SERMON OF THE WEEK

'Put on the yoke and search out those not in the light'

"Put on the yoke," said the Rev. John H. Thomas, "and search out those who are not in the light of Jesus Christ."

The Rev. Mr. Thomas was guest pastor at the First Baptist Church, Caroline and McElderry Sts., Sunday.

The theme of his sermon was "Understanding God."

• • •

"CHRISTIANITY is an out-reaching force," said the Rev. Mr. Thomas. "No Christian life can be complete unless it understands the vital force of God and His wisdom.

"Man cannot just catch up with God. Man must keep studying, working, marching forward trying to understand God's widsom.

"The reason why we pray so hard is to try to understand God's wisdom. Why? Because we have not been able to see the wonders of God.

"Paul was a wise man. He knew languages. He had attended the best schools of his times. Yet, he knew that something was missing — a knowledge of God — until one day he met Jesus on the road.

"The unspiritual man does not welcome the teaching of God. Paul tells us to study God's Word.

"Jesus states that we have a job as Christians to do. We must put the yoke on.

"Put on the yoke and search out those who are not in the light of Jesus Christ."

The Rev. Mr. Thomas is pastor of the Galilee Baptist Church, Smithville, N.C. He is a graduate of Shaw University, N.C.

His wife, Mrs. Elma Thomas, was among the worshippers.

The First Baptist Church is located in East Baltimore across the street from Dunbar High School.

The church is in the midst of a building program which will eventually cost $110,000, according to Dolphus Livingston, chairman of the deacon board.

Thus far the First Baptist Educational Building has been built. It contains six classrooms, a church office, a pastor's study, choir room, and a kitchen. Everything is new, spick, and modern.

• • •

THE educational building was the dream of the pastor, the Rev. Vernion T. Williams, who died Feb. 25, on the 126th anniversary of the church.

Since his death, First Baptist has not had a regular minister. According to Mr. Livingston, a new pastor will be selected after the summer vacation.

Meanwhile, the church is being administered by Mr. Livingston, who, as one member of the board of trustees said, "has done a remarkable job of keeping things going."

The Etude Octet sang for the congregation.

ANNAPOLIS DOINGS

By ELOISE RICHARDSON

A work of real merit finds favor, when Bernard Roosevelt Anderson, the father of seven sons, was honored at a testimonial banquet at Broadneck Asbury Methodist Church.

Seated at the guest table were Mrs. Hattie Pierce, the Rev. S. T. Collins of Edgewater, minister of Towneck Methodist Church; the Rev. Clarence M. Johnson of Andover Church at Linthicum, the Rev. and Mrs. John H. Carter, his pastor; Mrs. Gloria Jones of Christ Methodist Church, Baltimore; Miss Yvonne Fisher of Hallis Methodist church in Glen Burnie; Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Glenn of Towneck Church, Robinson.

Numerous other out-of-town guests came rom Washington, D. C., Baltimore, Severna Park, Earleigh Heights and Annapolis, Md.

• • •

AS MR. ANDERSON and his wife, the former Miss Sadie R. Pack, were escorted down the aisle by the president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, Mrs. Franklin Johnson and the president of the Methodist Men, John R. Thomas, they were accompanied by five sons of the honorees, Levi, David, Rodell, Henry and Richie Anderson, and two daughters, Mrs. Loretta Brooks and Mrs. Jeanette Stevenson.

Anohter daughter, Mrs. Alice Bryant of St. Stephen, S. C., and two other sons, A 2/c Alexander Anderson at Thule Air Force Base, Greenland, and Sgt. Wesley E. Anderson, who just arrived in Germany, were unable to attend the affair.

During the program, which was presented by Miss Frances Johnson, solos were sung by Mrs. Mildred Johnson, Mrs. Gloria Jones of Christ Church at Baltimore, and Miss Yvonne Fisher. Other music was furnished by the Young Adult Choir and the Travelers.

• • •

OTHERS WHO appeared on the program were the Rev. Evelyn Addison, John R. Thomas, the Rev. Clarence M. Johnson and the Rev. Charles A. Green of St. Luke Methodist Church, Baltimore. The Rev. Mr. Collins gave honors to the honoree. Mrs. Lillie Rowel was at the organ.

At the banquet hall, many gifts were presented to the honoree by his family and friends including a watch, and the affection of the Methodist Youth Fellowship, which he organized more than 23 years ago.

Mrs. Anderson was most attractive in a floral print chiffon dress in a predominantly orchid hue on a white background. She wore a five-strand pearl necklace with earrings to match, a wreath of rosebuds in her hair, and a red carsation corsage. Both she and the honoree received their corsage and boutonniere from the heads of the women's and men's organizations.

In his remarks, the honoree expressed deep appreciation and paid special tribute to Miss Louise Anderson and Miss Frances Johnson, chairmen for the affair.

• • •

MR. ANDERSON, the grandfather of 22 grandchildren, is a key personality in both his church and his community. He serves with every organization in the church except the Trustee Board and the women's group.

Especially fond of young people, he has been a great influence in the Sunday School, the youth group and the Young People's Choir, serving as director, youth advisor and teacher.

He is also a steward, lay delegate, vice-president of the Methodist Men and a member of the Commission on Education, the Commission on Finance and the South Baltimore District Council, Methodist Youth Fellowship.

• • •

MRS. MOLLIE HARRIS, popular matron of First Baptist Church, spent an enjoyable short vacation in Columbus, Ohio, where she visited relatives and friends. Her greatest thrill while there came when she visited Shiloh Baptist Church where she had been a member in 1944.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Keller and granddaughter, Christine Lander, flew by jet to Oakland, Calif., where they were joined by their son, Woodrow Ladner and her sister, Mrs. Maude Avery and son Richard, before going on to Seattle to attend the World's Fair.

On returning to California, the trio will fly to Chicago to visit Mrs. Keller's sister, Mrs. Lorenza Thomas and Mr. Keller's brother, Andy Keller.

• • •

THE WILLIAM H. Richardsons have as their house guest, Mrs. Lorene Harden of Indianapolis. Mrs. Harden is director of student activities at Crispus Attucks High School in Indianapolis.

The Commission on Membership and Evangelism will sponsor the "Way of the Cross," a religious pageant, 8 p.m. Sunday, July 22 at the Asbury Methodist Church. Mrs. Annie S. Henry is director.

Miss Lavinia Rice had as weekend guests, Miss Sylvia McDonald of Portland, Oregon, who is visiting her cousin, Lawrence Middleton, a member of the faculty of Morgan State College, and Miss Joyce J. McNeal and Rudy Wheeler of Baltimore.
