GREMLINS AT WORK — Before the gremlins went to work last week and ambushed this piece, some choice tid bits were in the offing.

For instance, had not our "phriends" intervened, you would have known that everybody's favorite D.J. Sammy J. was heading for a wedding.

Since then, of course, he has walked down the aisle. He and the former Miss Lorraine Ross said their "I do's" last Sabbath.

It was an encore for Sammy and Lorraine who were all set a deuce of Sundays ago, but had to scrub all plans when a hitch developed.

Congrats Sammy, welcome to the legion.

* * *

You also missed a rundown on the Arena Players who rang down the curtain on their first summer production last week.

"Two Pairs of Two," made "Ugly Duckling," and "Zoo Story," —was a hit. Sandbox," "The Still Alarm," up of four short plays —"The

Under the direction of Samuel Wilson AP stars turned in a sparkling job. Included were:

Clegg Blackwell, Joseph Wilson, Robert Russell, Jimmy Dow, and Don Luster, in "Still Alarm."

Earl Burton, Ruby Harris, Jimmy Dashiell, Marie Bailey, John Taylor, Irvin Turner, and Verna Day, "Ugly Duckling."

Ray Hill, Joyce Smith, Mary Smith, "Sand Box."

John Hicklin and Irvin Turner, "Zoo Story."

First nighters were eyewitnesses to a real life version of the "Show Must Go On."

It happened near the end of "Zoo Story" where the script called for John and Irv to put on a brawl. During the tussle, John crumbled to the floor with a compound fractured ankle.

Writhing in pain, he rose and finished the last five minutes of the play on one foot.

It's now in a cast and John will be out of action for the rest of the season.

Real trouper, he!

IF HILDA SIMMS' press conference a week back is any indication, "An Evening With Hilda Simms," at Morgan Sunday should be a hit.

It's another in the series of efforts by the Cossocks to elevate our town's cultural level.

If the Hilda promotion generates sufficient interest, the Cossocks will underwrite similar ventures in the future.

Head man Bill Marshall and associates are pondering bringing in "The Blacks."

Your support and opinion are invited.

* * *

ANOTHER AFFAIR that should be tagged unusual is skedded for the Alcazar Sunday. "Swing Into Summer," fashion extravaganza for the males, is the brainchild of Clegg Blackwell.

In celebration of Father's Day, Clegg will showcase the burg's leading lads modeling everything wearable for summer for the benefit of the forgotten guys.

Many up and coming young fathers will be given achievement awards, too.

Marjorie Costa, fashion will narrate and Julius Fields of "West Side Story" dancing fame, will entertain.

QUESTION — How come that certain TV disc jockey voice from the Big Town, insists on snubbing Larry Dean, velvet voice behind the WITH mike while grabbing up all other local platter men for guest stints on his afternoon show?

Could it be because Larry has vowed, "I'll never say yes while it's segregated?"

Methink so!

* * *

THE CLUBS —The best show in town the past week was at the real down Bamboo Lounge.

It was a joy to behold McLawler and husband, Richard Otto team up on the organ and violin, backed by Buzz Hunter on drums.

If you've never heard jazz which is always on the beau on a violin, particularly as Richard plays it, you haven't lived.

Without a doubt, this trio pours out more music — magnificent music — than any group its size anywhere anytime.

It was fabulous. And this is consistent with Bamboo, tiful side.

* * *

CASTLE D'OR, the newly opened spot where North meets St. Paul is real plush. It's featuring the music of Cornell Muldrow and this is good, because Cornell is known to put any house in orbit. That's just what he's doing there.

Maceo Paysour "three-ferone" night is reely something. It's a shame it has to be confined to a "slow" night. But then if it weren't, there'd be no room.

About the happiest man we found on the beat this seven was Frank Reddish at Dotson's. Frank, relaxing to the chirping of the crickets, has flung out a standing invitation for you to join him down on the farm.

