ATTACK is the subject that 2nd Lt. David L. Roberts, left, and Capt. Talmadge L. Moore are discussing. Capt. Moore, 42, of 1512 Newton St., NE, commands Company B., 171st Military Police Battalion, D.C. Army National Guard. Lt. Roberts, 22, of 1711 South 26th St., Arlington, Va. platoon leader in Company B., is a new resident of the Washington area. These reservists are currently concluding two weeks of summer training at Indiantown Gap Military Reservation, Pa.

ENEMY OF RIPS AND TEARS is Sp./5 James C. Cole, a communications specialist with Company B., 171st Military Police Battalion, D.C. Army National Guard. Sp. Cole, 37, of 3336 Ames St., NE, is sewing name tapes on the uniforms of his unit's men.

D.C. 'Summer Soldiers' Endure Wet War

National Guard units simulate battle conditions in exercise

INDIANTOWN GAP MILITARY RESERVATION, Pa. — On the soggy, heavily wooded slopes of the Blue Mountains; on ground where a thousand mock battles have been fought in recent years, Company B waged a war with a will-of-the-wisp enemy called the "Aggressor."

Cold rain fell intermittently for four days and nights—a boon to the farmers of parched southern Pennsylvania but anything but pleasant for soldiers living and working "in the field."

The Aggressors, of course, were merely fellow Guardsmen from other District of Columbia National Guard units, dressed up in uniforms that are distinctively different from ordinary Army garb.

Their job was to give Company B — and other units of the District's 171st Military Police Battalion — a real "enemy" to sink its teeth into as it trains for the job it might someday have to do in actual battle.

COMPANY B is only one company among many from the District Guard which is currently engaged in training at this mountainous military post. Its experiences, though, are typical of all.

Training was geared to realism. Company B was on bivouac for ten days, living in puptents in woods constantly dripping from the steady drizzle of rain.

They were subjected to repeated attacks by their illusive Aggressor enemy, with blank ammunition, tear gas, smoke bombs and other props to give their operations the flavor of real war.

Active Army evalators watched and judged.

THOUGH MANY of the elements of battle were faked, the hardships were not. Sleep was a scarce item. Night patrols took care of that.

Company B's commander, Capt. Talmadge L. Moore, 42, of 1512 Newton St., NE, Washington, said training was much tougher and far more advanced this year than ever before for the Guardsmen.

Capt. Moore in civilian life is Senior Corrections Officer at the National Training School for Boys.

He says Company B's morale was high despite the rugged life they're leading.

"GOOD FOOD helped to keep the men in good spirits," said Spec. 5/C Willie Davis, 27, of 1561 41st St., SE, Washington, D.C. Davis, Company B's first cook. He made birthday and devils food cakes, brownies, and other delicacies while his kitchen was in the field.

A delicacy which Specialist Davis refuses to cook is rattlesnake meat, which has been suggested; a five-foot rattler was killed by a neighboring company.

Davis, in civilian life, is a cook at the Soldiers Home.

SFC ROBERT W. GARRET, 36, of 3426 Eads St., NE., mess steward for the Company, commenting about the unit's heavy training schedule, said: "a job is a job — if you like your work, time goes much faster."

Sgt. Garrett is a diet specialist for Walter Reed Army Hospital.

The field kitchen and the rest of Company B's facilities were in deep woods. Most of the cooking is done on stoves mounted on a truck. Lunch was served twenty minutes after Company B arrived at its bivouac site last with rain pouring down on the "customers."

A short distance from the kitchen was the communications' tent, made of two pup rents, buttoned into a single sheet, fitted around a tree, and spread out like an umbrella.

OUT OF SEVERAL men who operate this center, Spec 5/C James C. Cole, 37, of 3336 Ames St., NE, Washington, D.C., thinks that the training has provided "good food and good exercise." Cole says "I expect to go for 20 years in the Guard."

As a spare time sideline, Specialist Cole also operated a sewing machine to repair clothes damaged during training. In civilian life, Cole is a mail handler for the Post Office in Washington.

A few yards down the mountain and to the north was the command post of Company B. Lt. David L. Roberts, 22, of 1711 South 26th St., Arlington.

