MR. AND MRS. LAWSON COOPER and wedding party leave Walbrook Trinity Presbyterian Church, Saturday afternoon, following one of the season's most beautiful ceremonies. Mrs. Cooper is the former Miss Myrna Denise Randolph.

Miss Myrna Randolph wed to Lawson Cooper

Miss Myrna Dennise Randolph, daughter of Mrs. Virginia Hill Randolph of this city, and Harold M. Randolph of Washington, D.C., was married to Lawson F. Cooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawson C. Cooper of Jamacia, West Indies, Saturday at 5 O'clock p.m. in the Walbrook Presbyterian Church.

The church was simply decorated with lilies, palms and tapers. The bride and bridegroom stood under a flowered adorned archway while Rev. Thomas P. Fraser, II performed the double ring wedding ceremony.

Mrs. Olivia Hill Canady, bride's aunt, of Bluefield, W. Va., organist and Matthew B. Fraling, Jr. of this city, violinist and soloist, provided the nuptial music.

THE BRIDE, given in marriage by her father, wore a full swept bridal gown of rich silk faced Peau banded with re-embroidered trench peau d'ange at the sabrina neckline. At the molded waist, a beguilding bustle formed into a magnificent chapel length train set off with lace appliques.

Her three-tiered finger tip imported veil of illusion was arranged from a glittering star lit crown of rhinestones and simulated pearls set off with a beautiful flower in the back.

She carried a ruffled lace bible covered with a cascade of calumn stock and a cross of phalionopsis and white orchids.

MISS PATRICIA HILL RANDOLPH, of this city, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She was attractively attired in an azalea color silk taffeta dress designed with the long waisted look of the elongated bodice attached to a controlled bell skirt.

Her head dress was an azalea petal covered pixie cap with a circular veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of deep purple gardenias, orchid and purple delphinium and pompons.

Bridesmaids were Shelia Fraser of Baltimore, Miss Norma Parham, Cleveland, Ohio; Miss Corinne Pierce, Baltimore, and Miss Ronyl Stewart, Washington.

They were also attractively attired in cherry color dresses with matching head dresses designed like the maid of honor's dress and headdress. Bridesmaids carried cascade bouquets of orchid lone gardenias, purple delphinium, and orchid tone daisy pompons.

Harold Jennifer of Baltimore, Maryland was best man. Ushers were James Davidson, Walter Davidson, Charles Richardson, and Oakley Saunders.

The flower girl was Debbie Randolph, the bride's sister, of Washington. She wore a short white glowing silk organza circled dress and her headdress was a large white bow with long white streamers which fell to the hem of her dress.

She carried a basket of rose petals and buds which she dropped on the white carpet.

Ring bearer was Bryan Rawlings who was a pupil at School No. 6 where the bride is a teacher.

THE MOTHER of the bride was elegantly gowned in a blue prestine silk organza dress molded at the waist with a demi-bell skirt. The dress was enriched with venise flower lace appliques. Her azalea shade hat and orchild was the same color of the maid of honor's gown. She wore matching accessories.

The mother of the bridegroom wore a gown with the intriguing line of the envelope-like bodice closing which was repeated in the tunic length overskirt which played up the intricate loveliness of beige lace. She wore a corsage of green orchids and matching accessories. Herbert E. Waddy, assistant to Post Master General escorted both parents from the church.

THE RECEPTION which was a gala affair followed the wedding at the Alcazar ballroom, which was beautifully decorated. More than 350 guests attended the reception.

Mrs. Ella Edemy introduced guests to the receiving line. Background and dance music was furnished by a five-piece orchestra under the direction of Matthew Fraling. The bridegroom cut the bride's cake, ceremoniously, with the bride, and shared the first slice together to signify sharing forever. After which, the bride's sister sang, "My Hero." The father danced with the bride until the bridegroom claimed his wife.

THE BRIDE and bridegroom were entertained lavishly during the wedding week.

A rehearsal party which was given by her mother, Mrs. Virginia Hill Randolph at the beautiful home of Mrs. Leroy Thompson highlighted the week's activities. The bridegroom's mother from Jamacia, West Indies and bride's aunt from Bluefield, were introduced to the bridal party, family, and friends, at this affair.

Gifts were given to the bridesmaids and ushers. The bride and bridegroom gave jewelry to each other.

Mrs. Bruce Edemy who directed the wedding was assisted by Mrs. Leroy Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawson Cooper will honeymoon for three weeks at Martha's Vinyard, after which, they will reside in their home at 3507 Hilton Road, this city.

He is a senior engineer at Westinghouse.

Maryland League plans change in format of confab

with Lula Jones Garrett

The executive committee of the Maryland League of Women Voters met Thursday, and elected its program for the next year, including a change in format for the annual conference.

The exquisite apartment of Mrs. Lena King Lee, president of the League, was the setting, and dinner the entre for the Thursday session.

Guests moved to the garden of the Callaway Avenue home for the business session, at which Mrs. Lee presided.

By vote of the committee, the conference will add a day, with the two-day session beginning with a reception on Friday evening, at which officers will, in all probability, be elected.

This, the committee felt, will pave the way for more attention and time for workshops, which they plan to increase from three to five, on Saturday.

It will also allow for increased time for club reports. Under the new plan, the luncheon will be held on Saturday as heretofore.

