the authorities in Albany in an attempt to provide a solution.

"There is — what is involved here is partly local laws and partly those laws which involve the National Government, particularly as these might involve public facilities, and some of these matters are in the courts.

"LET ME SAY that I find it wholly inexplicable why the City Council of Albany will not sit down with the citizens of Albany, who may be Negroes, and attempt to secure them, in a peaceful way their rights.

"The United States Government is involved in sitting down at Geneva with the Soviet Union. I can't understand why the government of Albany, the City Council of Albany, cannot do the same for American citizens."

"We are going to attempt as we have in the past to try to provide a satisfactory solution for the protection of the Constitutional rights of the people of Albany, and we will continue to do so. The situation today is completely unsatisfactory from that point of view."

stitutional and non - constitutional grounds.

If Federal Judge David. W. Dyer fails to dismiss the indictment, Worthy's trial is scheduled to start either Tuesday or Wednesday.

Representing the government at the trial will be a special assistant attorney general from Washington, according to Mr. Kunstler.

Meanwhile, members of the committee formed at the call from Mr. Randolph have pledged to work to get the government to withdraw the unprecedented charge against Mr Worthy.

MR. WORTHY, whose passport was not renewed after a news assignment to Red China in 1956, is the first American indicted under the provision of the 1952 McCarran Act.

Noting that the journalist has been critical of phases of our foreign policy, Mr. Kunstler said, "I have a feeling this is a personal vendetta against Bill."

Mr. Worthy views "this ridiculous indictment" as endangering freedom of speech and of the press as well as the right to travel.

"I do think the issue is much larger than just myself," Mr. Worthy stated.

Mr. Worthy also stated: "This case rests on what the colored community does about it."

THIS POINT of view was also voiced by Mr. Randolph, who called this meeting in the interest of getting our community concerned about this matter," said the civil rights leader.

Miss Vera Rony, executive secretary of the Workers Defense League, reviewed that organization's fight in the area of civil rights and civil liberties.

The Worthy case, Miss Rony stated, "is essentially a civil liberties case. The essential injury could happen to anybody of any color."

She stated that Attorney General Kennedy took the action against Mr. Worthy "of his own volition," adding, "he should be held accountable."

MR. WORTHY'S sister, Miss Myrtle Worthy of Boston, is continuing a hunger strike protesting the indictment and trial of her brother.

Weak after a three - week fast, Mr. Worthy said Tuesday that his sister had felt compelled to miss going to work for the first time because of this condition.

Miss Rony told conferees Tuesday that a number of prominent persons had signed a petition urging the attorney general to quash the Worthy indictment. Among the signers, she said, were:

Edmond Cahn, New York University law professor; John F. Finery, civil liberties lawyer; Walter Frank, civil liberties lawyer; Milton R. Konvitz, Cornell University law professor; Will Maslow, executive director of the American Jewish Congress.

Clyde W. Summers, Yale University law professor; Stephen C. Vladeck, of the NYC Cvil Liberties Union; Judge J. Waties Waring; Harry Freeman, Cornell University law professor; Melvin Wulf, legal director of the American Civil Liberties Union; Rowland Watts, special counsel for the Workers Defense League, and Kessler Montgomery, Boston attorney.

Richard Parrish, national treasurer of the Negro American Labor Council, read communications from a number of persons concerning the Worthy case.

They included Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, Dr. Carl Murphy, AFRO-AMERICAN NEWSPAPERS board chairman, Conrad Lynn, attorney, the Rev. Thomas Kilgore, Jr., Hope Stevens, attorney, Paul Zuber, attorney, and Grant Reynolds.

FIFTEEN . PROMINENT judges, attorneys, and law professors were in the Thursday delegation which called on Attorney General Kennedy to discontinue the prosecution of Worthy.

"The whole theory of citizenship and domicile is the place to which one can return, naturalized, from wherever he may be," the jurists and other members of the bar asserted in a four-page legal petition was drafted by professor Harrold Freeman of Cornell University Law School and released by the Workers Defense League, which is supporting the legal defense of the AFRO's foreign correspondent.

