Houdini act part of crime show at Center

On Saturday, May 25, at 3 p.m., George F. Goebel III, a student of the late Harry Houdini, will duplicate a feat of the Great Houdini which was last witnessed in Baltimore April 16, 1916.

Mr. Goebel will be hanging upside down, with his arms pinioned in a straitjacket and his legs bound in rope - fifty feet in the air.

A crane from the McDade Rigging Corp. has been loaned for this purpose. Police officials will help to strap the escape artist before his ascent to assure maximum tightness is achieved.

If the results are similar to other performances of Mr. Goebel's throughout the world, he will free himself within 15 minutes.

THE ACT is in conjunction with the restraining device division of the International Crime and Punishment Exposition which will be held at the Baltimore Civic Center on May 25 and 26 from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m.

It will be on the Hopkins Street side of the Civic Center between Lombard and Baltimore Streets.

LOVELY MAXINE Brown with the Maxaires, is featured on the Royal Theatre bill that also stars Jimmy McGriff. Others on star-studded fare are Bob B. Soxx and the Blue Jeans, Jimmy Holiday, Bobby Scott band, Barbara Lewis and Henry LaMont as emcee.

AT THE MET — Artist's conception of the girls in the life of famed Secret Agent James Bond, the Ian Fleming creation, who comes to the screen for the first time in "Dr. No," United Artists release in Technicolor, now playing at the Met Theatre.

AT THE HARLEM — Reg Park stars in the title role as HERCULES in the all new giant spectacle "HERCULES and the CAPTIVE WOMEN" in Technicolor - Technirama now playing at the Harlem Theatre.

MUSICAL MOMENTS

Calendar lists interesting events

By ADAH K. JENKINS

National Music Week was observed with gala celebrations in numerous schools throughout the city.

An elaborate calendar of activities marked the first annual observance by Calverton Junior High School in its handsomely equipped new building.

Under the direction of the music faculty, the week opened with a musical film festival. On Tuesday, Mack Statham, piano soloist and The Etude Vocal Octet, a community group, were presented.

Other events were a performance by the Modern Dance Group of Dunbar High School and a film "Leonard Bernstein in Berlin". In addition to the "home programs", the Calverton Orchestra presented a recital at School No. 27 and with the vocal ensemble gave a program at School No. 18.

• • •

ON WEDNESDAY, we attended the Spring Musicale, staged by the Calverton students. Under the direction of Chester Rowlett, the 40-piece orchestra gave a stirring performance. It was most heartening to hear a well schooled orchestra at the junior high school level, where only too frequently our instrumental ensembles have been limited to bands.

An engaging group, programmed as "Guys and Dolls" did "Serenade Melody" in song and dance, directed by Gloria S. Stokes.

Chorus No. 1, under the baton of John Miller, displayed well disciplined training as well as promising soloists in Broadway classics by Rogers and Hammerstein and Friml.

The concert concluded with a costumed offering "Around the World in Song", employing folk music from Denmark, Italy, Israel and America. Conducted by Mrs. Stokes, Chorus No. 2 exhibited able choral technics in part singing and diction.

• • •

THE ENTIRE choral ensemble, accompanied by percussion members from the orchestra, climaxed the program in "The Battle Hymn of the Republic". H. R. Parker is principal of Calverton Junior High School.

At the Francis Wood School 176, Schroeder and Saratoga Sts., William Meredith H. Birche, Jr., music specialist in the public schools, conducted the school choir in a concert, with George, tenor, as guest soloist. Mrs. Isabelle Mann, principal.

• • •

ON THE following afternoon, Loretta Dorsey presented a concert also of professional proportions, demanding a wide variety of vocal and interpretive skills.

Hers is a voice of lyric sheen, with purity of tone and ease of production throughout its range. With her introspective temperament she is developing the rare art of recreating the mood and intent of a composer without "over singing" or becoming "arty"

The mystical exaltation of "Et Incarnatus est" (Mozart Grand Mass)) to the coloratura passages of "The Magic Flute" aria and the drmatic intensity of opera "Turandot" was no small accomplishment).

Also included was a difficult contemporary work "Cum Natus Est" based upon Matthew 2; 11-12) by Hindemith.

In the German art songs by Schubert and Wolf, Miss Dorsey sang with finely drawn contrasts, displaying in two songs delightful humor and coquetry.

IN THE FINAL "Let Us Break Bread Together" she lifted this oft-sung spiritual to an exalted conclusion.

CALENDAR: Sunday, May 26 at 3 p.m. in the Allen Masonic Temple, 1301 Eutaw Pl., the annual Talent and Scholarship Contest, sponsored by Jerusalem Temple, No. 4 Shriners.

Sunday, May 26 at 6 p.m. at John Wesley AME Zion Church, Washington, D.C., the Frederick Wilkerson Vocal Studio Choir in a concert of Hall Johnson music, under the auspices of the Organ Guild.

Sunday, May 16 at 5 p.m. in Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church, Madison near North, the annual senior choir recital, conducted by Clarence Henderson, with M. Almira Miller at the organ.

Sunday, May 26 at 8 p.m. at First Presbyterian Church, Park Ave. and Madison St., the Handel Choir will present its annual spring concert, with John Winship Lewis and Aaron Stout conducting. This is one of the events programmed for the Regional Conclave of the American Guild of Organists which is being held in Baltimore this week.

• • •

TUESDAY, MAY 28 at 11:30 a.m. James S. Hammond, minister of music at Douglas Memorial Community Church, will represent the Potomace Chapter A.G.O. in an organ concert at the church, Lafayette and Madison Aves.

Wednesday, May 29, at 8:30 p.m. at the Washington Cathedral, Paul Calloway will conduct the Cathedral Choral Society and the National Symphony in the oratorio "Belshazar's Feast".

Monday, May 27, at 8:30 p.m. in the chapel of Coppin State Teachers College, 2500 W. North Ave., students of Katrine N. White will appear in their annual recital. Admission is free.

Music makes 'Dr. No' a 'different thriller'

Although the new Harry Saltzman - Cubby Broccoli production for United Artists, "Dr. No," which is now playing at the Met Theatre, falls technically into the category of a "thriller," its musical potentialities are of an exceptional nature.

"Dr. No," the producers feel, is "a thriller with a difference" — the difference being young Monty Norman, the versatile, British composer.