The meeting was attended by:

Mesdames Bernice Buckner, Celonia Walden, Emma Dudley, Fannie Howard, Flossie Dedmond, Agnese Brown, Gladys Wallace, Meadmore, Isolene Crosmer, Lula Patterson, Mary Adams, Margaret Ross, Mary McKim, Naomi Campher, Queenie Lane, Rosalie McGuire, Ruth Brown and Sarena Mann;

Misses Inez Redmond, Marion Jones, Mayme Tilghman and Vivian Young.

PEREGRINATORS: Ruth Forster, who first decided to put her summer to a useful purpose, took a second thought and decided that all work and no play would have a dulling influence on a Jill, too. So she packed bags and took off. Went for a visit to Philly, then to North Carolina. Went on to Puerto Rico and when I heard from her this week was in the Virgin Islands. Says she will head homeward about August 11th. Mrs. Forster is a town schoolmarm.

Back from Denver, Colo., this week, is Mrs. J. Logan Jenkins, who saw that portion of the country from the Brown Palace Hotel. She spent two days in Estes Park Chalet, went to the top of Pikes Peak, and visited the Garden of The Gods, where, with 11,999 others, saw a performance that included Harry Belafonte and Mrs. Sabra M. Johnson, ready to enplane for a prolonged visit with relatives and friends in Los Angeles, Calif., was feted at a bon voyage party by Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Satterfield, Wednesday. Wishing her happy landing were Mr. and Mrs. Jesse E. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Satterfield, Mrs. Ella Rowe, Mrs. Mary Tyree and Miss Eliza Williams.

Sgt. James R. Galmore, Miss Ardelia E. Galmore, Miss Alma Jackson went to Brooklyn and New Rochelle, N.Y., last week to celebrate with their aunt, Mrs. Alma Brooks, her 83rd birthday. Their other hosts included Robert Brooks and Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Brooks.

Mrs. Cyrus W. Marshall, Sr. is readying for a trip to Mexico. Will also visit Los Angeles, San Francisco, El Paso, Texas, Salt Lake City, Colorado Springs and Pikes' Peak.

She is taking along her 17-year-old granddaughter, Marsha C. Jordan. Marsha is a June graduate of Forest Park High School and plans to enter Morgan College in the fall. She is also a Me-DoSo sub deb.

In Los Angeles, they will visit Mrs. Marshall's son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Granville H. Marshall, but will miss seeing the Marshall youngsters, who are spending the summer in Cleveland, Ohio, with their maternal grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. Emerald B. Spencer.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Jones entertained his brother, Charles M. Jones of Tacoma, California, and the latter's granddaughter, at a dinner party on Saturday evening. It was Mr. Jones' first visit here in 15 years. Guests at dinner included the Messrs. Jones' mother, Mrs. Julia Eley; and their sisters, Mesdames Mildred Woodlon and Etta Rogers. The visitors, who spent 10 days here, returned to California on Monday.

Back on her home hearth (California) this week is Mrs. William T. Hughes, the former Lillian Clarke of this city, and widow of Mr. Hughes of Washington. Mrs. Clarke spent two months in the East visiting her sisters, Mrs. Russell A. Lane in Indianapolis, Ind., and Mrs. Viola C. Buston of this city. She was house guest of her niece, Miss Leah Clarke while here.

POT - POURRI: June Thorne makes her debut as director in the Arena Players' presentation of "Bits of Broadway", next month.

The musical features excerpts from outstanding musicals of the Broadway stage, and the production is scheduled for August 2, 3, and 4, at The Arena Playhouse Downtown.

Congratulations, best wishes, etc. are in order for Reppard Stone, who will assume a new post as instructor and head of the music department of Dover State College, Dover, Del. in the fall.

Mr. Stone, who has taught instrumental music in Baltimore Public Schools for 16 years, is a Morgan State College graduate with a master's degree from Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio.

He married the former Dorothy Simms, also a city teacher, and they have one daughter, Diahann.

Harold and Fiozella Clark, who will celebrate their 20th wedding anniversary next month, will take off for Europe for a "second honeymoon". They have already packed the children off . . . Veronica being in Athens, Greece, with Mrs. Frank Sykes and daughter, Alice; and Maria and Harolyn in Gadsden, Ala., with relatives, Dr. and Mrs. James Stewart.

Friends have been marking the date and the prospective trip with gay parties for the Clarks . . including a dinner party by Dr. and Mrs. Albert LaForest and a luncheon by Mrs. Barbara Davis . . and simply showers of gifts.

MRS. NAOMI CAMPER, who heads the For-Win-Ash Garden Club, called a very special meeting on Friday, to organize plans for the annual garden party.

The affair, set for August 4th, will be in the garden of the Campers' Powhatan Avenue home, and has been themed the "Spice of Life". Members will exhibit individual arrangements of flowers.

Entertainment will include skits by the Arena Players and dances.

As usual, when For-Win-Ash meetings are over, provided are delectable menus prepared by the hostess.

At the session were, Mesdames Marion Banfield, Rosalie McGuire, Almay Kendrick, Nellie Buchanan, Myrtle Lee, Hilda Higgins, Agnese Browne, Aleass Hunt, Maribeth Bell, Madeline Harding, Edgar Mann and Dr. Martin Rodney.
