Kelly and Newson shine in concerts

By ADAH K. JENKINS

Occupying a prominent spotlight on the concert stage this season were two pianists — Elaine Kelly, from the music faculty at Morgan State College, and Roosevelt Newson, graduate student at Peabody.

Miss Kelly, who is a graduate of Juilliard, was guest soloist with the Maryland Symphonette, conducted by Angelo Gatto in the Beethoven Concerto No. 3 in C minor. The concert was held in the Murphy Auditorium at Morgan.

Newson was guest pianist in the third of the Cameo Recital Series at Douglas Memorial Community Church.

In the third of his five piano concertos, Beethoven had achieved masterly assurance in handling the orchestral and pianistic materials.

Piano concertos are neglected often because pianists do not feel it worth while to prepare these elaborate, difficult works while to prepare these during the accompanying orchestra.

Thanks to the dedicated, imaginative energy of Maestro Gatto, with a board headed by Duke Avnet, we have the Maryland Symphonette, a community orchestra now in its fourth year.

In addition to the concerto which was received warmly by the audience, the orchestra offered "Overture" to "William Tell" and Brahms' Symphony No. 1 in C Minor.

Roosevelt Newson, a graduate of Southern University, is a candidate for his master's degree at Peabody, where he is a piano major with Walter Hautzig.

Possessing a steel-like technique of striking power, this young man set himself to a taxing program: the Beethoven "15 Variations and Fugue," the ("Eroica"); Roger Sessions' Second Sonata, an avant garde work in twelve tone neo-classic style, and Chopin's "Sonata in B-flat Minor," which includes the famous "Funeral March."

The Cameo Recital Series at Douglas Memorial Church is a project arranged by J. Spencer Hammond, minister of music.

The annual meeting of the Maryland State Music Teachers Association was held last Sunday at Peabody.

Following the afternoon business session, there was a recital by the winning student in the annual competition. Dinner was held in the Conservatory preceded by cocktails in the Shapiro House.

Julio Estaban, president of the Association, presented a life membership plaque to Miss Virginia Carty deLillo, who, with the late Mrs. Elizabeth Davis, founded the chapter.

Among the founding members present were Mesdames Carol B. Diggs, Estaelle Brenner, Julio Estaben and your reviewer.

Dr. Lawrence Dilsner, music educator of Long Ranch, N.J., gave an enlightening description of his Piano Pupils Workshop, a valuable project for the study of theory and music appreciation.

Fewer jobs this summer than last

Summer job placements in Maryland youth totalled nearly less than 17,500 statewide, a drop of more than 2,500 from the 1969 summer, according to final figures released recently by Mrs. Rita C. Davidson, Secretary of the Maryland Department of Employment and Social Services.

Mrs. Davidson attributed the decrease to recessive factors in the economy.

"Many employers," she said, "who were forced to lay-off permanent employees because of business conditions, simply were not able to provide as many summer jobs for young people as I'm sure they would have liked to have done."

* * *

Mrs. Davidson said that the summer job figures were compiled by the Employment Service division of the Department's Employment Security Administration and included only those youth who had registered for vacation time employment during Maryland's Summer Youth Employment Campaign.

J. Donn Aiken, Employment Service director, reported that there also had been a decline in agricultural employment. He noted, however, that the number of summer jobs outside the private business sector compared favorably with 1969.

More than half (12,000) of the 21,000 young people looking for 1970 summer jobs were residents of the Baltimore Metropolitan Area and over 3,000 lived near Washington, D.C. Almost 10,000 jobs were found for the Baltimore youth; 1,000 for the Washington area young people.

State PTA salutes Dr. Williams

Dr. Percy V. Williams, Assistant State Superintendent of Public Schools, was awarded an honorary life membership in the Maryland PTA by President, John J. Lancaster, Jr.

The surprise presentation was made at the fellowship banquet on November 7 concluding the two day convention held in Silver Spring.

Dr Williams, a native of Aberdeen, Harford County, has served the State Department of Education since 1962 when he was appointed Supervisor of Pupil Services. Prior to that time, he had served as a teacher, supervisor, and school principal in his native county where he had received his grade school education.

After receiving a diploma from Bowie Normal School, Dr. Williams earned his BS from Virginia State College, his Master's at Temple University, and his Doctorate of Education from New York University.

Interested in disadvantaged youth, Dr. Williams is the author of several publications on dropouts.

Dr. Williams holds membership and leadership positions in several professional associations. He also actively participates in the Union Methodist Church, the Harford County Red Cross, and the County Welfare Board. Dr. and Mrs. William reside in Havre de Grace.

There's another Big Plus at Esso.

3 utility bags free with a gasoline fill-up, 8-gallon minimum.
It's free.
You've probably heard about new Big Plus gasoline. New Big Plus helps your car run clean. To give you better mileage. And to help clean up the air.
That's because we took most of the lead out, and doubled the engine-cleaning detergent.
New Big Plus keeps performance smooth, too. Because we've kept the octane high.
Yet new Big Plus is priced below most major premiums, leaded or unleaded.
It's the lowest-lead, highest-octane gasoline for the money, anywhere. And now there's another big plus at Esso.
This plus is free.
Free, a package of 3 plastic utility bags with every fill-up, 8-gallon minimum.
Each bag is the large 26-gallon size and has a flower-print decoration.
Great for lining garbage cans. Great for yard use. Free utility bags. They're a beautiful way to help keep your city clean.
Get them where you see the "Free Utility Bags" sign at participating Esso stations.
It's where you get two big pluses. One free.

WHAT CAN YOU DO WHEN THEY TURN 19?
Pray a little. Hope a lot. And make sure that they continue their Blue Cross and Blue Shield protection.
At 19, the need for health care protection is as important as any other time in a person's life. But coverage under Family Programs for all Non-Group and most Group members' ends for young men in which they reach age 19.
What should you do? If they're at school, have them check into the special low-cost Student Program. For only $3.90 a month, they can receive the solid protection they've been getting as part of family coverage... and that's a great buy.
If they turn 19 this year and they're not eligible for the Student Program, have them apply for their own Blue Cross and Blue Shield membership. If they're employed, have them check with their employers.
Nineteen-year-olds should apply for either student or individual protection by December 31, 1970. For the price of a couple of rock albums, they can have Blue Cross and Blue Shield coverage for a month. And real peace of mind.