Among the signers are US District Judge J. Waties Waring (Retired); Edmond Cahn, New York University Law School; Will Maslow, executive director, American Jewish Congress; Rowland Watts, special counsel, Workers Defense League; former Municipal Court Judge Dorothy Kenyon, and Melvin Wulf, legal director, American Civil Liberties Union.

THE PETITIONERS told the Attorney General "We believe the indictment is invalid for indefiniteness, as not stating a crime and as unequal or vindictive prosecution."

The petition maintained that Section 1185 of the McCran Act of 1952 under which Mr. Worthy was indicted for illegal re-entry, is "so badly drawn, inconsistent and indefinite as to be invalid as a criminal statute."

The Act defines the term "United States" as including all territory and waters subject to the jurisdiction of the United States. This would mean that if any American were to sail or fish outside the territorial water and return into such water, each such trip would be a criminal violation of Section 1185. "There must be thousands of such cases (never prosecuted each year."

• • •

THE WORKERS Defense League also released on Thursday the text of a cablegram from British philosopher Bertrand Russell to Attorney General Kennedy, urging that the prosecution be dropped. The cablegram declared: "Restrictions on William Worthy and his indictment under the McCarran Act evidence disappearance of your civil liberties and disgrace America in the eyes of reasonable men. I urge you to quash the indictment."

Ten senators demand U.S. action in Albany

Ten U.S. Senators issued the following declaration calling for Federal action in Albany, Ga.

We, like millions of other Americans, are deeply concerned about the serious situation at Albany, where many hundreds of arrests of colored citizens have been made for peaceful protest to secure basic constitutional rights.

"Accordingly, we have conferred with Assistant Atty. Gen. Burke Marshall to urge that all possible steps be taken on behalf of those arrested.

"We have asked that investigations be conducted into any offenses against the persons of those involved.

"We shall continue to cooperate on a bi-partisan basis in order to insure that every effort is made on the part of the Federal Government to secure the rights of colored citizens in Albany under the constitution."

This statement was issued by Sens. Jacob K. Javits, Clifford P. Case, Kenneth B. Keating, Thomas H. Kuchel, Hugh Scott, Paul H. Douglas, Joseph S. Clark, Philip A. Hart, Hubert H. Humphrey and Pat McNamara.

Entire DS swim picture up for review; closed

By GILBERT DOUGLASS
WASHINGTON

Forty boys and girls in swim suits and 60 clothed staged a demonstration to protest against a lack of a swimming place anywhere within the boundaries of the Edgewood Civic Assn.'s neighborhood.

Mrs. Ernestine Fleming, chairman of the Action committee of the Edgewood Civic Assn., sponsored the demonstration at the closed McKinley High School pool, Lincoln Rd. and T Sts., NE.

"The pipes beneath the 34-year-old McKinley are corroded", said Mrs. Fleming.

She and other interested citizens learned the pool's plight at a mass meeting last May 29, when city and federal officials were invited to explain their action in condemning the pool.

"We also learned that it would cost less to build a new pool than to repair the present McKinley pool", she said.

"What we want now is a new pool to be operated by the Recreation Dept.", she said.

The Recreation Dept. now operates two pools in the city, Georgetown and Rosedale. A private company, Government Services, Inc., operated the others in the city including McKinley on a concession basis from the Interior Dept.

Edward H. Thacker, vice-chairman of the review committee, said, "Yes, we are working on the matter, but there will be no announcement about it until the final report is presented to the Recreation Board at its mid-September meeting."

"We want the Recreation Dept. to operate the pool because it allows the public more time and more free swimming", continued Mrs. Fleming.

A spokesman for the Recreation Dept. said that the condemnation of the McKinley pool as a hazard to safety came suddenly, and as a result, funds were not available to change the situation this year.

"But we are familiar with the need, and we are working hard on it", said asst. supt. of Recreation Joseph Cole.

THE WASHINGTON AFRO learned that a review committee with representatives of the D. C. Recration Dept., the Interior Dept. and the National Capitol Parks was surveying the need of swimming pools in Washington.

