Medical society auxiliary gives $25,000 to Provident

The Women's Auxiliary of the Monumental City Medical Society, Mrs. Serena P. Holmes, president, gave $25,000 to the Provident Hospital Development this week and has taken the Coffee and Gift Shop in the new hospital as a Memorial.

The Delta Sigma Theta Sorority of Baltimore, Mrs. Celonia Walden, president, gave $1,500 to the campaign at the celebration of the sorority's 50th Anniversary, Sunday evening. As a memorial they took one of the admission offices.

The Vags, gave $1000 this week-end and has a floor memorial. Mrs. Cortland L. Brown is president.

GEORGE L. RUSSELL JR., Co - chairman of the campaign said that these gifts have set the pace for others.

The total raised in the campaign to date is $311,047.

The general solicitation division will begin solicitation June 6, says Mrs. Victorine Adams, chairman of the division.

Mrs. Adams has asked for more volunteers to work on the block to block canvass. She said anyone wishing to volunteer to call LA. 3-2224.

MEANWHILE hundreds of workers for the Provident Hospital Development Program, under the direction of Charles G. Tildon, have started solicitation of Clubs in the metropolitan Baltimore area.

Ladies add flair to Gr. Masters' meet wife of the host grand master, was particularly smart in a white silk splashed with black. A demure high neckline at the front was emphasized by the deep cut surplice back at the top of the sheath. It was Mrs. Daniels' public appearance since a recent illness.

Also at the grand master's table were her mother, the lovely Mrs. Alma Burley, whose frock was of royal blue and cut with a deep round neckline; Mrs. Robert Gwaltney, who came from Newark, N. J., with Mr. Gwaltney, and who wore a more brilliant blue frock braided at the midriff, and a deep purple orchid;

Mrs. Frederick Hicks, in a stunning yellow silk dinner suit and heavy gold jewelry; Mrs. Dora Miller, Grand Master Curtis Blakey of Washington, Mrs. Glady's Daniels, Mrs. Dora Miller, James T. Dorsey, Mrs. Elizabeth Phillips and Mrs. Lula Patterson.

THE LADY in the elegant white lace was the grand matron of Myra Grand Chapter, Maryland, Mrs. Madeline Williams of Rockville, Md. And that First Lady of O.E.S., Mrs. Mary Kennard, wore an all - over embroidered black cotton frock. Chaste in a stark white tucked cotton, with lace inserts was Mrs. Bettye Morton, of this city, making a wise choice for her petite figure. The bodice fitted snugly, the skirt was full.

Mrs. I. C. Rogan, wife of the Decatur, Ill. physician, chose soft brown lace underpinned with pink; and Mrs. Edgar Manns of this city was in blue and white embroidery. Another of the lace-wearing ladies was Mrs. Daisy Bailey Jones of this city. Her frock was gray.

CHARMING OKLAHOMAN, Mrs. Amos Hall, wife of the president of the conference, was svelte in yellow crepe sheath, highlighted by a corsage of purple orchids. Mrs. George Evans of this city wore an attractive sheath in a small print of red and white brocade. And another chic lady was Mrs. Isaac Moody who wore a white crepe sheath, simple and elegantly made, with a boar neckline. At the same table was Mrs. Pearl Agnes, whose frock was pale green taffeta. Both are Baltimoreans.

Mrs. W. H. Perry, Jr., who came from Louisville, Ky., chose a smart black and white print.