He was one of several officers and soldiers who worked among the typewriters, filing cabinets, small desks, and pigeon holes; much of this equipment was designed for Army field work.

Lt. Roberts became an officer only eight days before the exercise as a graduate of the D.C. Guard's Officer Candidate School.

LT. ROBERTS, in civilian life an employee of a government agency, "loves every minute" of living in the field. The elements are familiar to him, because he was born and raised in the country, in Mississippi.

Working in the command post tent with Lt. Roberts was Spec 4/C Willie Nowlin Jr., 29, of 272 Division Ave., NE, in civilian life an insurance salesman for the North Carolina Mutual and Life Insurance Company and for his Guard Company an operations clerk.

Specialist Nowlin's opinion of the training is that it "helps President Kennedy's physical fitness program." An unidentified observed remarked that "training must have the men feeling good; Nowlin didn't sell any insurance up here."

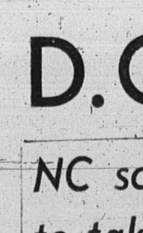
Commander of the 171st, of which Company B is a part, is Lt. Col. Milton V. Seraile, 3710 24th St., NE, Washington.

NC science student offers to take 1st flight to moon

WADESBORO, N.C. — A one-time chemistry student at North Carolina College at Durham bared his true and lofty ambitions in a letter to the AFRO this week.

He wrote, "Dear Sir: . . . I would like to be the first male to try and go to the moon. . . I believe I can make it . . . I have faith."

The writer identifies himself as Robert Crump, 21, of of Route 2, Wadesboro. He said he has family approval and the support of friends in his effort to make the flight.



HOWEVER, HE said, he does not have name and address of the particular government agency which handles moon flights and would like to receive this information.

Mr. Crump, who recognizes no one frowns on "moonstruck youth" any more, said he graduated from West Ansonville High School, Ansonville, N.C. in 1959 and studied chemistry at NCC from September 1959 to May of 1960.

Embassy staffers at Valparaiso

VALPARAISO, Ind. (ANP) The Second Secretaries of the Nigerian and Indian Embassies in Washington, were featured speakers in the program of the 13th Valparaiso University Institute on Human Relations which was held on campus.

Macauley Peters Akpoyoware, second secretary of the Embassy of Nigeria, spoke on "The Image of The USA—as seen by Nigerians" and Miss S. Mansingh, second secretary of the Embassy of India, discussed "The Image Of The USA-as seen by Indians."

The Nigerian diplomat was vice consul of the Nigerian Consulate General in New York City before assuming his second secretary post at Washington this year.

MISS NANSINGH was a third secretary at the Paris Embassy until 1961, when she was promoted to the present post of second secretary in Washington.

Mr. Akpoyoware was a teacher at Kings College, Lagos, Nigeria, before entering foreign service for his country while Miss Mansingh directed a nursery school program before joining her country's foreign service staff.

Theme for this year's institute was "The Church's Image Abroad."

High potential for trade between Africa and U.S.

CHICAGO (ANP) — The great potential for American trade in Africa was the central theme of a recent symposium here which was attended by some 200 business and civic leaders.

Bernard Blankenheimer, acting director, African Division Office of Regional Economics, Bureau of International Programs of the United States Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C. was the keynote speaker. The symposium was sponsored by the Cosmopolitan Chamber of Commerce.

Blankenheimer, who has supervised and participated in several trade missions to Africa, told the audience that independent Africa is focusing her sights on the economic liberation of the continent.

"WITH THE transition from colonialism to political independence, Africa is now facing problems, such as bridging the gap between the Western world.

"Africans want to see the the economy of their land in their hands and are therefore striving to gain skills in business," he said. Blankenheimer said that the United States has a great contribution to make to Africa but admitted that American trade with Black Africa has been small it not negligible.

One of the problems in forming such trade is the lack of relationship between African countries where trade development could be established, he explained.

Mboya: inter-marriage could solve racial woes

NAIROBI—Tom Mboya, 31-year-old Kenya Minister of Labor, declared Saturday that inter-marriage would solve his country's racial woes.

He said discrimination by Africans, Europeans and Asians must be abandoned. He was speaking at the Kenya Indian Congress here.

The nationalist leader said, "The different races of this country should intermarry. It is not enough for them to meet occasionally at cocktail or tea parties."

