years as have many other patterns in our daily lives. The United Church Board for Homeland Ministries concerns itself with overcrowded schools, with greater leisure, with narcotics addiction, with racial justice, with better colleges, with newer art forms, with migrant labor.

Perhaps your ideas of the church in your neighborhood are as outdated as your ideas of missions. Why not drop in and speak to someone? No need to take a pledge, or join up. Just come in. Then come again. We think you'll like us.

Look in the yellow pages for the United Church of Christ congregation nearest you.

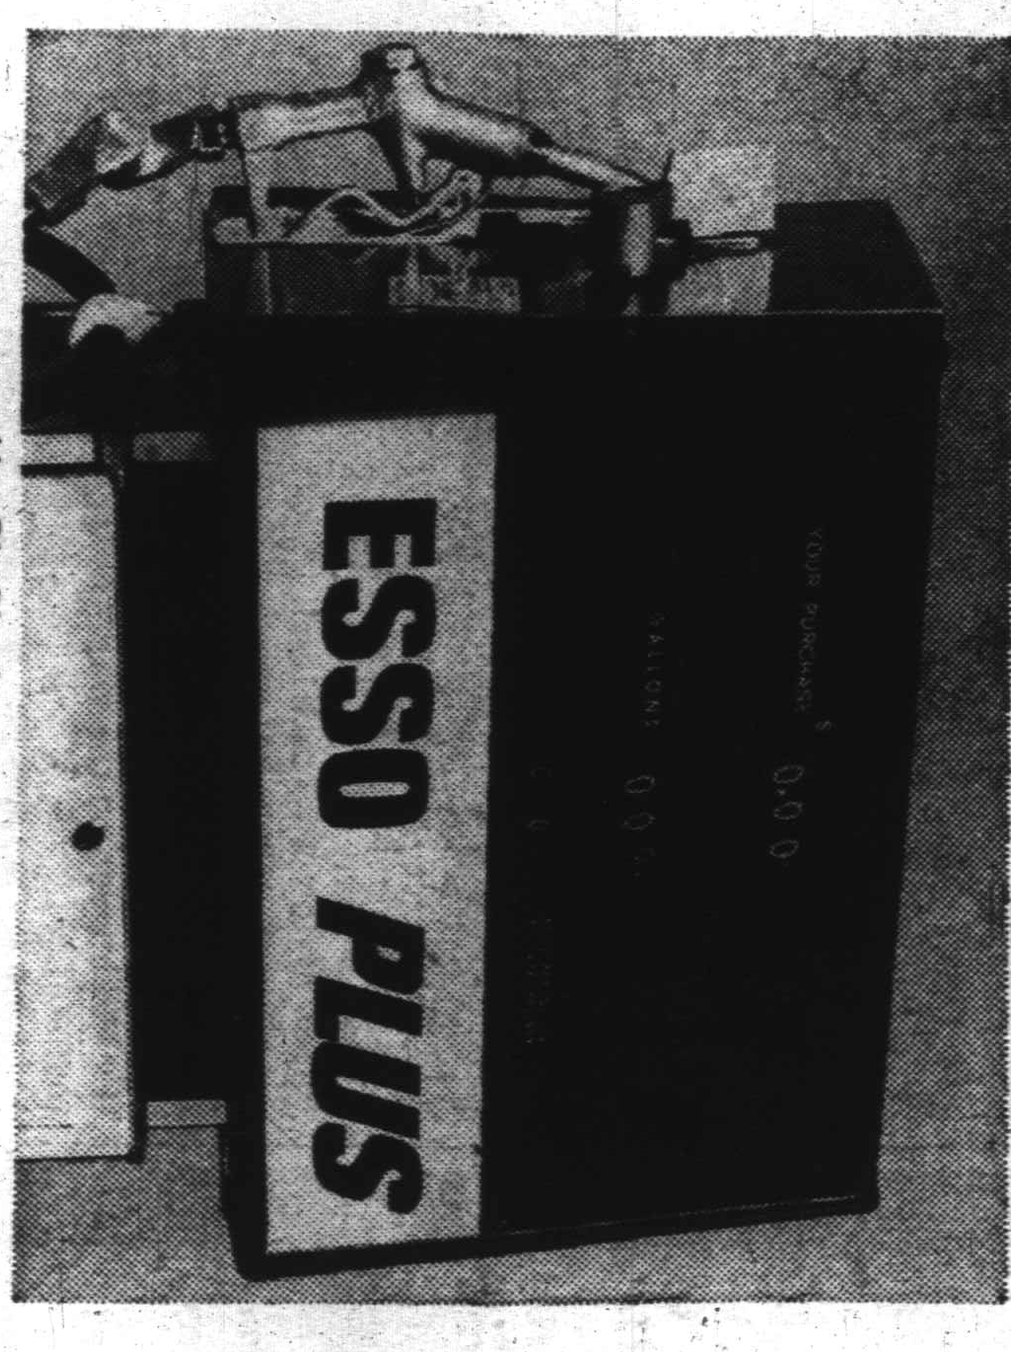
There are two ways to clean up at Esso stations.



Use Big Plus for cleaner air.
It's the lowest-lead, highest-octane gasoline for the money, anywhere.

One of them is free.

3 utility bags free with a gasoline fill-up, 8-gallon minimum.

New Big Plus helps your car run clean. To give you better mileage. And to help clean up the air.

That's because we took most of the lead out, and doubled the engine-cleaning detergent.

New Big Plus keeps performance smooth, too.

Because we've kept the octane high.

Yet new Big Plus is priced below most major premiums, leaded or unleaded.

Start cleaning up now with Big Plus, and with this special free offer from participating stations.

Right now you can get a package of 3 plastic utility bags with every fill-up, 8-gallon minimum.

Each bag is the large 26-gallon size and has a flower-print decoration.

Great for lining garbage cans. Great for yard use.

Free utility bags. They're a beautiful way to help keep your city clean.

Get them where you see the "Free Utility Bags" sign at participating Esso stations.

It's where you and your car clean up.

UN Headquarters Move Set

UNITED NATIONS — Libyan delegate Mansur Rashid Kikhia said last week it might be best to move the U.N. World Headquarters out of New York where representatives work in "an atmosphere of a fortress encircled by police and security agents."

Kikhia, undersecretary of the Libyan Ministry of Unity and Foreign Affairs, told the 25th anniversary commemorative session of the general assembly it was distressing to see it meeting in such a climate.

The Libyan delegate referred to threatening letters sent to Arab delegations and recent bombings of the Palestine Arab Liberation Organization's office.

He called the attacks part of a pattern of terror that is "an intimidation against the United Nations itself." It is "not a pleasure for many delegates to work in this unhealthy and unfriendly environment," Kikhia said.

'Deep Freeze 71' Set

WASHINGTON — On Oct. 8, the U.S. Navy begins its 17th consecutive year of logistics support for U.S. scientific operations in Antarctica nicknamed Operation Deep Freeze 71.

Aircraft from Antarctic Development Squadron 6 are scheduled to land at Williams Field near McMurdo Station on that date and relieve the winter-over party of about 250 scientists and military support personnel who spent the austral winter "on the ice."

The National Science Foundation's U.S. Antarctic Research Program conducts scientific efforts on the southern continent. Among USARP's more than 30 separate projects to be undertaken this season are a continued search for fossils, survey of the Lassiter Coast area, support of a British survey team, and hemispheric observations at Siple Station. The Navy will prepare the site for construction of a new South Pole station.
