Thomas J. White Sr., church founder, buried

One of the founders of the Old Mt. Pleasant Baptist Church, Thomas J. White Sr., 88, 447 Schwartz Ave., Govans, was buried Wednesday after services in Pleasant Hope Baptist.

Mr. White, a retired landscaper, died Saturday in a rest home the day after he was taken there.

Mr. White served as S.S. superintendent for 40 years. He directed and sang in the choir and served as both deacon and a trustee.

He was a member of the Pleasant Hope deacon board at the time of his death.

* * *

MR. WHITE came to Baltimore from Charlottesville when he was 22 years old. He retired last year after 50 years as a self employed landscaper.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Beulah Johnson; a son Thomas White Jr., three grandchildren, Thomas White III, Miss Marie White and Mrs. Priscilla Williams; three great grandchildren, three nephews and three nieces.

Other survivors include a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Nellene White, and a son-in-law, Carlyle Johnson.

Mrs. Corine Parker

Mrs. Corine Parker, 57, 2838 Harlem Ave., was buried Wednesday at Arbutus Memorial Park following funeral services at St. John AME Church. George Kelson Funeral Home was in charge of the arrangements.

Mrs. Parker died of a heart attack Friday at her home.

* * *

A NATIVE of Pocomoke City, Md., Mrs. Parker was the daughter of the late Perry and Frances Roberts.

* * *

MRS. PARKER aided in the rebuilding of St. John's Church in 1943, following a fire. She was a member of Harper Temple No. 429, a gate keeper and a member of the drill team of that lodge.

She was also head of the Goodwill Circle of the Elks, and a former sgt. at-arms.

Survivors include her husband, the Rev. Alfred Parker, a member of Morning Star Baptist Church; a daughter, Miss Mary Parker; a sister, Miss Evangeline Roberts; two brothers, Clayton and Willard Roberts; two aunts, Mesdames Goldie Williams and Hannah Dickerson.

Mrs. Lillian Lyle

Funeral services were held recently for Mrs. Lillian Lyle 43, 825 Edmondson Ave., a beautician for 31 years, from the Charles Law Funeral Home. Burial followed in Arbutus Memorial Park.

Mrs. Lyle died four days after undergoing major operation to repair a blood vessel. She had undergone a similar operation on May 25.

Born in Baltimore, Mrs. Lyle was the aughter of Calbraith Tinsley, a retired insurance man, and the late Mrs. Lucy Adams.

After graduating from Douglass High School, Mrs. Lyle began work in her mother's beauty shop, 825 Edmondson Ave., where she worked until illness forced retirement a year ago.

Active in neighborhood affairs, Mrs. Lyle also attended Sharon Baptist Church.

In addition to her father, survivors include her husband, Leonard, a postal clerk of 35 years; an adopted daughter, Miss Denise Lyle, and a brother, Wendell Tinsley, New York.

Army Band will play in Turner Station

A musical concert good enough to be on Broadway will be brought free of charge to the people of Turner Station, Maryland, when the U.S. Army Field Band of Washington, D. C., plays in Fleming Elementary School letic Field 8 p.m. Tuesday, June 19.

The local appearance is being sponsored by the Department of the Army in coordination with Turner Station Recreation Council and Baltimore County Department of Recreation and Parks. The public is invited.

Singing several numbers from great musicals in Broadway-chorus style will be the "Soldiers' Chorus." The chorus is an integral part of the band and includes a number of instrumentalists.

Experienced in playing befor large throngs, the band will offer a range of musical compositions to interest music lovers.

FAVORITE TUNES

"Old Favorites Night" will be the theme of the concert presented this Sunday night, June 17 at Easterwood Park, Bentalou and Baker Sts., by the Number 2 Municipal Concert Band, from 7 to 9 p.m., with the popular conductor, Weldon J. Irvine.

Additional features to be presented on Old Favorites Night will be a vocal quartet comprised of Messrs. Irvine, Luther Washington, Charles Bagley and William Grace.