Declining to be identified, the spokesman said the problem was serious because most swim pools in Washington were built about the same time as the McKinley pool and that they also might need "rehabilitating and perhaps some replacement soon.

JFK urged to mediate Ga. crisis

By FRANK HUNT

ALBANY, Ga. — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Thursday, suggested that President Kennedy should act as a "mediator" in the deadlock between the Albany Movement and Albany officials by inviting both sides to Washington as he did in the steel dispute.

As an alternative the President could delegate the Attorney General to Albany to act as a mediator, the integration leader said.

He was talking during a brief recess of the lengthy hearing in Fifth District Federal Court here over citys sought injunction against further demonstrations.

Looking chipper and alert in spite of more than six days in Albany city jail, Dr. King, named in the injunction along with the Rev. Ralph Abernathy and local leaders here, indicated that Federal Government intervention is the only solution to the racial stalemate in Albany.

"I THINK THE President has a real opportunity to initiate a solution to the problems here," he stated.

He suggested that the Justice Department enter a pending suit seeking to enjoin Albany police against enforcing the city's segregation laws as a "friend of the court".

Judge J. Robert Elliott was scheduled to have heard the hearing held today (Friday), but current hearing, on since Monday, has necessitated a postponement until next week.

In response the President's statements on the Albany crisis during his press conference Tuesday, Dr. King said he was very encouraged to get that from the President, and hoped the Albany people take advantage of it to start negotiations."

IN THE MEANTIME, the racial struggle here is continuing to mount pell - mell to some kind of reckoning, with events outside the court-room overshadowing the snail's pace of the hearing.

Mass meetings are being held here every night. They are attended by more than 1,500 at a time, with many standing on the outside.

Dr. Martin Luther King Sr., 67-year-old father of the integration leader, told to a cheering throng of some 1,200 persons at third Kiogan Baptist Church here, Tuesday, that "My son will catch the next plane out of here," if the Albany Movement indicated that his help is no longer needed.

The Rev. King Sr. told the crowd that "peaceful citizens" are poor citizens."

"WHEN THEY say to you 'Aunt Mary, Uncle Tom, you been a peaceful happy citizen — what's the matter with you now',

"Tell them," the Baptist minister said, "that peaceful citizens means unpaved streets, no sidewalks, delapidated housing, poor schools, poor everything.

"When they tell you that you had better obey the federal court, tell them that they were the first to cry 'nullification' and 'interposition' before they would obey the federal courts." He said amidst wild applause.

Arrests reached the 430 mark this week as a total of 60 persons were arrested in demonstrations since Sunday. More than 1,200 arrests have taken place here since the first of the year.

JAMES FOREMAN, 32-year-old executive secretary of the Non - Violent Student Coordinating Committee, was jailed Wednesday.

He was charged with "contributing to the delinquency of a minor." Bond is set at $1,000.

Foreman joined Marvin Rich, public relations director of CORE, and South-ern Christian Leadership Conference officials who are currently behind bars here.

An unprecedented "across the board" suit against segregation scheduled to be heard today (Friday) by Fifth District Federal Judge J. Robert Elliott has been pushed aside by the unexpected length of a hearing on an injunction seeking to ban demonstrators.

MRS. CONSTANCE BAKER MOTLEY, NAACP attorney, said that it is expected that the suit, which was filed by the members of the Albany Movement against all public facilities in the city with the exception of schools, will be held sometime next week.

The suit charges that the Albany police are enforcing segregation and therefore depriving colored citizens of their rights under the 14th Amendment. It asks the city be enjoined from practicing segregation.

In the meantime, Albany officials have filed a cross suit requesting that the Albany Movement be enjoined from further demonstrations, apparently in case their present hearing eventually proves unfavorable.

The hearing on the city-sought injunction against demonstrations is in its fifth day, with the probability that it will be extended to next week.

Anticipating the movement, the Dr. Martin Luther King Sr. and four Albany citizens have filed a companion suit to the "omnibus suit."

This suit seeks to enjoin the city police from interfering with peaceful demonstrations against segregated facilities.

