Roddy McDowall stars in 'Suspense Theater'

Roddy McDowall stars as a skid row intellectual who tries to avenge the murder of a "wino" friend in "The Wine-Dark Sea," WBAL-TV's "Suspense Theater" presentation to air Sunday, November 22, beginning at 11:30 p.m.

In the story, Robert "The Professor" Benson (McDowall) spends his days panhandling for drinking money and playing chess with a fellow "wino" David "Blinky" Hewitt (Robert Ball). When Benson learns his friend was killed during an attempted robbery, he sets out, bottle in hand, to prove that Blinky was framed.

Others appearing in the feature are John Larkin as Narcisco as Mama Colette, a skid row shop owner.

"The Wine-Dark Sea" was produced by Joe Swerling, directed by Elliot Silverstein and written by Howard Browne from a story by Dean Hargrove.

New child health center at Bon Secours

A new child health center has been opened by the Baltimore City Health Department in the Bon Secours Hospital, 2023 West Fayette Street, for residents in the Stewart Hill and Model Cities "G" areas.

Located on the second floor of the east wing of the hospital, the center will be open Mondays and Thursdays and will offer family health services and guidance for their children through the advantages of hospital facilities.

The center location at Bon Secours also provides the advantages of hospital facilities if clinic evaluations determine that such services are needed. Appointments may be made by calling 837-2710 or by contacting the neighborhood public health nurse.

Science Fair '71

April 2nd and 3rd, 1971 have been set as dates of the 16th Baltimore Science Fair co-sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of North Baltimore and the Johns Hopkins University. Set-up day will be April 1st at the Newton H. White, Jr. Athletic Center, J.H.U.

It has been said so often that Christmas is for the children . . . and yet, for most adults who remember the childhood delights of the season the urge to recapture some of that magic persists, year after year. Treasurer decorations, religious observances, traditional foods, favorite stories, special family customs, all find their place in the "Christmas charisma." Christmas cards hold a top spot in the tradition of extending good wishes, preserving old friendships and strengthening new ones. If you are now in the process of getting ready for Christmas, won't you consider UNICEP in selecting your cards . . . because the proceeds from the sale of UNICEP cards are used to help the desperately disadvantaged children of the world's developing countries.

What's new? Two new fabrics that iron on assist the home seamstress in cutting down on stitching time. One is a self-adhesive monogram, the other an iron-on tape to be used wherever a fastening surface is needed.

The fabric monogram can be used on all washable or dry-cleanable materials. The gold self-adhering initials adhere to non-washables, including leather.

The tape can be used to put on removable collars, cuffs, trims, waistband enclosures, pockets and for children's wear.

For Beauty Sake: How can you have a luxurious bath that discourages blemishes and doesn't dry out your skin, when you don't like to use a bath oil?

It's as easy as taking a baby lotion bath. That pretty pink lotion with built-in hexachlorophene can be added to your bath water just as you would add oil. It disperses well and has a cleansing action so that you don't even have to use soap if you don't want to.

The hexachlorophene in the baby lotion provides anti-bacterial action to discourage blemishes and also serves as a natural deodorant.

Recipe of the Week: Whose tiny heads are filled with great ideas, a flair for flavor and valuable nutrients? None other than brussels sprouts, the minicabbages with maxi-taste. This classic vegetable is available in full swing now. So add lots of eating cheer to your meals and worry not where waistlines are concerned. brussels sprouts are low in calories.

Try this elegant lamb stew that uses fresh brussels sprouts and other fresh vegetables.

You will need a fourth cup flour, two teaspoons salt, an eighth teaspoon pepper, one and a half pounds boneless lamb stew meat, cubed, two tablespoons salad oil, a half cup chopped fresh onions, two medium-sized cloves garlic, minced, three cups boiling water, a teaspoon marjoram, four medium-sized potatoes, peeled and quartered, two packages fresh brussels sprouts, four medium-sized carrots, cut into thirds.

Combine flour, salt and pepper. Coat lamb with flour mixture. Reserve extra flour mixture. Brown lamb on all sides in salad oil in large saucepan. Remove lamb from pan. Reserve drippings.

Saute onions and garlic in drippings until browned. Sprinkle reserved flour mixture over onion mixture. Mix well. Return meat to pan with water and marjoram. Cover and simmer one and a half hours. Add vegetables to hot mixture. Cover and simmer about 25 minutes, or until Makes about four servings. vegetables are just tender.

Fashionette: For Spring you will find in the fore the "pretty" dress, with hems, chiefly, just below the knee, skirts softly gathered or gently pleated, bodices that follow the figure but not bosom hugging, and sleeves just below the elbow or to the wrist.

For evening there will be columns of chiffon draped to the body and oodles of lace . . . both with fitted bodices, portrait necklines, long sleeves and full skirts. Those chunky shoes are out, with such pretties in as T-straps, ankle straps and new versions of the pump . . . to go with the pretty dresses.

Shamed by Your English?

"Many intelligent men and women are held back in their jobs and social lives because they use poor English or can't speak and write effectively," says Don Bolander, director of Career Institute.

"Adults who realize that their English is holding them back use our new home method to stop making embarrassing mistakes, to improve their writing, to increase their vocabularies to speed up their reading, to acquire the techniques of fluent conversation. But the use of effective English pays off in unexpected ways," says Bolander, "because language is a tool of thought.

"You use words whenever you think. The more you learn about words and how to use them to form and express your ideas, the better your thinking becomes. The improvement of your English—including your thinking—can lead to amazing personal achievements."

For interested readers of this newspaper, Bolander has made available a free 32-page booklet that tells how you can gain a command of good English, quickly and enjoyably at home. Just send your name, address and zip code on a postcard or letter to Don Bolander Career Institute, Dept. 400-96, Mundelein, Illinois 60060. The booklet will be mailed promptly with no obligation.

Worried about your child?

Parents concerned about their child's behavior may be equally perplexed about where to turn for guidance and what to expect.

In HELP FOR YOUR TROUBLED CHILD, a new Public Affairs Pamphlet, Alicerose Barman and Lisa Cohen discuss the kinds of behavior that call for professional help, where to find such help, and what to expect during treatment.

The authors are on the staff of a mental health association and clinic. The pamphlet is available for 25 cents from the Public Affairs Committee. 381 Park Avenue South, New York, N.Y. 10016.

Brock Gives Up Dealership

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. — Lou Brock recently announced that he is closing his Dodge dealership here. "We weren't making money," said the Cardinal centerfielder. "By closing the dealership now, I can pay off everyone, including the SBA and I'll lose just my original investment of $16,000," he said.
