Gadabouting In Baltimore

Second time around also romance filled with Lula Jones Garrett

And who says the second time around cannot be romance packed?

Mrs. Mabel Weaver, for a long time one of the town's most attractive widows, is to become Mrs. A. J. Holsey on July 5th.

And it's not only one of the cutest love stories ever told, but you won't find a more excited engaged couple in ten states.

On Saturday, Mrs. John Price gave a surprise luncheon for her sister, the bride-elect, at the hostess' Lexington St. home.

Assembled there was a group of the honoree's close friends, eager to hear the secret of her winning the number one spot at the side of Mr. Holsey.

The tale was told simply, beautifully and unaffectedly as Mrs. Weaver opened the beautifully wrapped gifts of lingerie, perfume and jewelry.

Not a detail was omitted: the proposal, the engagement ring, plans for a California honeymoon, followed in fairy-like fashion.

Decorations for the party would have been a compliment to any bride - to - be, having been designed by her nieces, Marietta Pyles and Mrs. Lester Duvall, and executed in wedding bells and ribbons.

The nieces also served punch throughout the afternoon, climaxed with a luncheon as appealing to the eye as it was delectable to the taste.

The guests included:

Mesdames Ruth Walker, Mary Stokes, Lester Norris, William Proctor, George Lotier, Alfred Moore, Hannah Burns, Mesdames Buy Braxton, Theresa Ebb, Vonzella Ford, Evelyn Schols, Martha Platner, Beulah Plummer, Hattie White, and Ruth Smith.

Mrs. Weaver, a native of Lumberton, N.C., attended Scotia Seminary and taught in Concord, N.C. before a teaching career in this city, from which she has now retired. She was Mother of the Year of Grace Presbyterian Church in 1961.

She is engaged in many socio-civic activities. Her first husband was Sherman A. Weaver and she has been a widow for 30 years. She went to her first party with an escort the past January, as guest of Mr. Holsey.

Mr. Holsey, a retired postal employee, is a prominent church man and secretary of the trustees board of Sharp Street Methodist Church. He has been a widow for nine years.

The couple has a round dozen of daughters, he having five, and she, seven . . . all of whom are as enthusiastic over the marriage as the participants. But then, the children grew up together, the families having been friends through the years.

Mrs. Weaver and Mr. Holsey to be married in church, with the immediate families present, will leave immediately for California, where they will spend a month seeing San Francisco, visiting Mrs. Marie Edwards, formerly of this city, in San Jose and seeing the Fair in Seattle, Wash.

IN STORE for Morgan State College Summer School students, and for Baltimoreans as well, is an evening of "Music from Cafe Society" with Clara Bow and June Norton in the singing roles.

Miss Bow is the current feature at "The Place Where Louie Dwells" in Washington, and as you probably know, is an accomplished pianist as well as singer. She will be accompanied by her husband, Al White, bass violinist.

Miss Norton, an exceptionally talented song stylist, was formally with Duke Ellington.

The musical evening has been scheduled for the Student Union Lounge at Morgan. It will be held on July 9, and as I said, is open to the public.

LOUISE JONES was practically speechless Saturday night when, summoned by Bea Rawlings' home for a tea with friends, found herself the center of a bon voyage party.

Louise leaves today (Friday) for Hawaii to visit her son-in-law and daughter,

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM SPENCER entertained in honor of their debutante daughter, Miss Carol Lynn Spencer, Friday evening in the Me-De-So Club. In the receiving line were, left to right: Mrs. Simon Carter, wife of Dr. Carter, Me-De-So Club sponsor of Miss Spencer; Mrs. Spencer, Miss Spencer, Mrs. Corlett Thomas, grandmother of the honoree; Mrs. Genevieve Harris and Mrs. Marjorie Spencer.

Spencer debutante reception on parent's 23rd anniversary

Miss Carol Lynn Spencer, a current debutante, was honoree at the reception given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Spencer on the 23rd anniversary of their marriage, Friday evening.