These concerts are all free to the public, and a cordial invitation is extended to everyone, young and old.

Halt extradition of Pa. man to Ala.

HARRISBURG — Pennsylvania Attorney General David Stahl has halted extradition of a fugitive from an Alabama road gang at the request of the American Civil Liberties Union. The fugitive, Nathaniel Hatcher, is now in the Erie County Jail, where he will stay until lawyers appointed by the local ACLU and NAACP chapters have had a chance to contest the legality of Alabama's claim on him.

Hatcher, 43 - years old, was recently apprehended in Erie on a minor charge, over ten years after his escape from a prison road - gang in Alabama At the time of his escape, he was serving a 5 - year sentence for the theft of an automobile, a crime which he says he could not have committed, since he was in prison for another offense at the time of the theft.

MOREOVER, after his apprehension in Erie, he had no legal counsel to help him contest the extradition.

On May 18, immediately on learning of Hatcher's situation, Dr. Lewis Hillyard, president of the ACLU chapter in Erie, telegraphed Governor David Lawrence and Attorney General Stahl, asking that the warrant of extradition — signed by Gov. Lawrence two days earlier—be recalled until ACLU had a chance to find legal counsel for Hatcher.

Stahl answered that the warrant would not be recalled "at this time," but he notified the District Attorney of Erie County to delay the actual extradition. ACLU and NAACP thereupon arranged for the legal services of Attorneys Edward H. Careny and Gerald McNelis Sr., to represent Hatcher.

An NAACP lawyer in Alabama is investigating the circumstances of Hatcher's Alabama convictions. If the investigation shows lack of due process in Hatcher's Alabama convictions, the Erie lawyers will argue that Pennsylvania is not required to send him back.

As a last resort, according to Spencer Coxe, executive director of the Pennsylvania Civil Liberties Union, his organization will ask Governor Lawrence to exercise his administrative right to recall the warrant of extradition, on the grounds that unusual punishment if he is Hatcher can expect cruel and returned to the South. Coxe pointed out that in a celebrated 1955 case, former Gov. Leader refused the return to Georgia of the colored fugitive, Edward Brown, on these grounds.

Motorcycle racing Sun. Vista Park

The big "Ifs" in motorcycle racing on the Vista Raceway are to be corrected Sunday, June 17.

James Colletti of Newark, N.J. Harvey Bigelow of Bailey's Cross Roads, Va. and Robert Harkins of D.C. can outride Drayton Tylee of Alexandria, Va. in the turns, it has been noted, but Tylee's Kay Sportster has too much power on the straight-a-ways.

ANNAPOLIS DOINGS

By ELOISE RICHARDSON

The Rev. Norris Morgan, senior citizen and Baptist minister in Anne Arundel County, was honored recently by members of his church, the Second Baptist Church, at a testimonial dinner.

Among the 50 guests present were representatives from other churches in the community, who all paid tribute to Rev. Mr. Morgan for his "untiring efforts in the ministry as pastor of the church for 35 years."

The Rev. S. W. Collins, pastor of the Town Neck Methodist Church, was the main speaker. Among others who spoke were the Rev. Charles Creek of Asbury Methodist Church, the Rev. James Johnson, Rev. Oliver W. Kyle Sr., who served as master of ceremonies, the Rev. Wilbur Dennis, the Rev. William Dyson, and Rev. A. W. Powell, pastor of Mt. Moriah AME Church.

* * *

IN HIS turn the Rev. Mr. Morgan thanked his members and friends for their fellowship, and the banquet committee for its fine piece of work in his behalf.

He stated "I am proud of my citizenship in Annapolis and I am proud of my fellowship with the people of Annapolis. I love fellowship.

"I have served the churches in Anne Arundel County. What little I've done has been because God has been with me."

