Monroe Scouts to get charters

Troop and Cub Pack 74 of James Monroe Elementary School No. 48, will be presented their charters April 25, in the school auditorium, 7:30 p.m.

Invited to the ceremonies are Judge Robert Watts, Dr. Houston Jackson, and representatives of the National Council of Christians and Jews, Baltimore Urban League, and city and state officials.

Palm Sunday to see 50,000 in church

Sunday, April 15, Palm Sunday, will be observed by more than 500,000 followers of Protestant and Catholic faiths here. The weather is expected to be fair.

Palm Sunday is the second most important in the Christian high religious holiday period which terminates Easter Sunday.

Palms will be distributed in most churches as services reall the joyful day of 19 centuries ago.

Palm Sunday also marks the beginning of the final week of Lent.

Good Friday, April 20, follows as the most solemn occasion of the pre-Easter observance.

Joy returns on Easter Sunday, April 22, the most important of all Christian holidays.

LUNCHEON GUEST LEAVES — Gov. J. Millard Tawes is flanked by members of the Civic Interest Group as he leaves Miller's Restaurant where on Tuesday he attended a birthday paryt. The restaurant is segregated. Gov. Tawes' office lter explained that no picket line had been outside the restaurant when he entered.

CITED AGAIN— Dr. Lillie M. Jackson, second from right, president of the local NAACP, was honored at the recent hat show sponsored by the Modes Royale Ladies at the YMCA. With the honoree here are club members, Mrs. Ida T. Russell, president; Mrs. Edith M. Allen, affair chairman, and the Rev. J. P. Wilson, right, pastor of Oak Street AME Church.

Sojourner Truth Award voted to Juanita Jackson Mitchell

Three honorees will receive awards when the Baltimore Club of the National Association of Business and Professional Women celebrate Founders Day, Sunday, April 15 at the Morgan Christian Center.

Mrs. Juanita Jackson Mitchell, civil rights worker, will be the recipient of the Sojourner Truth Award. Mrs. Beryl Williams, club woman and community worker, will be given the community service award and Miss Anita R. Williams, retired social worker, the achievement award.

Mrs. Harriette Howard is chairman.

A CONTINATION of the theme "Spotlighting Asia" was the feature of the meeting of the organization Tuesday evening at the YWCA. Miss Helen Hill, librarian, had assembled a collection of books on Asian peoples suitable for adults and children, Sedonia Merritt showed slides on scenes in Japan.

Objets d'art from Asia were exhibied. The series will be concluded with a trip to the Indian embassy in May.

Another highlight of the meeting was the appearance of the Diana Kane models, in "Roles of Women". Models Mildred Dorsey, Jeannine Jenkins, Charlotte Carrington and Virginia Neal displayed attire for he career woman, the homemaker, urban and suburban and the socialite. Miss Kane gave pointers on each grouping.

Mrs. Ethel J. Day, president and delegates, Mrs. Jeannette Turner, and Mrs. Lillian S. Watty gave reports from the Marvland League of Women's Clubs one - day conference.

Mrs. Virgie Waters and Mrs. Edna Rawlings have financial reports including "Operation Transfer" to support of the Advance Savings and Loan Assocation. A contribution to the Cancer Fund was voted.

Hostesses were Mesdames Margaret Mitchell, Mildred Noble, Theda Patterson, Jeannette Turner, LaVerne Mobley, Ardena Myers, Laurie Parker and Elizabeth Phillips.

table since 1940. This was his birthday. He had been invited, with Mayor Grady, former mayor, D'alesandro, judges of the Supreme Bench, and other dignitaries.

"It was more or less obligatory that he go.

"At the time he went in, there were no pickets. And he didn't know the pickets were present until he walked out the door."

Asked if the Governor knew of the restaurant's discriminatory policy, the spokesman said: "I can't answer that question."

MAYOR GRADY said there were no sign of pickets when he entered the restaurant.

Explaining why he crossed the line upon leaving, the mayor pointed out:

"I had another appointment and was forced to leave the front door was the only way out."

Told that he had been accused of not being in favor of equal public accommodations by anti - segregation demonstrators, Mr. Grady replied:

"I'm in sympathy with the objectives of the demonstrations, but I'll withhold comment on tactics."

Dunbar High newspaperselected as award winner

Four Maryland school papers have been selected for honors by the National Tuberculosis Association, according to Frank T. Jones, executive director of the Maryland TB group.

The four papers were selected from entries submitted during the annual "Press Project," in which school papers undertake a specific aspect of health education.

The papers, their editors and faculty advisors were saluted by the Maryland Tuberculosis Association during its "communications awards" banquet at the Sheraton-Belvedere Hotel, Thursday.

Papers honored are The Broadcast, Dunbar High School, Baltimore City; The Tattler, Bethesda - Chevy Chase High School, Montgomery County; The Johnnycake Journal, Johnnycake Junior High School, Baltimore County; and the Pioneer, Parkville Senior High School, Baltimore County.

NEW PLAN HELPS NEGRO KIDS GET A DECENT EDUCATION

In 1937, a series of tests was given to eighth-graders from the St. Louis slums. To nobody's surprise, the kids did miserably. But when these same tests were given last spring, the children made a wonderful showing. Says a St. Louis school official: "We have demonstrated that the color of your skin . . . and how much money you have in your pocketbook have nothing to do with whether your child can learn."

In this week's Saturday Evening Post, you'll read how a group of educators have sold deprived children on the importance of learning. Why one of them says IQ tests are stacked against the slum kid. And why a mother of nine states flatly: "Education is important. But most of our color are not interested."

Look for "Reading: A Way Up" in this week's Saturday Evening Post. Pick up your copy today.

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST

Relatives wanted

Mrs. Ella Mae Cornelius, 47, of 32 N. Eden St., will be cremated Saturday if no one calls for her body at Johns Hopkins Medical School.

Mrs. Cornelius has a five-year-old son, Arthur Jr., who is staying with residents at the Eden St. address.

Any one who knows this lady or any of her relatives are urged to contact Oscar Carrington, 33 N. Eden St.