Miss Spencer was presented at the annual spring cotillion of the Me-De-So Club. The reception was held in the Me-De-So Club, Eutaw Place.

THE DEBUTANTE who was an honor graduate of Forest Park High School, here, is an English major at Howard University, where she will be a sophomore next year.

She is an accomplished dancer, having studied under Mrs. Vernice Matthews here for 10 years, and at Peabody for three years.

At Howard, she is amember of the advanced dance group and is studying under Mrs. Ethel Butler.

FOR THE RECEPTION, Miss Spencer wore a white organdy frock with cummerbund and sash of turquoise. Shoes were also in turquise and she had a cascade of turquoise and yellow flowers.

Also in the receiving line was Mrs. Simon Carter, wife of Miss Spencer's Me-De-So sponsor, who was gowned in a pale pink sheer sheath with matching over coat; Mrs. Spencer, who wore aqua lace with matching accessories; Mrs. Corlett Thomas, grandmother of the Debutante, who wore a print in white background and gold flowers; Mrs. Guinevieve Harris, whose dress was peace lace, and Mrs. Howard Spencer, whose dress was beige crepe and chiffon. Her accessories were in green.

Miss Oswell bride of Armory Brunot

Miss Doris Dancy Oswell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon M. Oswell, became the bride of Armory Brunot, here, Saturday.

The ceremony, in Saint Cecelia's Roman Catholic Church, was performed by Father John Patrick.

GIVEN IN MARRIAGE by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of silk organza veiled over taffeta. The high-necked collared bodice was embroidered and featured sleeves that were bouffant at the elbows. The skirt swept into a chapel train. Her three - quarter length veil was held by a head piece of wax flowers with a bow at the back.

She carried a bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis.

Mrs. Cosette Cohen of Bay Shore, L.I., sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor, and the bride's sister, Miss Carole Elizabeth Oswell was maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Miss Vera M. Jackson and Miss Vera Ann Shipley.

They wore white batiste embroidered with blue on the skirt and with blue taffeta cummerbunds and sashes at the back. They wore matching shoes and blue taffeta picture hats and carried nosegays of blue cornflowers and white carnations.

ROBERT NORWOOD, of Washington, was best man for Mr. Brunot. Ushers were Garland Weaver and Leroy Rowe both of Washington and Mahlon Oswell Jr., brother of the bride.

Deborah Cohen, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. Her ensemble was all white.

Mrs. I. Bradshaw Higgins directed the wedding.

AT THE RECEPTION which followed, in the Morgan College Christian Center, guests were introduced to the receiving line by Miss Irma Dancy.

Assisting hostesses were Misses Auldlyn Higgins, Charlie Harvey, Sylvia Peppers, Bernadine Tyler; and Mrs. Esther B. White.

Mrs. Adelaide Pope kept the guest book, Mrs. Henry Johnson assisted in receiving wedding gifts.

FOR HER daughter's wedding and reception Mrs. Oswell wore a dress of blue, the top of lace over organza and the skirt in tiers. Her shoes and hat were also blue and her corsage of white orchids.

Mrs. Hoza selected an ensemble in beige lace with matching accessories. Her corsage was also of orchids.

Mr. Brunot is a sophomore in the Howard University Medical School and is also with Field Enterprise Education Corp.

The new Mrs. Brunot is a graduate of Wilson College and is a teacher of public school music in the schools of Arundel County.

Following their wedding trip the couple will live in Washington.

THE BRIDE was honored by her grandmother, Mrs. Callie Dancy and aunt, Miss Irma Dancy, at a buffet supper following the wedding rehearsal, on Friday night at their home on Poplar Grove St.

Guests included the wedding party and Mrs. Verna Jackson, Miss Veronica Shipley, Miss Auldlyn Higgins, Miss Carol Oswell, Mrs. Hilda Higgins, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Mitchell, and parents of the bride.