You're missing a treat, if you don't.

* * *

NEXT TIME you see Dusty at Carnival, ask her what the next color she'll use on her hair. So far it has been white, blond, grey, green, wine and brown. She'll soon run out of combinations!

And see if Dukie will give you the same reason she gave us for gaining weight.

If you find time the spot is Alpine Villa. There are more club rooms there than a Spanish castle.

Knotty Pine, Red Fox, Chick's are still making like summertime —living easy.

PHOTO FINISH. In Baltimore, most people have a favorite beer. In Philadelphia, the favorite is full-taste Schmidt's. If you like good beer, you'll like Schmidt's, too. Quality-wise, it's a photo finish. Now Schmidt's is in Baltimore. So try it and compare. You'll see, now Baltimore has two great beers—your old favorite and Schmidt's at local prices.

NAPE to send 11 delegates to convention

The Baltimore Branch of the National Alliance of Postal Employees will send 11 delegates to the 25th annual District Convention NAPE in Norfolk June 16-17.

The delegates will discuss: pay raises for Postal Employees, equal opportunitie and the Alliance status under Presidential Order 10988 grants union recognition in the Postal Service.

The Baltimore Branch delegates are James Martin, Melva Ginyard, Theresa Coopen, Marshall Bright, Anthony Ward, Clarence Holmes, Walter Cook, Cleve Jones, Leon Proctor, Milton Thompson and James Meeks, chairman of the delegation.

John White, president, and Nathaniel White, first vice president, will attend regional officials.

Arthur Lewis and Raymond Bynum will be volunteer delegates.

DMV moving to county

The Department of Motor Vehicles is scheduled to complete its move from 21st St. and Guilford Ave., to new quarters in Glen Burnie over the weekend.

Since 5 p.m. Wednesday, 200 trucks and the entire MVD staff have been working 24 - hour shifts to complete the operation in the five - day period alloted by the $27,000 moving contract.

The $4,000,000 structure, located on a 12 - acre tract in the 6000 block Ritchie Highway in Anne Arundel County was built when the old building became too small for the job of serving a million and a half motorists.

SELECTION OF the county site was bitterly opposed by city motorists who contended the location would impose hardships on residents having business with the agency.

A feature of the new headquarters is the off-street testing range, where applicants for licenses will be controlled by radio.

Six or seven new drivers will be tested at once.

Other modern facilities in the two - story building include a pneumatic system to cut down on walking to and from various departments.

Odd Fellows to meet here

The 35th annual B.M.C. Convention of the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows will convene in Baltimore, August 12 - 17.

Grand Master Leslie I. Gaines is general chairman of the convention and every effort is being made to have the largest and most colorful session in the history of the order.

The committee meets every Thursday from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. at the Hall, 2257 Madison Ave.

Park Board okeys $5 million loan

The Park Board approved a request for a $5 million loan program for future land buying for the Jones Falls Valley Park and other properties, at its meeting Tuesday.

The other properties that the city is interested in as part of its Master Plan building are near the Pennsylvania Station, Chinqcapin Run and the Windsor Estate.

Some $2 or 3 million is expected to be spent buying property near the Pennsylvania Station over a several-year span, according to Joseph J. King, executive secretary of the Park Board.

Expenditure of the funds must be approved by various city departments, the Legislature and the voters in a general election.

* * *

IN OTHER action the board approved the six-year agreement between the city, the Greater Northwest Baltimore Association, and the Baltimore Baseball Club, Inc., for 4th of July Fireworks at the Stadium.

Members agreed to turn over to the city comptroller for disposal of a piece of property returned to them by the Board of Education.

The property, bounded by Ellamont, Presstman and Rosedale Sts., was given to the Board of Education five years ago as a school site. It was given back to the Park Board when the Board of Edccation decided to build across the street.

The Board also agreed to take over the maintenance of a grass island at McCulloh and Paca Sts.
