Biggest dog show

The largest Dog Show in Maryland history, expected to attract some 2,500 dogs representing more than 100 breeds, will take place in Baltimore's Fifth Regiment Armory on Sunday, November 22nd.

Benched, all-breed and obedience competition will keynote the benefit event, with proceeds going to Church Home and Hospital.

"This year's Dog Show will be the most exciting in our 58 years of shows," said Harry Z. Isaacs, president of the sponsoring Maryland Kennel Club.

"Based on the quantity and quality of entries already received, we know Maryland has never had a dog show like this one will be!"

Dog owners may obtain entry applications from MKC headquarters in Baltimore's Fidelity Building. Entry fees are $9 per class and all entries must be received by Foley Dog Shows, 2009 Ranstead Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Girl Scouts set for Md. Council meeting

BALTIMORE — Close to 300 adlut Gilr Scouts are expected to attend the Council meeting of the Girl Scouts of Central Maryland, to be held November 16, 8:00 p.m., at the Christian Temple, Edmonson Avenue and Academy Road.

The Council, composed largely of delegates from the organization's 15 Area Associations, elects the Board of Directors and gives it broad direction by considering and reacting to proposed policies and plans.

• • •

The meeting will focus on the long-range development of the organization's 1000 acres of program properties, used year-round for camping, activities in the arts and homemaking, and many special interest events. These properties include sites in Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Cecil, Frederick and Howard Counties.

Under consideration are proposals designed to ensure that the properties will continue to meet the ever-increasing needs of girls for experiences in the out-of-doors.

• • •

In preparation for the meeting, delegates received a comprehensive report on current property utilization and on the proposals. The delegates and their Area Associations examined the proposals this fall to provide a background of opinion for the Council meeting.

Also attending the meeting will be Board members, Nominating Committee members, other concerned volunteers, administrative and professional staff, and a number of Senior Girl Scouts.

Girl Scouts of Central Maryland includes more than 30,000 girls and 6,000 adult volunteers in Baltimore City and Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Carroll, Frederick, Harford and Howard Counties. The organization receives financial support through United Fund of Central Maryland United Givers Fund of Frederick County.