Those who sat at the table with the Rev. Mr. Morgan and his wife, Mrs. Norris Morgan, were the Rev. and Mrs. James Johnson, the Rev and Mrs. Charles Creek, the Rev. and Mrs. James E. Rich of Earleigh Heights, the Rev. Mr. Collins, and the Rev. George White, pastor of the Mt. Tabor Church of Severna Park.

Among other special guests were the Rev. and Mrs. William Dyson, the Rev. Mrs. Mildred Johnson of Arnold, the Rev. Mrs. Irene Williamson of Jones and the Rev. Wilbert Dennis of Severna Park.

A special presentation was offered to the Rev. Mr. Morgan by the chairman of the arrangements committee of the banquet, Mrs. Oliver W. Kyler. Other members of her committee were Mrs. Mary Ann Greene and Mrs. Rosa Scott.

OF MUCH SIGNIFICANCE recently was the unique and most enjoyable "Luncheon Is Served with Pre-Teeners and Teen-agers," held on Thursday evening at Adams Park School.

The program, which was sponsored by the Anne Arundel County Recreation Department, was a benefit project, the proceeds of which will be placed in its scholarship fund.

Entertainment for the occasion was the presentation of a fashion show, when preteeners and teenagers from various areas of the county made beautiful showings of clothes appropriate for lounging, sportswear, dressy street wear, school and casual wear and evening wear.

A highlight on the program was the appearance of little Janice Hayes, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hayes in Spa Road. Little Janice, a very talented and gifted child, played two piano numbers from her music book, and sang one from the book as she played and read the music.

Her dad is supervisor of recreation in Anne Arundel County and a teacher in the public schools of Baltimore City. Her mother is a teacher at the Adams Park School here.

* * *

WHILE THE title of this activity mentioned "luncheon," a full two-course supper was served by Mrs. Louisa B. Hill of Baltimore.

Participants in the fashion show included Joyce Foot, Galesville; Estella Caldwell, Freetown; Lenora Fountain, Grace Matthews, Parole; Elaine Crowner, Derrick Nick, LaGearl Boston, Lorraine Foot, Electine Sellman, Rodney Franklin and Diana Sellman, all of Galesville;

Also Orrington Caldwell, Sharon Kane, Irene Hall, Jean Sedgewick, Inez Bouyer, Coles Franklin, Dale Levreney, Margaret Wise and Sandra Mayberry.

THE 10TH ANNUAL Day Camp of the Northwest Street YMCA will begin operation on June 25 at Carr's Beach, according to an announcement by James R. Cutting, chairman of the Day Camp committee.

William J. Taylor, branch executive, will direct the camping activities, which are scheduled to operate for four weeks at the beach.

A variety of program activities will include camp crafts, games, hiking, archery, nature study and group singing. Special emphasis will be given to instruction in swimming, and each week special programs around the theme for the week will be staged.

Campers, ages will range from 7 to 13 years. Insurance coverage, bus transportation and milk will be included in the camp fee and campers are required to register for at least one week.

Registration blanks may be obtained from the office of the Northwest Street YMCA.

THE GUESS Who We Are Social Club observed its 35th anniversary at St. Augustine Hall recently, when it celebrated with friends at an enjoyable ball.

The hall was elaborately decorated, carrying out the color scheme of the club, a combination of orchid, white, blue and pink. The table, which was draped in a lace cloth, was centered with seasonal cut flowers.

When the grand march was played, it was led off by the club members whose gowns in the club colors, were shown off with the colors divided into the four hues. Music was furnished by the La Frisees of Annapolis.

The more than 250 guests included visitors from Baltimore, Washington and Chicago. Officers and members of the club are:

Mesdames Alverta Thomas, president; Maude Phelps, vice-president; Martha Adams, financial secretary; Alice Pinkney, recording secretary; Ella Burgess, chaplain; Hattie Taylor, treasurer; Edna Boothe, chairman of social sessions; Catherine Cooper, Ways and Means chairman; Dorothy Ireland, Mary Jones, Naomi Randall, Anita Spriggs, Evelyn Perry, Alethia Parker, Ophelia Barnett and Agnes Gray.