Mr. Mboya, who married last Jan. 20, called for complete integration of all Kenya citizens and said they should be prepared to intermingle at all levels on a basis of complete equality.

Jamaica selects UN, other aides

KINGSTON — Edgerton Richardson, financial secretary to Jamaica's governor, will be named permanent representative to the United Nations if Jamaica is admitted to the world organization.

A government announcement said Henry Lawrence Lindo, secretary to the governor, is to be the island's first High Commissioner to London when Jamaica becomes independent on Aug. 6.

Earl Anthony Maynier, executive secretary of the Jamaica Banana Board, is slated to become High Commissioner to Ottawa.

Warning to U.N.

ELIZABETHVILLE, The Congo (NNPA). —Katanga President Tshombe warned the United Nations Wednesday that his segment of the Congo would adopt a "scorched earth" policy if the world body again resorts to force to integrate Katanga with Adoula's central government.

The strong man of the rich secessionist province said Katanga has sufficient reserves in money and arms to carry on a guerilla war for many years.

Specialist talks at conference

DURHAM, N.C. — Dr. George W. Denemark, dean of the School of Education at University of Wisconsin, is chief consultant for the 13th annual Principals-Supervisors Conference at North Carolina College this week.

Dr. Joseph H. Taylor, director of the NCC Summer School, is host to the more than 200 principals and supervisors.

A noted specialist in the area of curriculum, Dr. Denemark will deliver a series of lectures on the conference theme "The Curriculum Challenge of Our Times."

Jamaica's historic moment precedes Trinidad, Tobago

KINGSTON, Jamaica (ANP) — While this island country awaits the date of its independence celebrations, the island combine of Trinidad and Tobago also is under the influence of independence fever.

The date for Jamaica is Aug. 6, for Trindad and Tobago, it is Aug. 31. Both were at one time members of the West Indian Federation. With independence, the former British dependent territories will join the British Commonwealth of Nations.

Trindad, with a population of about 850,000, and Jamaica were the main pillars of the now dissolved federation which began to collapse when Jamaica seceded last September and sought separate independence. Jamaica, largest of the 10-member island groups, has approximately 1,700,000 people.

A SIX-DAY visit by Princess Margaret of Britain and her husband, the Earl of Snowden, Antony Armstrong-Jones, will highlight Jamaica's celebrations. The Princess will represent her sister, Queen Elizabeth II.

The major event of the celebrations will be the national parade, flag-raising and the fireworks display at the new National Stadium with Princess Margaret, Prime Minister Sir Alexander Bustamante and more than 40,000 who are expected to fill every available space in the stadium.

Jamaica's new flag, a colorful black, green and gold ensign, will then be unfurled. The three-mile march, national float parade and bonfires will herald the new day for Jamaica. The House of Representatives has declared August 6 and 7, as public holidays.

This phase of the celebrations will begin Aug. 5, and will reach the climax at midnight when the official independence date arrives.

OTHER HIGHLIGHTS of the celebrations include an official reception on the Princess's arrival, a civic reception at George VI Park on her way to King's house, and her attendance at a national youth rally at the stadium on August 4, when she will declare the stadium open.

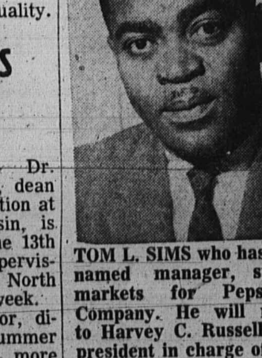
After the youth rally, the Princess will witness the unveiling of a statue of an athlete done by Alvin Marriot, famous Jamaican sculptor. A state ball and state banquet at the Sheraton hotel and a reception at Myrtle Bank are included on the program. The main ceremony will be the opening of the new Parliament of Jamaica on August 7, by the Princess, authorized to act for the Queen.

On Aug. 8, Princess Margaret will travel by rail across the island—with short stops at villages and points of interest. She will journey from Kingston to the resort center of Montego Bay on the island's north coast.

Following a civic reception in Montego Bay, the couple will stay at one of the luxury hotel for a two-day holiday before returning to London.

Some 70 countries in all are expected to attend the celebrations.

