IN STEP WITH STEEDS — The AFRO camera catches halfback Lenny Lyles (43), flanked by fullback Mark Smolinski (32) and quarterback Lamar McHan (14) as they head for workout at Baltimore Colts' Westminster, Md., training camp. All are key men in 1962 hopes of Hosses, Lyles as an answer to secondary defensive problems. Smolinski looks to spelling Joe Perry when aging fullback needs rest, and McHan as capable stand-in for John Unitas.

Fading Sugar Ray decides to box Downes

NEW YORK (ANP)—Despite his poor showing in losing to young Phil Moyer in Los Angeles recently, fading Sugar Ray Robinson, former middleweight and welterweight champion, has decided to go ahead with his scheduled bout with Terry Downes of Britain at London, Sept. 25.

The Robinson - Downes fight was originally set for July 26, but was postponed when Robinson came up with an injured hand. At the time, he was heavily criticized by the British press.

* * *

ROBINSON IS the first to win the middleweight title five times, but he is now only a shadow of his old self. Ray in his last fights, seemed to be just going through the motion and calling on his ring experience to avert being knocked out.

Downes held the title briefly after defeating Paul Pender last year for the National Boxing Association's version of the title. He lost it back to Pender in a return bout.

Rugby game on Colt Nite card

The 35,000 — odd football fans attending Colt Nite will witness an exhibition game of Rugby - one of football's venerable predecessors — if they arrive at Memorial Stadium early Monday (August 6.)

The Baltimore Rugby Football Club, organized just a year and a half ago, will field a fifteen-man team against the New York Rugby Football Club at 7 p.m.

Rugby differs from football in several ways also: no substitutions; no time out; two forty - minute periods with a 5-minute half - time; forward pass illegal; no blocking allowed; can tackle only man with ball; any member can score a "try" (touchdown); team plays short-handed when depleted by injuries; no padding allowed; no helmets.

Oldtimers defeat Kozy, Mack stars

The Oldtimers downed the Playboys 8, 6, in Clifton Park Sunday.

Donald Mack, manager of the Oldtimers, pitched a 5-hitter that kept the Playboys checked all the way after the Playboys got four unearned runs. Mack was 4 for 4 with 2 singles, a triple and a grand slam homer.

Besides Mack, formerly of the Harlem A.C's the Oldtimers featured such names as Shag Harris, formerly of East Balti., A.C.; Smoke Logan, once of Greenway Hawks; Buddy Harris, Harlem A.C; Tom Jones, Waverly Wild Cats, and Slim Charles, Sam's All Stars.

Dodgers shutout Giants, 3-0

In the final day of Methodist Athletic League baseball Saturday at Druid Hill Park, the Union Memorial Dodgers beat the Sharp Street Giants 3-0.

Saturday evening in an exhibition game for Bishop Edgar A. Love of Washington Annual Conference of the Methodist Church, the Metropolitan Mets edged the Mt. Olivet Indians, 4-1, in three innings.

BRONCO BRUISERS — Tan members of the crack Brooklyn Broncos are reported ready for the coming football season. Half-back Lester Wright and middle guard William Bristol (42) are working out with the 1961 winners of the Pennsylvania - Maryland Semi-pro League title. The Broncs appear in an intra-squad game tomorrow (Saturday) night at Brooklyn Park High School.

Wilson says Ernie Davis must beat him for job

HIRAM, Ohio — An open challenge to Heisman Trophy winner Ernie Davis, the All - American halfback from Syracuse, comes from Tom Wilson, one of the nine new players the Cleveland Browns have acquired in trades.

Davis, the Browns' rookie who has been tabbed as the successor at left halfback to Bobby Mitchell, is now in training with the College All-Stars and will report to the Browns after Friday's game with the world champion Green Bay Packers.

REFERRING TO Davis, Wilson says, "He'll have to beat me out."

Wilson, who played six seasons with the Los Angeles Rams, went to Cleveland along with quarterback Frank Ryan in the recent trade for defensive tackle Larry Stephens and a pair of draft choices.

