ANNAPOLIS DOINGS

By ELOISE RICHARDSON

What is more wholesome than a Boy Scout program? Members of Boy Scout Troop No. 250, Annapolis, just returned from a camping trip and are they thrilled? It was fun to interview each little fellow and see the light in his eyes as he tried to express his feelings and delight.

The trip took them to the Broad Creek Memorial Camp for Boy Scout at White Ford, Md. Here they are projected into a camping activity program which includes a hike through a wooded area of pine trees . riverlet streams all of which are designated as "The Pines."

Other activities included training in various camping skills such as campcraft, cooking, swimming and the reading of the compass. The swimming classes are grouped as non-swimmers to beginners to swimmers and swimmers to life savers.

Orlando Day, scoutmaster, stated that the trip was the best extended camping trip the boys have had in four years. He also said he felt much of the success of the project was due to the wonderful cooperation and interest of his assistants and the Troop Committee.

Assistant Scoutmasters are Joseph Middleton, William Swann and Donald Burns.

The Troop Committee consists of Walter S. Mills, chairman; Arthur Takeall, James Herndon, Albert Makell, Chesterfield Harris, Lawrence Harris and the Rev. Calvin Herbert.

WHEN THE boys were interviewed, they gave the following statements:

MICHAEL GRAY, First Class Scout—"I learned a lot about using the axe and swimming, and I plan to be an Eagle Scout."

STANLEY HOLLAND, First Class Scout — I especially like camping out-of-doors and I plan to be an Eagle Scout."

OSCAR HERBERT, First Class Scout—"Sleeping out of doors is fun. I also enjoyed the swimming, learning the use of the axe and other classes. I sure do want to be an Eagle Scout."

LARUE TAYLOR, First Class Scout —"I enjoyed swimming and I liked the people on the staff at the camp because they were so kind to us."

LARRY PARKER, First Class Scout—"I like camping out in the open."

ALAN HARRIS, First Class Scout — 'I loved the whole program and I intend to be an Eagle Scout."

FREDERICK GILMER First Class Scout —"I like to swim and I was thrilled that my dad stayed overnight with me."

KERMIT WRIGHT, Tenderfoot—"I really liked the swimming."

REGGIE SIMMS, Tenderfoot—"I enjoyed the camping and I had a lot of fun hiking through the pines, streams and mountains."

JOHN PRANN, Tenderfoot — "I liked it o.k."

CHARLES HARRIS, Tenderfoot — "I loved the trip and look forward to it again next year."

OSCAR MURDEN, Tenderfoot—"The trip was very interesting and I learned a lot."

GREGORY SISCOE, Tenderfoot — "I liked the activities very much."

ERIC CROWDY, Tenderfoot—"I liked the trip and I like being a scout."

ROBERT BURKE, Tenderfoot—"I like scouting very much in every way."

MICHAEL BOSTON, Tenderfoot—"I loved the swimming and hiking and I like being a scout very much.

and Leila Powell pool their hostessing talent something great is bound to come up.

A few days ago they gathered some of Mary West Jones" closest friends and "Wingo" buddie for a bon voyage to Mrs. Jones ere she jaunts to Europe.

They provided most delectable viands (from minute hot rolls to a beautifully decorated cake) and showered the honoree with lovely gifts.

At the party were Doris Rheubottom from Philadelphia, Pearl Newman and Mabel Fletcher from Washington, Alice Bonds from New York;

From hereabouts; Dorothy Evans, Alfreda Pinkney, Carrie D. Scott, Thelma Gamby, Edna White, Bessie Bell;

Also Betty Lindsay, Lillian Maith, Inez Johnson, Cornelia Ringgold, Pearl Hall and Ada Veney.

INVITATION TO the Winchester Street home of Lillie A. Ross, Tuesday, was the gay occasion for a surprise Bon Voyage luncheon for Lillie Mae McDouglas.

Miss McDouglas is a graduate music major of Howard University and the University of Boston School of Music, where she received a master's degree. She is a teacher of music in Central High School, Hammond, N.Y.

The honoree is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McDouglas, and her uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Watts, here, before taking off for a European tour, which will include nine countries.

After a delectable luncheon the guests enjoyed an impromptu musicale. The lovely lyric soprano voice of Mrs. Watts initiated the musicale with "The House I Live In."

Miss McDouglas and Mrs. Watts sang a duet "Let Us Break Bread Together" in an original arrangement by Miss McDouglas. With Mrs. Alice Hall as soloist, guests joined in a spiritual, and Miss Hamsonia Caldwell concluded the program with the "Arabesque" by Russey and "By the Sea" by Posa.

There were beautiful gifts for the honoree.

Other than those already mentioned, the luncheon was attended by Mrs. Beulah Caldwell and Mrs. Ruth Cleaver.