The Jamaica Labor Party government has extended invitations to the British Commonwealth countries, the United States, West Germany, France, Belgium and the islands of the British Caribbean countries. A member of President Kennedy's cabinet is expected to represent the United States.



TOM L. SIMS who has been named manager, special markets for Pepsi-Cola Company. He will report to Harvey C. Russell, vice president in charge of special markets for the company. Mr. Sims is a graduate of Hampton Institute, Hampton, Va., and did further graduate work at Columbia University. He lives in Manhattan with his wife, Fannie, and two sons, Steve, 9 and Mark, 6.

Johnson heads U.S. delegation to Jamaica

WASHINGTON — (NNPA) —Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson has been appointed Chief United States delegate to the Independence Celebration of Jamaica, August 4-8, the White House announced this week.

Included in the Johnson party will be Mrs. Johnson, William C. Doherty, president of the National Association of Letter Carriers and an AFL-CIO vice president, who will act as second delegate, and New York State Senator James L. Watson, who is of Jamaican descent.

The White House announcement said Senator Watson is attending the celebration at the special invitation of the Jamaican government as one of a group of distinguished private citizens regarded as "Special Friends of Jamaica."

PRESENT PLANS call for a departure from Washington aboard a Presidential plane on August 5 and a return flight to the capital on August 8.

Jamaica will become the first nation in the Western Hemisphere to win its independence in the past 50 years at a midnight ceremony set for August 6. Sir Alexander Bustamente, a recent Washington visitor, will become the first Prime Minister.

The White House said Irving Cheslaw will become U.S. charge d'affairs ad interim immediately following the proclamation of independence.

London halts bid to oust girl, 22

LONDON — The scheduled deportation of Carmen Bryant, 22, a Jamaican, who was ordered ousted from England on July 21 for shoplifting goods worth about $5.50, has been postponed, Home Secretary Henry Brooke announced.

Miss Bryant was recommended for deportation under the Commonwealth Immigrants Act at Marylebone Court of June 12, when she pleaded guilty to stealing the goods. This was her first offense.

The announcement followed vigorous protest lodged by British M.P.'s who contended that power under the Act was not intended to apply to petty larceny cases.

Birthday Tributes 1

DOUGLASS — A Birthday Tribute to the memory of our love one, LAVINIA, who passed away August 22, 1960:
Remembrance is a golden chain
Death tries to break, but all in vain;
To have, to love and then to part
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart.
The years may wipe out many things,
But this they wipe out never,
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.

SONS - CALVIN and ARNOLD
SISTER - LUCRETIA CARTER
BROTHER - OLIVER FELTON

In Memoriam 3

BARRETT — In loving memory of my mother, MILDRED, who passed away August 6, 1961:
A wonderful mother, woman and aid,
One who was better God never made;
A wonderful worker, so loyal and true,
One in a million — that, Mother was you.
Just in your judgment, always right;
Honest and liberal, ever upright;
Loved by your friends and all you knew,
Wonderful mother — that, Mother, was you.
Loving Daughter, ERNESTINE BROCK

BATTIS — In loving memory of my beloved husband, WILLIAM, who passed away August 19, 1961:
You've been gone a year, dear,
We love you, but God loved you best.
WIFE and DAUGHTER

BOONE — In remembrance of my loving mother, MARIA, who passed July 31, 1923 and sister SARAH, July 14, 1937:
Remembrance is a golden chain
A light is from our household gone.
A voice we loved is stilled
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.
LOVING DAUGHTER and SISTER, EMMA B. DAY

DANIELS — In loving memory of WILLIAM DANIELS, who passed away one year ago, July 31, 1961:
You are not forgotten loved one
Nor will you ever be,
As long as life and memory last
We will remember thee.
We miss you now, our hearts are sore
As time goes by, we miss you more,
Your loving smile, your gentle face
No one can fill your vacant place.
YOUR DEVOTED FAMILY

GARRETT — In memory of our loved one, JAMES F., who departed this life August 6, 1957:
Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear
Too far away for sight or speech
But not too far for thought to reach.
Sweet to remember him who once was here,
And who though absent, is just as dear.
LOVINGLY, THE FAMILY