Sixteen tan stars await 2nd All-Star Classic Monday

CHICAGO, Ill. — Sixteen colored athletes stand ready for the "play ball" call of the 2nd Major League All - Star baseball game, scheduled for Comiskey park here, Monday afternoon.

Included in the group are the four men who thrilled 45,480 fans who attended the first of the two annual classics in Washington, July 10. Also included are two who were added to the National League squad since its 3-1 victory at D.C. Stadium.

* * *

THEY ARE outfielders Frank Robinson of the Cincinnati Reds, the 1961 MVP, and Billy Williams of the Chicago Cubs, the league's rookie of the year last season.

The tapping of Robinson and Williams by NL manager Fred Hutchinson added them to the 14 who played in the first contest. These, of course, included Maury Wills, who may be excused because of an injury; Willie Mays, Roberto Clemente and Jim Marichal, all heroes in Washington.

* * *

AS CONSTITUTED on Thursday afternoon, the NL squad listed 13 tan athletes, the American League roster three. They follow:

Mays, Marichal, Orlando Cepeda and Felipe Alou of the San Francisco Giants; Wills, catcher John Roseboro and outfielder Tommy Davis of the Los Angeles Dodgers; outfielder Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves; pitcher Bob Gibson of the St. Louis Cardinals, outfielder Bob Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates;

First baseman Ernie Banks, outfielder Billy Williams of the Chicago Clubs; and Robinson of the Cincinnati Reds, for the NL.

LISTED ON the AL side are catcher Earl Battey of the Minnesota Twins, outfielder Leon Wagner of the Los Angeles Angels, and catcher - outfielder Elston Howard of the New York Yankees.

Mays turned in one of his patented fielding gems in the D.C. contest, making a one-handed grab of a drive off the centerfield fence by Roger Maris. Clemente led the hitters with a 3-for-4 day and Marichal received credit as the winning pitcher.

BUT IT WAS Wills' day to shine before the fans who remembered him as a high school star in Washington.

In the sixth, Maury stole second to be in position to race home with the game's first run as Dick Groat punched a single up the middle. And in the eighth, he hoodwinked leftfielder Rocky Colavito into blowing behind his big turn at second on a single by Jim Davenport.

As Colavito — famed for his rifle - like arm — pegged to second, Maury scrambled for third, sliding in safely under the frantic relay by Bobby Richardson.

With the crowd still abuzz, the speedy Los Angeles shortstop then defied Leon Wagner's arm by tagging up on Felipe Alou's shallow fly and dyed-in-the-wool NL fans joined in the ovation.

Westport lad fifth in golf

Alan Wilson, 14-year-old youngster from Westport, carded a respectable 82 to be fifth among qualifiers in the 13-14 age group of the annual kids' golf tournament at Forest Park Monday.

Young Wilson went out in 42 and toured the back nine in 40, as the field of juveniles ranging in age from 12 to 17, played 18 holes for matchplay bracketing on Wednesday.

* * *

IN HIS first match of the playoff, Alan defeated Steve Vogelhut on the 16th green, gether 43-42 for a qualifying score of 85 on opening day.

Wilson took the measure of Vogelhut on tht 16th green, winning by a margin of 3-up with only two holes to play.

Yanks take Braves; meet Rocketts Sun.

The Vista Yankees have started what they hope will be another winning streak as they came from behind on Sunday to take the win from the Glen Arden Braves at Mitchellsville, Md.

The Braves took a 2-0 lead in the first inning and held on to it until the third inning when Vista pushed across four runs to go out in front. Joe Clayton is credited with starting off this rally as he got off a hunt single.

Al Weems on the mound for the losers and Richard Plater, who started off shaky for the Yanks, is credited with the win.

Rockets hold lead on summer cagers

Cloverdale Summer Basketball League competition this week saw Md. Pen Stars whip McCulloh Mets, 67 - 52; the Rockets beat Towanda, 87 - 67, and the Eagles edged the Bantu Dons, 51 - 50.

Saturday, the Eagles face the Mets at Cloverdale Park, 6 p.m., and Sunday morning the Pen Stars will play host to Towanda 9 a.m.