5 net jail terms in Georgia slaying

AUGUSTA, GA. — A Geor-jinjured many motorists and pedestrians and had damaged more than 100 automobiles in the colored section before the shooting.

At the sentencing Tuesday, Judge Frederick Kennedy of Richmond County Superior Court blamed parents of the colored youth for allowing them to have a shotgun and to be in the streets after 10 p.m.

However, he had no criticism for white parents. Attorneys for the defendants did not indicate whether or not they would appeal.

gia judge Tuesday decreed sentences ranging up to 10 years for five youths convicted in the shot-gun slaying of a white youngster during racial unrest here last April.

Frank Dumas Jr., accused of firing the death weapon, was sentenced to life imprisonment last week.

Three of the five sentenced Tuesday had pleaded guilty to assault with intent to murder. They were given four to ten years with a recommendation for parole within "a reasonable length of time."

THEY WERE identified as Thomas Lee Bush, 16; James Davis, 15, and Eddie Blair, 15. They will be sent to the North Georgia Juvenile Farm.

Douglas Gregory, 14, and Alfred L. Carter, 19, were found guilty of rioting and sentenced to a year in the same institution. Henry G. Dunn, 57; Paul W. C. Reeves, 18, and James E. Bing Jr., 21, are yet to be tried in the case.

The incident in which Leslie Lee Luttres, 16, was killed, took place when an automobile carrying three white youth, including Luttres, drove into a colored section of town late on April 19.

THE PRESENCE in the car of a number of stones and an air rifle were said to indicate the white youths planned to annoy residents of the area. Earlier white youths had harassed a picket line at a super - market in the area.

Police reported stones thrown by white youths had

Bank fights fair hiring directive

DETROIT — The River Rouge Savings Bank asked the Michigan Supreme Court for a rehearing of its plea for a jury trial in a Fair Employment Practices case.

The high court turned down the request in a ruling issued last week. The bank's attorney, Kenneth Logan, said the new motion will come before the court in October.

The issue stems from an FEPC order of April 26, 1961 directing the bank to employ Loy Cohen, of 313 Polk, River Rouge. Cohen a college graduate, said he had been refused employment because he is colored.

The court's ruling, confirmed the agency's contention that the federal and state constitutions relating to jury trials do not apply to FEPC matters.

Marine out, 'real story' to come

"The real story will come out now!"

Walter S. Damon, 37 - year - old - career Marine, made that promise Tuesday as he left a jail cell to report to his duty station in California.

Sgt. Damon, eligible for retirement from the Marine Corps in November, was freed on $5,000 bail, posted by Clarence (Shad) Brown.

He is charged with assault and stabbing Mrs. Ruby P. Harrison, 33, popular night club hostess on June 29.

Municipal Court Judge I. Sewell Lamdin sent the case to the grand jury and set bail following a preliminary hearing in Western July 24.

The jury returned an indictment Wednesday.

Sergeant Damon was scheduled to report to his new station July 30, but was detained until bail arrangement was completed.

He flew to the West Coast last Tuesday.

SHORTLY BEFORE leaving his cell at City Jail, the Marine told a reporter:

"Just wait until the case comes up in Criminal Court.

"You'll get the story . . . the whole story then," he vowed.

Mrs. Harrison, who described Sergeant Damon as a "casual friend," was summoned to appear before the grand jury Tuesday, but did not testify.

Patrolman George Benton, who investigated, was the only one testifying.

When a reporter attempted to interview Mrs. Harrison in the Courthouse corridors, she said:

"I've been instructed by my attorney not to talk to reporters."

FASHIONABLY DRESSED at the preliminary hearing, the hostess, wearing dark glasses, as she did Tuesday, told Judge Lamdin:

"When I looked in his eyes, I knew I had to fight for my life."

The Marine disputes Mrs. Harrison's claim that their relationship was "casual."

They have been close friends for 10 years, he said, and added:

"You don't spend $15,000 on a 'casual friend.'"

The trip was won by the Freemans in a contest sponsored by the Pennsylvania Avenue - Lafayette Market Association.