GILLES — A tribute of love to the memory of our beloved mother, MRS. LAURA VIRGINIA GILLES, who departed this life, eight years ago, August 3, 1954:
Those whom we love go out of sight,
But never out of mind;
They are cherished in the hearts
Of those they leave behind.
Loving and kind in all her ways,
Upright and just to the end of her days;
Sincere and true in heart and mind,
Beautiful memories she left behind.
Mrs. EMMA J. SMOTHERS
Mrs. LAURA R. COLLIER
CHARLES T. GILLES

GOLDMAN — In loving memory of our dear mother, MARY FRANCES GOLDMAN, who passed away July 25, 1953:
Two dear, bright eyes, a tender smile
A loving heart that knew no guile
Deep trust in God that all was right,
Her joy to make some other bright.
If sick or suffering one she knew
Some gentle act of love she'd do
No thought of self, but of the other
I know he said; "Well done, dear Mother."
THE GOLDMAN and WOOD FAMILIES.

GOUGH — In loving memory of my dear niece BEULAH, who passed away August 1, 1940:
A silent thought, a secret tear,
Keeps his memory ever dear,
Time takes away the edge of grief,
But memory turns back every leaf.
LOVING AUNT RUTH

HENRY — In loving memory of my dear husband, WILLIAM W. HENRY, who passed away August 6, 1961:
Those whom we love go out of sight
But never out of mind.
They are cherished in the hearts
Of those they leave behind.
Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days.
Sincere and true in heart and mind,
Beautiful memories he left behind.
HIS LOVING WIFE, CLARA BECKETT HENRY AND FAMILY.

LUCAS — In loving memory of WILLIAM B. who passed away August 3, 1951:
A silent thought, a secret tear,
Keeps his memory ever dear.
Time takes away the edge of grief
But memory turns back every leaf.
THE FAMILY.

PARKER — In loving memory of my dear husband, GUY P., who passed away August 3, 1958:
My lips cannot tell how I miss him,
My heart cannot tell what to say;
God alone knows how I miss him
In a home that is lonesome today.
Loving Wife, BETTIE.

ROBINSON — In loving memory of my dear sister, BLANCHE, who passed away August 3, 1949:
Thoughts of you are ever near.
Loving Sister, ESTELLA NASH

SAVAGE — In loving memory of our mother, MRS. EMMA SAVAGE, who passed away July 31, 1956:
You're not forgotten, Mother dear,
Nor ever shall you be,
As long as life and memory last,
We shall remember thee.
Loving Children
HEZEKIAH SAVAGE
SHERMAN SAVAGE
Mrs. MILDRED McCULLUM
Mrs. FLORETTA BROOKS.

YOUNG — In loving memory of our mother, BESSIE A., who passed away August 5, 1959 and Step-father, HENRY C., August 31, 1961:
Loving and kind in all their ways,
Upright and just to the end of their days;
Sincere and true, in their hearts and minds,
Beautiful memories they left behind.
ELAINE K. CAMPBELL and WILLIAM I. WELLS

Card of Thanks 4

THE JOHN H. BUTLER FAMILY — Words can not adequately express our deep appreciation for the many kind and sympathetic acts that came to us at the time of our recent bereavement.
MRS. MARLENE RANDALL And FAMILY

I want to express my heartfelt thanks and appreciation to Rev. Charles N. Bourne and members of Bethel AME Church for their prayers during my illness in the Johns Hopkins Hospital. I received many cards and letters. I also want to thank the friends who visited me during my stay in the hospital. And all who inquired about me. Thank you one and all.
ROLAND BROOKS

A few weeks of review work, just before school begins, of last year's class work, and an introduction to the subjects for the next grade, can help a student achieve a better understanding of his new class material.
During the summer vacation, many children forget some of their last year's spelling, math, grammar, and have slowed down in reading.
One hour a week, with daily telephone contact, at no extra charge, can prepare a student for excellent marks.
Patient, individual tutoring is especially effective with a slow, or low-group student. His emotional or academic difficulties are carefully watched by an experienced, qualified tutor, and his study habits are corrected. He is given greater confidence in his ability to master whatever difficulties he has encountered before.
A thorough testing in all subjects is given the student before tutoring begins, and the results are explained and discussed with the parent.
