Elston Howard sees Orioles as 'tough'

NEW YORK — For what its worth, Elston Howard offers the opinion that the AFRO choice of the Baltimore Orioles for third place in the American League pennant race is a bit on the conservative side.

"I figure them to be right in the thick of it, particularly if their pitching holds up. Potentially, the Orioles have the best in the league, but a lot depends on how well (Milt) Pappas and (Jack) Fisher shape up.

"If those two get back on the beam and (Steve) Barber isn't hurt too much by being limited to weekend play by the Army, you'll wish you had given them a better chance," declared the $35,000 a-year Yankee catcher.

* * *

HAVING LEFT his Teaneck, N. J. home earlier than usual, Ellie had to be questioned at Yankee Stadium where he reported for heat treatments to a strained back before taking off for a weekend series with the Tigers in Detroit.

"Pitching may be Baltimore's biggest problem," Howard pursued.

"Earl (Robinson) is likely to improve with a year to get used to the League; he didn't look like a .250 hitter to me last summer. I think he's a lot better than that." (Johnny) Temple figures to pick up your infield, and Jerry Adair-like Earl - should improve. It could be that, with those fellows, the Orioles won't be hurt by Ron Hansen's absence.

"We'll be glad to concede third place to your club, if if they'll settle for that. But the Yankees are looking for trouble in Baltimore. Naturally, I hope you're a better prophet than I am." — SAM LACY

Birds slated to open today

"Now, perhaps for the first time we have the potential to win an American League penant," Lee McPhail, Baltimore Orioles general manager stated Thursday.

Speaking at the Baltimore Advocates luncheon at the Lord Baltimore Hotel, Mr. McPhail asserted: "We don't feel we're outclassed".

He was speaking of the New York Yankees.

Though they dropped the opener to the Yankees in New York Tuesday, 7-6, the Orioles hope to even things up with a victory over the Boston Red Sox today, Friday) to open their home stand at the Stadium, at 2 p.m.

Billie Hitchock, new Orioles manager, did not predict a pennant winner, but promised "an interesting and exciting ballclub for the fans all summer long."

* * *

LARRY McPHAIL, the father of Lee, and former general manager of the Cincinnati Reds, Brooklyn Dodgers, and New Yankees, offered the comment: "This is the best Orioles club I've seen.

"I don't know where they will finish," he said, "but I wouldn't trade Gentile (Jim) and Robinson (Brooks) for the whole Yankee infield."

Right fielder Earl Robinson in his second year, said he looked for a good season.

He feels fine and has been hitting well all through Spring training.

As for an Oriole pennant, he stated: 'This is a unpredictable business."

Well-heeled veteran passes out cold cash

"My heart is open to give to those who don't have."

That was the comment of Herbert Isler, 36, of Washington after he was arrested for disorderly conduct Tuesday.

His crime — passing out tens and twenties on a public street.

Patrolmen Richard Catania and Norbert Armin testified in Western Municipal Court that when they found Mr. Isler at Pennsylvania and North Aves. he had given away more than $1,000 and still had $200 left.

Police said they arrested Mr. Isler for his own protection because he had a $10,000 voucher and was headed toward the lower end of Pennsylvania Ave.

Had he reached that point police told Judge I. Sewell Lamdin, "he would have been in trouble."

One officer testified "he gave one woman $200 last night, but he writes down what he gives away."

"He's a good hearted guy, but we were afraid someone would kill him," Patrolman Armin stated.

* * *

ISLER, WHO gave his home address as the 1400 block Corsran St. NW said that he was on leave from the Lock Raven Veterans Hospital where he is a patient.

The North Carolina - born veteran explained, "I give all the time. I give in the hospital and all around. I had a hard time coming up and I know what it is to need help."

Isler, father of two, said that he was enroute to Washington to visit his family. "I want to see my kids tonight," he declared.

Court room spectators stared in disbelief as the five-foot six - inch tall man told his story.

Mr. Isler was wearing a black suit coat, gray trousers, a yellow shirt and a brown sweater.

* * *

AFTER DISMISSING the disorderly conduct charge Judge Lamdin asked police to escort Mr. Isler to the bus station.

"If one of those boys get hold of him there will be trouble," Judge Lamdin declared.

As Isler left the station house carrying a small brown canvas bag, a spectator called out, "I'll take him to Washington."

* * *

A FEW hours later in the Northern District a 42 -year-old caretaker who told police "I don't trust banks," was also brought in on a disorderly conduct charge from Charles St. and University Parkway.

When he was searched at the station house police found $1,321 in five and one dollar bills in an Army cartridge belt he was wearing.

He was ordered held for an examination.

Scull urges Republicans

Maryland Republicans must "demonstrate promptly that they believe in states' responsibilities as well as state's rights." asserted David Scull of Silver Spring Tueday in announcing his withdrawal from the gubernatorial race.

"We must see to it that problems such as aid to education, civil rights, medical care for the aged, and urban affairs are actually acted upon by the Republican Party at the State or local level," he said.

"Let it never be said that the party of Lincoln failed our colored citizens in their struggle for social justice.

"LET US remember that more than property rights are at issue in public accommodations legislation, and that to close the door on a man because of his color rather then because of his behavior is to deny him the right to be respected and the ability to retain his self - respect.

"It is an attitude that fills a large number of our fellow citizens with a sense of total hoplessness and defeat.

"It tells them Americans do not really believe that al men are created equal; that America is no longer the land of opportunity; that, in short, no matter how they may strive to earn our respect, they will never get it becuse of the color of their skin.

"This is an injustice that cries for relief and it certainly seems to me that Lincoln's party should lend a helping hand."
