Holes-in-one pay off for crippled children

As the result of 88 holes-in-one made by Maryland golfers this summer, $3,080 is being presented to the Baltimore League for Crippled Children and Adults by Schmidt's of Philadelphia, the brewery which has made this contribution for a second year.

The money is used to send crippled children to Camp Greentop in Catoctin National Park during the summer. It is leased from the National Park Service of the Department of the Interior.

* * *

Accredited by the American Camping Association, Camp Greentop was organized in 1937 and is specially equipped for physically handicapped boys and girls.

It serves 50 boys and 50 girls at a time in two mid-summer session. There is also a period for handicapped adults.

* * *

Activities include swimming, hiking, overnight sleepouts, games and sports, social events, cookous, arts and crafts, and other special projects, such as music and theatre productions.

The children live together, eight and two counselors, in comfortable rustic cabins.

In charge of the camp activities is Ralph Smith, camp and recreation director of the league, which is quartered at 1111 East Cold Spring Lane. It serves Baltimore City and Baltimore and Howard counties.

Flair's dinner was Charm Bank sample

Flair Studio's presentation of its adult students on Friday, was a superb expression of elegance.

The dinner dance presentation in the Terrace Room of Maritn's West was attended by a capacity group, including many guests from Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Gloria Basfield, MSW, coordinator of Suspension Services for the Baltimore Public Schools and 2nd vice president of the Provident Hospital Auxiliary, presented certificates to the students.

Each student wore a white ball gown and carried a single long stemmed white carnation with purple streamers, the Flair colors.

* * *

Mrs. Jai Johnson, whose gown was designed by herself and created by Jacqueline Britten of Phase 3, wore a Victorian high neckline sleeved white brocade tunic over a narrow skirt, slit on both sides to just above the knee.

Both skirt and tunic were lined with purple so that it was visible both in the skirt and along the edge of the tunic. Mrs. Lillian Hall also echoed Flair colors in the waist circling band of purpled sequins on her flowing chiffon gown.

The students included mothers, housewives, students, secretaries, a bookkeeper, a switchboard operator, a research assistant and four teachers. They were:

Misses Mavis Maria Anderson, Deborah Bailey, Dorothy A. Hudson, Iris Lavera Jones, Vicki Earlene Smith, Lillian Ellen Thornton and Deborah Ann Keys.

Mesdames Lillian Pettit Hall, Viola Edna Hill, Lillian Elizabeth Jarvis, Jai Justine Johnson, Anne Holden Ransome, Geraldine Knight Smith, Mary M. Thomas and Brenda Yvonne Watson.

Mrs. Ceil Banton and Mrs. Willia Bland, co-directors of Flair Studio, chose brocades in shades of purple, wild violet and gold for their gowns Mrs. Banton had a gentle gathered skirt and halter top with sharp decolette. Mrs. Bland's was a narrow tube, narrowly slashed from up tight neck to bodice and deeply slashed again from thigh to ankle at the front.

Spotted in the audience were Mrs. Ann Dyett in a profusion of bright colors, lited gently at the bodice, flowing in soft gathers at the waist to scalloped hem; Mrs. Clarence Mitchell suave in stark black, accented with a rhinestone etching at the neck; Mrs. Freda Odum in a brilliant patchwork silk, cowled at the neck, long sleeved and bell skirted.

A pants ensemble of eyelash sparkled black was selected by Mrs. Betty Brown. Mrs. Carol Diane Brown was demure in a floor length paisley peasant dress, deeply plunged at the neck, continuing in a narrow, between the shoulders

COOK — In loving memory of our dear son, CPL. DAVID R. COOK, who passed away November 7, 1969:
OUR SOLDIER SON
When first I held you in my arms,
You were so sweet and small
We felt that babyhood must be
The sweetest time of all.
And when you took your first big step,
Guided by us all the way,
We knew we carried in our hearts,
A love so safe, so sure to stay.
The years rolled on, and fall you grew —
To match your daddy's height,
And then we knew you had a job
To leave us and to fight!
Your uniform, your cheeks of tan,
You standing straight and tall.
'Twas then we realized, dear son,
There is no sweetest time of all.
Each day from babyhood to man,
We treasure as a dream.
And, when God called you from Your fight, it wasn't fair, it seemed.
But God is master of us all,
He needed our dear one.
Your will be done, Almighty One,
You, too, have lost a Son.
MOTHER and FATHER

PAYNE — In loving memory of our devoted father, CHARLES E. PAYNE, who passed away November 9, 1951:

Safe in God's wonderful keeping
Until we meet again.

Just in your judgement, always right;
Honest and liberal, ever upright;
Loved by your friends and all you knew.
Wonderful mother — that, mother, was you.

Walk with me in this weary life.
Always by my side.

We think of you in a better land
Although on earth you are no more.