On Wednesday, the "School Marms gathered at Ethel Covington's lovely Duvall Ave. home for a Bon Voyage party for three of their members: Catherine Greene and Allegra Taylor, who are Europe-bound; and Enna Payne, Vernice Mat-Hawaii.

Ethel's spacious club room was decorated with colorful travel posters. A large silver ship carried a cargo of gifts for the travelers. Four tables were set to represent four different countries: Holland, England, Japan and the Islands.

It was the first time in quite a few years that this always tres gai group had gotten together. Needless to say a hilarious evening was spent, and all agreed that this year should see the renewing of regular get - togethers.

School marms are Mesdames Irene Templeton, Euna Payne, Vernicee Matthews, Agnes Smallwood, Ethel Covington, Ruth Broom, Anna Jones, of Orange, N.J.; Wahseeola Male, Alfreda Pinkney, Victorine Adams, Allegra Taylor, Elizabeth Crudup, Anne Payne, Bertie Clark, Irma Dixon, Catherine Greene, and unanimously elected new member, Lillian Wilson.

THE REV. MR. AND MRS.

25TH YEAR TOGETHER — The Rev. and Mrs. Wyatt Brown, 635 N. Bentalou St., recently celebrated their Silver Anniversary. Inset is picture of their son, David Brown, 19. They also have four adopted children.

A. J. Payne were hosts at a dinner party on Sunday at their elegant Catonsville home, honoring Mrs. Elizabeth Washington and daughters, Misses Catherine and Dionne Washington, of Chicago.

The Chicagoans are here visiting Mrs. Washington's stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Garrett.

Sharing honors with the visitors, was Mrs. Payne's sister, Miss Edwina Watkins, a recent graduate of Douglass High School.

Guests also included:

Mr. and Mrs. Garrett, Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Watkins Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Bartow Morgan;

Mr. and Mrs. James Dupree, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cook, Mrs. Margaret Hobinson, Mrs. Verda Welcome, Miss Mary Sue Welcome and James B. Bell.

Later in the evening the group was joined by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jones and their guests, Bernard Madison, the Cleveland, Ohio, architect and Mrs. Madison; and Dr. Stanley Madison and Miss Marian B. Campbell of this city.

ALICE C. TUCKER was honoree, Tuesday, when her godfather, Dr. John Hurst of Chester, Pa. gave a party to celebrate her 20th birthday.

Miss Tucker was the dinner guest of honor at the Hurst home and the entertainment ran the gamut from amusing witticisms attached to hors d'ouvres to a twist contest. Doris Ralph, Bernard White, and Ralph Quarles ran off with the twisting prizes.

The L.A.M.P.S. also presented a lovely bon voyage gift to one of their members. Mrs. Lilla Barnum, who will tour Europe during the summer.

L. A. M. P. S. who played hostesses were Mesdames Ann White, Jean Butler, Doris Ralph, Sue Allen, Lilla Barnum and Alice Shelton. Their guests were Drs. Richard Butler, George Lee, Bernard White, John Hagan, Bernard Ralph, Anthony Allen, Ralph Quarles, William Harris and Wesley Shelton.

BLACK AND WHITE OINTMENT

NACWC begins 33rd meet July 28; 1,500 expected

The National Association of Colored Women's Clubs, the nation's oldest organization of colored women, will hold its 33rd biennial convention in Washington, D.C. July 28 through August 3.

The meeting will be held at the Sheraton Park Hotel, and upwards of 1,500 women are expected to attend, according to Dr. Rosa L. Gragg of Detroit, NACWC president.

On hand will be representatives of NACWC affiliates in 41 states and the District of Columbia.

The theme of the 1962 convention will be "Dimensions in Democracy for Today's Women and Youth," which will be developed in a series of talks and workshops at which many ranking governmental officials will be featured.

Meeting at the same time as the NACWC parent body will be two of its affiliates on the national level, the Young Adult Division, headed by Louise E. Taylor of Belle Glade, Fla., and the National Association of Colored Girls, presided over by Joyce Ford of Albany, N.Y.

This year's site is especially important for NACWC will be returning to the scene of its founding in July, 1896.

It was at that time that the National Federation of Afro-American Women and the Colored Women's Club of Washington, D.C. merged to form the new organization under the direction of the late Dr. Mary Church Terrell.

The purposes of the Association at that time, as now, included the promotion of leadership among women, improvement of conditions of family living, and the rendering of public services; both on the local and national level.

The Association endeavors to achieve its objectives through a series of nationwide projects.

These include a Mother, Home and Child Program, Arts and Crafts Program, Women in Industry Program, and a Young Adult Program.

In addition, NACWC has undertaken several major projects, including restoration of the home of Frederick Douglass in the Anacostia section of Washington, D.C., the Hallie Quinn Brown Scholarship Fund, which provides financial aid for college students; and a National Neighborhood Improvement competition.
