
TIES SCHOOLBOY MARK — Edmonson High's Howard Stanback clears final fence of 180-yard low hurdles event in Maryland Scholastic Association track and field championships at Kirk Field, Tuesday. The Edmondson junior was timed in 20 seconds flat, equalling mark set by John Bethea of City, in 1959. Bethea, now a collegian, established a new CIAA timber record while running for Morgan at Petersburg, Va., the previous week. AFRO photo shows Ransom Carter of City and Joe Williams of Dunbar, finishing second and third.

One record broken, another tied in MSA cinder championships

Douglass High School athletes, humbled by City College for the team title the previous Tuesday, took giant strides toward stealing the show at the Maryland Scholastic Association individual championships a week later.

Three members of the scrappy Duck aggregation accounted for four of the 14 titles decided and a fourth of the group tied for still another.

Two of the three outright titlists contributed extraordinary performances, one racing to a new record and the other scoring one of two "doubles" acquired.

One mark was broken, another equalled during the afternoon.

* * *

A CROWD of some 2400 at Kirk Field saw the Ducks' Jerome Thomas pare almost nine seconds off the 2-mile mark which he set here a year ago.

Taking the track away from his opposition at the starting gun, Thomas ran out the distance in 10:00.3. Jerome's conference record, established in 1962, was 10:09.1.

LATER, the crowd—much larger than was anticipated in view of the unfavorable morning weather — watched as Douglass' Jim Barnett swept the sprints, taking the 100-yard dash in 10 seconds flat and coming back some 70 minutes later to take the 220 in 22 seconds.

It may be interesting to note that Barnett, who set a now MSA record of 9.9 seconds for the 100, in the semi-finals, displayed remarkable consistency in winning his dash titles with a 10-yards-per-second effort in each race — 10 flat clocking for the 100, and 22 flat for the 220.

Joining their two Duck teammates in the winning circle were Mal Brown, who captured the 440 in 51.2 seconds, and William Turner, who tied Edmondson's Pete Vitkauskas at 11 feet in the pole vault.

* * *

BUR THE Kirk Field stage did not belong entirely to the athletes from any one school —neither in the matter of outstanding wins nor in the matching of records.

One noteworthy case was Edmondson's Howard Stanback, who annexed the 180-yard low hurdles after having finished third in the 120 highs an hour earlier. The well-built junior fencer whipped Ransom Carter of City, and Joe Williams of Dunbar, by some four yards.

Howard's clocking of 20 seconds flat tied the MSA mark set by John Bethea, the current CIAA hurdles champion, in 1959.

* * *

CARVER HIGH also made a bold bid to maintain some of the meet's major attention. The Cubs' versatile Curtis Webb, as predicted in earlier AFRO observations, launched a strong claim for individual honors.

His victory in the high jump, plus a second and third in the high hurdles and broad jump, gave Webb ten points spread over three events.

He took the high jump with a leap of 5 feet, 9 inches; was second to Park School's Jim Wyatt in the 120 high hurdles, and finished behind Alex Jefferson of Forest Park, and Dave Palmer of City, in the broad jump.

* * *

EVEN AT the close of the individual contests, the fans were still an anticipatory mood, awaiting the climactic race of the day which always comes up as the mile relay event.

Again Douglass supplied much of the excitement, but to no avail.

* * *

THE POLY foursome of Gary Burgess, Rich Christianson, Grey Burns and Gary Mansberger proved too much for a courageous Duck quartet that tried mightily to overcome a bad break.

A dropped baton on the third leg resulted in the loss of some 35 yards, and Douglass anchorman Mal Brown put on a strong bid to close the gap. However, time and distance ran out and at the wire, Mansberger was still nearly ten yards in the van of Brown's hot pursuit.

Young warns Bears against lethargy

BALTIMORE

Morgan State College athletes were admonished to remember that the same awareness that is so vital in football and basketball and other competitive sports, is an essential of everyday living, at the annual Athletic Awards dinner at the college refectory Wednesday night.

Sounding the warning against lethargy was Buddy Young, unchallenged as an authority on the subject of an athlete's success story.

* * *

FOLLOWING a glowing career in collegiate track and football, Young turned to professional gridiron to add to his stature. Since his retirement from active play, he has continued as an executive in the Baltimore Colts organization as well as in the business world.

"Nothing," said Buddy in his characteristic candor, "comes to sleepers but dreams."

BUDDY YOUNG

* * *

ONE HUNDRED and twenty-six members of Golden Bear varsity teams listened as the all-time Colt halfback addressed them as the evening's principal speaker.

Included in the assemblage were young men who comprised Morgan's first undisputed championship football team since 1949, and the first wrestling titlists since they shared the 1951 crown with Lincoln.

In 1956, the Bears finished in a tie for the CIAA gridiron honors with North Carolina College.

* * *

YOUNG USED one of Morgan's favorite-son graduates as an example of the born-to-be-successful athlete. He said Roosevelt Brown, a former captain of the Bear eleven, now an all-pro tackle with the New York Giants, follows his thinking of "three-D" performance.

The truly great athlete, Buddy asserted, embodies the spirit of "Devotion, Discontent and Daring."

He said the mark of the successful competitor is one who possesses a devotion to total team effort, remains discontented with mediocrity, and dares to be excellent by aiming for the stars.

* * *

SAID YOUNG: "Aim for the stars and even though you miss the stars, you may land on the moon. That is no small achievement."

Rosey Brown, Young ventured, thrives on such a philosophy. He included two other graduates of predominantly — tan colleges as further examples of this type of dedication—J. D. Smith of A and T, and Willie Galimore of Florida A and M University.

* * *

THE SPEAKER took cognizance also of the untimrely deaths of Gene (Big Daddy) Lipscomb and Ernie Davis during the course of his remarks.

He identified them as two great athletes "whose passing the sports world will have to mourn."

One, said Buddy in the case of Lipscomb, "could have been greater" with a little kinder fate, and the other "didn't get the chance to prove his real worth."

GW grid coach at MSA clinic

The Baltimore Public School Coaches Association will hold its ninth annual Football Clinic at Memorial Stadium tomorrow (Saturday) from 9 a.m., to 4:30 p.m.

Coach Jim Camp from George Washington University, has consented to act as head clinician.

For the first time members of the Baltimore Public School Staff will act as clinicians.

Coaches Bob Lumsden of Poly, George Young of City, Charles Robinson of Carver, and Stan Fieldman of Southern, will discuss selection of personnel, practice organization, scouting and preseason practice.

LA Rams ink Jones, 'lineman of year'

LOS ANGELES — Ends Dave Jones and Larry Stephens and tackle Merlin Olsen, representing three-fourths of the Los Angeles Rams' starting defensive line and a combined weight of 785 pounds, have signed contracts for the 1963 season.

The three youngsters represent more than a big threat to the scales, however, and coach Harland Svare indicated he was extremely pleased they are in the fold.

Jones and Stephens both drew praise for their play in 1962. Dave was voted the club's "defensive lineman of the year" even though '62 was only his second season in the NFL.