THE THEME, "New Dimensions for Democracy" was carried out in the graduating exercises for 207 seniors at Bates High School last week. Miss Brice Spears, who was first as an honor student, and Miss Barbara Lee, along with her, each addressed the audience briefly.

Special recognition was given to Miss Simmona Simmons, who received the Annapolis Shrine Club's annual Honor Physics Student Roll Call Award plaque.

Other awards of special recognition were given as follows:

Ella Grace Award, Miss Barbara Lee (given by Dr. R.L.Richardson); Dr. T. H. Johnson's Chemistry Award, Miss Patricia Randall; Universal Lodge No. 14, F. and A. Masons, Prince Hall Affiliation, Most Progress in Mathematics, Miss Florence Dorsey;

Also the Metal Arts Award, Miss Thelma Gaither; El Progresse Art Award, Miss Brice Spears; the Building Trades Laboratory Award, William Dorsey and Rupert Spencer; the Cooke-Pinkney Post American Legion No. 141 Shop Award, Ronald Parker and Jerry Tongue.

* * *

THE SCHOLARSHIP awards were given in the following manner:

MORGAN STATE COLLEGE: James Simmons, $150; John Lippman, $400; Miss Barbara Gray, $350; Derek Brown, $150; Miss Thelma Gaither, $400; Miss Barbara Lee, $500; Miss Brice Spears, $500, and James Thompson, $150.

Also Phi Delta Kappa Sorority, Alpha Mu Chapter, Miss Grace McDade; Anne Arundel County Scholarship Fund, Inc., James Thomas and Richard Williams.

POSTAL CONFAB — Dr. Carl Murphy, AFRO-AMERICAN Newspaper publisher, is shown conferring with Postmaster General Day and William C. Doherty during a pause in a recent tour made of a postal research facility near San Francisco. Dr. Murphy and Mr. Doherty are members of an advisory board which is studying mechanization of the postal service and its impact on postal workers in the future. President Kennedy appointed the board from among the country's outstandig leaders.

THE OLD NORTHWESTERN Police Station, hard by the Henry Winter Davis Elementary School No. 125, Dolphin St. and Pennsylvania Ave., vacant for two years, is scheduled for removal soon to give the school more playground space. Once thought of as an addition to the school or a recreation center for an area much in need of one, the building was turned down because of the expense involved in rebuilding it for either of those purposes.

Dental study underway at Crownsville

By
ELAINE RICHARDSON

CROWNSVILLE, Md. — Dr. Lonnie Greene, a member of the dental staff of Crownsville State Hospital is making quite a contribution to the hospital by doing a research study of dental problems of aged mental patients.

The study is being conducted at the hospital with the approval of Dr. Archer Johnson, director of research, and Dr. Charles Ward, superintendent.

Dr. Greene states the gist of his study as follows:

"The purpose of this dental survey is two-fold. First, the study is being done to evaluate the dental condition of all geriatric patients within the Crownsville State Hospital, and second, to collect data which would furnish a basis for the formulation of a treatment plan for these geriatric patients within the hospital who have dental problems."

HAVING DONE his undergraduate work at Fisk University, where he received his A.B. degree in 1949, he received his D.D.S. degree from the Howard University School of Dentistry in 1953. He did his residence work at Westfield State Hospital at Westfield, Mass. in 1953 and 1954.

Dr. Greene also completed several post - graduate courses. At Howard in the Dental School, he pursued a course in Minor Oral Surgery and Exodentis in 1958.

Dr. Greene is a dental affiliate at the Provident Hospital, Baltimore. He is a member of Grace Presbyterian Church in Baltimore, where he lives with his wife, Mrs. Saretha Gaski Greene and daughter, Sharyl Lynn, aged four. He is a past president of the Maryland Dental Association.
